

National Mid-Century Prayer For Peace Observance Sunday

Local Methodists will join Sunday, January 7 with the denomination's nearly nine million members in a national mid-century prayer for peace. It has been announced by Rev. G. W. Hoffman, pastor of the Walton Methodist Church.

He said the call to special prayer was sounded by the Methodist Council of Bishops and the church's General Board of Evangelism in view of the "exceptionally grave condition of the world today."

In a letter to pastors of 42,000 Methodist Churches, the board urged every congregation to unite in a chain of prayer, beseeching God's guidance in converting a world crisis to a just and lasting peace.

Declaring that "mankind's hope for freedom is in desperate jeopardy," the plea for prayer coincided with a similar statement by the president of the new National Council of Churches, Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill of New York. He urged all Protestants to offer prayers on January 7 for "a peace which is the fruit of righteousness."

The letter to pastors, stressing individual and group participation, stemmed from the following call by Methodist bishops:

"With a sense of deep urgency we call our fellow Methodists and all others who will join us in special prayer.

"Let us pray daily for the leaders of our country and of the United Nations, that God will give them wisdom and courage to seek and to do His will.

"Let us pray for all who are under the shadow of war; for those who do battle for us . . . the homeless, the hungry, the children. Let us pray for our enemies that God may lead them in the way of righteousness and peace."

Kentucky Continues Record Breaking Road Building

"The year 1950 saw Kentucky continuing its record-breaking road building program," Highway Commissioner Chas. A. Kees said today.

During the year just passed 2,461 miles of highway and bridges were placed under contract at a total cost of $36,722,730. This brings the total of the last three years to $88,035,784 for 7,126 miles of highway construction.

Important in the 1950 road program was rural road construction. More money was spent on rural roads in 1950 than in any previous year in Kentucky's history, according to Emerson "Doc" Beauchamp, Commissioner of Rural Highways. $9,990,487 was spent on 824 miles of rural construction, including eight bridges placed under contract. This brings the total amount spent since January 1, 1948 and financed by the 2-cent gas tax, to $25,067,474 for 2,586 miles of road work.

MARSHALL TO FLORIDA

Dr. J. J. Marshall and Mrs. Marshall left last week for Florida to spend the remainder of the winter there.

The Kentucky Artificial Breeding Association has recently added three Brown Swiss bulls to the Stud and service to these sires is available in all local cooperatives.

The addition to the barn for the housing of Brown Swiss bulls will be completed in about a month and the remainder of the battery of Swiss bulls will be brought in.

The sire, Illingdale Grand Niagara Boy, pictured above is a good proven Brown Swiss sire. He is a grandson of Jane's Royal of Vernon and has nine daughters that average 11,513 pounds of milk and 464 pounds of butterfat. This average exceeds the average production of the dams by 1243 pounds of milk and 66 pounds of butterfat.

Burley Tobacco Sales Resumed On Wednesday

Sales of burley tobacco resumed in the eight-state burley belt Wednesday. The auctions were halted for the holiday season following sales December 21.

A Kentucky crop of 222,705,000 lbs. has been forecast by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Figures of the Kentucky State Agriculture Department show that two-thirds of that amount, 194,889,401 lbs., was sold before the holiday recess.

The Burley Sales Committee has decreed that sales may be conducted four hours daily. Sales were permitted for four hours a day during the first seven days of the current selling season, and then were cut to three and a half hours, the prevailing schedule when sales halted for the holidays.

Kentucky growers received $98,021,506.00, for tobacco sold prior to December 22, an average of $48.24 a hundredweight. This is 88 cents higher than the pre-Christmas average of $47.36 a hundredweight in 1949.

This NEW YEAR Washington has started out with an age-old subject a favorite topic for discussion—taxes.

Kentuckians back home have been flooding their lawmakers with advice on that problem. It seems that everyone has an idea how to raise taxes. But it is peculiar that in raising taxes, each writer has managed to protect his own pocketbook.

Last Time

When Kentucky's nine congressmen took the oath of office the other day, it marked the beginning of the end for at least one of them. The next Congress, the 83rd, is to have only eight members from Kentucky. Who will be eliminated is a matter of much speculation. Each lawmaker deeply believes that his District can not be eliminated.

Congressman Frank Chelf, however, is doing something about it. The young lawmaker from the 4th Kentucky District has introduced a bill to increase the size of the United States House of Representatives by 15 members. If that measure becomes law, then Kentucky will continue to have its present quota of nine.

Irony:

"This might be a little late for a Christmas card story, but the tale bears telling.

One Kentuckian here in the Capital sent to some of his friends a copy of the book, "Survival in an Atomic Attack." Beneath the title—and in big red letters—was greeting, "A Merry Christmas."

Best Seller:

That booklet, "Survival Under Atomic Attack" is a best seller. Uncle Sam has sold more than 381,000 copies.

However, "Survival" in spite of the tremendous sale, still ranks second to that other Government publication, "Infant Care." Another best seller is that cook book put out by the Department of Agriculture "Food Care."

All you Kentuckians can get copies of the books by writing your Congressman or Senator. He has a limited supply on hand—for free.

MORE MILK PRODUCED

IN BLUEGRASS AREA

The Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington notes that the production of milk in central counties of the state has increased very sharply in the last 10 years. Better hay and pasture have encouraged farmers to keep more livestock. The cheese plants and milk condensaries have provided markets for milk, which has been a good price for several years.

It also is noted that improved farm-to-market roads have made increased milk sales possible.

"Don't send a boy to do a man's job!"

When there's a man-size transportation job to be done, who gets it? That's right... the railroads!

For example, during World War II, the railroads were given the job of handling 97% of all organized military travel, 90% of the war freight and 70% of all freight moved in this country.

Today, another man-size transportation job is shaping up. And once again the railroads are the only form of transportation "man enough" to handle the great bulk of the job... a job too big for all other carriers combined.

A strong America must have strong railroads. That's why it is in the public interest—your interest—to give railroads every opportunity to be always strong... always ready to do man-size transportation jobs.

ARTHRITIS

Hundreds Claim Its Grip Broken!

Dear Friend:
Do you have Arthritis? Have you a relative or friend that is suffering from this painful, distressing ailment?
I came upon a simple remedy, that ended my long search and battle to rid myself of Arthritis. I had teeth pulled, tonsils out, serum shots, electric fever treatments, special built shoes, hot baths, pills and salves. The Arthritis withstood them all, and examination in several of the best known clinics could detect nothing. Finally, I discovered Sulgly-Minol. Today, after seven months I am more free of pain and soreness than at any time in twenty years. Can work ten hours a day, with nothing more than tired feet. Legs, hips, back, neck and arms are practically free of pain and soreness. This has cost me less than six dollars.
This is all I did, and all you will have to do to try Sulgly-Minol. Just rub it on the soles of both feet before going to bed. A bottle will last about a month and will be enough to tell whether it will help. If it helps, keep it up for a month, and after that, just as you feel. If my feet feel sore from too much activity, I rub some on for a night or two. In my opinion, the benefits of Sulphur are more sure and complete on the soles of the feet. The results obtained have been acclaimed by many as a Godsend.
After I have asked the question, "Why can't something be done to help me?" I sincerely believe that here is something that will help people who are suffering from Arthritis and want to get as many as I can about it. I am sure you do too.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

Jesus' New Year
Lesson for January 7, 1951

SCRIPTURE: Mark 1:2-20
DEVOTIONAL READING: Isaiah 42:1-4

THERE is no room in this one thin column for a commentary on the whole Sunday school lesson each week. If the reader is interested, as it is hoped he will be, he will first study the Bible passages themselves, with whatever aids his own denomination furnishes him. The Sunday school teacher or Bible student who wishes to do really thorough work will need a

When Is New Year's Day?
EVERY day is a New Year's Day for somebody. The legal holiday that goes by that name seldom comes at a real turning-point in any one's life.

The real occasion is when some momentous change occurs, so that after that day life never flows in its old channels. In this sense, a very important New Year's day for Jesus was the day when he was baptized in the Jordan river.

Before that day he lived as a carpenter in one village; after that day, as a public man, indeed THE public Man of all times. The pattern of his life completely changed.

NEW YEAR'S is a good time to review three things: your decisions, your life's work, and your friendships.

Have you put off a decision for a long time? Now is the time to face it. Have you been making "unfortunate" decisions, choices you regret? Now is a good time to look into these and see why you have been taking the wrong road too often. Have you any bed-rock principle on which you base all your decisions? — Jesus' New Year was marked by certain decisions made once and for all.

To begin with, there was his baptism. One thing it surely meant: Jesus that day decided deliberately to be counted among those who need repentance rather than among those who think they don't. Not everybody came down to the Jordan to be baptized. Some came only to criticize. Jesus sided with the sinners, not the critics. It was a life-long decision. He became known as the "Friend of sinners."

There were also the further decisions in the wild country where he went through his temptations. Each temptation faced Jesus with a choice; each time his choice was on God's side.

Life's Work

THERE is a great thrill in setting out on the work one is going to do for the rest of one's natural life. Out of the harbor traffic on to the open sea! Jesus now becomes a preacher, and this was his work for the rest of his life. His carpentry has long since mouldered to dust; his preaching and teaching are immortal.

But suppose Jesus had been a selfish, inefficient, careless carpenter? Would he have ever become a great teacher and preacher? It is quite true, the products of his shop have vanished, but there was something taking shape in that shop which did not vanish: his character.

Your choice about your future and final life's work may still be in the future; your best work may not yet have been begun. But the way you do what you have to do, today, will help set the pattern for every choice and every work in your life.

Friendships

NEXT after Jesus' life-work came his choice of friends. No doubt he had known Simon and the others before, and Mark simply records in his abrupt way the climax of a long story, in telling how Jesus "called" them.

We cannot imagine Jesus without his disciples. It is not exaggeration to say that even the Son of God would have been a failure, as a man, had he won no friends. There would have been no Christian religion if Jesus had had no friends. Around New Year's time it is well to ask oneself the question: Am I as careful in selecting my friends as Jesus was in selecting his?

A new year is here and no one knows what it will bring—if we did, we would really prepare for the worst. There have been a lot of happenings since the last paper was printed. We have had a lot of losers and plenty of customers.

This did not happen in 1951—it happened on December 30, 1950 at 5 a.m.—Judge John L. Vest became grandpa when Walter and Rebecca rushed over to Bethesda Hospital about 1 a.m. and about 5 a.m. a fine baby girl was born, named June Cox Vest. Baby and mother are doing fine, and I think the father will live NOW!

Thursday morning, December 21, 1950, the shortest day in the year, our county roads were very quiet. When I went downtown there was my friend, Omer Kite, looking kinda pale and very quiet—I said, Omer, what is wrong with you, and he said he was sorta jarred up—he and the old Ford were coming down the hill this side of John Ryan's and round the curve across the bridge when she turned over right in that bottom. It on the wheels and he just kept driving—he had hardly settled down when he drove in here.

A little later Bert and Annie Powell came in—Bert and I got to talking television—he said he and Jim Dudgeon watched Hands of Mystery one night and Jim slept with his head under the cover all night. Some of my customers took advantage of the price and bought fence and barb wire before it went up. Herman Rader bought 30 spools of barb wire, also one of those rubber tired wagons. John Rice bought some fence; also Beckham Shields got barb wire. Russell Vesley bought 20 rolls field fence.

We had the losers today, and most of them turned out to be customers—Omer Kite bought shingle hammer handles and singletrees; L. H. Thomas bought fence, doubletrees, Arvin metal iron board, Sunbeam iron and Bissell carpet sweeper—some assortment for an old bachelor. O. C. Long was in—he don't come to town very often in the winter. Mr. Poe, another of my customers who doesn't get out much in the winter, was in—he lives down on South Fork. Stanley Robinson has just bought a new Bull Dog tractor, so he came over after some wire cable to pull trees out by the roots—we carry several sizes of cable in stock—we also made him some log chains.

Mrs. D. R. Elliott from up at Gardnersville, came down after a 12x15 Armstrong rug—we have several of these to pick from. Newman Armstrong called and asked if we could get his Easy washer repaired—I sent over after it Wednesday and then sent it in by Groger, Thursday to Easy Washer Distributor, Cincinnati for repair, and Friday night Groger brings it back—that is super-service, I call it.

Old Man Portwood from Kenton county, the one who makes so much noise, came in to see me today—he wanted to know how much it would cost to build a milk house—while he was talking, his wife bought six milk crocks, so you see he is not going to ship any milk. George Fisher came in, in a hurry, his washer had just quit and he wanted a new Maytag, and George always buys the best—we rushed it right out and Mrs. Fisher finished her washing. I guess you all know that a Maytag is the best washer made. Mrs. Price Conner, another customer of mine from out on Burlington Road, called for me to send her a Perfection oil heater—her husband just home from the hospital, needed a little more heat—we took it right over to her. Mrs. John Hanks was still hunting lamp parts—she has all kinds of lamps.

This newspaper, along with my advertisement, travels a long distance—I received a Christmas card from Julia Tudor, who is Mrs. Leslie Hoffman's daughter, living in Honolulu, telling how much she enjoys the Walton Advertiser. Also received a card from Albert Johnson, who lives in Fredericksburg, Texas—he also reads the Advertiser each week. We, here at home, do not appreciate that our town has a weekly newspaper, but when you move away and wonder what your old friends you left behind are doing, it is a great paper, as well as Walton is a great town. Did you see any other town the size of Walton decorated for Christmas like our little town? It was very beautiful and we had a lot of compliments, but very few donations. It takes some money and a lot of work to do this every year, but as the old saying goes—where there is a will there is a way—and that is the way we are going to build that new firehouse. If we all pull together, we can do it and we need it very much. We have a good fire department and a real bunch of firemen, but no firehouse. Let's build it—I am ready—are you?

1951 looks like a year of scarce merchandise—if you need a new washer, a new cook stove, a new heater, a water pump, water pipe, or most anything in metal, you had better buy. There is always some, but will there be enough. I have a very good stock at present, but now enough. If you can't find it, come to Conrad's—if he don't have it—he will try very hard to get it!

County Financial Affairs In Excellent Condition Says Report

Boone County Judge C. L. Cropper received a letter from Governor Lawrence Wetherby the past week stating that he had received a very favorable report from the Auditor of Public Accounts on the various financial affairs in this county.

The report was made by H. N. Jones to the effect that an examination of the fiscal year records and affairs of the county had been made for the year ending June 30, 1950, and here is the comment made in his report to the Governor:

"Financial affairs in Boone county are in excellent condition. All obligations are promptly paid. Cash and investments now held are sufficient to meet all county indebtedness, with adequate working capital remaining. Splendid management is evident. As a result of all operations, the net General Fund gain for the current year was $11,918.75." This is certainly a "pat-on-the-back" for our management in Boone county.

'Cats Next Home Game With Hebron, January 16

The Walton-Vernon Bearcats won a game and lost a game during the past week, and is so doing played good and bad ball. Last Friday night on the local hardwood, the 'Cats turned in the best effort of the year to defeat a favored St. Henry five 59-47, and on Tuesday evening, again on the home floor, looked anything but impressive in losing to Simon Kenton 47-35.

In the St. Henry fray, it was a rough-and-tumble game all the way. The Crusaders held a 13-10 edge at the end of the first quarter, and in the second period, the teams played an even fistic with the visitors in front 28-25 at the intermission. In the third frame Walton outscored their opponents 15-12 to tie the score at 40-40 as the final quarter came up. After a few points each way, "Monty" Vest broke loose for a couple of quick baskets on stealing the ball from the Crusaders, things began to happen, and from then on it was all Walton.

Top scoring honors for the winners went to Dennis Glacken, who registered 20 points. Don Rice and Billy Smith added 12 each. Crusader ace, Jack Cahill, topped his team with 21 points.

In the preliminary game, the St. Henry reserves won a 30-29 overtime game from Walton's second team. Campbell whipped in 17 points for the losers.

A packed house was on hand to see the Bearcats and Pioneers tee-off Tuesday, and it was a happy night for the visitors. The Pioneers led throughout, with quarter scores being 12-8, 29-21, 36-27 and 47-33. The visitors played alert ball and the locals were never really in the game, it seemed.

Scoring honors went to Coppage, Pioneer ace, who collected 18 points. And a word of thanks might given Coach Shropshire for keeping Gene out of the pivot spot until the last quarter, when he pushed in 9 markers. Human added 10 points and Ervin led the starters' cause. Top man for Walton was Glacken, with 10 points, and Rice was next with 8. "Stormy" Linton's 13 points were not to avail in the opener, as the Simon Kenton reserves defeated the local reserves 40-29.

Trundles Wheelbarrow 20,000 Miles

Tom Olsen tells of Larry Hightower leaving Ellensburg, Wash., July 4, 1947, saying he intended to push a wheelbarrow around the world, just to set a record.

He has visited every state in the Union, Canada, Mexico and Guatemala. He has signatures of governors and other notables to prove it.

Gov. McKay recently welcomed him to Ontario, Ore. While in that city, the barrow received its heaviest load in over 20,000 miles. Hightower wheeled a waitress, weighing 225 pounds, down the city's main street. The well-worn wheelbarrow stood the strain nicely, he said.

How profoundly thankful we can be that the Lord is not asking us to perform stunts or accomplish feats in order to be saved!

Suppose that the Lord demanded that we go on a pilgrimage to Jerusalem, pushing a wheelbarrow before us. How many could, or would do it?

He went all the way to Calvary for us, but all He asks of us is that we come to Him. And that is an act of faith. "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."—Matt. 11:28.

The waitress mentioned above is an example of faith in that she trusted herself, heavy as she was to the well-worn wheelbarrow, and she had confidence that the man could safely wheel her down the main street of town.

The Saviour's everlasting arms are extended wide, and He is graciously saying, "Come!" Will you put your trust in Him and be confident that He can safely guide you to the City Four-Square with its gates of pearl and streets of gold?

Oak Ridge Homemakers

Twelve members of the Oak Ridge Homemakers club assembled in the Chamber of Commerce dining hall for their annual Christmas dinner and party.

Following a short business session conducted by Mrs. Ed Piper, the club members presented a gift to Miss Zelma E. Byerly, guest and Home Demonstration Agent in Kenton county.

A unique table centerpiece and wall decorations plus a number of gayly wrapped packages helped provide the holiday atmosphere for the group as all joined in the singing of Christmas Carols. With piano accompaniment by Mrs. A. G. Bowling. A special prayer was offered by Mrs. I. E. Mann. Games were enjoyed and prizes awarded to Mrs. W. B. Wheeler, Mrs. A. G. Bowling, Mrs. I. E. Mann and Mrs. Ed Piper. Others attending were Mesdames Rescoe Sudduth, Kenneth Galloway, E. C. Harris, Ralph Lewellen, Pearl Piper, ohnnie Piper, Eugene Tomlin and Miss Annie Olding.

Market News BulletinGrain Markets Steady

Grain markets held steady or made slight gains during the holiday week ended December 28, reports to the Kentucky and United States Departments of Agriculture indicate. Market receipts fell off about 2 1/2 million bushels on wheat, 1 1/2 million on corn, and 1/4 million on oats. Millers and exporters were active buyers of wheat and prices at the close of the week were about the same as a week ago. Feed grains and oilseeds were in active request despite the holidays. Prices of feed grains advanced around 1 percent per bushel while oilseed prices gained about 6 cents on soybeans and 10 cents per bushel on flaxseed.

Beware of Diseased Chickens

With the baby chicken season approaching the Kentucky Department of Agriculture wishes to advise the housewife and farmers of Kentucky to be careful in purchasing their chickens.

Many people purchase diseased chickens unknowingly each year and results in several dollars worth of loss.

Anyone buying chickens should buy from dealers and hatcheries having the permit to sell issued by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture. To obtain this permit the hatcheries must obtain their eggs from flocks certified to be free of pullorum disease.

Independence Homemakers

The Independence Homemakers Club met with Mrs. William House on December 14, with Mrs. W. H. Summey as hostess. Mrs. C. W. Carter opened the meeting with "The Lord's Prayer." Roll called by "My favorite Carol and Christmas suggestions."

We were glad to have Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Summey's sister, visit with us. She gave us a Christmas poem.

The garden lesson was given by Mrs. Wm. House, on feeding the lawns and care of trees. A reading was given by Mrs. Chas. Davis, "Sure There's A Santa Claus."

The thought of the month was given by Mrs. J. C. Reynolds. We all enjoyed a nice Christmas dinner. The afternoon was spent playing games and the exchange of gifts.

The club will meet with Mrs. Charles Davis in January.

Attending were Mesdames Foster Armstrong, C. W. Carter, Charles Davis, Wm. House, J. C. Reynolds, F. H. Shanklin, W. H. Summey, and J. T. Stone.

Beechgrove Homemakers

Mrs. William Endres was hostess to the Beechgrove Homemakers on Thursday, December 21 at her new home on Richardson Road. Her daughter, Mrs. Edward Kessler was co-hostess.

Thirteen members answered roll call to "My Favorite Christmas Carol." Mrs. Carrel McFarland presided at the meeting.

The thought of the month "What Makes Christmas" by Jesse Williams and the devotional "Christmas Story from Luke" were read by Mrs. Frank Lynskey.

Two poems "The Old Year" and "The New Year" by Clarence Powers were read by reading chairman Mrs. F. M. Powers.

The Story of Befana, the origin of the mistletoe, holly, ivy, poinsettia, yule log, Christmas carols, Christmas cards, Christmas gifts and the stocking hanging, was read by Mrs. W. P. Meyers, Mrs. C. McFarland, Mrs. H. L. Clark, Mrs. R. Robinson, Mrs. F. M. Powers, Mrs. W. Mopet, Mrs. E. Sterling and Mrs. E. Kessler.

Mrs. William Endres, citizenship chairman, reported that toys were given to the Independence Fire Department for repair and distribution at Christmas.

Christmas gifts were exchanged by secret sisters. The recreation program consisting of games and the singing of Christmas carols was conducted by Mrs. Frank Lynskey.

Life of Action

Lesson for January 14, 1951

SCRIPTURE: Mark 1:21-30. EVANGELICAL READING: Psalm 145:1-10.

THEY say that in four regions of the United States there are four different questions which are asked of newcomers. In the New England states they ask a stranger "How much do you know?" In the wealthy northern states they ask, "How much have you got?" In the South where pedigree are so much treasured, they ask, "Who was your grandfather?" But out in the wide-open West they ask only one question: "What can you do?"

Dr. Foreman

Action in Religion

It is a fair question. If the answer is "Nothing," then it does not make any difference at all what a man can answer to the other three questions. To be sure, they look at this differently in the Orient. According to the ancient philosophy of the East, it is only the inferior man who rushes around doing things. The superior man sits and thinks. The West's admiration for action, and the Orient's admiration for contemplation, enter into religion itself. The typical Oriental "saint" may be a man who never turned his hand to a piece of work in all his life. The typical western "saint" is likely to be a very busy and active sort of person. It is all the more interesting that Jesus combined both the western and the eastern ideas of religion. He was a man of prayer and meditation, yet a man of strenuous life too.

Life of Action
THE Gospel by Mark, reliable tradition claims, actually comes from Simon Peter. During Peter's missionary travels he used to speak about the life and work of Jesus, and young John Mark would take down notes of what he said. Then later Mark worked up into a connected "gospel" many of those story-sermons. It is easy to believe the tradition, because this gospel sounds so much like what would appeal to Peter, a man of action.

At any rate, in Mark we have very little said about Jesus' teaching, a great deal said about what he did. Jesus does not have a spare minute, not a day off. What about the rest of us? Suppose some biographer were to write up who you read these lines. Suppose he could use in his story only your actions, not your words or ideas. Would there be enough material for him to write a book?

Words of Power

WHILE Mark almost never tells us what Jesus taught, he does tell us that Jesus was a teacher. In describing the synagogue-service in Capernaum Mark tells us the people were astonished, and even two demon-possessed men were struck down with terror.

What Jesus said that astonished the people and alarmed the demons we do not know. Possibly Peter, who was there, may have been too busy watching people's faces to hear what Jesus was saying. However that may be, Jesus is here introduced to us not only as a doer but as a thinker and teacher.

Life is not all action; it is also thought. Jesus' acts were full of power; so and not less so were his ideas, words, teachings. Look at the rest of us again: We may be full of talk, but how much power is there in our ideas?

Straightway

ONE word is found many times in Mark's stories of Jesus: "Straightway" as the older versions have it—that is, immediately. It is not just Mark's style. It is his way of bringing out something important about Jesus' life and habits.

There were no blank spaces, no pages unwritten, no empty gaps, no waiting-around, in Jesus' life. In his life one activity followed on the heels of another. He had no time to waste, and he wasted none.

Let the honest reader try to make a realistic budget of his time. At the beginning of a week let him draw up a kind of chart showing how he expects to spend his 16 waking hours each day.—so much for work; recreation, study and so forth. Then at the end of the week let him ask himself: Where did my time go? He will often have to admit that he did not really live the whole day, any day,—only parts of it. Living as a Christian means living one's full time, living one of those 16 hours a day.

January, 1951

January is starting off cold and snowy. Income tax time here; County, State and School taxes are past due; Town taxes past due; Occupational tax due; Auto License due; Uncle Sam calling for more men for the armed service; Waltons to build a new school and a new fire house, and Walton is trying to build a filtration plant this year. There are a lot of happenings and a fast world. Have you tried to think what all happened in the 52 weeks of 1950, and who was here last January who is missing now... I guess it's best not to look back—let's look forward for the best!

Stanley Robinson from Gallatin county came over and bought a ½-inch electric drill, a lot of bits and grinding wheels, also some bar iron to make him a buck bush digger. Howard Miller, another one of my good Gallatin county customers, was over for his stove bowl I had ordered for him—it was one of the heaviest stove bowls I ever bought—Howard said scrap iron was awful high. Pat Madden, from down on U. S. 42, came after some pipe and fittings—Pat made a valve and float for his stock water tank and a very nice job it was.

Mr. Tugate, from Gardnersville, bought his wife a Sunbeam iron—you know they are the best irons made. We received two more of these rubber tired farm wagons today—if you need one, don't wait for this could be the last shipment. We also received a shipment of those Jamesway poultry heated water fountains in 5 and 8 gal. size, either electric or kerosene heat. I want you to come in and see the new Gibson refrigerators I bought today at the old price—I said I was going to get out of the refrigerator business, but these Gibsons were so cheap and beautiful that I couldn't resist. A Gibson refrigerator is not very highly advertised in this part of the country, but up East lots of them are sold—I have sold several of them and never had any trouble at all—they have a General Electric unit in them guaranteed for 5 years, the same as any other refrigerator. Chick and Ray each have one and I would have one if I could have gotten a left hand door. The best part about a Gibson refrigerator is that it is cheaper than any other refrigerator, as these is not so much added on for advertising.

Have you seen the three new Perfection electric ranges—you know that word Perfection covers a lot of space—they still live up to the Perfection motto—Perfection always said, "When better oil stoves are made, we will make them." Now they have entered the electric range field with the same motto, only its electric ranges this time. The only range with an all white oven, it is so clean, so fast, so safe, so economical, and so beautiful to have in your kitchen. Art Smith bought Ruth a new Barton washer—this is a very fine low-priced washer, for only $89.50, fully guaranteed.

Malcolm and Ann Mae Simpson bought another Perfection oil heater—they bought one last fall and they liked it so well they bought another. If you ever use Perfection stoves, you will always use Perfection, because you get more for your money. Saturday we sold a little bit of everything, and we had a lot of customers we did not know. They bought sled shoes, tongue chains, bar iron and round iron, fence, singletrees and doubletrees, horse collars, collar pads, grub hoes and mail boxes. Larry Ryan bought a large size mail box and we put his name on it. Charles Portwood had a name plate made up for his mail box, too.

"Hotdog" as we call him, but actually he is Mr. L. G. Hertzog from Verona way, is hunting a set of 12-inch plows for a Ford-Ferguson tractor. He also has 100 bushels of corn to sell. I tried to get him to run a notice in the paper, but he said for me to find him a plow and sell his corn for him. Well, we do everything. We have had a lot of calls for a good wood heater, also for a top feed small sheet iron wood heater—we now have both of them in stock.

Do you need a new oil or coal heater? Or a new refrigerator and a new washer? You had better buy NOW! Fred Bott bought some fence and barb wire—he was also having water pump trouble, but Leon Hall took care of that. Clem Stauchman, over on Percival Road, called Ray to fix his oil heater—he nearly always curses these heater troubles the first trip. Katherine Robinson also was having trouble with her oil heater, but just the trip lever on the level valve was tripped. Mrs. Hazel McElroy was having a little oil stove trouble, but just the feed line stopped up. All these oil heaters give very little trouble if you keep fuel line clean and have a good draft. For the number of oil heaters that are used, we have very few trouble calls.

We have received a shipment of tobacco seed from Rickard Seed Co., Winchester, Ky. You can get your seed for 1951. Groger Express just brought in a few rolls of fence and barb—they have already started sending it out a few rolls at a time. I called in for three electric water heaters—they only sent one—said that was all they had, but I'll try again. If you need hardware—come to CONRAD!

Florence Deposit Bank Plans Move Into New Quarters

The Florence Deposit Bank has announced the purchase of the Gross property, Florence, which is now occupied by Charles B. Rouse's 5c and 10c store, located next door and north of the present bank building.

The present bank structure, was built in 1904, and due to the continued increase of customers, it has become necessary to have more floor space in order to serve the customers and to operate the bank efficiently.

It is the intention of the Florence Bank to move its place to business to the newly acquired building after the expiration of Mr. Rouse's lease. Plans are being made to construct the interior into a modern bank building, with a larger vault, more teller windows, consultation room, a larger lobby space, and to increase the number of safety deposit boxes, all of which is designed for the convenience of the customers, and for the purpose of giving the customers more attention with their financial problems.

The gradual increase in the number of accounts, over a period of years, has resulted in the present overcrowded conditions and had reached the point where it was necessary to expand the banking quarters. The bank's aim is to continue to aid its customers and to make it as convenient and efficient for them as possible.

Metalife county homemakers have compiled a list of 36 uses for the portable lap tables they are making.

Governor Appoints Chick Worthington Walton Police Judge

Charles "Chick" Worthington has been appointed Police Judge of Walton, by Governor Wetherby, it was announced last Friday at Frankfort. He succeeds John H. Wood, who had served parts of several terms for a total of six years in the office.

Mr. Wood, who is a widely known contractor, removed to his new home just outside the Walton city limits a number of months ago and became ineligible to continue as Police Judge. He performed the duties of the office, however, at the request of Boone County Judge C. L. Cropper until a new Judge could be appointed by the Governor.

Mr. Worthington's name was submitted to the Governor by Mayor Russell Hall and the Walton Town Board of Trustees. The new Judge is connected with the Conrad Hardware Store here and at one time worked for the Community Public Service Co. Judge Worthington has stated that he intends to stop reckless driving through town if possible.

HEADS POLIO DRIVE

Mrs. George Morith is to head the Polio Fund "March of Dimes" in Florence and vicinity for the fifth year, it has been announced by Ben F. Zimmer, Jr., Director for Boone County Chapter. Mrs. Morith said her very capable workers accounted for more than half of the county's contribution last year.

She is to be awarded a Certificate of Appreciation this year, in acknowledgment of outstanding cooperation and hard work during the past five years. It reads:

"Your unselfish service in the fight against infantile paralysis has brought us all closer to the day when this dreaded disease will be unknown to American children. Your efforts have brought immediate aid to those affected, and new hope and courage to all those who are working to defeat this great threat to the youth of our nation." This award was made by Basil O'Connor, President of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO RAISE FEBRUARY 1

The Walton Advertiser has been maintaining the same subscription price since 1930, and that is $1.50 per year, but we can not continue to absorb the newspaper increases and various other raises which have almost tripled in this time—so, on February 1, we will apply the following subscription prices:

To everyone in Northern Kentucky, which includes Boone, Kenton, Gallatin, Grant, Pendleton and Campbell counties, the price per year will be $2.00, and in all other parts, it will be $3.00 per year.

Anyone anywhere may renew their subscription from now until February 1, 1951, at the old price of $1.50—so, if you wish to avoid the raise, you have from now until February 1.

Travel On Dixie Highway More Than Doubles

The Executive Committee of U. S. 25 Dixie Highway Association, meeting in Corbin, was told by Robert A. Blair, Executive Director of the Association, that travel on U. S. 25 had more than doubled in 1950, over 1949. The peak load was reached in 1950 in a 12-hour period, Labor Day, when the count was 10,526 vehicles of all kinds.

Judge Lester Mullins, Williamsport, Vice President of the U. S. 25 group, presided at the meeting, and said that "the results that have been obtained by the over-all program of this Association have more than justified the existence of the Association and the financial assistance given by many of the towns on U. S. 25."

Chairman Mullins appointed a committee, headed by Harland Sanderson, to plan and arrange for the annual membership meeting of the Association.

Other Executive Committee members attending the meeting were: Earl Lanier, Dry Ridge; Raymond A. Greene, Williamsport, and Russell Dyche of London.

'Cats Blow 18-Point Lead In Bowling to Hebron 60 to 57

The basketball game played here Tuesday night was somewhat of an oddity, to use at least, and here's what happened in the fray between Hebron and Walton, in a Boone County Conference tilt: During the first quarter, Walton took the lead and at the end of eight minutes of play were in front 20-13. In the second period, the locals again outscored the Cards (16-5) to lead 36-18 at the intermission. And here is where the picture changes. Coach Ransler evidently gave his boys the right kind of a talk, because they came back in the third quarter to outscore W. V. 19-5, to bring the count to 41-37. Walton's favor at the end of the period. The fourth quarter was really a wild one, with Hebron tying the score at 52-52 as the game ended. In the three-minute over-time period, the visitors registered 8 points to the locals' 5, to win 60-57.

Hagon, a jump-shot artist, led the Hebron offense with 21 points, scoring 19 of them in the last half, with Garnett being second-high with 13 points, ten of which were accounted for in the final half. For the losers, Dennis Glacken was tops with 17 points, coming on five fielders and seven free throws. "Monk" Vest added 11 points and Don Rice 10.

The preliminary game was also won by Hebron, 25-23.

Wednesday night the 'Cats went to Newport to play Newport Catholic but the results were not known as we went to press.

Trip Coming Up

This weekend the Haysemen take a trip. They play at Lebanon Junction, Friday night, and at Sonoma, Saturday night. Elizabethtown is to be headquarters.

Walton Literary Club Meets In Covington; Mrs. Gravely Speaks

The Walton Woman's Literary Club was entertained by Mrs. A. R. Johnson for the January meeting with a luncheon in the Arthur Dining Room, 128 East 6th St., Covington, which was certainly much enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. D. Scroggin, president, called the meeting to order and conducted the business session, in her easy and pleasing manner. The report was given, a box sent to a needy family in Italy, and a donation to the Student Loan Fund.

Miss Jean Chambers, secretary, called the roll, which was answered by twenty-four members, each giving "A bit of humor." An invitation was then extended the members to the Board meeting of the Kentucky Federation in Louisville, February 19 and 20. After the business meeting, the leader, Mrs. W. W. Rouse, introduced Mrs. B. W. Franks, who gave an inspiring Spiritual Guidance lesson, stressing the two days we should keep free from fear and apprehension—one to yesterday, with its mistakes and faults it has passed forever beyond our control, and tomorrow, with its happiness or sorrow, we have no stake for it as yet unborn. This leaves only today, today. We can all fight the battles of just one day at a time. Today well lived makes yesterday a dream of happiness and tomorrow a vision of hope. God grant us the serenity to accept the things we cannot change, the courage to change the things we can, and the wisdom to know the difference.

The club was honored by the presence of Mrs. Carroll F. Gravely, of Walton, the guest speaker, in her most charming manner, reviewed the book, "The Lamp and the Bell," a drama in five acts. We hope Mrs. Gravely will be with us again soon to review another book.

Watch for the place of the next meeting, in this paper.—Pub. Chm.

Annual Farm Bureau Meeting to Be Held In Burlington, Mon.

Boone county farmers have been invited to attend the annual meeting of the Boone County Farm Bureau, to be held on Monday, January 22, at 7:00 p. m. in the Burlington Courthouse, according to J. Lassing Huey, county president.

Featured speaker for the evening will be Roberto de la Rosa, cultural agent from the republic of Mexico. President Huey stated that he hopes that all Farm Bureau members will make plans to attend this important meeting. Farm Bureau, he said, is the only formal farm organization in Kentucky and it is more important today than ever before that farmers have an organization to speak for them on national programs and policies. If the farmers in Boone county can become better informed about their own organization the Farm Bureau will become stronger and more influential.

Directors for the Boone County Farm Bureau are: Gen. Maddox, Florence; W. W. King, Verona; Beckham Shields, Walton; Vaughn Hemphing, Constance; W. W. Crigler, Burlington; Charles A. White, Petersburg; John T. Stevens, Burlington; D. E. Ogden, Union; Wilfred J. Scott, Burlington; L. H. Congleton, Florence; Stanley W. Elchholz, Walton; Joseph C. Rouse, Verona; Lawrence Turner, Walton; Reuben Z. Asbury, Ludlow; J. C. Aylor, Burlington; M. K. Toadvine, Petersburg; W. B. Rogers, Jr., Grant, and James B. Jones, Union.

The Walton Volunteer Fire Department answered two four calls last year, with an estimated damage within the city of Walton of $4,000. Seven of the calls answered in town resulted in no damage and four of the calls were for automobiles, but only a slight loss suffered.

Out-of-town calls numbered 12, with three of these being automobiles where no damage was done, and six calls resulted in property loss.

Purchase of new equipment for the safety and efficiency of the department during the past year amounted to $1,960.50. The total spent for these was $1,885 and the rest for boots, raincoats, gloves and helmets.

The annual election was held on January 3, with James R. Allen being named chief; Russell Groger, deputy chief; Paul Simpson, first assistant chief; Guy Carlisle, second assistant chief; Bob Stephenson, secretary, and Charles Hayes, treasurer.

POLIO DRIVE

Public subscription and special events are being planned for the 51 March of Dimes campaign in Boone county to raise funds to fight infantile paralysis.

Ben F. Zimmer, Jr., of Florence, Director of Boone county, said mail subscriptions may be sent to "Polio, Box 238, Florence, Ky." Donations may be made in any of the 300 collection boxes, shaped as an iron lung, which have been distributed throughout the county, and in addition, a drive for donations will be made in all schools.

Efforts are being made to have a professional girls' basketball game for the benefit of Zimmer stated. Contributions also may be made at your local bank. Everyone is urged to get behind this worthy cause.

Tobacco Demand Eases Off Slightly; Prices Slightly Lower

Demand for Burley tobacco eased off slightly during the week ending January 12, according to Federal-State Market News Service. Average prices for most grades were steady to $3.00 per hundred below the high levels made the week before. Volume of offerings was heavy although by the end of the week many of the markets were out of stock. A slightly larger proportion of lower quality tobacco was marketed.

Declines ranged generally from $1 to $3 and were mostly for low to good leaf and tips. A few lower quality grades of good and flyings were off around $1.00 with better grades holding about steady. There were also a small number of grades slightly higher.

Weekly gross sales amounted to $1,296,171 pounds at an average of $50.80 per hundred. This was 66c below that for the three-day period last week but still the second best of the season. Through January 12, season gross sales reached 436,602, 376 pounds averaging $49.11. Based on the 1950 crop estimate of 499,266, 000 pounds and allowing for resales, there remain about 87 million pounds to be sold.

There was a smaller percentage of good offerings on the floors and more low and fair qualities and non-descript.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON
by Gil Kingsbury

Now that the 82nd Congress has opened, Kentuckians can be pretty pleased with results. In both the House and the Senate, Kentuckians came off with some choice positions.

In the Lower House:

When the Lower House organized, the lawmakers re-elected Joseph Callahan of Bellevue to be Sergeant-at-Arms, a job that pays $12,000 a year.

Joe's job brings with it a lot of responsibility, in addition to keeping unruly members from fighting. He's in charge of the police force around the Capitol. He takes charge of the Pages, the Doorkeepers and other employees. And, on top of all that, he runs the special bank for the convenience of members of the House.

H. H. Morris, Mt. Sterling, who served a long time as aide to Senator Chapman, also obtained a worthwhile plum. He is the Assistant Clerk of the House.

In the Senate:

In the Senate, Emery Frazier of Whitesburg, continues as the Chief Clerk. When the Senate is in session, Emery is just about the boss. And new Senators quickly learn that he's an important man to know.

Another Kentuckian who stays on in the Senate is Bill Brennan of Covington. He's an officer on the Capitol Police Force.

All these jobs are political in nature, and if the Democrats had lost out, those Kentuckians would have been on the outside looking in.

Swearing In

The swearing-in ceremonies went on in routine fashion. In the House of Representatives, all nine Kentucky members solemnly took the oath of office, apparently keenly aware of the seriousness of the world situation.

In the Senate, there was only one Kentuckian to take the oath. Senator Earle Clements was sworn in for his second term in less than six weeks. You see, he began a short term in November. Last week he began a full six year term.

Most of the new Senators wore plain business suits. However, Ohio's Senator Taft was dressed in formal clothes, striped trousers, cut-away coat and all.

Record Breaker:

On January 30, Kentucky will lose a record it had held for almost 100 years.

On that date House Speaker Sam Rayburn will have served as Speaker longer than any other man. Until that day, however, Kentucky's great Henry Clay will hold the record. Clay was Speaker for approximately eleven years.

Two other Kentuckians have also been Speakers—John White (in 1841 to 1845) and more recently John G. Carlisle of Covington.

Cattle Grade Changes

The United States Department of Agriculture announced that Federal Grade Standards for slaughter (live) steers, heifers, cows, bulls, and stags have been revised effective December 30, 1950.

Prime—(A combination of the present prime and choice grades.) This grade will include the finest finished animals that come to market.

Choice—(Formerly good grade.) Animals of this grade are highly finished and the greater number of finished animals coming to market fall in this grade.

Good—(New grade for part of the cattle formerly graded medium.) Young cattle formerly included in the top half of the medium grade will be in the good grade.

Commercial—(Remainder of the medium.) This grade will include lower quality young animals and well finished older steers and cows.

Utility—(New name for common.) This grade is made up mostly of old cows and young animals of poor quality formerly in common grade.

Cutter and Canner—(No change.) The changes were made to modernize the grade structure to reflect current production practices and consumer preferences for smaller sized beef cuts of high quality and a high ratio of lean to fat. Young animals that produce this type of beef are now being marketed in larger numbers but the grain structure did not properly identify them. These animals are included in the new good grade. The realignment of all grades made possible the establishment of this new grade.

While no official grading of live animals is done by USDA, the slaughter grades are available as guides to all who wish to use them. These grades do form the basis for uniform reporting of livestock marketings through the nationwide Market News Service carried out at 36 markets by USDA.

Grain Markets Stronger

Following holiday dullness grain markets became more active during the first week in January and prices made moderate to sharp advances, according to reports to the Kentucky and United States Departments of Agriculture.

Wheat made only moderate gains influenced in part by more favorable conditions in the winter wheat belt, but feed gains advanced 2 to 5 cents per bushel to new highs for the season on oats and barley. Soybeans held steady but flaxseed market was independently strong and prices at Minneapolis advanced to $4.35 per bushel, a gain of 30 cents for the week.

Farmers Urged to Have Calves Vaccinated

The State Board of Agriculture, through the Division of Livestock Sanitation, is encouraging farmers of Kentucky to use the State Calving Vaccination Plan. The ages for calves eligible for vaccination is from four to eight months of age.

Farmers of Kentucky are requested to have all calves vaccinated at the stock yards before they are purchased. This vaccination on the stock yard premises is free to the farmers of Kentucky and can be had by requesting the stock yard operators to have the local graduate veterinarian vaccinate the calves being sold.

The stock yards of Kentucky are authorized to have all calves vaccinated for bang disease at any time they have a total of 30 or more. The State Department of Agriculture is authorized to pay the veterinarian per head for this vaccination.

INDEPENDENCE R. 1

We were very glad to report Chas. Lancaster much improved, after a couple weeks illness.

Howard Hoffman is doing as well as can be expected. He has been confined to his bed for three months with rheumatic fever.

We were very sorry to see the big snow Sunday morning, as it kept us from having any Sunday school or church services, as so many of the roads were drifted and very slick. We hope the roads and all conditions will be so we can get out to prayer services Wednesday night.

Mrs. R. J. Cavanaugh spent one day last week in Covington, calling on some old friends.

Mrs. Bulch Rich entertained the Staffordsburg Homemakers at her home last Thursday, with a good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Thornton entertained most all their children and grandchildren for dinner on New Year's day.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Deuser were called to Indianapolis, Ind., Sunday on account of the death of his brother-in-law.

Mrs. Will Gasker entertained her sister from Covington, over the past weekend.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney and sister, Alma Stephens, spent Friday with their two aunts who are in the Bellevue Rest Home for the winter.

Mrs. J. J. Barnett will entertain the Staffordsburg W. S. C. S. at her home Wednesday afternoon, if the weather permits.

GLENCOE

Mrs. Nannie Chapman was taken to Booth Hospital recently. We hope for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. Inna Chapman is improving slowly in a Cincinnati hospital.

Word was received recently by Georgia Noel that her sister, Tennie Noel, was under the care of a doctor.

Mrs. and Mrs. Ed Wilson, Albert Wilson and E. Price spent Christmas Day with Robert Thomas and wife in Latonia.

Bro. T. C. Crume filled the pulpit in Bro. Burkett's place Sunday morning.

Jimmie and Gilley Carlton are spending a few days with their mother.

Sympathy is extended Stanley Beech in the accidental death of his wife of Route 42, leaving two children, 6 and 10 years old.

Charles Miskell passed away recently at the home of his father, Joe Miskell, Glencoe. Sympathy is extended the family.

THE FARMER'S PLACE IN WORLD PEACE

Taking a look at the critical condition of the world, farm folks are apt to complain that "they" aren't doing enough to stop wars and want. To the farmer it seems impossible that he, himself, could have anything to do with world affairs.

The fact of the matter is that the farmer has an important part in making a better world. It works this way: The one big reason for unrest in the world is that people are in great want—that makes them ripe for communism and war. Unlike in America most of these people are farmers, yet they do not own their own land.

The man who owns productive property has what he and his family needs—he doesn't want war; he has no use for communism. Farmers in all countries must have the opportunity to become landowners.

Our job for America is to maintain widespread ownership of family farms. Each time a deserving family is forced into tenancy or off the farm by an over-reaching farmer, America is weakened.

You can make your farm a demonstration of the strength in family farming. You can and should help other families to own farms, and help prove to all the world that sound agriculture is the basis for peace.—By Fr. Henry A. Busemeyer.

Exhibits To Be A Feature of Farm And Home Meeting

Exhibits again will be features of the annual Farm and Home Convention at the Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky at Lexington, January 30-February 2.

There will be plans for building and equipping farm homes, for water systems, installation and use of electricity, milking parlors for dairies, kitchens that save work, and numerous other improvements for farms and homes.

Homemakers will see an exhibit of two small-scale kitchens showing good and poor arrangement of the equipment. In one, the housewife takes 936 steps, or about a fifth of a mile, in preparing and serving the meals, because of poor arrangement.

In contrast, her neighbor takes only about 93 steps in getting the same meal. Her kitchen is conveniently arranged.

The College of Agriculture and Home Economics has a large number of plans for houses, stock and tobacco barns, machine sheds, chicken houses and other farm buildings, and for equipment that makes for more efficient farming. Included is a tobacco hoist that enables one man to lift tobacco to the top of the curing barn.

Farmers who plan to have new buildings or to remodel old ones are making extensive use of the college's farm and home building service. They are giving more attention to having the right kind of houses for their families and to having the proper buildings and equipment. Exhibits at the Farm and Home Convention will give many ideas along these lines.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

All persons having claims against the estate of James Hopperton, deceased, are requested to present same, proven according to law, and all persons indebted to said estate, are requested to call and settle with the undersigned.

IN LOVING MEMORY—

Of our beloved husband, father, and grandfather, Jesse S. Thornton, who passed away January 13, 1950. One year has passed since that sad day—

The one we loved was called away—

God took him home; it was His will—

But in our hearts, he liveth still.

Sadly missed by his Wife, Son, Daughter and Grandchildren.

Ryland Heights Homemakers

An article on "Landscaping and Selection of Trees and Shrubbery," was read by Mrs. William Bagby at the January 2 meeting of the Ryland Homemakers club, in the home of Mrs. John Murchison on Highway 177, near Ryland.

Mrs. William Damon, president, opened the meeting with all members repeating in unison the Lords Prayer. Mrs. William Dickman, Mrs. John Murchison then lead in the singing of the songs, "Come All Ye Faithful" and "Home Part." Mrs. N. L. Leach read the poem, "Farewell and Hall," and Psalm 91 was read by Mrs. William Schwall.

In the afternoon, Mrs. O. J. Williams, the reading chairman, conducted a magazine exchange and Mrs. William Schwall gave a review on the book, "The Enduring Hills," by Janice Hot Gies.

The recreation program was in charge of Mrs. William Dickman, and quiz games were enjoyed by all.

Members who responded to roll call, "my hopes for the New Year," were Mrs. John Murchison, Mrs. William Dickman, Mrs. N. L. Leach, Mrs. William Bagby, Mrs. Shelby Martin, Mrs. O. J. Williams, Mrs. William Schwall, Mrs. O. J. Gee, Mrs. William Damon and Mrs. F. B. Hermes.

Walton Homemakers, II

Walton Homemakers, No. 2, was entertained in the home of Mrs. Alice Sleet, with a Christmas party. Sixteen members were present and two leaders, Miss McCluskey and Mrs. Mary Stephenson. The meeting was opened by singing the club song. The business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. Mary Riddell, and the unfinished business was taken care of, after which Christmas Carols were sung. Mrs. Rosella Sleet gave an interesting talk on the origin of Silent Night, and it's author, which was very nice and enjoyed by all.

The husbands were entertained at this meeting. One visiting lady was also present, Mrs. Richard Sleet, who was a co-hostess.

URGES FARM RECORDS

Harry M. Young, Jr., field agent in farm management at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics at the University of Kentucky, suggests that farmers use the college's farm record book to keep close tab on their operations this year. Farming has become much more complicated than it used to be, he noted. Every farmer must pay close attention to knowing the strong and weak points in his business, which means keeping accurate records. Copies of the farm account book can be had at offices of county agents.

BEST PLACE TO USE FERTILIZER TESTED

In extensive tests at the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky, yields were slightly higher when phosphate and potash fertilizers were applied ahead of the corn crop, compared to applying them when the corn was planted.

With wheat and hay, yields were not so good when fertilizer was used ahead of the wheat as when used at the time the wheat was seeded.

Corn Yields Boosted 34 Bushels Per Acre By Better Soil Care

CROP yield profits are being boosted as much as $20 per acre through conservation farming methods, including contour cultivation, large amounts of fertilizer and the return of crop residues on Purdue University's Throckmorton farm, agronomists report.

Yields have risen steadily since 1942, according to the agronomists. The 1949 average net profit per acre was nearly twice that of the average seven years before.

In the tests, some fields have been farmed with common practices; others with a conservation system. Both groups have a four-year rotation of corn, soybeans, wheat and mixed legume-grass meadow. Fields receiving the common treatment are straight-row farmed. The conservation fields are farmed on the contour and receive larger amounts of fertilizer, plus crop residues.

Additional supplies of plant food, organic matter and moisture have teamed up to boost crop yields on the conservation fields, the agronomists say. As a result of these benefits, corn yields have averaged 106 bushels per acre on the conservation fields, compared with 72 bushels on the common fields in the 1942-49 period. Soybean yields have averaged 37 bushels per acre compared to 20; wheat, 34 bushels as against 27; and hay yields 2.2 tons per acre compared with 1.2 tons.

The tests are carried on cooperatively by the Research Branch of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station.

Some folks think that fine clothes and fine, big houses are the most important things in life, but these things really don't mean too much if a person doesn't feel well enough to enjoy them. Most folks don't realize this, but

Mrs. Lucy Braswell, 2 Stone Mountain, Ga., realized that very well. Mrs. Braswell takes HADACOL, and by taking HADACOL she found she is helping her system overcome deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Nicotin and Iron. Here is Mrs. Braswell's own statement: "I have been sick for some time with stomach disturbances. I began taking HADACOL and I have been taking it about six weeks. I am so much better and much stronger. I will continue to take HADACOL. It sure has helped me. All my friends about HADACOL. I can't praise HADACOL too much. I am 58 years old."

HOME MANAGEMENT

Forty-three Home Management leaders from 24 communities from the Kenton County Homemakers Association attended the training school Tuesday, January 9, at the Covington Y. M. C. A., conducted by Miss Ida C. Hagman, Home Management Specialist from the Extension Service, University of Kentucky, and Miss Zelma E. Byerly, Home Demonstration Agent.

"Fitting Our Pattern of Living to Present Conditions," was the subject of discussion. Miss Hagman stated that, "The problem of household management is one of utilizing all the family resources of money, goods, time and personal talents to bring the greatest returns in health, satisfaction and social usefulness."

Reports were made on the time studies made by leaders to determine the value of doing a job. Miss Hagman told the homemakers that they use poor judgment when they work too hard one day or for several days, and then feel below par until they recover from the orgy of overwork. Planning should help you distribute your work evenly so that there are no peaks of over doing and no valleys of little doing.

A clever playlet, "An Easier Way," was given by Mrs. O. B. Savelly and Mrs. Tom Rice.

Leaders in attendance were: Mesdames, Edward Lange, W. Hoffman, Frank D. Cooke, F. M. Powers, O. B. Savelly, Tom Rice, Earl Whitefoot, Walker Scheid, Ray Molman, Jack Dryer, Russell White, E. E. HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Louis J. von Walden, instructor of Physical Geography at Holmes High School, Covington, will speak to the Boone County Historical Society at its meeting in the Florence Town Hall, Friday, January 19 at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. von Walden has traveled extensively in the United States and in Europe in his study of Geology. During the last war he was attached to the division of the army responsible for weather observations and forecasts. The findings of this work enabled the planning of invasions and campaigns during the periods of favorable weather.

Mr. von Walden will tell members of the society about the factors influencing the formation of the physical features of the northern Kentucky area and how these conditions have influenced the manner in which settlements were developed.

The society is endeavoring to gather all available material about interesting incidents in Boone county. Anyone knowing of any happening in the past is asked to write it and bring it to the meeting so that it may be included in the records of the society. Much material has been gathered about the several old houses in Florence.

Anyone interested is invited to attend and to become a member of the society.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lee McElroy spent the weekend with relatives here and at Verona.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rodgers of Covington, were guests of Mrs. Hazel McElroy and family, over the weekend.

Our community sustained a great loss in the passing of O. W. Rouse. He was a good citizen, a man of high ideals; he loved his family, his friends, and was a friend to the friendless and needy; he loved his home, his church, his friends, and was a devoted and faithful member of his lodge; he made a record attendance in the Methodist Sunday school, having attended something over 1,800 consecutive Sundays. In October, 1950, he was presented a beautiful 35-year pin for record attendance of which he was very proud. Surely this good man has exemplified a life of faithfulness in things that are worth while, and that endure long after material things have perished. Would that his mantle could fall on some of our younger people, and that they too could render a life of faithfulness, and be useful men and women. Atter a brief and beautiful ceremony, conducted by Rev. Hoffman, assisted by Rev. Deering, he was laid to rest in the Walton cemetery. Services by the Masonic body, were also held at the church and concluded at the grave. The Scottish Rite ceremony at the funeral home Saturday night was very beautiful and impressive.

Mrs. Leon Hall, wife of the electric appliance man, was called to Verona by the death of her father, Henry Messmer.

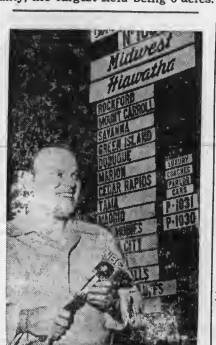

Charles Worthington has been appointed police judge in Walton. Quite a few from a distance attended the funeral of W. O. Rouse, Sunday.

Ray Wynn has been confined to his home the past few days, but is some better at this time.

J. W. Fegenbush of Jefferson county figures he saved more than 50 percent of labor costs by having 7 geese on a 2 1/2 acre strawberry field.

Bath coaches homemakers have resigned the patterns for 132 hooked rugs, transferring them to burlap.

A total of 80 acres of strawberries are under cultivation in Butler county, the largest field being 6 acres.

The New Plymouth Cranbrook Four-Door Sedan

Featuring improvements which produce unprecedented roadability and riding qualities, the beautifully redesigned 1951 line of Plymouth cars have numerous mechanical improvements and have retained their traditional roominess. Shown above is Plymouth's Four-door Cranbrook sedan.

New Plymouth Combines Beauty and Riding Ease

Detroit, Mich.—Spectacular new qualities which produce driving and riding ease heretofore unknown in automobiles of any price feature the new line of Plymouth cars. Combining smart new body lines with unprecedented interior luxury, the new Plymouth will go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the United States Saturday, Jan. 13.

Designers have given the Plymouth a striking new silhouette, and refinements in the interior are the new Plymouth in the lowest price field. The styling improvements retain the traditional roominess of the cars.

Easier to drive and more comfortable, the new cars have greater beauty, more safety features and broader ranges of vision than ever before.

Engineers say the new "Safety-Flow ride" takes the bounce and wallop out of bumps. A new application of hydraulic flow control in the shock absorbers provides a more gradual change of resistance during spring deflections and thus a softer ride when driving on average roads. It also exerts extra resistance on rough roads to a degree where driver and passengers are almost completely freed of the discomfort of being jolted around.

The "Safety-Flow ride" is one of the greatest contributions to driving comfort and safety in recent years, according to D. S. Edins, president of Plymouth Motor Corp.

"The new Plymouth gives you roadability never before offered in any car," he said. "There is no necessity for steering wheel fatigue to control the car on different roads. The driver is no longer required to focus full attention on the condition of the road. He may be more watchful of oncoming traffic, pedestrians, curves, crossroads and other potential hazards."

Edins called the new development a major step toward restful motoring. More confidence is gained by driving or riding in a new Plymouth with the "Safety-Flow ride," and as a result there is less driver and passenger fatigue, he said.

The lines of the new Plymouth have been beautified. An appearance of massiveness combined with smart streamlining is induced by a new grille, beautifully redesigned front fenders and hood, a wider windshield and a larger rear window. Narrower windshield pillars together with the wider windshield provide additional lateral vision. To utilize fully the greater vision through the new rear window, the rear view mirror is two inches wider. The chair-height front seat and the new design of hood and front fenders permit the driver to see the road nearer the car.

There are numerous mechanical improvements. Windshield wipers are electrically operated, and are of the single-speed, self-parking type.

A unique pressure-vent radiator cap, which has been added as standard equipment, permits the cooling system to be operated at atmospheric pressure during normal driving conditions. Under high-load, high-temperature driving conditions, the new radiator cap provides a pressurized cooling system to allow high coolant temperature without boiling or loss of anti-freeze.

All Plymouth engines now have a built-in by-pass cooling system permitting water circulation and resulting in more uniform temperature throughout the engine during the warm-up period. The new system consists of a passage in the cylinder head and block providing direct access to the water pump, and a choke-type thermostat to regulate coolant flow to the radiator.

The generator output has been raised to 45 amperes, an increase of five amperes, providing greater electrical capacity for the operation of car accessories. The new hand brake "T" control handle is more accessible, and, as on former models, it operates independently of the foot brake as an added safety measure.

In the convertible club coupe, the spare tire is mounted vertically as in other coupe and sedan models, rather than on the trunk floor. The new Plymouth interiors offer the finest selection of upholstery and trim and the most harmonious color schemes in the company's history. The colors which have been chosen provide throughout the interior a pleasing combination of shades in harmony with the car's exterior color. Designers say the interior is an unparalleled achievement in combining practicality with luxury. Always noted for spaciousness, Plymouth now has even more head room and more room to stretch out in comfort in the rear seat.

To go with the high quality of the upholstery, there is a handsome new instrument panel which features a more convenient grouping of controls, newly shaped instruments and improved coloring and lettering for easier checking while driving.

The wide, deep chair-height seats, the ease of entrance and exit, and all the other traditional Plymouth features for driver and passenger comfort have been retained.

There are nine body-types in the new Plymouth line: the Concord series includes a two-door sedan and a three-passenger coupe as well as the two all-metal utility models, the Suburban and the Savoy; the Cambridge series has a four-door sedan and a club coupe; and the Cranbrook series includes a four-door sedan, a club coupe, and a convertible club coupe.

The Suburban and the Savoy, with their smart, distinctive lines are all-purpose vehicles. They have the beauty and comfort of a sedan, and by simply lowering the rear seat, flush with the floor they become sturdy cargo carriers for farmers, salesmen, sportsmen, tourists or others who require large cargo capacity. The Savoy, called the "country car companion" of the Suburban, provides a greater variety of luxurious interior appointments and more exterior refinements to enhance the car's striking appearance.

Among the "high-price car" features which are retained are six-cylinder, 97-horsepower engine with a 7 to 1 compression ratio, the conventional ignition and starter switch, automatic electric shocks, super-cushion tires, safe-guard hydraulic brakes, and safety-rim wheels.

Cost Cutting Production Methods Boost Yields Per Acre, Increase Farm Income

More Plant Food Made the Difference Between These Corn Crops.

KEEPING down crop producing costs is a mighty important matter these days. Prices of things farmers buy are going up, but farm income is lagging behind.

Purdue University economists say that the most important single factor controlling costs per bushel is a high yield per acre. Their research revealed that on corn, wheat, soybeans, hay and pasture the yield per acre had more influence in cutting costs per bushel than any other single production factor.

This was borne out by a survey of 134 farms in Southeastern Indiana. Here the economists found that farmers who ranked among the top third in corn yields had twice as much net income from their crop as farmers down at the bottom of the heap. For wheat, the top-yielding third had a net income 11 times greater per acre than the low one-third. The difference was three times for hay and seven times for soybeans.

The Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out that when yields are high, a farmer is in better shape to make a profit in spite of rising costs or falling farm prices.

The way to get higher yields, it says, is to make every acre do a better crop producing job through good crop and soil-building methods. Such a program should include the use of plenty of a well-balanced fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphate and potash. It should include a good rotation in which well-fed deep-rooted legumes add organic matter and condition the soil for higher yields.

Buy Fertilizer Now To Avoid Shortages When Spring Comes

FERTILIZER shortages can be avoided next spring if farmers place their orders now and take delivery early, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in citing a recent statement by Dr. H. B. Cheney, extension agronomist at Iowa State College.

Cheney points out that railroad car shortages may restrict the movement of fertilizer next spring and it may be impossible to meet farmers' demands if they call for heavy deliveries over a short period of time.

"The outlook for fertilizer production is good this year," he said, "but if fertilizer producers run out of storage space, they will have to slow up production."

As a means of keeping plant food moving steadily, he advises farmers to make immediate arrangements for supplies and to store the plant food until it is time to use it next spring.

Cheney recommends a dry building with a wooden floor as the best storage place. If the fertilizer is stored on a concrete floor, a wooden platform should be built 4 to 8 inches above the floor. This will allow air circulation under the bags, which can be piled 8 to 10 bags high. Space should also be left between the wall of the building and the storage pile to provide for more circulation.

War Threats Spur Need for Building Up Soil Fertility

THREATS of war heighten the need for putting farm soil in top condition to produce high crop yields, says the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in a statement made public here.

Legumes, fertilizers, soil-saving rotations and conservation tillage methods are the tools for building and maintaining the soil's crop producing capacity, the committee points out.

By strengthening the soil's reserves of organic matter and stockpiling supplies of plant nutrients in the soil now, farmers can be ready to handle any really tough later on, the statement says.

"Farm soil took a beating in World War II," it says. "Soil-depleting forces worked overtime after Pearl Harbor when every acre had to produce food to the utmost to help speed victory."

"Although fertilizer use has risen to an all-time high in the years since the war, crop demands have been taking more plant nutrients from the soil than have been added to it. 'Put back' methods that replace these nutrients and build a well-balanced supply of plant food in the soil are vital in the months ahead."

Eleven United Nations flags were made by homemakers in McCracken county, being paid for by the Paducah Chamber of Commerce.

J. I. Moore of the Kuttawa community in Lyon county got 64 percent production from his flock of 450 White Rock pullets in November.

Jesus is Christ
Lesson for February 18, 1951

IT SOUNDS odd to modern ears (for to any ear for the past 18 centuries) to say that Jesus "is" Christ. It sounds like saying Abraham is Lincoln, or Winston is Churchill. "Jesus Christ" has become long since a proper name like any other combination of name and surname. But in the early days of Christianity it took sermons to persuade people that Jesus was indeed the Christ; and if people knew what "Christ" means, they would see that most sermons today are really aimed at convincing people of the same thing: Jesus is Christ. When Peter said to Jesus "You are the Christ," Jesus' reply shows that Peter had not only said something important, but something which up to that time had not dawned on any one else.

Only One Christ
WE shall have to think what the word "Christ" meant as Peter used the word and as Jesus understood it. The Jews of that time were looking with eager excitement for an "anointed one" (the literal meaning of Christ, or Messiah) who would put an end to all the evil of the world and usher in God's New Age. They were not quite clear how this would be done, but they were sure that only the Christ could do it.

Consider three points. First, when Peter said "You are Christ," he meant "You are unique." No Jew looked for two Christs. There is no one else in Jesus' class, there is only one of him. Every human being, to be sure, is different from all others; but Simon Peter did not mean that. What he did mean was that Jesus could not be classed as "a" teacher or "a" prophet or "a" man of God. He was the Teacher as a Prophet. He was God's Man as no other man was.

We make a mistake, we get away from the original Christian faith, the faith which Jesus praised, when we put Jesus on the same level with other men, any other men. There is only one Christ.

God Was in Christ
IN the second place, when Peter called Jesus "Christ," he meant that God had anointed him. He was not a man who took a notion to do what he did; he was one whom God had appointed to be and to do as God willed. We cannot understand Jesus apart from God, for his source is God.

Any one who reads the gospel of John will find this very prominent in Jesus' thinking always: "I was sent . . . My meat is to do the will of him that sent me." Christians later than this saw that the relation between God and Jesus was even closer than that between sender and sent. Jesus is called the Son of God, he is called the Word that was with God and was God. Paul says God was in Christ.

Later generations would develop the doctrine of the Trinity as it is expressed (for instance) in the Nicene Creed. Every century has its own formulas. Peter in the first century does not use the language of the fourth century, still less of the 20th; but all the formulas express in various ways the conviction Peter had: that Christ confronts us, God confronts us.

Christ Is Lord of All
A THIRD thing Peter meant when he called Jesus "Christ" and that the church means now—is that he has complete authority. All other authority, in the church or out of it, is less than his.

A word often used to express this truth is "Lord." But the word alone is not enough. It really makes less difference what words we use about Jesus than what our attitude to him is. Jesus himself once spoke sternly of people who call him "Lord, Lord," but do not do the things he says to do.

It is one thing to say, in the Creed, that we believe in "Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord;" it is another thing to carry that part of the creed into life. Jesus is our Lord; not the church, not Moses, not Paul, not any hero or saint of the church, but Jesus. Christians take orders from him first of all, for we believe that his mind was the mind of God.

A Christian profession of faith, therefore, is more than a statement of belief: it is an oath of allegiance.

RAIN and SNOW

It snows and it rains, either one you like, you can have. Sunday was one of the worst rainy days we have had for some time, and a terrible day for the funeral of a very fine old gentleman, Mr. W. O. Rouse, (Or) as we called him when he came in the store, and we will miss him very much. We miss a lot of the old timers, who spent a lot of hours around the old stove, like Frank Norman, Jim Bollington, Gene Roberts, Omer Cleek, Jess Thornton, Tom Marshall and lots of others. If I could think a little while, I could name several in the past 15 years I have been here.

Ernest Eckler and Robt. Northcutt came down and bought a cellar drainer for the Crittenden Christian Church basement. If you have a wet basement, a cellar drainer will keep the water pumped out. Mrs. Emma Flynn bought a new electric water heater, so she can have hot water, winter and summer. These heaters are automatic and cheap to operate. Anything you can do with electricity is always the best. No danger from fire and so very clean. Wash with an electric Maytag washer, cook with a Perfection electric range, iron with a Sunbeam iron, heat your water with an Econo-master electric water heater, sweep your floors with a Hoover sweeper—do it with electricity, the easiest and cheapest.

Tina Fisher bought some wire fence—it is very scarce and getting worse. I sure had a crowd from Verona this afternoon: Mrs. Mayo Hayden, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Stephenson and Mrs. Ferguson were shopping and buying. Walter Bender was also a customer, and Walter Hon from Napoleon was looking for one, but he is nearly always a customer. Dawson Bollinger from Kenton county, who is a good customer of mine, came in after a pair of those Wolverine leather gloves—you know they wear longer and stay soft. Edgar Schuller comes in nearly every day after wiring material—he does most all the wiring over around Finer and Fliskburg.

Ben Menke came in after some outside wiring and a pole light to put out in his back yard. Henry Fenick just came in and bought ten ham bags—he sure is going to have a lot of ham, and I do like ham. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington were in today, so was Grace and Arthur Brewster—everyone is talking about the price they get for tobacco. Most everyone is averaging from 55 to 62 cents per pound. A good price for the quality we have this year. Not much conversation around the old stove this week. Frank DeMoisey told one that the editor won't print. A few salesmen had some long stories but they too will not go to press. Rev. Deering was in today looking at fishing tackle—he is going down south for a few days.

Ed Kannady bought his wife a new square aluminum tub Maytag washer, while they could get one at the old price. Jay Webster and wife from over beyond Verona were in Friday, with them were Mrs. Webster's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Behmyer from over in Grant county. All were buying, but Behmyer wanted something I didn't have, and that was some horse shoe nails with long heads on them so a horse could stand up on the ice—but he had me this time, for I never had seen any of these nails. Saturday was a very bad day, sleet and rain. We had lots of loaders: Clarence Struve, Harve Vest, Albert Parker, Tracy Hume, Evan Hance, Omer Dudgeon, Clarence Combs and several others I have missed.

A lady from Crittenden was in and bought her little girl a doctor's kit and I just can't remember who she was. I must be slipping, because I try to remember all my customers. John Dudley Breeden and wife came in and bought a very fine selection of light fixtures for their new home over by Independence. We have a nice selection of fixtures—come in and look them over. John Hopperton and wife bought door locks, paint, border and electric light fixtures. John also had Ray make him some keys. You know we still have that key-making machine.

I sure got action about that little not I ran last week about Hodge having corn to sell. I had five telephone calls and several came in inquiring where he lived. Mark Meadows says it pays to advertise and I believe he is right, at least I find it really pays off. Mr. McQuarry, over on Hicks Pike, bought his wife a new Knox coal range. This is a beautiful white porcelain range aluminized steel with cast iron top and firebrick lining.

We have two used washers, cheap, and they both wash and wring clothes. All last fall I had lots of calls for cast iron wood heaters—now I have them and no calls. That is the way it goes—when you have it, they don't want it, and sure as you run out, they all want it. Luther Riser was in today checking on a water pump, Chink Vest said save him ten bundles of ties—he would get them in a few days. Clarence Schuler bought a lot of wiring material. What about a new Gibson refrigerator, any size from 7 cu. ft. to 11 cu. ft. If you can't find it other places, come to Conrad's—the best hardware store in Northern Kentucky—don't you think so?

Bearcats Break Even In Four Road Games During Past Week

The Walton-Verona Bearcats were on the road the past week, playing no less than four games, winning two and losing two—and this netted a tie.

Last Wednesday night, they went to Newport, where they played the Newport Catholic five, and after leading for three quarters, were overtaken in the final frame and lost 45-43. Quarter scores, in favor of the Cats, were: First, 15-11; second, 26-20, and third, 36-34. High scorer for the winners was Bankemper, who bagged 13 points, while "the top man on the totem pole" for Walton was Glacken, with 20 points. The local reserves lost the opener to the home team, 41-25, although "Stormy" Linton bagged 14 points for W. V.

A two-trip was started last Friday with the Cats playing at Lebanon Junction that night and at Senora, Saturday night. In the Friday tilt, the Blue and White had little difficulty with the home team and won 64-47, with "all hands" seeing action. Walton led throughout, with quarter scores being: First, 15-9; second, 34-13; third, 48-32, and the final, 64-47. Top scorer for the Bearcats was Don Vest with 18. Dennis Glacken added 15, and Billy Smith 12 markers. Nine men took part in the scoring. For Lebanon Junction, Pipes was high with 19 points, and Sweat added 14.

In was a different story at Senora, and that difference was a lad named Houk, who was really a "ball of fire" as he scored 34 points as his team downed Walton 63-39. Senora was in front 12-4 at the first quarter, 25-8 at the half, and 45-21 at the three-quarter mark. Smith was top scorer for the losers, with 10 points.

Tuesday night, of this week, the Cats went to Warsaw, and came back with a pair of wins (the first and second teams winning). For a half, it was anybody's ball game, with the score being tied 12-12 at the end of eight minutes, and knotted at the half, 27-27. Walton began to pull away in the third period, to lead 46-36 at the quarter ended, and in the final period doubled to score on the Gallatin team to win 64-45. Dennis Glacken had another 20-point night, registering 7 fielders, and 6 free tosses. Billy Smith added 12 points and Don Rice 10. For the losers, Plunkett rattled the nets for a total of 20 tallies.

Led by Johnny Grubbs' 11 points, the W. V. reserves won the opening game, 31-26. The Warsaw game marked the end of Maynard Meadows' High School basketball playing, brought about by his having reached the age limit. His birthday was Wednesday, Games Coming Up

A pair of home games are on tap for the Cats. Friday night of this week, New Haven comes here, and on Tuesday night of next week, St. Thomas of Port Thomas, will be in Walton.

There are only a few days left in which to pay your subscription to the Walton Advertiser, at the old price of $1.50 per year. Effective February 1, 1951, the price will be $2.00 in Northern Kentucky, and $3 elsewhere, per year.

The editor wishes to state that in the hundreds who have taken advantage of this offer during the past two weeks, not one single person objected to the raising being put on. We think this is wonderful.

Many are paying a number of years in advance in order to save the difference, and that is just what we want them to do. Some have paid five years in advance—we don't know how anyone could earn $2.50 easier.

For those who will be in town Saturday, we will be open all day—until 6:00 p. m.

Former Publisher of Independence Paper Seeking Old Copies

Jack Wild, who published the Kenton-Campbell Courier at Independence in 1937-1938, is seeking old copies of that newspaper. The Courier was consolidated with the Walton Advertiser in 1938.

Fire destroyed the complete file of the Kenton-Campbell Courier in 1939, and Wild hopes for sentimental reasons to be able to obtain copies that might have been saved by former subscribers. Readers of the Advertiser, who subscribed to the Courier and who still have copies of the Independence paper, are asked to help.

Copies of the Kenton-Campbell Courier or correspondence regarding them should be sent to Jack Wild, 153 Wabash Drive, Lexington, and will be gratefully acknowledged. Wild is now director of public relations for the University of Kentucky.

Farm Bureau workers representing every community in the county have been invited to attend this kick-off meeting, which will launch the annual Farm Bureau Membership Drive.

American Legion Home Is Ransacked By Vandals Recently

The American Legion Hall in Walton, was ransacked recently by vandals, who entered the building through the floor from the first floor into the second, where the Legion quarters are located. After gaining entrance to the upper story, the invaders broke a lock to a cigarette and soft drink cabinet and took an undetermined amount of merchandise. Members did not notice that the building had been entered for some time, since the burglars had placed a table over the hole in the floor.

The Legion warns that anyone caught entering or trespassing on this property will be prosecuted, and this also means those who have been breaking lights, windows and stealing timbers.

Teenager Gets Appetite Back; Thanks Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron Which Her System Lacked.

According to Sara Loraine Beck, Box 253, Coker, Alabama, when a person is only 15 years old and feels terrible, can't eat or sleep the way they should, it's mighty bad. That is the way Loraine says she used to feel, but that was, of course, before she started taking HADACOL. Loraine found that taking HADACOL helped her system overcome deficiencies in Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Loraine Beck's own statement: "I was run-down, sick and skinny, and weighed only 90 pounds before I used HADACOL. I would not eat because I had no appetite. Now I weigh 123 pounds and have an appetite. I feel a lot better. I have been taking HADACOL 10 months and am still taking it. I am 15 years old. HADACOL has done me lots of good."

The front end of the ambulance was badly damaged, and Mr. Schulker got a knot on his head, and his daughter found herself sprawled on the floor of the ambulance with her chin over a floor railing. She received a cut under the chin. The matter of the accident was in court last Saturday morning.

Mr. Schulker, suffering from loss of blood, has been given several transfusions, some of which he was not able to retain. He is reported to be in a serious condition, being too weak for an operation at 74 years of age and afflicted with a heart ailment.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

by Gil Kingbury

The big topic of discussion here in the Capital is that prospective tax increase and the size of the budget.

As you know, the President has suggested something like a spending program of 71 billion dollars. Of that amount, about 136 million dollars will be used to operate the city of Washington.

Wants To Save:

Congressman Joe Bates will have a lot to say about the Washington budget. As Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee for Washington, the Kentucky lawmaker keeps a close check on spending.

He looked at the White House recommendation the other day and declared that his committee "will search for all possible economies." He thought the 136 million dollar Washington appropriation a "little extravagant."

Spence, Gregory:

At least two Kentucky congressmen will have a lot to say about war-time controls and taxes.

Congressman Spence, re-elected Chairman of the House Banking Committee, will handle all bills having to do with price and wage controls as well as rent controls.

To Congressman Gregory goes the job of raising taxes. He is a member of the House Ways and Means Committee. And that Committee is in charge of taxes. No one envies the Kentuckian his tough job.

HST Eats Duck:

President Truman took time out the other day to go over to the Supreme Court building to visit his old friend, Fred Vinson, the Chief Justice.

A dinner of duck was the big attraction. Justice Douglas had just returned from a hunting trip and provided the fowl. One Judge was absent—Stanley Reed of Maysville, Ky., being out of town.

The Senate Ladies:

The Senate ladies—the wives of Senators—are bucking down to war work. The group meets each Tuesday to roll bandages, and the Washington Red Cross has raised the quota assigned to them.

The President of the Club is Mrs. Alben Barkley. She was helped at her last meeting by Mrs. Earle C. Clements and Mrs. A. O. Stanley, the wife of Kentucky's World War I Governor and former Senator. Mrs. Stanley has been a member of the group for more than 30 years.

The Warren County 4-H Cooperative Association bought 40 heifers in Michigan and Indiana for distribution to young dairymen.

Primed tobacco cured with the aid of fire brought Russell county farmers around 60 cents a pound.

John Cole and Luther Poore of Clinton county paid $8 an acre to have 50 acres of bushland cleared with tractor and bush and bog disk.

SHORT STORY
An Annual Affair

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

3-Minute Fiction

LAST YEAR WE appointed Barney Bridges chairman of our annual fair in Burnettsville. Old Jake Fletcher had been chairman for 15 years, and there were those who disapproved of ousting him in favor of young Barney.

Cyrus Gill, the town's leading and richest citizen, voiced the sentiments of the majority. "Jake ran a good enough fair, but Jake's getting old and his ways are out of date. We gotta keep up with the times out here in Burnettsville like everywhere else. Barney Bridges is young and has modern ideas."

This was true enough. Barney promised to zip up the fair. The first thing he planned to do was modernize the horse racing event. Heretofore we'd just had races that were run for the honor of the thing, trotters, with folks making side bets. Barney's idea was to import some famous promoter and make the betting open.

"It's a heck of a lot worse to have a lot of undercover betting going on with no system to it than it will be to have open betting with everyone being given a chance to throw in his dime's worth."

Every one but Jake Fletcher agreed. "The only trouble with that is," he allowed, "this professional promoter jigger you're going to import ain't known to none of us."

"Pshaw!" declared Barney tolerantly. "The man I have in mind has been in the business for years. He wouldn't dare try nothin' funny."

"Dunno about that," said Jake. "You got to figure that every last man of us is endowed with criminal instincts. Oh, we're honest enough on the surface. That's because we're smart. But you give us a chance to pull a fast one and we'll jump at it. If we're sure we can get away with it."

ANYWAY, Barney imported this chap Dana Easton. Dana Easton had promoted everything from prize fights to steamboat races. When we put the proposition up to him he said he'd sure be glad to promote the horse racing angle of our Fair.

The day of the Fair arrived and it seemed that most of the money was bet on a mare named Homing Pigeon, driven by Charley Colewell. Charley had won plenty of races in past years and it looked like he was going to win again.

I sat in the grandstand and watched the sulks line up. They made a pretty sight. The band was playing, the sun shining, and everybody was happy and feeling festive. Dana Easton had proven his showmanship by decorating the track and grounds and issuing silk shirts, and caps to the drivers. He had also hired the band and installed a loudspeaker system.

Then the race started. Around the track they went, six of them. Burnside's best; stretching out their necks, in perfect stride. Homing Pigeon led up to the half, then Jasper Bush's horse came abreast of him, then Hector Dryden came abreast of them, then Fergus Cross came abreast of them.

It looked like a neck and neck affair, which struck me as being strange. Then suddenly I stopped yelling and just stared. Coming down the stretch the four lead horses had slowed down . . . and by cripes, 15 yards from the finish tape, they all stopped!

It wasn't until late that night that I got all the details. Dana Easton had bribed Charley Colewell and Jasper Bush to pull their horses so Hector Dryden could win. Hector was a long shot and would have paid plenty.

But it didn't work that way. Why? Because Jake Fletcher had figured what Dana Easton was up to and had secretly and individually bribed the other four racers to hold in their horses.

With all six drivers bribed the race simply came to a standstill and nobody finished.

"Which," Jake Fletcher pointed out, "just proves my contention that every one's a crook. If he thinks he can get away with it."

Much corn in Livingston county was soft, with yields 10 to 12 percent under 1949.

The Good Must Fight

Lesson for January 21, 1951

YOU WOULD think that if ever there arrived on this planet a really good person, he would be popular with everybody. People are tired of meanness, they are sick of being lied to and cheated. They are tired of the sins of others, even tired of their own. So if a really good person should appear, one in whom was no shadow, completely transparent to the Eternal Light, wouldn't everyone flock to him, wouldn't he have the human race in the palm of his hand, as it were, in a short time?

Dr. Foreman

Along War
THE ANSWER is No. It is not well to be too optimistic about human nature. As a matter of fact, some of the best persons history has known met some of the bitterest opposition. Indeed, when One came who was completely good, whose life was all light and no shadow, he was no better treated and no more warmly welcomed than less good persons have been.

Jesus Christ had his enemies, strong and well-organized. The number of those who believed in him was comparatively small; the number who did not believe or ignored him altogether, was enormous.

The history of mankind is the history of a war, the age long war between good and evil, between God and his enemies. The story of Jesus is one chapter in this history, the most important by far, but by no means the first one or the last.

Why Was Jesus Hated?
THE READER should examine the record in the Gospels and try to think for himself who opposed Jesus, and why they did so. One striking fact is that Jesus' enemies were not what we call the "lower classes," much less the "criminal classes." His enemies were rather from out of the top drawer, as we might say. They were the financial, social and religious leaders of his time. They finally got him executed as a criminal.

If there had never been any one to contradict the records of the Sanhedrin, that high court of Jerusalem, and those records had become recognized as the truth, Jesus would have gone down in history, if remembered at all, as a trouble-maker, a lawless and worthless man, whose execution was a protection to society.

Why were these leading men, Jesus' "distinguished" contemporaries, so wrong about Jesus?

"As he is, so are we..."

THE READER should think this out for himself. One reason can be mentioned here: it is very easy for wrong to be so long accepted and so strongly entrenched that it is universally taken for right. Then when the right comes along, especially when in the form of an idea suggested by some one not of the upper crust, it actually seems to be wrong. People look long in a dark room and find light painful.

Any one who tries to follow Jesus will find himself up against the same sort of opposition.

Any one who proposes to live as Jesus lived, or to change our accustomed patterns of society in the direction which Jesus pointed out, will be called (as he was) a crackpot, a dreamer, an impractical fellow who does not know enough to go in when it rains.

Our Divine Alliance

CONSIDER one example of this. A Christian who makes up his mind to dedicate his body a "living sacrifice" to God, and therefore not to handicap himself with the drug of alcohol, is certain, in many places, to be considered a sort of crank. It is not that people will laugh at him, though they will; people will be angry with him for his stand. They will do all they can to make him break his pledge.

Instead of admiring a clean and free life, many people are not content unless they can see that cleanliness and break down that freedom. So to stand for Christ in any aspect of life is not easy. But we need to remember we fight no lonely fight; our cause is not forlorn.

Just as Jesus in Galilee was always on the side of those who were beaten and battered by sin and evil, but still fighting, so now the ever-living Christ is always on the side of those who in their hearts desire good and not evil, cleanness and not dirt, truth and not lies.

BUYERS & LOAFERS

Tuesday was a very busy day—Elvin Cook from Crittenden, came down and bought his wife a new Maytag washer—Peggy Vest came in a few minutes later and bought Ruth a new Maytag washer. These washers are very scarce and getting worse every day. Hugh and Mrs. Semones were over today, from Hebron. I believe they would move back if we would let them—and we hope they do. We just unloaded 40 cartons of combinations (or pots, as some of you call them)—they are the kind that you set under the bed at night—last time, when metal got scarce, you could not buy a combination, so this time we have enough to start on—

Neil Sutton and Rem Williams, her son-in-law, were in for a few minutes, buying galvanized pipe and angel cake pan. Neil can't get her television aerial up high enough. Ed Elmore was looking just a little today—he sold his tobacco and needed a little rest after a long seige. Lebus and Louise Stephenson had Chick cut their glass for their coffee table. He is a real glass cutter. Ray repaired Mabel Groger's washer today, also washed all the windows in front, repaired a leak in the gutter on top of the store, caulked skylights in warehouse—he is some handy man, and still an old bachelor.

Mr. Lay, who rented A. K. Johnson's house on Church Street, bought a radiant gas heater—they are very handy and cheap. Mrs. Henry Cutlet, over between Verona and Crittenden, was in today shopping. Luther Risner was getting a lot of galvanized water pipe and fittings to pipe water into his dairy barn. Ray went over and repaired some water pumps for Bernard Ryan, and came back with Katherine Feagan's and put new light bulbs behind the control knobs on her electric stove.

Look who just walked in the store—Harold Conrad, just in from Texas. First time he has been home in five years. He looks fine and is doing well, but the Marines are getting awfully close to him—he may have to go back in service. Omer Kite was in Saturday, very quiet. His rheumatism was hurting him. Mr. and Mrs. C. Wright, who live over on U. S. 17, close to Nicholson, bought a Dayton water system. When you buy a Dayton, you buy the best. Forest and Louise Marsh were in for a few minutes. Forest bought a shovel and Louise bought school supplies for the children.

Pete Chapman bought Clyde's oldest boy a Roadmaster bicycle. Pete always buys the best for these children, and Uncle Pete is a second Santa Claus. Leslie Hoffman bought a washer for Herbert's mother, who lives over at Whites Town. Chick sold some more Perfection cook stoves—they just put it in their car and took it with them—I didn't get to see who they were. Mr. and Mrs. Will Hord bought a very fine Perfection electric range, the best one I had. They are going to remodel their kitchen—they have everything else up in tip-top shape—a wonderful country home and farm.

Elvin Huff was in for a few minutes, bought some pump repairs. Jess Seebree needed a belt for his water pump. Louis Cornelius and wife came over after a milk strainer and steel fence post. Stanley Robinson had Chick drill him several 3/4-inch holes in some steel bars. We have a drill press and no trouble to drill this size hole at all. Lawrence Farrell bought hay frame clamps, standard loops and a lot of bolts. He and Stanley Fooks are building a bed for Lawrence's rubber-tired wagon. Arthur Brewster bought his wife a beautiful Perfection portable heater, porcelain case, pyrex chimney with a brass oil fountain—this is a lifetime stove, the best portable heater made.

Ray went over to Fliskburg and cleaned out Mrs. Lydia Taylor's oil heater—a very dirty job and very few people will do these kind, but he takes the bad with the good and don't say much. I unloaded something today I haven't had for a long time and that was kitchen sinks 54-inches long, double drain, steel porcelain tops—there won't be many of these—get one while you can.

I have a two-horse farm sled for $48 and a one-horse sled for $30—these are well made, ready to hitch to. I also have a used electric water pump with a new 30-gallon tank for $73.50, in good condition—just received two more Dayton water systems to sell for $112.50 each. Do you have a heated water fountain for your chickens? I have the electric and kerosene 5-gallon and 8-gallon sizes—also a four-foot feeder on legs and a hanging type feeder. When you start your baby chicks, I have the Jamesway oil brooder or the Jamesway electric brooder—they are a little higher than some other makes, but they are the best. You never have to worry about fire when you use a Jamesway brooder. When you buy the old reliable brands, such as Perfection, Maytag, Jamesway, Dayton, Anchor, Diston, Case, Kelly and lots of other brands, they just put out a little better merchandise than a competitor—they have to do this to hold their reputation, they have spent years building. We try to sell the best merchandise we can buy, so always come to CONRAD'S—we'll try to have the best—

Home Management Leaders Meet For Training School

Forty-eight Home Management leaders of the Kenton County Homemakers' Association attended the training school Tuesday, January 23 at the Union Light, Heat & Power Company, conducted by Ida C. Hagman, Home Management Specialist from the University of Kentucky, and Miss Zelma E. Byerly, Kenton County Home Demonstration Agent.

The school was the final one in a series of Home Management lessons presented to the Kenton County Homemakers. "Let Your Equipment Work for You," was the subject. Miss Hagman stated that every family should plan to make household equipment last as long as possible. Daily care and needed repair of equipment will determine the length of usefulness. Lectures and demonstrations were given by members of the staff of the Union Light, Heat and Power Co. on how to care for electrical equipment.

Home lighting, the laundry, and the kitchen were discussed at the afternoon session. Leaders were given an opportunity to see equipment at work and to learn how to get the most out of the appliances that they own.

Leaders attending were: Mesdames Albert Simpson, F. M. Poyers, Wm. P. Meyers, Gordon McNeill, Roland Weber, Ray Mollman, J. M. Dryer, W. R. Scouten, Walter Scheid, Earl Whitefoot, R. G. Walton Army Man Awarded Bronze Star Medal For Heroism

A Walton soldier has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for his fearlessness in locating and killing an enemy sniper who was attempting to take the life of the 1st Cavalry Division commander.

He is Corporal Wilbur L. Morehead, son of Mrs. Martha Morehead of Walton, Route 2.

Corporal Morehead was awarded this decoration for heroism displayed near Tabung, Korea, September 24, 1950, while a member of the U. S. 1st Cavalry Division.

The citation accompanying Corporal Morehead's decoration reads, in part:

"During a halt after the 1st Cavalry Division's breakout of the Nakdong River defense lines, a deadly sniper tossed a hand grenade at the Division command post.

"Disregarding his own safety to protect his command," the citation said, "Corporal Morehead seized his individual weapon and charged the spot where the sniper was believed to be concealed. As a result of his fearless action the sniper's position was located and the enemy killed."

The citation went on to say, "Had it not been for Corporal Morehead's quick thinking and unhesitating selfless action, the sniper's second attempt on the life of the command post might have been successful. Corporal Morehead's heroism reflects great credit upon himself and the military service," concluded the citation.

The Cats met the New Haven cagers on the Walton floor last Friday night and pounded out a 62-32 decision. However, in the third period, the winners outscored the visitors 11-9 for another close quarter, to lead 42-28 at the quarter end. In the final set to the locals poured it on to register 20 points to four for the Tigers.

SHORT STORY

Jackie's Best World

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

THE DAY BEFORE Darling's three-ring circus, largest to ever visit New England, came to Dexter, Silas Ledbetter called his 12-year-old son in from the barn and said:

"Look here, Jackie, you've been a pretty good boy this summer. Guess you deserve bein' on hand with the other boys at that circus when it gets here tomorrow."

The Ledbetters were poor as church mice, and Jackie hadn't dared even let himself think his pop would let him attend the circus. Consequently, his round blue eyes grew even rounder.

Old Silas grinned and swallowed a lump in his throat. He dug down into his pocket and brought out a shiny, new silver half-dollar.

Jackie carefully placed the half-dollar in a pocket of his tattered overalls, pulled his straw hat well over his ruddy face, puckered up his lips and began to whistle. He whistled all that afternoon and was still whistling when he came in from the lower lot for supper.

Once upstairs, Jackie carefully took off his shirt and then felt in the pocket of his overalls for the half-dollar. He'd better sleep with it under his pillow, he reasoned, like he'd read about folks doing.

It was right then that Jackie's heart sank, right then that the world turned black and there was a horrible, terrifying, empty feeling in the pit of his stomach. The half-dollar was gone!

Jackie wanted to cry, but he was too much of a man for that. He searched through the other pocket very carefully, and then looked in his shoes, and under the bed and about everywhere that the half-dollar might have been. But it was gone, completely vanished.

And so Jackie, his heart aching with misery, crawled into bed. And then—he couldn't help it—he cried. But all the time he kept telling himself he was a man now and he'd better stop crying before mom came up to tuck him in and kiss him good night.

It took him half an hour before he'd feel bad and probably cry, too. And Jackie didn't want that to happen.

HE COULDN'T, he decided, even let mom know that he had lost the half-dollar. Or pop either. That wouldn't be fair. He'd just go off by himself tomorrow afternoon and make them think he was at the circus all the time. He wouldn't want them to know for anything. There wasn't any one in the world had a better pop and mom than he.

Jackie carefully placed the half-dollar in a pocket of his tattered overalls.

Jackie fought to keep back the tears. He didn't wait long after breakfast and set out with his pitchfork over his shoulder and a whistle on his lips.

Once out of sight of the house, the whistle died. The ache and misery in his heart just wouldn't let it go on. Still, he was going to see the parade anyway, and pop and mom would think he was going to the circus. It was comforting to know that pop and mom were happy.

Jackie reached the lower lot and began to shake out the hay as pop had asked him to do. He couldn't loaf on the job, he told himself, because if he did pop wouldn't think him very grateful for the half-dollar.

Jackie turned the hay in one windrow and started on the "next." But all the while his heart fairly sobbed with misery. And then abruptly that same heart, almost ceased to beat. Jackie stared and stared at something round and shiny that lay in the stubbles under the forkful of hay he'd just picked up. After a long time, it seemed, his heart began to thump again. He felt goose pimples breaking out all over his body. He wanted to cry and shout and do all sorts of things.

And then Jackie remembered that he'd been working here on the afternoon before, and the half-dollar must have slipped out of his pocket. He picked up the coin, squeezed it lovingly, and holding it tightly in his clenched fist, went to staking out the hay again. The best mom and the best pop in the world, he told himself joyfully.

In the past five years Mrs. C. E. Shelby of Todd county has made two 9x12 wool rugs, one braided and one hooked, and five of each method in smaller sizes.

Income last year from dairy products in Monroe county was up 30 percent over 1949, and it is expected to be increased a fifth this year.

More than 1,500 dogs in Woodford county were licensed in 1950 and about 400 destroyed, according to the sheep growers association.

We have an addition to make to that list of Kentuckians who have served as Speaker of the House. Lynn Boyd, Congressman from the Paducah District, was Speaker way back in the 32nd and 33rd Congress. It was for him that Boyd county was named.

Congressional Mail:

Scores of Kentucky mothers have been busy writing their congressmen and senators regarding the bill to draft 18 year old youths. They are opposed to it, and they cite the immaturity of such young men.

Defense Department officials, in testimony before Congressional Committees, insist that if 18 year old boys are not taken, then it will be necessary to recall veterans and men with families.

All in all, lawmakers have a tough decision to make and we do not envy them.

Appointments:

With the draft board breathing on the necks of young men, those appointments to Annapolis and West Point are gaining in favor.

However, some young students seeking a military career are overlooking several bets. We've mentioned them before. For example, there's the Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn. Appointments are highly prized, and the graduate wins a commission as an ensign. Your congressman or senator can get information although he has no appointive powers at this academy.

Also well worth an investigation are those Navy R. O. T. C. scholarships. They are good at 52 colleges across the country and here, too, a graduate gets a commission. For information, just write the nearest navy recruiting office or the Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C.

Feed Markets Continue

On A Downward Trend

Feed markets made further declines during the week ended January 23. Influenced principally by slow demand, reports to the U. S. and Kentucky Departments of Agriculture indicate. Feeders and distributors entered new contracts cautiously and were inclined to await further developments concerning price or other government control. Production of most feeds contained large and offerings were plentiful.

Rates of wheat middlings and hominy feed dropped over $2.00 per ton while cottonseed meal was $1.00 per ton lower at most markets. Soybean meal prices fluctuated during the week but at the close averaged about $3.00 per ton higher. The index of feedstuff prices dropped over 2 points to 235.5, while the feed grain index advanced 2 points to 239.8. A year ago the feedstuff index stood at 203.4 and feed grains at 182.3.

So—the Capitol will have to get another flier to take over the elevator. Lieutenant Taylor served three years in the last unpleasantness and on discharge joined up with the Reserves. Hence, his recall to duty.

Wood Carver:
Emery Frazier, Chief Clerk of the Senate and a resident of Whitesburg, has made a reputation here in Washington as a wood carver.

Emery likes to get bits of discarded furniture from the Capitol and take it home. Then, in his spare moments, he turns that material into coveted paper weights, gavels and other articles. Emery, a close friend of the Vice President, was Mayor of Whitesburg before he came to Washington. He's immensely popular with Kentuckians as well as those not so fortunate.

Oak Ridge Homemak's

A sidit on how to make your work easier was enacted by Mrs. A. G. Bowling and Mrs. Russell Yates at the January meeting of the Oak Ridge Homemakers club.

Prior to the presentation of the major lesson on "Planning My Time," Mrs. Eugene Tomlin, project leader for the club, quoted Benjamin Franklin, "Employ thy time well if thou meanest to gain leisure; and since thou art not sure of a minute, throw not away an hour." Suggestions and plans on the subject as given by Ida C. Hagman and Frances M. Stallard of the University of Kentucky, were carefully studied and given much consideration by members.

Mrs. Ed Piper, president, conducted the business meeting. Proceeds in the amount of $25, obtained from a candy and bake sale held at the John R. Coppins store, were voted to be donated to the Fudo Fund, as a part of the club's civic project.

A poem by Curtis Clark was given as the thought of the month. Mrs. Ralph Lewellen gave the lesson on Exterior Beautification, emphasizing the importance of improving the entrance to the farm or rural home. She stated that shrubbery, colorful flowers and a neat mail box with name plainly painted are just a few of the many ideas to enhance the farm setting.

Devotional included the homemakers "collected" by Mary Stewart and Psalm 90. Hostess for the day was Mrs. Orvan Douglas, 3112 Rogers St., Covington. Mrs. Eddie Schreck acted as co-hostess.

Luncheon was served the following members: Mesdames. Burns Riggs, Pearl Piper, Kelly Hall, Roscoe Sudduth, Kenneth Galloway, Paul Uewsom, I. E. Mann, Ed Piper, Ralph Lewellen, Thomas Rennaker, Russell Yates, A. G. Bowling, Johnnie Piper, W. B. Wheeler, Eugene Tomlin, Delmar Cooper, and Miss Annie Olding. Guests were Mrs. W. L. Walden, and Mrs. C. M. McNew. Mrs. I. E. Mann of 123 East 41st Street, Covington, will be hostess for the February meeting.

the Railroads RESPECT... the Labor Unions seek to REPLACE... this agreement.

What is the TRUTH?

At various states in the present dispute with the brotherhoods of railroad operating employees, the railroads agreed to arbitrate. The union leaders refused.

... the railroads accepted the recommendations of President Truman's Emergency Board. The union leaders refused.

... the railroads accepted the White House proposal of August 19, 1950. The union leaders refused.

Finally an Agreement was signed at the White House on December 21, 1950. Now the union leaders seek to repudiate the Agreement.

The railroads stand ready to put the terms of this Agreement into effect immediately, with back pay at the rates and date indicated. The Agreement is given in full below.

 8. Agreement embodying principles applicable to yardmasters to be entered into for benefit of yardmasters.
 9. Effective October 1, 1950, the basic hours of dining car stewards shall be reduced from 225 to 205 hours per month; no penalty overtime to accrue until 240 hours have been worked, the hours between 205 and 240 to be paid for at the pro rata rate.
 - Effective February 1, 1951, overtime at time and one-half shall accrue after 220 hours have been worked. The basic monthly salary to be paid for the 205-hour month shall be the same as that now paid for the 225-hour month. Except that four dollars and ten cents ($4.10) shall be added to the present monthly rate effective January 1, 1951.
 10. In consideration of above, this agreement to be effective until October 1, 1953, and thereafter until changed or modified under provisions of Railway Labor Act. Moratorium on proposals for changes in wages or rules until October 1, 1953, as follows:
- No proposals for changes in rates of pay, rules or working conditions will be initiated or progressed by the employees against any carrier or by any carrier against its employees, parties hereto, within a period of three years from October 1, 1950, except such proposals for changes in rules or working conditions which may have been initiated prior to June 1, 1950. Provided, however, that if as the result of government wage stabilization policy, workers contractually have been permitted to receive so-called annual improvement increases, the parties may meet orally on or after July 1, 1952, to discuss whether or not further wage adjustments are justified. If the request of either party for such meeting is refused, the request of the other party for such meeting shall fix the time and place for such meeting. Notice from the wage stabilization parties may secure information from government agencies. If the parties are unable to agree at such conferences whether or not further wage adjustments are justified

INDEPENDENCE

A Full House

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox of Independence, were delightfully surprised Sunday, when a throngful of relatives came in to see them and Mrs. Cox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Monrovia, Calif.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gaines and son, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gaines, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gaines, Mr. and Mrs. Minford Hattery and Miss Marjorie Marshall, all of Dayton, Ohio. The farthest-away visitor was Mrs. Katherine Nail, a sister of Mrs. Cox, from Detroit, Michigan. All were nieces and nephews of the elderly Mr. and Mrs. Davis.

Scout Spaghetti Supper

The second annual spaghetti supper given by the Boy Scouts, will be held Saturday, February 10. The supper will start being served at 5:30 p. m. A good turn-out is desired.

John Schuler III

Word was sent recently to Edward Schuler, serving in the armed forces in Korea, concerning the serious illness of his father, John Schuler. A telegram has been received that the son is on his way, as far as Cuba, and is coming from there by plane and train to Independence. Mr. Schuler remains in a very critical condition, without hope.

Enjoys Furlough

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stephens have taken their infant son back to the hospital, the second time for treatment of this new intestinal trouble.

Pastor Confined

W. E. Maners, pastor of the Independence Baptist Church, has been confined to his bed several days due to "red" throat. Rev. The Brotherhood meeting of the church was held, in the absence of the pastor, by George Carter, a Cincinnati businessman and one of the directors of the Cincinnati Youth for Christ. It's reported that Mr. Carter brought a very excellent message.

Pleasant Surprise

One of the surprises this week in church circles was an out-of-state letter from a good woman not a member, who used to attend services at the Baptist church. The letter spoke of her appreciation of the church and pastor, and it contained a check for the church in the sum of $100.00.

Simon Kenton 84, Florence 31

Simon Kenton's Pioneers made it a dozen victories in 18 games by soundly trouncing the Florence High Knights 84-31 at Independence last week. The Pioneers, using ten men, led throughout, quarter scores being 12-9, 26-15 and 50-21.

Gene Coggage led the Simon Kenton team with 23 points, while Hensman added 19 and Hardgrove 13. Charlie Dinn was the big noise for the losers with 11 points.

The S. K. reserves had just as easy a time with a 46-17 win over the Florence second team.

Beecroft Homemakers

"Planning My Time" by Ida C. Hagman and Frances Stallard was the theme of the lesson given the Beecroft Homemakers' Club by Mrs. F. M. Powers, at the home of Mrs. Gus Schaefer, who was hostess. Co-hostess was Mrs. Roger Robinson.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Carrel McFarland, president. The Thought of the Month, "Hail and Farewell" by T. C. Clark, was read by Mrs. Frank Lynskey, program chairman.

Mrs. F. M. Powers, reading chairman, stressed that everyone should read and study the articles published on "What to do in an Atomic Attack," and the members decided to study these instructions as part of future programs. Exterior Beautification lesson "Plans for 1951" was given by Mrs. W. P. Meyers.

Mrs. W. P. Meyers was elected as publicity chairman, to succeed Mrs. H. L. Clark, with Mrs. Edward Steinhilber her assistant. Mrs. Eugene Schaefer and Mrs. Frank Atterkirch were guests. The meeting was closed with the reading of the 90th Psalm by Mrs. Frank Lynskey, who also directed the recreation period of educational games.

Tobacco Seed Sowers Are Now Available

Now you can sow your tobacco seed evenly, regardless of wind or storm, and almost without effort, with a Mylor Tobacco Seed Sower.

This is the only tobacco seed sower made and has been proven the only sure way of distributing the proper amount of seed uniformly on a tobacco bed.

By sowing your seed evenly you produce a much sturdier tobacco plant and greatly reduce the probability of blue mold.

This seeder has proven its use essential to almost every tobacco grower in the southern states, where they report it highly effective in the prevention of blue mold and also a great labor saver.

J. B. Kelly, Extension Agricultural Engineer of the University of Kentucky, has tested and approved the seeder.

It is set to sow 2 to 2½ level teaspoonful of seed to a bed 100 feet by 9 feet, operated at a slow walk, and of course that amount may be varied by the speed of your walk. A faster walk sowing, slightly thinner, and a slower walk, sowing slightly thicker.

For full particulars and demonstration of this seeder, see George W. (Ab) Ryan, Agent, Walton. 11-5

Nothing Better Than Good Food, Says Ohio Man

If a man isn't able to eat the foods he likes he's in mighty sorry shape—imagine going through life without being able to enjoy a fine big platter of bacon and eggs. That is the way Joseph N. Damsell, 3414 E. 9th Street, Dayton, Ohio, used to be, but since he has been taking HADACOL, he says he feels just fine and is able to enjoy lots and lots of fine foods. Mr. Damsell found that taking HADACOL helped his system overcome a deficiency of Vitamins B, B₁₂, Nicotin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Damsell's statement: "My first bottle of HADACOL convinced me that HADACOL was what I needed for the gas on my stomach at night. I could not keep food on my stomach, but after the first bottle I was going great. Now I eat bacon and eggs, and other foods that never would stay with me. I also can sleep well at night. Thanks to HADACOL I will never be without it, and can recommend it to all who suffer with the above ailments that I had. I know because I have suffered for quite some time."

Adding Superphosphate Helps Manure Make Better Top-dressing for Wheat and Legumes

One Load of Manure Does the Work of Two When Superphosphate Is Added.

BARNYARD manure can be put to good use in top-dressing winter wheat. Ohio agronomists recommend a winter top-dressing of 4 to 5 spreader loads per acre. Manure top-dressings will also help new legume seedlings which go into the winter with weak and short top growth. The manure serves as a mulch which cuts down winterkilling and heaving losses. Besides the mulching benefits, the manure's plant nutrients boost hay yields. Prof. C. J. Chapman, University of Wisconsin extension agronomist, says that one load of manure can be made to do the work of two if superphosphate is added to the manure. He points out that manure contains about twice as much nitrogen and potash as it does phosphate. This nitrogen, largely in liquid form, evaporates rapidly in the form of ammonia. Chapman says that adding superphosphate helps prevent nitrogen loss by locking it up in nonvolatile form and stopping its evaporation. Chapman says superphosphate can be spread in barn gutters at the rate of a pound per cow per day, or the superphosphate can be added when the manure goes out to the field.

LAND IN TOGACCO YEAR AFTER YEAR

Concerning changes in farming in the Bluegrass Area of Kentucky, a bulletin of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington says "of importance in recent years has been the widespread practice of growing tobacco on the same land year after year."

"On land where control of erosion is not a serious problem, apparently tobacco can be produced annually for many years, and soil moisture and plant food requirements maintained."

Due to a favorable season and by following a definite spraying program Johnson county farmers grew higher quality and quantity of apples than ever before.

UK Professor Calls for Unity Against Communism

A united effort on the part of American business, labor and agriculture to bolster the nation's economy against communistic aggression was called for last week in an address at New Orleans by Prof. James W. Martin, director of the University of Kentucky Bureau of Business Research.

The U. K. economist, speaking before the fourth annual Southern Farm Forum, urged a marshaling of forces by all business, labor and farm organizations "to attain the common goal—the victory of freedom over absolutism." Record agricultural and industrial production may well prove to be America's secret weapon, Prof. Martin said.

The Great Teacher

Lesson for January 28, 1951

WE HEAR a lot about a "better world." God pity the poor fool who thinks the world as it is, is all right! And may God stab awake those who are afraid to try to make this world better. If you want to see a group of people who are not afraid, and are really working at this, go to your nearest Sunday school. There you will find teachers of religion. They may be doing a good job or a poor one; but anyhow they are trying. And when one of these teachers succeeds, even a little, in what they are all trying to do, the world has already been made a little better.

Greatest of Teachers
Every Sunday school teacher, or any other sort, for that matter, should study the methods of Jesus to see what good teaching can be. He is and will always be THE Teacher.

His object was not to teach science or history. The only technique he taught was the most important of all—the technique of fine living. His object was to teach "what we are to believe concerning God, and what duties God requires of man."

In short, his subjects were Faith and Life, not separately but welded into one.

Down Where We Live
His method was always simple. He did not use long words, he did not "put his hay on such a high shelf that only intellectual giraffes could reach it," as Billy Sunday expressed it. Common people heard him gladly, because he taught in the kind of language they used, he spoke of things that were familiar to them.

"So the good teacher" today never teaches over the heads of the class. This means he has to have a good imagination, has to make believe to himself that he is one of the class instead of the teacher. He has to remember how the world looked to him when he was a boy, he has to stay young in heart.

Jesus could surely have taught more profoundly than he did. Indeed, he said at the end of his days, "I have many things to say... but ye cannot bear them now." However true a thing might be, he would not say it if his hearers were not ready for it.

Truth in Pictures
THEN Jesus taught in pictures; we call them parables. The best-loved and remembered parts of his teachings are the stories he told. Every one of them was simple; they were about the kinds of people his listeners knew or had often heard of.

The good teacher will always use illustrations. But the best ones will come right out of the experience of the pupils. Jesus never quoted from a book his hearers had not read. He never used illustrations that only a Ph.D. could understand. Furthermore, he never tried to teach two things at once.

A teacher, looking over a Sunday school lesson, may find it full of suggestive ideas; but it is generally better to pick out one truth and illustrate it in several ways, as Jesus did when speaking of the Kingdom of God, than it is to try to bring out everything that could be brought out, and so confusing the class.

Making Them Think
NOW some teachers, trying to be simple, succeed only in being dull. The good teacher must keep the class awake, otherwise no one can learn anything. There is a good motto which might be borrowed by all Sunday school teachers: "Nothing that is not interesting; not everything that is interesting; nothing merely because it is interesting."

Jesus gained attention and interest in various ways. One was the "quirky" nature of his teaching; that is, it was often puzzling. There was often something that sent listeners away thinking: Now what did he mean by that? Confucius once remarked: "I give my pupil one corner of an idea. If he cannot get the other three corners for himself, I do not want him for my pupil." So Jesus often gave out one corner of a truth and let his hearers (and ourselves!) wrestle out the other three.

COLD WEATHER

When the weather gets cold, we have the loafers and lots of them—Al Hunt is on the job, telling these old tales that happened years ago—Omer Dudgeon just listens, as does Bert Parker and J. C. Benton. Gayle McElroy spends a few minutes at noon and after work hours, but he can't stand it very long. Jack Berkshire, our mail man, stops for a second, but he has to go. John Napier and Howard Denner came over and loafed awhile, but John bought a radio and went home—I guess he thought he could have music at home, which would be better than listening to these birds around the old stove.

Tobacco sales are about over, farm sales are starting; dairy cows are bringing high prices; livestock market in Cincinnati is frozen or slowed up to a stand-still. We had a lot of conversation about prices of farm produce, prices in the cost of living, drafting our young men, and most any other subject you could mention. Around the old stove you can hear most any subject—religion, politics, women, scandal, jokes of all kinds, and some very hot arguments. Friday we had loafers and more loafers, also some good customers. Lindsey Branshear, over Verona way, bought a two-horse sled.

Harry Baker, from Gallatin county, bought six rolls of barbed wire. Ted Helle, the mayor of Richwood, bought a pair of wheelbarrow handles to repair the old one. Harris Moore bought fence wire and staples. Helen Welsh had Brewster put in a bathroom gas heater, to keep Nick warm when he takes a bath. Robert Griffin and wife were hunting an electric heating element and a thermostat for a brooder which I did not have, but I ordered same and they will be in next week. We try to have all kinds of poultry equipment but this one I forgot.

Howe Hood and wife were shopping in Walton today. Tom Smith, who moved to Mt. Zion, came all the way back after the Walton Advertiser. Cliff Reochour and Carl, his brother, were loafing. Kruse Johnson was in today after working at the Carrollton warehouse for the past two months. Robert Spiegle, from over Gallatin county, also was in Walton, bringing tools to start another tobacco crop. Jack Berkshire sold his house to Chester Edwards, and he moved in with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker, who live down by Hager's Nursery, are very good customers in Walton, although they are very close to Florence. We all ways welcome customers like these—they are fine people. Vol Stephenson, from over in Kenton, was buying clothes line and light bulbs. Nathan Northcutt was in rejoicing over his new son-in-law, also paid up his subscription to the Advertiser—he wants to keep up with all the news in Walton. Chief Simmons is really after dogs—says he will have enough to make up a lot of hamburgers in a few days. Gordon Phillips, Robert Horn, Nick Welsh, Clarence Combs and Omer Dudgeon were all loafing Saturday.

Jerry and Brown Roberts were in after white-wash brushes to clean up their dairy barn. Don't you need a new 1951 model Gibson refrigerator? We have all sizes, also how about a Perfection electric range—you get more for your money when you buy Perfection! Ben Atha from Gallatin county, just came in and bought a four-time fork and two steel wedges. Russell Yealey Jack Allphin are dealing in hogs, any size, just come in with 13, which is an unlucky number. Mr. and Mrs. Will Hord came in to pay for the Perfection electric range and before they quit, they bought a beautiful Murray cabinet sink and a Dayton water system. I told you Mrs. Hord was going to fix up that kitchen and now I know she is.

Mrs. James Naive was in Saturday buying a screw driver and a rolling pin—if Jim takes that screw driver, she will use the rolling pin on him. George Sharp just blew in—he works at Kruse Hdw. Co., Cincinnati, and stays in the city. He is doing OK and has a nice position. Beckham Shields came in but he couldn't stay—he had to go home and milk. Very sorry to hear C. A. Coyle being in the hospital. I didn't know anything about it until he was already home and improving slowly.

Walter Clemons was buried this past week. Mrs. Mollie Powers died last night—she has been ill for some time. Would you like to make $15—I'll tell you how, for some of you are going to buy a power lawn mower next May. If you buy it now, you can save $15.00 and that is a very easy way to make it. We have Eclipse and Reo in stock now. Are you going to raise baby chicks—we have a few Jamesway electric hovers and Jamesway all brooders, also 100-chick size table brooder made by Hudson for $18.50.

Don't you need a rubber tired wagon—our last shipment this year is on the way and we will not get any more; also I will only get six Bernis tobacco setters and no Tigris, and probably no Massey-Harris, so if you need a setter, you had better put your order in. I will get 10 Cole fer- and 2 Vulcan hillside plows, so you see it is getting tight and will gradually grow worse—if you need anything, you had better try at CONRAD HARDWARE, for they try to have it.

Heavy Road Damage Seen As Result Of Severe Weather

Heavy damage to northern Kentucky roads is expected to be uncovered when frozen ground thaws enough to permit an extensive survey.

This was the summation of Martin Thomas, office engineer for the nine-county district of the State Highway Department in a release Tuesday.

He said it would be impossible on the basis of sketchy reports—made since the subzero weather of the past week to evaluate the damage in dollars and cents.

"It all depends on whether the road base has frozen dry," Mr. Thomas explained, "if so, when the big thaw comes there will not be extensive 'growing,' which is the condition that causes much road deterioration. The softening of the road base by freezes and thaws permits the hard surface to work up and down and eventually breaks it up."

He noted that the damage is expected to run 30 to 50 per cent above that experienced during a normal winter. The much-traveled U. S. 25 has suffered the most damage and as a result will have to have extensive repair. He said the stretch from Lookout Heights south to Florence will receive much attention.

Mr. Thomas said that the highway will be re-surfaced between Walton and Williamstown, starting in May. This work was included in last year's road program, but the contractor was unable to get to it.

Dairy and Agronomy Meet

A one-day dairy and agronomy meeting has been scheduled for Kenton county, according to C. A. Wicklund, County Agent. The meeting will be held at the Independence Courthouse, Friday, February 9, beginning at 9:30 a. m., and closing at 3:00 p. m.

Morning program, 9:30 a. m.—Veal and dairy calf production, John M. Foster, Field Agent in Dairy; soil testing and its interpretation, Roy L. Flannery, Field Agent in Agronomy. (Noon, lunch).

Afternoon program, 1:00 p. m.—Winter feeding of dairy cattle, John M. Foster; management and fertilization of hay and pasture crops in dairy farming, Roy L. Flannery.

Farmers interested in dairying, livestock, soil and pasture management can discuss their problems with the field agents from the College of Agriculture at this meeting.

Conrads On Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Powers Conrad left Sunday for Louisville where they will attend the annual Hardware Convention this week and then will continue their vacation in Hot Springs, Arkansas, of course, if the weather will permit the trip. All the Advertiser readers will be interested to see what their favorite columnist will write about it all.

Hopewell Circle to Meet

The Gladys Hopewell Circle of the Walton Baptist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. O. J. Struve Thursday evening, February 8. Members and visitors are urged to attend.

LUCY I. BROOKS

Mrs. Lucy Irvin Brooks, a resident of Walton for many years, died early Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, at the age of 78 years.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Rebecca Herrington of Cincinnati, Mrs. Mary Griffin of Louisville, Mrs. Ethel Blevins of Tampa, Fla., and Mrs. Betta Cumberston of Flakburg; six sons, Silas S. and George Brooks of Walton, Joseph Brooks of Newport, Charles Brooks of Norwood, Ohio, James Brooks of Cynthia, and Elmer Brooks of Covington; 25 grandchildren, and 23 great-grandchildren. She was a member of the Oatens Chapel Methodist Church.

Funeral services were held at 11 a. m., Tuesday at the Chambers and Grubbs funeral home, Walton, with burial following in Independence Cemetery.

Walton Homemakers to Meet

The Walton Homemakers' Club will meet Friday, February 9, at 11 a. m., in the Walton Baptist Church for the regular monthly meeting. A covered dish dinner will be served.

The Antiphonal Choir from the Walnut Street Baptist Church, Louisville, Kentucky, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Osbrink, will give a concert at the New Bethel Baptist Church, Verona, on Sunday, February 11, at 7:00 p. m.

This choir comes from the largest Baptist church in Kentucky and is composed of young people, ages 13-20. This choir is one of six, four of which are young people's choirs, organized by the Osbrinks since their coming to Walnut Street in October, 1949. Before their coming to Louisville, they were graduated from Wheaton College in Illinois. Their love for Christ, their winning personality, and their musical ability make them outstanding leaders among young people.

The choir will sing such numbers as "Beneath the Cross of Jesus," the "Lord's Prayer," "Little David Play

On Your Harp," and many others. Along with the choir will be a boy's quartet and a girl's trio.

This choir may be heard on February 11, at 10:45 a. m., at the Fort Mitchell Baptist Church, at 3:30 p. m., at the Crescent Springs Baptist Church, and then at 7:45 p. m. at the New Bethel Church, Verona. The public is cordially invited to hear the gospel message in song presented by these young people.

MILLARD J. SULLIVAN

Services were held at 2 p. m., Monday at the Bullitt Baptist Church for Millard Jennings Sullivan, 53-year-old Boone county farmer, who died Saturday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Burial was in Petersburg Cemetery.

Mr. Sullivan, whose home was in Petersburg, suffered a heart attack January 29. He was a member of the Bullitt Baptist Church. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mildred Sullivan; a son, Millard Edward Sullivan of Cleves, Ohio; a daughter, Mrs. Harold Davies of Hebron; three brothers, Ed and Earl Sullivan, both of Petersburg, and Charles Sullivan of Moores Hill, Ind., and three grandchildren.

Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Florence, had charge of arrangements.

SAMUEL CLEMENTS

Samuel Clements, a native of Indiana, died at his home in Verona, January 31, at the age of 81 years. He was a retired carpenter and a member of Concord Baptist Church.

Mr. Clements is survived by his wife, Ethel Doan Clements of Verona; two daughters, Mrs. Zelpha Critt of Black Creek, Wis., and Mrs. Dora Passwater of Anderson, Ind.; a son, J. A. Clements of New Point, Ind.; one brother, J. D. Clements of Aurora, Ind., and a step-daughter, Mrs. Clifford Cook of Morning View.

Funeral services were held Saturday, February 3, at 3 p. m. at the Hamilton Funeral Home, Verona, with Rev. Franklin Lipscomb officiating. Interment was in the Rock Creek Cemetery, Rock Creek, Ind., on February 4, after services at the Rock Creek Baptist Church.

Mrs. C. M. Chapman of Caldwell, Idaho, is visiting here for several months at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Chapman, and family of Verona.

State Income Tax Representative To Visit Burlington

Ben F. Zimmer, Jr., a representative of the Kentucky Department of Revenue, will be at the Burlington Courthouse, from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., February 19, 1951, to assist taxpayers in preparing their state income tax returns.

This service, according to George W. Bechtold, Supervisor, is provided as a convenience to taxpayers and to encourage filing before the April 15 deadline for paying state income tax. In addition, the Department of Revenue District office at 714 Copple, Covington, will provide assistance to filers.

Kentucky law requires income tax returns from single individuals who have a gross income of $1500 or more, or a net income of $1000 or more. Married persons are required to file if their combined income amounts to $2000 or more.

Single individuals are entitled to a tax credit of $20. A single person qualifying as "head of family," is entitled to a tax credit of $40. "Head of family" is defined as a person who maintains in his own household one or more dependents who are closely related to him by blood, adoption or marriage. A married couple is also allowed a tax credit of $40.

Any taxpayer who has specific questions about completing his return may call the district office—Hemlock 7290. Mr. Bechtold said, The Kentucky Income Tax is entirely separate from the Federal Income Tax.

Prizes Awarded By Wa-Na Club In Essay Contest

Prizes were awarded to Arthur Linton, Jr. and Cleo Martin for the best essays submitted on the topic "Citizenship." This contest was sponsored by the Wa-Na Club, and conducted in the Citizenship class of Walton-Verona High School.

Monday evening, Mrs. Oscar Cook was hostess to the Wa-Na Club at the Phoenix Restaurant. Mrs. Chas. Hayes, vice president, conducted the business meeting.

As the program for the evening was on Citizenship, Mrs. Clifford C. Pruitt, program chairman, introduced Mr. Linton, first prize winner, and Miss Martin, second prize winner. Both essays were well written and were read by the writers. The club was answered with "Ideas for Good Citizenship." Mrs. Gayle McElroy reported on International Relations. The program closed with the group singing, "The Star Spangled Banner," and reading the Club Collect as a closing prayer.

A desert course was served to the following guests and members: Mrs. William Murray, Mrs. James W. Spencer, Mrs. J. O. Ward, Mrs. Clifford Pruitt, Mrs. Jack Snape, Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mrs. Gayle McElroy, Mrs. George Houston, Mrs. Albert Hunt, Mrs. T. P. Strittmatter, Mrs. Charles Hayes, and Mrs. Clayton Jones.

During the social hour, the club conducted an auction. This was enjoyed by all present and netted a nice sum for the treasury. Next meeting another auction will be held. Please remember to bring something to sell.

The club wishes to thank Mrs. J. O. Ward, teacher, and the students of the Citizenship class for their entries in the contest, as well as the judges who read the essays and selected the winners.

Mrs. James Spencer will be hostess to the club in March, at which time the guest speaker will be C. W. Ransler.

Locals Come From Behind To Win 63-59; Gallatin County Here Friday

The Walton-Verona Bearcats came up with one of their best games Tuesday night, on the home floor, to trim the Newport Wildcats 63-59 in an over-time period. The locals were slow starters but gained momentum as the game progressed and finished strong.

The Wildcats took an 18-11 lead in the first quarter, and in the second period increased their advantage to 10 points, to lead at the intermission 36-26. The Blue and White began cutting this lead in the third frame, whittling off five points, the quarter ending with the visitors in front by a 46-41 score. Five more points were cut off in the final period, to leave things all tied up as the game ended, 57-57. In the three-minute over-time period, the Bearcats outscored the Wildcats 6-2, to win 63-59. This was the fourth straight win for the Walton basketballers and their fifth in the last six encounters.

The Bearcat scoring parade was led by Dennis Glacken, who pumped 22 points through the baskets. Billy Smith added 17 markers; Don Rice 13; Bobby Hall 10, and Don West 3. Lehigh was top man for Newport, with 13 points, followed closely by Redmond, who bagged 12.

Led by Harold Campbell and Junior Linton, who combined to gather 21 points, the Walton reserves won the preliminary contest from the Wildcats 24-23.

One at Home; One Away

The 'Cats have two games scheduled for the coming week. On Friday night, Feb. 9, they will face the Gallatin County High School eagles come to Walton, and on Tuesday night, of next week, the Bearcats go to Hebron for a BCC game (and possible revenge).

PIONEERS BLAST DIXIE

Tuesday night, at Independence, the Simon Kenton Pioneers walloped the Little Colonels of Dixie Heights 28 in a NKAC contest. Coppage led the Pioneer attack, with 15 rallies, and Berryman added 12. True was tops for Dixie with 12 points.

Dixie's reserves won the opening game, 29-27.

INDEPENDENCE

On the Sick List

John Schukler of Independence, was returned from the hospital to his home last Sunday afternoon. He is reported not making much, if any, progress.

Mrs. Wiley Sims, one mile west of Independence, has been laid up for several weeks with some sort of difficulty with her hip.

W. E. Maners, pastor of the Independence Baptist Church, was not able to preach last Sunday, due to the after-effects of the flu. It is reported that he is progressing and hopes to be out soon. Rev. A. V. Schumail of Cincinnati, preached at the Baptist Church, both Sunday morning and evening. In spite of the cold and dangerous side roads, 83 were at Sunday school and a good crowd at the church service.

David Thompson

Funeral services for David Thompson were held at the Independence Baptist Church last Saturday, Feb. 3. He was a tenant farmer, having lived at Rosegate Farm on the Dixie Highway, and at the nursery farm near Florence. His wife, Mrs. Lulu Thompson, preceded him in death November 27, 1946.

First Hand Information

Edward Schukler, who was flown here from Korea to the bedside of his father, John Schukler, reports that it was tough going, fighting with the U. S. former north of the 38th parallel. "Being backed up against Manchuria, no bombing was permitted by the Air Force. There were so many Reds about fifteen to one U. N. soldier, that there was nothing to do but give way. The picture is changing in South Korea, due to the exceeding destructive power and efficiency of the U. S. Air Force. When the big long Red columns mass themselves for attack, and Uncle Sam sends the planes over these columns, the dead are found by the hundreds. The Russian jet planes used to sneak across the border but when our planes would try to encounter them, they would hurry straight across the border again. Finally our planes began to get on to their tricks and came in from the sides and kept them from crossing the border until they had a chance to shoot at them."

Young Mr. Schukler spoke very highly of our Air Force. Edward is a little worse for the conflict, having to make trips to Dayton for the treatment of five broken ribs.

To Call Newlyweds

Men who were married after last June 25 "can expect to receive an induction call in March or April," W. M. Baulch, Chairman of Selective Service Board, 50, Covington, has announced. He revealed also that 117 men will be called by Board 50 for preinduction examinations in February.

Given Probated Term

After pleading guilty of shooting with intent to kill, Harry Lightner, 42, Kenton county, was given a probated sentence of five years Saturday by Judge Joseph P. Goodenough in Kenton Circuit Court, Covington. Lightner was accused of shooting his former wife, Mrs. Rose La Grecco of Chicago, last September 4, when she was visiting relatives in Kenton county.

In court, Mrs. La Grecco and her relatives agreed to the probated sentence, providing that Lightner stay away from his former wife and also pay hospital and doctor bills amounting to about $700.

Mr. and Mrs. Club Meets

The Mr. and Mrs. Club of the Independence Christian Church met recently for their monthly covered dish supper. The highlight of the occasion was the presentation of a beautifully decorated cake to Mr. and Mrs. James Metcalfe in honor of their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. Tipton, Mr. and Mrs. James Metcalfe, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schenck, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pitcher, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Flisk, Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Frazer, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dedden, Mr. and Mrs. Verner Schreck, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lee, Jr., Mrs. Cleo Snelson, Mrs. Edna Kenady, and Mrs. G. C. Morgan.

Asks For Road Survey

Purpose of the resolution is to have Highway Department officials expedite the improvement, which will cost approximately 5 million dollars.

STATION'S METHODS PRODUCE GOOD LEAF

Roscoe Martin of Hart county discovered it pays to follow suggestions of the Kentucky Experiment Station, Lexington, in growing tobacco. On a base of 3.7 acres, he produced 8,132 pounds, or an average of 2,197 pounds per acre. His net return was 56 cents a pound.

Mr. Martin had his soil tested and applied the right kind and amount of fertilizer. This, with pruning, accounted for the weight, said Farm Agent F. W. Wallace. The quality was obtained by firing with five tons of coke.

CATTLE LEAVE HAY FOR CLOVER, FESCUE

Hickman county farmers found that although fescue and Green Acres clover pastures had browned considerably after sub-zero weather, cattle preferred them over the best green hay. County Agent Warren Thompson cited the case of James T. Roberts of the Mt. Pleasant community, who reported that his cattle picked up in milk production after he turned them on fescue and clover from good green-cured hay.

In Calloway county, more than 11,000 pine seedlings were ordered for February delivery. Many Ballard county tobacco growers stated that their crops would have been a total loss had they not used coke.

Adair county farmers are showing interest in strawberry production as a means of increased family income. The average tobacco grower in Clinton county is said to have lost $200 an acre on his crop due to inadequate housing and lack of coke.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

by Gil Kingsbury

A lot of Kentuckians have been coming to Washington these past few weeks, many of them on errands connected with national defense. Happy Chandler was a recent visitor but he had no comment on his gubernatorial ambitions. Joseph Leary, leading Kentucky attorney, was another arrival. So was Representative Morris Weinstaub of Newport and Stanley Chrisman, Covington city solicitor. O. G. Loomis, Newport engineer, also dropped by for a visit. And so did Dr. John Manning, State ESA boss.

Birthday Party: Mrs. Flo Bratton, Secretary to Vice President Barkley and resident of Cold Spring, Campbell County, had a birthday the other day. Senate Secretary, Les Biffle, entertained at a party in his office, the meeting place of leading senators. The Bratton office itself was filled with flowers, among them a floral horseshoe from Baseball Commissioner Chandler. Oh yes—Mrs. Bratton's age—21 plus.

The Draft: Congressional mail is still top-heavy with comment on proposed changes in the draft law. All of which brings of mind a story uncovered recently in the Library of Congress about draft problems back in 1864. In those days, as you know, draftees could hire a substitute and thus escape service. That system led to a fight between Kenton County and Boone County. It seems that when President Lincoln sent a draft call to Kentucky, some enterprising resident of Boone County sent an agent into Kenton County to hire a bunch of substitutes. Then, when draftees in Covington looked around for help, the picking was pretty slim. Newspaper accounts of that day say that Kenton County people felt pretty bitter about it.

An Invitation: Robert Salyers, President of the Kentucky Society of Washington, has extended an invitation to Blue Grass folks who might be in the Capitol on Friday, February 16. That's the day the Society entertains Vice President and Mrs. Barley at the annual dance and reception.

Visitors may get their admission tickets at the entrance to the ballroom of the swank Shoreham Hotel, on top of one of the hills above the Washington Rock Creek Park.

Proud Dad: Washingtonians can tell just how the University of Kentucky basketball team is getting along by looking at Clyde Watson, Administrative Assistant to Senator Chapman.

Mr. Watson is the father of Bobby Watson, star guard on the Wilcox basketball team. And the length of the elder Watson's grin is an accurate measure of the success of the Wildcats. The day the Kentuckians scored 104 points in defeating Tulane saw all records smashed for the Watson smile. That was the day Bobby scored 27 points.

CIRCULAR TELLS ABOUT HOTBEDS

Using hotbeds makes possible getting garden plants before the weather is warm enough to grow them outdoors. Hotbeds are low, box-like structures, covered with glass or glass substitute, enclosing some good dirt. Under the dirt is usually put barnyard manure to ferment and warm the dirt in which the plants grow. A few gardeners use underground flues fired with wood or coal, and a few use electricity to furnish heat.

Construction and use of hotbeds are described in a John S. Gardner circular published by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. Copies of it may be had from county and home agents or by writing the college at Lexington.

Jesus Meets Need

Lesson for February 11, 1951

WHAT PEOPLE want would fill many books. What people need is a simpler story. Whatever success Christianity has had, is due to its success in meeting human needs. If Christianity were only an argument, it would never have gone as far as it has, nor won so many friends.

Dr. Foreman

Ignorance THE Church at its best has simply followed in the paths on which Jesus was a pioneer. The gospel stories of Jesus show him as one who "went about doing good" as Peter put it. Seeing a need, he bent himself to meet that need; this has been the ideal for Christians and the church ever since. One of the first needs of man is to be saved from his ignorance. Jesus saw the human race not as a pack of wolves or a mass of snakes, but as sheep without a shepherd. So Jesus then, at the church now, set out to teach. A church that does not teach is a poor church. "The church must teach or die," it is true; it is also true that the church must teach or others will die.

Sickness IT IS not on record that Jesus ever walked by a sick person without making him well. Jesus did not think that sickness and pain are good things in themselves. When you think of all the loss of time, money and happiness that one miserable little cold can cause, and multiply that by the number of colds in North America alone; when you think of the pain and danger and after-effects of one attack of malaria, and then think of all the cases of malaria in all the warm regions of the world; and when you go on adding up all the diseases there are, you really wonder how the human race manages to stagger along. Now the Christian church has always been doing something about this. Today, in many backward countries, Christian doctors and hospitals have pioneered in health, and indeed are the only effective disease-fighters in the whole region.

Hunger WHATEVER else can be said of the feeding of the five thousand, one thing is plain: Jesus did not think it was a good thing for people to stay hungry.

So the church, following his example, has fed the hungry wherever it can. The church protests, and will continue to protest, against any society or institution that leaves people hungry. It is an empty stomach that things like Communism rise. So when a missionary like Sam Higginbottom in India teaches better ways of farming, or when the Salvation Army adopts the slogan "Soup, soup and salvation," or when helpers are rounded up and sent abroad as a gesture of Christian friendship, when CROP interests the Christian farmers of America in rural reconstruction in war-torn areas of Europe, the church is just following the lead of Jesus.

Slavery ONE of man's deepest needs is freedom. Jesus did not set free any slaves in his time, it is said; but is this true? There are other kinds of slavery besides that from which Abraham Lincoln freed the Negroes in 1863. Of these other kinds, one of the worst is slavery of the mind. We see Jesus setting his contemporaries free from the heavy chains of taboos and false traditions which the Pharisees had piled on them.

So when the first Christians broke away from the burdens of the old ceremonial laws, or when a Christian missionary in Africa or China or Greenland set men free from the darkness of pagan superstitions, or when the Protestant Reformation came, a great Declaration of Independence in the name of Christ from the traditions and superstitions which had long obscured the truth and burdened the minds even of Christians, the church is only following the example of Christ.

When we stand for a free church in a free land and a government of free men, we stand as Christians ought to stand, enemies of tyrannies in every form.

Ground Hog Week

This past Friday we had ground hog day and I believe he saw his shadow. If he could get out from under the snow. Sometimes this ground hog story works and other times it doesn't. We had plenty of snow on ground hog day—I don't know what we will have later. From the late weather reports, we have had bad weather all over the country, even Florida had snow and very cold weather. Eastern Kentucky had flash floods. Memphis, Tenn., is having the worst winter in years.

Tevis Thomas from Verona, bought a Dayton water system for his dairy barn, where he has already installed water cups for his cows. John Beck, from Demosville, was here after milk buckets and other small items. Anna Mae Simpson stepped in for an Arvin electric heater to use at the Chevrolet Garage, where she is bookkeeper. Mrs. Maude Hall needed a copper wash boiler to heat her wash water in.

Wednesday, January 31, was one of the worst days we have had this winter. Ray went up and set up June Neumeister's oil brooder stove—it was a terrible day, but June had some baby chicks coming Monday and they had to have heat—she has a Jamesway oil brooder at least 10 years old and uses it every year. We are always glad to help our customers when in need. Mrs. August Trapp, down on the Ohio River in East Bend Bottom, called me one cold day her oil heater was not working just right—Ray is going down and fix it for her—she bought that Siegler heater here two years ago—so we again try to take care of our customers.

Jimmie and Gloria Pennington just came in and bought some Armstrong linoleum—they are moving into one of the apartments over the Phoenix Restaurant. We had a very few customers today, but we had the ladies—Harris Moore, Al Hunt, Omer Dugdon, Albert Parker, Ira Bird, Jerry Maxwell, Jack Alphin, J. C. Benton and Leo Flynn—then there were several others who stopped for a few minutes to get warm, as we keep the best fire in town—they say.

Harry D. Hayhugh, Jr. came in and no tea tooth in his head—he either had them pulled or that old. She sure is a big one, or very fine girl, according to papa Harry. Walter Vest, another new paper on Alta Vista, was in tonight and had Ray sharpen his pocket knife. While he was sharpening the knife he told Walter he read where a fellow made a knife out of a certain kind of steel and he layed a 10-penny nail on an anvil, hit the knife with a hammer and cut the nail—then took the knife and shored with it. Well, Walter had to go home after that story. We sure have some good ones around the old stove.

The Maxwell brothers, Johnny, Isaac and Andrew, bought one of those Anchor hot blast heaters. When it gets cold, one of those Anchors will keep you warm. Saturday was another day for farmers—Russell Xedley, Jack Alphin, George Fisher, J. C. Benton, John Wood, Floyd Shieck, Ben Dixon, John Dorsey, and Ira Bird. Leon Hall was a busy man keeping belts on coal stokers and water pumps working. He and Earl Waters are doing a nice job of rewiring the Baptist Church, with all new fixtures. It was in a lot worse condition than we thought.

We just unloaded some Dayton water systems—these are scarce, if you need a pump, buy one of these. Nick Walsh bought some grass seed to sow on his cemetery lot—February is the time to sow seed. Juanita says Charles Hayes is a real painter, especially with that Bolce enamel, which does a beautiful job on woodwork. My friend Henry Northcutt from Stewartville, in Grant county, experimented with No. 16, No. 28, and Burley No. 1 tobacco. The No. 28 was the best—it produced better quality and larger quantity per acre. Henry sells Armour fertilizer and uses a lot himself—he is a very successful farmer. He does a lot of experiments on seeds and fertilizer, as he sells both. We have most any kind of tobacco seed you want.

Omer Dugdon told the best one I have heard—after loading behind the big stove all day, he said he would have to go home and rest up, so he could eat supper. Loading is sure hard work. Marie Chapman from Verona, was in today—she just returned from Idaho and her mother returned with her. It was a lot warmer in Idaho than here, or it was a dry cold out there. Mrs. Levi Pennington was just in to tell us her son, Leon, has a new baby girl, named Donna Jean. Leon lives up at LaRue, Ohio.

We just took in on trade, a Boss table-top kerosene cook stove—if you need a cheap cook stove, this is a buy. Manford Craft called for a wood heater today—he was snow bound. Brewster put the chains on and rushed it over to him. Bob Gordon and Lucas, our two State Troopers, were in getting warm—said the roads are getting better. They just came over from the Walton Garage, and said Clem was wound up with one story after the other.

Eddie Linton and wife came in and bought a lantern to put in their car to keep it warm. Jim Woods bought a Perfection portable oil heater—very handy to help out with your heating problem. But Conrad has the heaters to take care of your problems, any size or any kind. Just like most everything else in hardware—if we don't have it, we will get it—we like to have what other dealers don't have!

Dairy, Agronomy School Well Attended At Independence, Fri.

A good attendance of farmers was on hand for the Dairy and Agronomy school, held at Independence, Friday, February 9, in spite of the hazardous driving conditions, caused by snow and ice on the side roads of the county.

Soil Management Discussion

Roy Flannery of the Agronomy Department of the University of Kentucky, talked about fertilizing hay and pasture crops and pointed out that the first requirement for ridge soils is to supply the needed ground limestone to correct the soil acidity, with phosphates coming next, either in acid phosphate or raw rock phosphate.

A good pasture needs to have plenty of plant food and a good balance of legumes and grasses growing through a long part of the season. Legumes require plenty of time and phosphate materials in the soil.

Some nitrogen will be added to the soil where the proper inoculation is established, but it would be profitable to add nitrogen in some form to take care of the nitrogen level for new seedlings of grasses. And where the available nitrogen level is low, it is desirable to apply nitrate in some form to increase the growth. Mr. Flannery recommended that the farmers make more use of the soil testing services to determine the soil needs for different crops.

The Experiment Station, Circular 468, titled "Productive Soil," should be studied by all farmers interested in improving their soil and crop yields.

Dairy Management

John M. Foster, field agent in dairying, College of Agriculture, U. of K., cautioned the dairymen about the increase of Bang's disease over the state. The safest way to build up the dairy herd and to take care of replacements in through the growing of dairy calves and by using the calfhood vaccination plan for building up a Bang's free herd. The disease is spread to a great extent where cows are brought into the herd from some herd outside the farm.

Mr. Foster stressed the need of having plenty water for the cows during freezing weather. Cows will not drink the water they need when it is ice cold. In talking about dairy feeding and feeding methods, he urged dairymen to get a copy of Extension Service Circular, No. 474, "Feeding Dairy Cows," which is available at local Extension Service offices. He also pointed out that cows are more comfortable in barns where the temperature is kept around 40 to 50 degrees or lower. Many dairy barns are kept too tight and warm for cow health and comfort.

Receive Certificates

During the Dairy and Agronomy meeting, the following farmers were given certificates from the State Green Pasture committee for participating in the Green Pasture Program in Kenton County during 1950: Chris H. Beck, William Durr, Fred Nelthoff, A. Robke, Leslie Ryle, Blau Bros., Robert Franz and Tom Nunery.

The scoring was based on: Wise land use, adequate seasonal forage, effective use of time and fertilizer, pasture management, quality of pasture, and progress shown in 1950. Mr. Beck was high scoring pastureman in the county and was awarded a bronze plaque by the State Committee.

Young Adult BTL to Meet

The Young Adult B. T. U. of the Walton Baptist Church will meet in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Garrett, North Main Street, Friday evening, February 16 at 7:30 p. m., for their regular monthly meeting.

There will be an oyster supper followed by the business session. All members please be present, and visitors are welcomed.

Fiskburg D. of A. to Meet

Fiskburg Council, No. 58, D. of A. will hold their meeting on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Wilmington Masonic Hall, Fiskburg.

The D. of A. members are urged to attend. After the business session, there will be a Valentine party. Mrs. Ruth Worthington is committee and Mrs. A. Fleck, Deputy. Come out and enjoy yourself.

Only 740 To Be Admitted At District Basketball Meet

J. O. Ward, 34th District Basketball Tournament manager, calls your attention to the fact the tournament, this year, will be held in the Walton-Verona gym, beginning on the night of February 27 and continuing for five nights. Since the gymnasium capacity is only 900, there will be allowed only 900 in the gym on these nights. All of the coaches, representing the various schools in the district, voted unanimously that the gym must not be overcrowded on nights of the games, hence the 900 rule will be observed. This actually means, Mr. Ward said, that only 740 tickets may be sold at the door, as each school is allowed enough free passes to make up the difference and completely fill the building.

The price of all tickets will be 75 cents for each session, and no tickets will be sold in advance, Mr. Ward added.

1951 Heart Fund Campaign Under Way; Literary Club Sponsor

The Walton Woman's Literary Club will sponsor the 1951 Heart Fund campaign in this community which is to get under way during the month of February, according to Mrs. W. D. Scroggin, Club President. The Kentucky Heart Association, Inc., with headquarters in Louisville, is an affiliate of the American Heart Association. This association is made possible by contributions from individuals who are interested in helping fight the dreaded heart disease that claims one out of every eighteen Americans as a victim. Funds contributed to the Heart Fund are used to aid research on a National scale. Scientists believe that we are on the verge of great discoveries about high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and rheumatism, for example, but as yet we know not, but together they account for 90% of all heart diseases, according to information furnished by the Heart Association.

The Walton Woman's Club will place Red Cross Heart Fund containers in both Walton and Verona, at several business places as a convenience for the general public who wish to contribute. At the end of the Heart Fund campaign, the Walton Club will collect and return the entire proceeds to the Kentucky Heart Association for use in this worthwhile effort. No matter how small your contribution may be, it will be added to thousands of other contributions and the total will help a great deal in giving new hope for hearts.

Annual Red Cross Meeting Feb. 17 at Florence Restaurant

General Roscoe L. Murray, Adjutant General of Kentucky and director of Civilian Defense in the state, will be guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Boone County Chapter, American Red Cross, at Acacia Inn, Florence, on Saturday evening, February 17, it was announced by Mrs. Elizabeth Nestor, executive secretary.

Citizens Committee To Attend Telephone Hearing In Frankfort

A citizens committee from Boone County and two attorneys will attend a preliminary hearing in Frankfort, today to argue as to whether telephone rates in the county, put into effect by the Consolidated Telephone Company will stand or be restored to the level of last August.

County Judge C. L. Cropper said the delegates slated to attend the hearing were, John L. and Walter D. Vest, Walton attorneys; C. L. Hempling, Constance and himself. Other delegates may be named, he said. Frank Milburn, Burlington manufacturer, who has headed the committee in its fight with the telephone company, will be unable to attend the meeting, as he was called to Chicago on business.

The group will ask the Public Service Commission to hold an additional meeting in Northern Kentucky. If the request is granted, the date for the later meeting probably will be set at the meeting today, Judge Cropper stated.

The controversy began last August when telephone rates were raised from 25 to 75 cents a month, depending upon how far the subscriber was situated from the central office in Florence.

State Trooper R. R. Miller Killed Wed. Morning Near Cabindale

Two-Year-Old Boy Burns to Death In Fire Near Here, Thur.

A 2-year-old boy burned to death and his one-year-old sister was burned seriously when their one-room home near Walton, was destroyed by fire Wednesday. The younger child was saved from death by a five-year-old brother, who carried her to safety.

George William Sharon, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sharon, Percival Road, near Walton, and Lulu, his sister were burned when playing on the floor of their home. Kenton County Police said that one of the children attempted to put newspapers into the old-fashioned "pot-bellied" stove in the room. Some of the papers went in, police said, but others caught fire and fell on one-year-old Lulu Sharon, who was playing near the stove.

The five-year-old brother, Gilbert, hurriedly picked up the girl and carried her outside. Afraid to place her in the snow, and unaware that his brother had not followed him from the house, he raced to the home of a neighbor, a quarter-mile away, where his mother was visiting.

When he arrived there and found that his younger brother was not with him, he and the mother, Mrs. Pauline Sharon, ran back to the house, which was in flames, but could find no trace of the child. Walton Fire Chief James R. Allen, said the house was destroyed before there was time to notify him. After the flames receded, neighbors found the body of the boy huddled on a bed. Mrs. Tressa Riffe, Kenton County Coroner, gave a verdict of accidental death.

Lulu Sharon is being treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, for second and third degree burns on her entire body. Attendants report her condition as fair.

The fire loss was $1,000, firemen estimated. Services for the boy were held at 10:30 a. m., Friday at the Chambers and Grubbs funeral home, Walton, with Rev. R. C. Garrett, pastor of the Walton Baptist Church officiating. Burial was at Fiskburg.

Bearcats Drop Tilts To Gallatin County And Hebron Cards

The Walton-Verona Bearcats did not fare so well the past week and dropped a pair of basketball games they could have won (at least that is the belief of local fans). Last Friday night they entertained the Gallatin County High Wildcats, and on Tuesday night of this week went to Hebron.

The Gallatin youths played good ball and led throughout the contest. Quarter scores were: First, 19-14; second, 35-21; third, 42-35, and the fourth, and final, 55-42. Plunkett was top man for the winners, with 16 markers, and Webster and Beach were close behind, dividing 23 tales. The Walton attack was led by the very reliable Dennis Glacken who bagged 14 points.

The Gallatin reserves got things off to a good start by taking the preliminary game 44-33.

In a Boone County Conference tilt at Hebron, Tuesday, the 'Cats were no better, trailing at all times, to lost to the Cardinals 33-44. Period counts were: First, 12-9; second, 27-13, and third, 39-25. Hagin was top scorer for Hebron, with 14 points, followed closely by Garnett, with 12, and Anderson, 13. Glacken was again the 'fair-haired boy' for the Walton 'Cats, as eight field goals and six free throws gave him a total of 22 points. Four more 'guys' were also on the floor.

The reserves 'saved face' for Walton by winning the opening game 44-24, with Campbell collecting 15 points.

On Friday, February 16, the Burlington Eagles came to Walton for a game with the 'Cats.

Fined $100 And Costs For Selling Beer After Midnight

Malcolm Fuller, operator of the Spanish Villa Tavern, Devon, was fined $100 and costs by Boone County Judge C. L. Cropper, Tuesday, and Robert Willkin, operator of the Red Arrow Tavern, also at Devon, was fined $50 and costs for selling beer after the midnight closing law in Boone county.

The Sheriff Wendell Easton and County Attorney Wm. P. McEvoy arrested the pair following a raid early last Sunday. The Sheriff said the raid was brought on by many complaints about the two establishments that came into his office recently.

Mr. Easton said he and Mr. McEvoy entered the two places about 1:30 a. m. and found ice-cold beer on the tables. He confiscated the beer as evidence. Tavern keepers in Boone county are allowed one hour grace after the regular closing time in which to clear drinks from tables and dismiss customers from the premises.

Tuller was fined, the Sheriff said, after he pleaded guilty. Willkin was granted a continuance until Wednesday to employ an attorney. The Sheriff said no evidence of gambling, or whiskey being sold, was found. The sale of whiskey by the drink is prohibited in this county.

Car Slips and Hits ULH&P Truck

Robert Renaker Miller, State Police patrolman, was killed instantly Wednesday morning about 8:00 on U. S. Highway 25 near Cabin Dale.

Patrolman Miller, who was 24 years old, was traveling south from Florence to Williamstown on a regular run, when his car slipped on the slippery pavement, skidding over a large truck owned by the Union Light Heat & Power Company of Covington. After striking the truck a glancing blow, he lost control and was thrown some 30 feet, sustaining a skull fracture. There were no other serious injuries except this one blow to the head, according to Robert Brugh, Coroner of Boone County who was called to accident.

The truck, operated by Dick Howard was travelling north and after noticing that the cruiser was in difficulty had pulled almost entirely off the highway. No charge was placed against the truck driver as he was called to accident.

Patrolman Miller had been with the State Police for several years and in line for promotion to the plainclothes department in the very near future, according to reports. He is son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of Florence. Funeral services had not been completed when the Advertiser went to press.

Beautiful Church Wedding

A popular young couple, both members of the Independence Christian Church, Miss Vivian Davis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis of McMullan Drive, and Mr. Johnny Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Armstrong of Nicholson, were married in a beautiful church wedding last Saturday night in their church by their pastor, Rev. Arthur Tipton.

The best man was the brother of the bride, Mr. Charles Davis, Jr., and the bridesmaid was his wife, Mrs. Delores Davis. Others in the ceremony were Mrs. Florence Johnson and her husband, Mr. Herb Johnson, and the little ring bearer, a relative of the groom.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the basement of the church. It is reported that the young couple expect to spend their honeymoon in Florida.

Local Pastors Back On Job

The congregation of the Christian Church welcomed their pastor back to the pulpit last Sunday, after two or more weeks of sickness. It is reported that Rev. Tipton came near having pneumonia.

Likewise, it was somewhat of a surprise to the Baptist congregation to have their pastor, Rev. Manens, in the pulpit Sunday. The pastor had been shut in about three weeks due to the influenza. It seems to some that both pastors have ventured out plenty soon.

The Baptist pastor is preaching on Sunday mornings and evenings, a series of sermons on the theme, "For These Times." It is hoped after the cold weather and slippery roads that soon all folks are back in Sunday school and church. 117 were in the Sunday school, Sunday.

Farwell Party

A farwell party was held last Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Houston, Wilson Road, for four young men of the community who have joined the Navy, namely: Robert S. Richardson of Morning View; John Houston of Independence; Charles O'Bryan, Madison Pike, and Wayne Hicks, Taylor Mill Road.

Those attending were Wilson Barnett, David Manens, Doris O'Bryan, Janet McGraw, Clifford Cummins, Rodney Wagner, Ronald Kannady, Richard Elam, Jack Stephens, June Elam, Carole House, Jimmy McGraw, Bert Mason, Betty Riddle, Betty Richardson, Norman Linkugel, Mary Houston, Paul Houston, David Houston and Dorothy Houston. The four young men joining the Navy were to leave Monday night, February 12. The best wishes of the community go with them.

Col. Jesse Auton, Covington, and brother of Fred A. Auton, Senour Rd., Independence, recently was awarded the Legion of Merit citation by Maj. Gen. L. C. Craigie, Vice Commander for Administration and Plans for the Far East Air Force, at ceremonies held in General Craigie's office in Tokyo. Col. Auton, who is serving with the Strategic Air Command, Omaha, as chief of the Fighter Division, currently is on duty in the Far East in connection with the arrival of the 27th Fighter Escort Wing, made up of F-84 jet fighters.

Train Did Not Stop for Her

The fast freight train was roaring down the track at Toppensh, Wash., and Mrs. Howard R. Berger was sitting in her motor car, stalled on the track at a high school crossing. "I had half a notion to stay in the car, as I thought the train crew had seen my plight and would stop in time," the press reported her as saying.

At the last moment she jumped from her automobile. "Things just flew," when the 74-car train hit her car, carrying pieces of it a quarter of a mile through town.

People frequently have wrong thoughts, even about the most important thing in life, the salvation of the soul.

"I thought if I did the best I knew how, I would be saved," says one. "And I thought that if I became religious, I would be saved," says another. "I thought supporting a good cause would spell salvation," says a third. But all such thoughts are vain.

It is the Lord's thoughts on the matter of salvation that counts. "For My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways My ways, saith the Lord." (Isiah 55:8). His thought is to save each person availing himself of the work accomplished by the Lord Jesus, when He died for our sins and rose again for our justification.

It's a good thing that Mrs. Berger finally decided to jump from her car, otherwise she would have perished in its destruction.

It will be the part of wisdom for any man to ignore what he thinks and act upon God's thought which is, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." (Acts 16:31).

Simon Kenton, 40; Bellevue, 44

The Bellevue Tigers, playing one of their best games of the season, handed the Simon Kenton Pioneers a 44-40 setback last week. The loss was the third in nine conference tilts for the Kenton Countians.

Qualey with 13, and Schneider with 12, led the Bellevue attack, while Coppage led the Pioneers with 14 points. The Bellevue Kittens defeated Simon Kenton's reserves 39-31, in the opener.

Mrs. Ellen Leach

Services for Mrs. Ellen Leach, who died Thursday at her home in Covington, were held Monday and burial was in Independence Cemetery. She had been a resident of Covington for 25 years.

Surviving her are two daughters, Mrs. Mary Ingle of Walton, and Mrs. W. E. Watts of Memphis, Tenn.; two sons, Joseph, Covington, and George Leach of Independence; 7 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren.

Home at Fiskburg, Burns

Fire destroyed the 3-room home of Mrs. Lydia Taylor, of Fiskburg, early last Friday. Chief Tilford Mershon of the Independence Volunteer Fire Department, estimated the loss at $3,000. Mrs. Taylor, a widow, was residing with a nephew, Taylor Stapp, and the fire is believed to have been caused by the explosion of a kerosene stove.

For the third successive year, the Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H Club of Alton School was named the outstanding club in Anderson county.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

by Gil Kingsbury

A Kentuckian, here in the capital, received a letter from a friend in Europe the other day. Because we Americans often feel that we are alone in facing the emergencies of the day, we thought you'd like to read a paragraph from that message from across the sea.

It was written by a widow of a war veteran who twice during World War II lost her home in the London Blitz. Here is what she wrote:

"Some of our menfolk are being recalled to duty," she wrote her Kentucky friend. "It seems hard after they were just getting settled down."

"But still it is nice to know that if anything does occur again—God forbid—we would be fully prepared. After all," this war widow continued, "what's the use of living if one can't be a free man. The only way to keep that freedom is to be ready to stop anyone taking away the best thing in life—freedom."

We thought you'd like to get the reaction of a Briton to the tension that has engulfed the world.

Net Note:

If the University of Kentucky Wildcats get a bid to the invitational tournament in Madison Square Garden—and an invitation appears likely—the Blue Grass colony in Washington plans an exodus to New York.

Wildcat alumni met this week and made some tentative plans to be on hand to root the Big Blue home to a championship. Right now, Moe Edwards, Washington alumnus proident, is planning to get together some time in March and he hopes to have some U. K. luminary—maybe Bear Bryant—on hand.

Social Note:

The elite of the capital turned out the other day when the new junior senator from Kentucky, Earle C. Clements, and Mrs. Clements were honored at a reception.

On hand to pay tribute to the former governor was Vice President Barkley, Chief Justice Vinson, Associate Justice Reed, Senator Clinton Anderson, Rep. Brent Spence, Dean of the Kentucky Congressional delegation, and the rest of the Capitol Hill throng, Democrat and Republican alike.

Mail Note:

Applications for jobs with the Office of Price Stabilization are pouring in on Blue Grass Congressmen. It seems that every Kentuckian who worked with OPA wants to get back on the job.

The truth of the matter is that the OPS office is not going to be anythink as large as the old price control office. Plans right now are in the formative state and many of those who seek jobs are doomed to disappointment. There just ain't that many to go round.

To the Ladies:

The boss over at the Library of Congress called up the other day to read an item about Kentucky women. We like it—and we think you will, too. Here is what he found in his archives:

"Kentucky ladies never seem to tire of dancing. They are graceful yet modest. They enjoy horseback riding because it imparts the bloom of health to their cheeks and their tips are as red carnations. Their laughter is merry, ringing laughter. Their eyes are sparkling and gay."

And then he ended on this note: "We recommend the behavior of those Kentucky ladies to the women of Ohio."

The writer, incidentally was an Ohio newspaperman. He recorded his sage observation in 1864.

Mrs. Marvin Kelly had the misfortune to fall in her home Friday, knocking her unconscious for a while. She struck the bed post, under her throat, and it was quite a while before she regained consciousness. She was hanging clothes on a small line in the house and a box on which she was standing turned over throwing her against the bed.

Glory and Service

Lesson for February 25, 1951

THERE ARE two sides of the Christian life that don't seem to mix. One of these we can call Glory. The very word suggests something not of this world; it calls up mystic visions, inner raptures, the light of heaven. We think of Saints and angels in glory, for that is where they belong. But we ourselves can have a bit of it here and now.

When Glory Comes
NOT every Christian has an experience of glory in his life. But those who do, usually find that it comes only at rare intervals, when one is alone, after long and perhaps painful prayer.

Sometimes it is an actual experience of something like great and blinding light; sometimes a hearing of voices from another shore; sometimes a feeling of unutterable peace and joy such as nothing in this world can give. Whatever form it takes, the experience we are calling "glory" is always connected in the mind and heart with the felt presence of God. It may come in church or it may not; it may come on a river at sunset or some lonely night beneath the stars. However it comes, one longs above all things for it to remain. And while it does remain, one wishes to hear no human voice.

When Service Calls

BUT the Christian life is not all glory, by any means. If the glory-side is spiritual, the service-side is material. If the glory can be shared, the whole idea of service is sharing. For moments of glory there can be no date nor schedule, no predicted time and place, but acts of service must often be done by calendar and clock.

Glory may not come to every one but service is the duty of all. Yet service, like glory, may come to us from without. At a time when one least expects it, one will be called on for a service one is scarce prepared to give.

Service calls us every day; weariness and pain may at times bar us from glory, but only the last weariness and the most disabling pain will disbar us from service. Glory may be for those far advanced in the spiritual life; service is for these too, but also for the beginners.

The Weaving of Gold and Grey
NOW the trouble is that glory and service seem to get in each other's way. We actually feel like different persons, in glory and in service.

Let us say on a morning in church, when the winter sun is streaming through the windows on the communion bread and wine, and in the silence the solemn words are heard once more: "This is my body, broken for you," one may feel, in Miss Millay's words, "This moment is the best the world can give. The tranquil blossom on the tortured stem."

But the next day, when one is teaching a class of mischievous boys, or helping a neighbor fix a flat tire, or baby-sitting, or spading up a garden, one does not feel like the same person. Can religion, the Christian religion, take in both glory and service?

Some Christians have thought not. Some have gone in for one, some for the other. Some live only for the high hours of worship and rapture, counting all the time between their radiant hours as "dark nights of the soul." Others leave worship to others; they are seldom to be found at communion, but they can always be counted on to help with church suppers or community chest drives.

Jesus showed us the better way. It is not a choice between glory and service; his life included both. He had his high moments, as on the Mount of Transfiguration; but they did not long remain. Presently he found himself down in the valley with disciples who did not understand him, and with demons hard to cast out.

Jesus took both sides of religion and made them one. There was glory in his service and there was service in his glory. (In the very hour of his transfiguration, did he not speak of his death?) The true Christian life, like that of Jesus, weaves the gold and the grey together, the shining gold of life's high moments, and the long-wearing grey of the years of service.

Valentine Day

Last Sunday (February 4) when I left Walton, U. S. 25 was terrible—snow and ice all over it. We drove down to Richwood about 30 miles per hour, then across to U. S. 43 and were surprised to find U. S. 42 cleared off all the way to Louisville. We drove along from 50 to 80 miles per hour. I was so disgusted with the Highway Department, leaving our highway in such condition (the heaviest traveled in the state), and U. S. 43 so clean. I wrote the Highway Dept. a letter, which may not do any good—but someone was not doing his job. The State of Kentucky is spending thousands of dollars advertising for tourists and leaving their main highway North and South in such a terrible condition.

Well, I attended the Kentucky Retail Hardware Convention. Clarence Jansen and Carl Zimmer of Covington, Lee Parker of Newport, Clarence Raymond of Warsaw, and Ted Cress of Burlington, were the Northern Kentucky dealers present. We had a very fine convention—lots of good speakers, who know some of the things that are going to happen. We are going to do without a lot of hardware as soon as we empty the wholesaler warehouses and what we have in stock. I now have in stock all the screen wire, tobacco setters and farm weapons I will get this year. Of course there is a lot of other items that I gradually go off the market. I tried Monday to buy a lot of scarce merchandise, but all I got was some galvanized pipe and pure bristle paint brushes. This will be the last shipment of pure bristle paint brushes—the next ones will be horse hair and fibre, which we had during World War II and they were terrible. Uncle Sam is going to take the men and the steel, copper, brass, lead and aluminum, then we get what is left. This is all OK, if it does any good.

If you farmers need any tools, bale ties, bale twine, fence barb wire, galvanized pipe, or most anything with a lot of metal in it, you had better buy early.

My wife and I left Louisville, Thursday for Hot Springs, Ark., to take a few of those wonderful baths. You know I am over 40 and a lady in Walton said men start falling apart after they reach 40. Well, I believe she knows, as her husband is over 40, and she hasn't reached that mark yet, but it doesn't seem to bother the women—whether live forever. Look at the widows in Walton, and the very few widowers. The roads all through Southern Kentucky were fine and clean, and I still thought of U. S. 25. We stayed that night at Brownsville, Tenn., a nice country town; then Friday morning we drove into Memphis, which I think is one of the greatest cities in the U. S. A. That Union Ave. is the most interesting street with most every kind of business—years ago parts of it must have been residential, for they have taken those old homes and put store fronts on them, turning them into florist shops, dress shops, restaurants and most any kind of a business you could mention. Some of the finest garages and filling stations any city could have are located here. We crossed that wonderful bridge across the Mississippi and started through the state of opportunity—Arkansas. First we came to the cotton plantations, then a stretch of timber country, then the rice fields. We ran out of snow at Forrest City, Ark., which is about 50 miles from Memphis. They are building a kiln-dry factory south of Forest City, one of the largest in the world. It should make enough electricity for this whole section of the country. We stopped in Little Rock, Ark., and ate lunch. I had to shed that top coat—people going around in shirt sleeves. We came over to Hot Springs and checked in at the hotel and it was so warm we had to raise the windows. A few miles makes a lot of difference in temperature.

I don't know a thing that's going on back in Walton, but I'll bet there is something, for there is always excitement around CONRAD HARDWARE. Ray and Chick will take care of your needs and try to keep all of our good customers satisfied. We have a lot of merchandise—you may think some of it a little high, but it may be 10% higher yet. The papers are talking of a raise for railroad employees which will mean higher freight, therefore a little higher merchandise.

When I left Walton, my friend and our good major, R. M. Hall, was down in the back. I hope he is up and about by now. I see a lot of one-story buildings out this way under construction out of block with wood girders and they are going to finish them without the use of steel, which I believe we can build our new fire house of which we need very much. We have a wonderful location for it, where we now try to use as a parking lot. We also have some of the best fire equipment and the finest lot of firemen in the state, but no building large enough to hardly put two engines in.

There is one thing about this place at Hot Springs I forgot to tell you about—it is one of the greatest eating places I have ever found. They have 100 different kinds of food to select from, and you wait on yourself, eat all you want, go back as many times as you can, and the cost is only $1.85. They lose money on me, I know. Well, this is a fine vacation spot, but I'll take Walton, Ky. to live in or around, as the best place yet. Don't forget you folks, if you need any hardware call on CONRAD—he has two good clerks to take care of you.

District Tourney To Open Here TuesdayBearsats Bow To Burlington
And Ludlow; Play New Haven On Friday There

The 34th District High School Basketball Tournament of 1951 will get under way at the Walton-Verona gym, Tuesday evening, February 27, and continue nightly through March 3. Competing teams are Burlington, Erlanger, Lloyd, Florence, Hebron, New Haven, Simon Kenton, St. Henry and Walton-Verona.

Tuesday, February 27
Erlanger Lloyd vs. Florence, 7:00 p. m., and New Haven vs. Walton-Verona, 8:30.

Wednesday, February 28
Simon Kenton vs. St. Henry, 7:00 p. m., and Burlington vs. Hebron, 8:30.

Semi-finals in the upper bracket will be played at 8:00 p. m., Thursday. Semi-finals in the lower bracket are to be played Friday, at 8:00 p. m., and the finals at 8:00 p. m., Saturday, March 3.

The officials are to be Braun and Cover. Each school will have 160 passes for each session, and 740 general admission tickets, at 75 cents each, will be sold at the door each evening. According to fire regulations only 500 persons are allowed in the gym. Come early, if you want to get a "good seat!"

The Bearsats played a pair of losing ball games the past week. Last Friday night, on the Walton floor, they lost to Burlington, 61-51, and on Tuesday night, at Ludlow, they were walloped by the Panthers 74-53. This gives the Cats a season record of 9 wins and 15 losses, with one more game to play—Friday at New Haven.

In the Burlington game the Eagles led throughout, being in front 17-11 at the end of the first quarter, 31-20 at the half, 44-38 at the close of the third period, and 61-51 as the game ended. The locals could come to within about six points of a tie, but then Burlington would add a few points, and the locals really never had a chance. Top scorer for the winners was McFarland, who bagged 18 points, followed by G. Rouse with 15, Jim Ryle with 14, and A. Rouse with 10. The Eagles played a good game of ball. For the losing Bearsats, Glacken registered 18 tallies, and Billy Smith hung up 20, to lead his team in that division.

Walton's reserves won the preliminary contest 44-33 from the Burlington second-stringers.

The high-scoring Panthers of Ludlow didn't give the Cats much of a chance either. They led all the way, being in front 14-13 at the first quarter, 32-20 at the half, 47-38 at the three-quarter stop, and 74-53 as the final gong sounded. Nutter led the scoring parade for the victors with 21 points. Aynes had 16, Brown 14, and Bell 13. Dennis Glacken accounted for 13 of Walton's points, Don Vest 12, and Billy Smith 11.

The local second team had another win. In the opener they defeated the Ludlow reserves 43-34. Don (Two-Game) Vest scored 17 points for the winners, and Stormy Lindstad added 11.

Local Methodists
Join In "All Out"
Visitation Campaign

Local Methodists will join in an "all out" visitation campaign for Christ and His Church during the National Week of Visitation Evangelism, February 25 to March 1, it was announced this week by Rev. G. W. Hoffman.

Mr. Hoffman said that during this week Methodism expects to win 500,000 persons to the church. Prospective visitors are now being prepared from names located through friendly community surveys, membership rolls of church organizations, attendance registrations, visitors' cards, and other means. Carefully trained teams of visitors will call in the homes of these prospects for four consecutive nights in an effort to win them to Christ and His Church. During the National Week of Visitation last year one student pastor of a tiny church of 28 members secured a layman for a teammate and together they won 11 people. Another pastor and his lay visitors won 158 new members during the same week.

Enthusiasm for the program is running high, Mr. Hoffman said, and pointed out that churches which are willing to find the prospects in their community, and then send out capable laymen to visit them, will help families all across America to find Christ and to establish Christian homes. Many churches will hold rededication services for their visitors during the Week of Dedication, February 18-25.

New Fire House Proposed For Walton; Firemen Are HamperedMidnight, March 1, Deadline For Securing
Auto License Plates

Midnight, March 1, is the deadline for purchase of 1951 motor vehicle license plates. After March 1 motorists who do not have 1951 plates on their vehicles will be subject to arrest and fine.

New registrations have been on sale at the office of county clerk, D. Benson, since December. A large number of vehicles have been registered, but the usual rush is expected for the last days in February. Those who wait until the last minute may experience delay and inconvenience.

Vehicle owners are urged to take extra steps to secure their 1951 license plates. Because of defense demands, metal for making new plates probably will not be available next year, and the 1951 plates will have to be used for two or more years.

A vehicle owner who moves into Kentucky from another state must buy a Kentucky license immediately.

Plans Being Formulated
For $20,000 Structure
On Parking Lot Site

At a meeting of the Walton City Council, Monday, February 20, tentative plans were formulated to provide necessary quarters for the Walton Volunteer Fire Department, City Waterworks, City Health and housing for other municipal activities.

The Fire Department is very seriously hampered by lack of space to house the two engines, together with an adequate and approved space for cleaning and drying the hose after it has been used. The local Fire Department is well equipped, both from the standpoint of engines, hose, and other necessary items, but the present quarters are not only inadequate from the standpoint of size, but it is impossible to keep sufficient heat in the building to protect the radiators and batteries on the engines.

The members of the Department have voiced their displeasure on several occasions, because they are not furnished proper and adequate space to take care of host that has been used during freezing weather, and that they cannot hold their meetings and safety demonstrations in their present quarters. The heating plant in the present City Hall is completely broken down and it will require a large expenditure for a new heating system.

After careful consideration of all the problems incident to the operation of the Fire Department, together with the other municipal services, the Council decided that the people should be permitted to vote on the question of constructing a new building on the parking lot at the corner of Main and Church Streets. That lot is owned by the City, and would make an excellent location for the proposed building. However, the Council was advised by A. D. Yelton, City Attorney, that no action could be taken except by a regular election date in November.

Because of the time element involved, and the expected scarcity of building materials, the Council decided that, with the help of the members of the Walton Volunteers Fire Department, the property owners in the city of Walton would be solicited, looking towards the forming of a non-profit corporation which would underwrite the financing so that a one-story building might be erected at a cost not to exceed $20,000. It was suggested that a minimum of forty property owners form such a corporation, and that each owner subscribe to $500.00 stock in the corporation.

This does not mean that each of the forty property owners would be required to advance $500.00 in cash, but by stock in the corporation, the $20,000 could be borrowed from the bank to construct the building, and then a mortgage could be placed on the completed building, which would act as security for the major portion of the borrowed money.

If the required forty property owners will agree to such a venture, then the construction of the building could be started promptly, and when finished, the town could pay monthly rental for the quarters occupied by its various political subdivisions in an amount necessary to retire the $20,000, plus interest thereon, in a five year period, not to exceed 20 years.

The members of the Department, and also members of our City Council, would very much like the cooperation of all citizens of this community to help solve the pressing need for a municipal building to adequately house the various departments of the city which function for the good of all the people.

TIME AGES many things... but there's a "spirit" in the Southland that will never grow old!

It is as timeless as the courage and vision that enabled the war-ravaged South of 1865... alone and unaided... to lift itself "by its own bootstraps" out of the depths of destruction and despair.

It is as ageless as the optimism and faith with which the self-reliant, progressive men and women of the South today are building toward an even greater Southland.

Without this spirit, the South could never have grown up. With it, our beloved Southland will never stop growing.

Proudly we say, "The Southern Serves the South"... because we are proud of the South we serve.

Robert Renaker Miller

A shadow of sadness and gloom was cast over the town of Florence and surrounding community when the shocking news came of the tragic death of one of our fine young men, Trooper Robert Renaker Miller, 23. Trooper Miller had been a member of the State Patrol three years, had passed the examination and was to have been promoted to the capacity of Private Investigator, March 1st. He excelled in all his endeavors and was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

More than 2,000 friends called and registered at the Stith funeral home where the body of the unfortunate victim lay. Trooper Miller was a member of the Florence Methodist Church, The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Good Faith Masonic Lodge of Erlanger, possessed a pilot's license, and was also a member of the Fraternal Order of Police, who held special services on Friday evening, prior to the funeral. Our county officials paid a nice tribute, attending the funeral in a body. Troopers of the State were granted a holiday that they might attend he funeral, which was held from the Florence Methodist Church on Saturday at 10 a. m. Rev. C. N. Ogg, assisted by Rev. R. R. Rose, Rev. H. L. Reid and Dr. O. W. Robinson, were the officiating ministers. A service by Good Faith Lodge was held following the ministers' service.

Mrs. Kenneth W. Scott was soloist, and pallbearers and honorary pallbearers were State Troopers. The church was filled to capacity and many stood outside. The flowers were numerous and beautiful. One floral piece was from shipmates of Trooper Miller, with whom he had served during World War II.

His parents have received nice letters of condolence from friends here and all over the state. The deceased leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Miller; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Miller, and other relatives and many friends. Interment was in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Erlanger. The family has the sympathy of the entire community in their sorrow.

MILK SALES UP IN CARROLL

Carroll county dairymen are selling more than twice as much graded milk as they did five years ago, milk station receivers told Clyde Watts, county agent. Dairymen with water in their barns are getting increased milk production over those who rely on ponds, he said.

Miss Carrie Schoberg

Miss Carrie Schoberg, sister of the late Will Schoberg, died at her home early last Saturday morning. She was 73 years of age, and had been connected with the general store business 65 years.

Miss Carrie called Mrs. Arthur O'Neal, an employee of the state, at 6:30 Saturday morning and asked that she come over to the back door right away as she did not feel well.

Mr. O'Neal accompanied his wife to the door, which Miss Carrie said she would unlock, but when they arrived the door was locked. Mr. O'Neal tried other doors but all were fastened. In the meantime, as he was trying the other doors, Mrs. O'Neal peered through the door glass at the bottom of the blind and saw Miss Carrie on the floor. The door was hastily pried open. Miss Carrie was unable to speak but nodded her head yes and no to their inquiries.

The doctor and the priest were quickly called, but she had been before the doctor arrived. The doctor pronounced it a heart attack.

Those surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Mayne Gunning of Florida, and Mrs. Tillie Sierock of Covington, seven nephews and four nieces.

The funeral was held at St. Cecilia Church, Independence. It will be recalled that her brother, Will Schoberg, preceded her in death a year and a half ago.

Denver Riley

Denver Riley, a long-time resident of Kenton County, died at his country home on Richardson Road last Thursday at 9 a. m. He was 64 years of age and had been confiding with a heart ailment for about two years. Apparently he was doing all right but took this attack in the night. The doctor was called and he was revived for a few hours and then suddenly passed away.

Mr. Riley had been a member of Banklick Christian Church for something like 40 years.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Lillie Dehner Riley; two sons, Geo. and Julian Riley; three brothers, Charles, Garnett and John Riley, all of Independence; a sister, Mrs. Sally Groger of Erlanger, and four grandchildren.

The funeral services were held last Saturday at 2 p. m., at the Swindler funeral home, Independence. Burial was in Independence Cemetery. Rev. W. E. Maners officiated.

Deposits Insured to $10,000

The Bank of Independence has received the new FDIC certificate which insures each individual deposit up to $10,000.00.

Charles H. Kruse

Charles H. Kruse, veteran of World War I, died last week at his home in Erlanger, at the age of 52 years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Margaret Kruse; a son, Charles W. Kruse of Independence; a daughter, Mrs. Betty Feldmann of Florence; a brother, Harry Kruse of Covington; his father, George Kruse of Covington, and three grandchildren.

Services were held at 10 a. m., on Saturday at the Middendorf funeral home, Covington. Burial was in Highland Cemetery.

Pioneers Blast Highlands

And Silver Grove

Simon Kenton Pioneers moved a bit closer to second place in the N. K. A. C. by downing Highlands 54-43 at Highlands. The victor was the eighth in 11 games. In conference play. The halftime score was 26-20 in favor of the winners.

Simon Kenton was never in danger in their game with Silver Grove and won easily, 88-47. At intermission S. K. was in front 47-17.

Mrs. Margaret Phillips returned last Monday from South Carolina, where she spent a week with her husband, Franklin Phillips, who is in the Marine Corps, training there.

Soil Conservation

By John C. Acree

Farm Planning For Wartime Production

Producing more food and fiber with less labor will be the problem of all farmers during the coming year.

To accomplish this goal, careful planning for land use and labor management will be required. Only the fields best suited for cultivation and capable of producing the greatest returns with the least labor should be row cropped. Land not suitable for cultivation should be left in grass or sown to grass. In some cases, however, extremely steep land should be left in forest.

Fields that are row cropped should be protected from erosion by leaving sod strips in the natural waterways or draws and by contour planting. In some cases terraces may be needed to prevent soil washing and the loss of much needed fertilizers.

Information concerning the procurement of complete soil maps, showing soil types and land capabilities, developed from aerial photographs by soil specialists, and any assistance desired for setting up a better farm plan, may be had by contacting C. A. Wicklund, Kenton County Agent, or the office of the Kenton County Soil Conservation District in the courthouse at Independence.

Winner of Soil Conservation Essay Contest: James Maus

James Maus, Independence, Route 1, was the county winner of the Soil Conservation Essay Contest sponsored by the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times. Mr. Maus will receive a $25 bond. The subject of the essay was, "The Place of Water Control in My District Soil Conservation Program."

Jim Hust, Harrodsburg, Route 1, was the state winner in the contest. Over 6,500 entries were submitted this year.

Soil Erosion Is Less

"It's an ill wind that blows no good. This can also be said about our long cold snowy winter. With the ground blanketed, most of the winter, with snow our soil erosion problem has been the least for many years. Water coming off the hills is clear and does not take on the muddy color until it has zig-zagged back and forth in the small streams, removing the soil from each side of the banks. Here is another job brought to our attention that we have been overlooking. That job is straightening of these meandering streams into straight channels, well sloped and seeded down into sodways. There are several fine examples of this work in Kenton county. Look for them!"

Graves county farmers placed orders for more than 30,000 trees, the majority being for the TVA area of the county.

Kiss of Death

The cooing young man had been in the hospital for some time and had been extremely well looked after by the pretty young nurse.

"Nurse," said the patient, one morning, "I'm in love with you. I don't want to get well."

"Don't worry," replied the nurse, cheerfully, "you won't. The doctor's in love with me, too, and he saw you kissing me this morning."

FEMALE DREAM

The playwright had struggled for years but at last his work was being recognized and, one after another, his plays were tremendous hits. "All those old bills are paid now, my love," he said to his wife one day. "We're going out and buy you some decent clothes this very afternoon."

"We'll do nothing of the sort," she snapped. "I want the same kind of things that the other women are wearing."

DEAR FRIENDS:

There is a mighty big difference in Baby Chicks. In a good year it is possible to make a profit with ordinary chicks, but when the feed and egg price radio isn't the best, it takes top quality chicks to make a profit. That is why we strongly urge you to raise a brood of Pollitt's better bred chicks and see the difference in the brooder house, on the range, and in the laying house. If you select poor quality chicks, you will have wasted your time, money, feed and equipment raising a flock that doesn't have the breeding to earn you a profit.

To our old friends and customers, we are very grateful for the orders given us in the past, and are looking forward to the privilege of serving you again this year. To our new and prospective customers, we extend a cordial invitation to get acquainted with the extra quality of Pollitt's Chicks.

UK To Celebrate

86th Anniversary

The University of Kentucky will celebrate its 86th birthday February 22. Highlight of the Founders Day observance will be an all-University assembly at Memorial Coliseum at which the principal speaker will be Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College.

Membership in the Artificial Breeding Association in Kentucky increased last year from 8,000 to 10,867.

Barren county now has more than 100 herds of registered beef cattle. For the fourth successive year, Jessamine county homemakers will have a series of lessons on child guidance and family relationship.

Burley tobacco annually returns to Bath county farmers an income of around $3,000,000. Ben Creech and Oscar McKnight of Laurel county have bought 19 and 16 head of geese respectively for the crabgrass in strawberry patches.

After a lesson on picture selection, Larue county homemakers reconditioned 203 frames, rehanging 199 pictures and removed 46.

KENTUCKIAN'S IN WASHINGTON

by Gil Kingsbury

What are Kentuckians writing about? Well, let's dip into the congressional mail bag.

First of all, post office workers are giving Uncle Sam a lot of business with a flood of letters seeking an increase in salary. One Bellevue worker points out that industry has had several increases while the postal worker lags behind. Action now, is his demand.

Wheat For India:

From several parts of Northern Kentucky — Pendleton, Carroll and Gallatin Counties — come letters from groups interested in the program of grain for India's hungry millions.

This is one question on which President Truman and former President Hoover agree. India, they say, should have food, and a score of Northern Kentuckians have joined to endorse the proposal. Right now it looks as though Congress will approve the program of grain for the teeming Indians.

Taxes and Spending:

A Boone County businessman writes not to protest a tax increase but to urge a drastic reduction in non-defense spending. Like a lot of others, Mr. Boone County recognizes the need to arm the nation against Red Aggression. But he can't see any sense in other kind of spending.

Fifty-eight percent of the money spent this year will go for the military. Another 7 percent goes to veterans; 8 percent is for interest; 10 percent is for our international program. That leaves 17 percent for all the rest of the needs of the nation.

Jobs and Jobs:

Several Northern Kentuckians have written to seek jobs with the Price Control Office. They cite experience under the OPA. Well, if plans now approved are carried out, the price control organization will be mighty small. In fact, the Kenton County office during the war was much larger than the state organization under plans now in the making.

Prohibition:

The congressional mail also contains a plea for the return of prohibition. One Grant County lady endorses the return to the law of 1920's.

Several prohibition bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives. One would bring about complete prohibition. Another would regulate the transportation of alcohol. A third proposed law would keep all alcoholic beverages out of army camps.

Such bills have been introduced often during the past several sessions, but none reached the floor for a vote.

Market News Bulletin

Graded Eggs Average

Twelve Cents Higher

The State Department of Agriculture has announced that egg grading stations at Liberty, Somerset, Monticello, and Albany, have completed six months of successful operation. These stations were supplied with egg graders and a market for the eggs on graded basis was established for this area by the Division of Markets.

Harry F. Walters, Commissioner of Agriculture, stated that for the period from July 15 to January 1, a total of 19,898 dozen eggs were sold through the four grading stations. The graded eggs sold for an average of 12 cents a dozen more than ungraded eggs.

Plentiful Foods List

Contains Fifteen Items

Are you looking for seasonably priced foods for February? The U. S. Department of Agriculture has released its monthly Plentiful Foods List containing fifteen foods that should suit your purse.

The list includes tuna, mackerel, sardines, frozen fish, fillets, fresh and frozen shrimp, broilers, fryers and heavy turkeys in the meat line. Other expected plentiful and reasonably priced foods are potatoes, fresh greens, sauerkraut, oranges, onions, cottage cheese and sweet potatoes. Grain markets continued unsettled during the first week in February, according to reports to the Kentucky and United States Departments of Agriculture. Shortage of boxcars and other transportation difficulties together with uncertainty concerning price regulations were the principal disturbing influences. Markets dropped off materially but current offerings were generally adequate for trade needs.

Wheat prices held at about the previous week's level despite a good foreign demand and relatively large sales for export. Corn and oats advanced a cent or two per bushel reflecting a good feeder and industrial demand. Rye, barley, and grain sorghums held practically unchanged. Oilseeds, on the other hand, advanced 10 to 12 cents a bushel.

Treats Posts To

Hold Off Decay

Noble Marshall, a farmer near Gilbertsville, Marshall county, is treating fence posts so he won't have to worry about their rotting. To date he has treated 350 posts with pentachlorophenol, commonly known as "penta."

Mr. Marshall soaked his peeled posts in 5% penta for 48 hours. Averaging 4 1/2 inches in diameter and 5 1/2 feet in length, each post absorbed about a quart of the preservative at a cost of 12 cents. Since this treatment is supposed to last for 10 years or more, Mr. Marshall figures the actual cost is about a cent a year per post.

Copies of circular H-10, "How to Preserve Fence Posts with Penta," by W. E. Jackson, may be had free from offices of county agents, or from the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, Lexington.

Forty-nine Henderson county homemakers reported having freezer lockers in which they stored 13,778 pounds of food last year.

Mercer county farm planners hope to have a $4,000,000 tobacco crop in the county.

Develops Strain

Of High Layers

Ray Cashman of Lodiburg, Breckinridge county, has developed a strain of White Leghorns of which he can well be proud, according to Kenneth A. Brabant, county agent. His top laying hen this year laid 355 eggs averaging 25.3 ounces per doz. Still going strong is the mother of this hen, which laid 1,070 eggs in the past five years. All birds on the farm averaged 195 eggs each, while all that qualified for a record of perfection had an average of 257 eggs.

Mr. Cashman has been breeding and training White Leghorns for several years. He started his poultry flock 12 years ago when he purchased, at $1.50 each, six baby chicks of the highest laying strain that he could buy at that time. Recognized as one of the foremost breeders of White Leghorns, he has sold birds throughout the North and South.

Clyde Jones of Daviess county has completed a 30x100 ft. laying house of cinder bricks.

Ryland Homemakers

An interesting playlet on how to plan your work for the day was enacted by Mrs. F. B. Hermes and Mrs. N. L. Leach at the February meeting of the Ryland Homemakers Club.

Mrs. W. A. Damon, president, conducted the business meeting, and it was voted to donate $5 to the polo fund. Mrs. Hermes and Mrs. Leach volunteered to help in the Red Cross campaign, as a part of the club's civic project.

The devotional included Psalm 67 and the reading of the poem, "True Fellowship." Accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. M. Murchison, the group sang two songs, "Homeport" and "Loves Old Sweet Song."

Mrs. O. J. Williams, reading chairman, read an article from Readers Digest, relating the different types of conversations and nationalities of people who daily visit the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C. Various other readings and poems were submitted on the wife of Abe Lincoln and George Washington.

Prior to the serving of a delightful luncheon by the hostess, Mrs. Oliver Gee, assisted by her daughter, Wilma, all joined in a Valentine exchange.

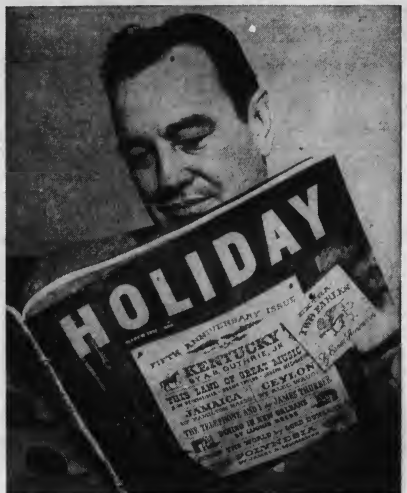

Mrs. W. H. Bagby read an interesting leaflet on flower seed planting and cleaning the lawn, as the surplus mulch and sticks tend to smother the young grass and shrubs. "Planning My Time," was the lesson given by Mrs. N. L. Leach and Mrs. F. B. Hermes, with a very interesting discussion following. Mrs. Leach also related the helpful talks and demonstrations given to Home Economics members on the wife of Abe Lincoln and George Washington.

Roll call, on something new that was done for me, was answered by Mrs. W. A. Damon, Mrs. W. H. Bagby, Mrs. Oliver Gee, Mrs. W. A. Dickman, Mrs. S. Martin, Mrs. John Murchison, Mrs. N. L. Leach, Mrs. F. B. Hermes, Mrs. O. J. Williams and Mrs. W. P. Schwall.

The March meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. W. A. Damon near Ryland.

The farm building meeting in Carlisle county found many farmers planning to build or remodel buildings this season.

Monroe county tobacco farmers estimate that they made from $200 to $400 an acre through the use of artificial heat in curing their crops.

Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby looks over the Kentucky issue of Holiday. The March number carries a 17-page article and 27 photographs depicting the State's economic and cultural growth and the character of its people.

The character of Kentucky and its people is analyzed in the March issue of Holiday. A 17-page portfolio depicts the state's attractions for the outsider, the qualities of its people, the wealth of its resources and the charm of its customs and traditions.

A 10,000-word article by A. B. Guthrie, Jr., Lexington's Pulitzer prize-winning author, observes that Kentuckians take great pride in their home state and its gracious manner of living. "At its best it is manners without rigidity," says the author, describing the way of life. "It is hospitality with calculation."

It mentions that Kentucky has long been noted for its presence and continuing production of talent and leadership and adds: "Through claim of birth or residence the state can boast a list of distinguished men, historical and contemporary, out of all proportions to even its present population of three million." The friendliness of people everywhere in the state is one of its most distinguishing qualities, according to Guthrie.

The Kentucky mountaineer is misrepresented and exaggerated in most stories about him, claims the article which characterizes him as friendly and obliging. "He is hospitable almost to the point of embarrassment to strangers," says Guthrie. Of his visit to Harlan and the coal fields, the author recalls the uniformity of the frame houses perched on stilts and the conversations he had with miners. "The outlander is likely to think of the miner as a surly and difficult fellow. Not so," says Guthrie. "He may believe, and does, that sooner or later his number will come up, but he doesn't live in gloom."

The article explodes some widely-held myths about the state, pointing out in one instance that "Kentucky is the home of good whiskey and fast horses but much of Kentucky is not at home with it and them."

But distinct from any myth, notes the article, is the fact that Kentucky stands first as a breeder of the Thoroughbred or running horse. Another fact is that a dozen Kentucky counties produced nearly half the whiskey distilled in the United States in 1947—86.9 millions of gallons.

Louisville, Kentucky's biggest city referred to in the article as its most important businesswise, is described as "a big, friendly country town, notable by outward reputation as the home of the Courier-Journal, the Louisville Slugger and the Derby."

Speaking of the Derby and the fever it generates, the article says, "A kind of craziness afflicts people, so that even the Kentucky absentee is likely to glue his ear to the radio, first having made sure that plenty of refreshment is at hand."

Illustrating the article are 27 photographs which show how Kentuckians live, work and play.

RESOWING DAMAGED ALFALFA AND GRASS FIELDS DISCUSSED

Occasional reports and observation indicates that some alfalfa and grass fields sowed late last fall are already damaged badly by heaving, and more damage may occur. It is not necessary, however, to rework these fields this spring, says Bill Davis, Boone County Agent.

The seedbed was prepared last fall and the natural settling and firming of the soil throughout the winter has prepared a seedbed for spring sowing as good as any and perhaps the best of all. Early sowings in the spring are usually more successful than late sowings. The sooner the seed are broadcast on top of the ground after the middle of February, the more certain it is that they will be ready to sprout when the first days come that are warm enough. During the first half of the spring sowing season, which ranges from early February to as late as the first of May, the temperatures are low and evaporation is not sufficient to result in a dry, crusty top layer on the field. In this condition, seedlings can sprout and not suffer from drying out on top of the ground. The danger of freezing "in the crook" is not so great. Neither is it so great as the danger from dry weather when the seed are sowed in the last half of the sowing season. In the latter half, as the season advances, it gradually becomes advisable to stir the ground so that the first rain will cover the seeds.

Alfalfa, clovers and grasses should be sowed on such field that was damaged through the winter either in spots or over the entire area, as the condition may require. The addition of about three hundred pounds of mixed fertilizer, also on top of the ground, may be of great aid in causing quick growth of the seedlings.

Inhabited by Indians, Too

Seems this kid was a great baseball fan. Ate, slept and talked the sport, even in school. This day at school, the class was all wrapped up in geography; all wrapped up, that is, except for this one guy. His thoughts had taken him out to the old ball game.

Bobby, the teacher asked, breaking in on his meditation, "where's Cleveland?" "Cleveland's in New York today," came the prompt answer, "and Bob Feller's pitching!"

Aren't you the waitress who took my order?" "Yes, I am." "How did you enjoy your vacation?"

Needs Transfusion

Two friends met on Main Street. "Hello," said the first, "you look nice and tanned. Just get back from Florida?"

"Yes," answered the other, "and did we have a great time! For forty dollars a day we stayed at the Roney Plaza."

"You mean Roney Plaza. Plasma is blood."

"Well," countered the first, "is forty dollars a day barley water?"

How Have the Mighty Fallen?

The lady was sincerely interested in the many activities of her husband. "How come," she asked, "there's no lodge meeting tonight?"

"It had to be postponed," her husband explained. "The Grand, All-Powerful, Invincible Supreme Omnipotent Sovereign got beaten up by his wife."

Thanks Doc!

"I just dropped in, Doctor, to tell you how much I've benefited from your treatments."

"But you're no patient of mine."

"No, but my uncle was, and I'm his heir."

BIGGEST LIE

A Boston minister once noticed a crowd of urchins clustered around a dog of doubtful pedigree. "What are you doing, my little men?" he asked, with fatherly interest.

"Swappin' lies," volunteered one of the boys. "The feller that tells the biggest one gets the purp."

"Shocking!" exclaimed the minister. "Why, when I was your age I never thought of telling an untruth."

"Youse win," chorused the urchins. "The dog's yours, mister."

NOISY WELCOME

Funeral services were being conducted for a woman who had been thoroughly disliked in her rural community. With a violent explosive disposition she had been quarreled with her neighbors. Even the animals on her place were a bad look.

The day was sultry and as the service ended the storm broke furiously. There was a blinding flash, followed by a terrific clap of thunder.

"Waal, she's GOT there," a mourner said.

Simon Kentonian STAFF ASSEMBLY PROGRAM JAN. 24

The Simon Kentonian staff gave their annual Assembly program on January 24, which turned out to be a huge success. Our program was opened by Mae Wayman, Jimmy Hutton and Babe Scouten, giving their version of the Roving Kind. To the surprise of everyone, we discovered we had a very talented dance trio called the Three Nothings, who gave us three little black boys doing the "Hucklebuck." These three little chocolate drops are better known to us as Florence Rivard, Jackie Elbert and Jo Ann Wilson. The highlight of the program was the pantimime, "And the Curtain Fell." This was dramatized by the following: Miss Prudence Pappie, a lively widow, Babe Scouten; Polly Pappie, lovely daughter of widow Pappie, Mae Wayman; Hosea Battie, a jilted lover of the widow, Dickie Lee; Sam Slamsnap, lover of Polly Pappie, Jimmy Berryman; Reuben Ringworm, the villain, who was also after Polly's hand, Jimmy Hutton. This ended, as all good love stories do, the lovers, Sam and Polly, were able to marry and the widow became rich.

The pantimime was humorously read by Marsha Bachmann. To conclude the program, Edna Hutton and Dickie Lee showed their talent by pantimiming, "A Bushel and A Peck."

We would like to thank Curtis Pebbles, Norman Ervin and Mary Lou Cook for their help in making this program a success. The program was under the direction of the one and only Malvin R. Sebree.

ART CLASSES BUSY

The art classes have been very busy since Christmas, with class projects in life drawing, soap carving and book making, as well as several outside projects. Besides posters for such activities as skating parties and chapel programs, the senior high boys helped with decorations for the P. T. A. observance of Founders Day. They made small pipe cleaner figures, dressed to represent four of the most important leaders of the P. T. A. movement. The boys deserve much credit for the clever and amusing way in which they carried out the designs. Linoleum block printing is currently in progress and it will be followed by International relations posters, which will be entered in a state-wide contest at the University of Kentucky.

IN MEMORY—

In loving memory of our darling baby, and only child, little Henrietta Rose Black, who passed away February 18, 1935, at the age of 4 years, 7 months and 5 days—

Sixteen years ago today since our baby went away, No one knows of the tears and heartaches we have shed. Since our baby has been dead. God has promised her back to us some day.

As we journey on through life's weary way, Concealed in our hearts lies a silent memory of the one we loved so well.

No one here knows of our sorrow, only God can only tell: Sadly missed by her mother and father, Mr. & Mrs. Henry Black.

Glory and Service

Lesson for February 25, 1951

THERE ARE two sides of the Christian life that don't seem to mix. One of these we can call glory. The very word suggests something not of this world; it calls up mystic visions, inner raptures, the light of heaven. We think of Saints and angels in glory, for that is where they belong. But we ourselves can have a bit of it here and now.

When Glory Comes
Not every Christian has an experience of glory in this life. But those who do, usually find that it comes only at rare intervals, when one is alone, after long and perhaps painful prayer. Sometimes it is an actual experience of something like great and blinding light; sometimes a hearing of voices as from another shore; sometimes a feeling of unutterable peace and joy such as nothing in this world can give. Whatever form it takes, the experience we are calling "glory" is always connected in the mind and heart with the felt presence of God. It may come in church or it may not; it may come on a river at sunset or some golden night beneath the stars. However it comes, one longs above all things for it to remain. And while it does remain, one wishes to hear no human voice.

When Service Calls
BUT the Christian life is not all glory, by any means. If the glory-side is spiritual, the service-side is material. If the glory cannot be shared, the whole idea of service is sharing. For moments of glory there can be no date nor schedule, no predicted time and place, but acts of service must often be done by calendar and clock.

Glory may not come to every one but service is the duty of all. Yet service, like glory, may come to us from without. At a time when one least expects it, one will be called on for a service one is scarce prepared to give. Service calls us every day; weariness and pain may at times bar us from glory, but only the last weariness and the most disabling pain will bar us from service. Glory may be for those far advanced in the spiritual life; service is for these too, but also for the beginners.

The Weaving of Gold and Grey
NOW the trouble is that glory and service seem to get in each other's way. We actually feel like different persons, in glory and in service.

Let us say on a morning in church, when the winter sun is streaming through the windows on the communion bread and wine, and in the silence the solemn words are heard once more: "This is my body, broken for you," one may feel, in Miss Millay's words, "This moment is the best the world can give, The tranquil blossom on the tortured stem."

But the next day, when one is teaching a class of mischievous boys, or helping a neighbor fix a flat tire, or baby-sitting, or spading up a garden,—one does not feel like the same person. Can religion, the Christian religion, take in both glory and service?

Some Christians have thought not. Some have gone in for one, some for the other. Some live only for the high hours of worship and rapture, counting all the time between their radiant hours as "dark nights of the soul." Others leave worship to others; they are seldom to be found at communion, but they can always be counted on to help with church suppers or community chest drives.

Jesus showed us the better way. It is not a choice between glory and service; his life included both. He had his high moments, as on the Mount of Transfiguration; but they did not long remain. Presently he found himself down in the valley with disciples who did not understand him, and with demons hard to cast out.

Jesus took both sides of religion and made them one. There was glory in his service and there was service in his glory. (In the very hour of his transfiguration, he did not speak of his death.) The true Christian life, like that of Jesus, weaves the gold and the grey together, the shining gold of life's high moments, and the long-wearing grey of the years of service.

Hot Springs

I have met a lot of people on this trip—and of course they want to know where I am from, and when I tell them, they want to know how far that is from Lexington, that great bluegrass country. I have met several big farmers from the Mississippi Valley, who want to know all about blue grass and tobacco. They would like to raise a lot of cattle, if they had a grass that would make good pasture. They have a lot of moisture and a black loamy soil with no limestone, but they grow fine alfalfa.

I met another farmer from Illinois, who has a lot of cattle and keeps them inside all winter. He has fed tons and tons of hay. Then another man from Nebraska, who has his cattle run out all winter and feeds corn and cotton seed meal. It gets very cold out there and lots of snow, but he never mows his pasture and cattle will get that long grass.

There are farmers here from everywhere—Illinois, Iowa, West Virginia, North Carolina, Mississippi, Arkansas, Minnesota and Nebraska. I suppose other states are represented, also. They all think as I do, that Kentucky is a wonderful state. Last night I met Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson from Nicholasville, Ky., who is a large farmer from that part of the state. He sold 20,000 lbs. of tobacco for 62 cents per pound. A very nice check for one crop. He has been coming here every spring for 20 years.

Last night my wife and I met a very fine old gentleman from Greenville, Miss. He asked where we were from and we told him Kentucky. He wanted to know if we were close to Corinth. He was born there and moved to Mississippi when eight years old. He is a Jewish farmer, and I told him the first one I ever met, but he said and came back here to live. Of course I wouldn't want to live in Alaska, would you—but some people would.

I heard by the grapevine that Mary K. Stephens bought the Montgomery farm. This should make me and her brothers a nice home—close to town and not too much land. I won't be home for the big wedding of Guy Olsen Carlisle and Betty Maloney, but be sure and give them the time. I have not heard from the store, but the usual run it is going along OK as I left two good men in charge, and plenty of hardware to sell. If you are going to need any appliances or metal product this spring, you had better buy, as it will be cheaper and I know it will be scarce, as the manufacturers are cutting down all the time. When others are out, but sometimes we fail—so don't wait, if we have it in stock now.

There has been no gambling in this part of Arkansas for several years, but since January 1, several places have opened up. The church people and business people have tried to have the local officers stop it, but no cooperation at all. Yesterday they sent a committee to the Governor at Little Rock. He told the committee he did not want to interfere with the local law. Same old story as we have in Northern Kentucky. It seems that someone has changed the governor, as he went in on an anti-gambling platform.

Today is Thursday and it rained all night and all day today, but it is not cold here. Weather is like spring and supposed to fair up Friday. Most people here are very much upset over the war. Our forces in Korea have up a few miles then the Reds drive them back and take men and equipment. We are getting nowhere fast. Nothing to gain if you do win every battle, which we are not. This veteran hospital is full of boys sent back from Korea, who got all crippled up for nothing—some will get well, but a majority will never be well. They have one of the finest hospitals and best staff of doctors here of anywhere in this country, but even at that, they cannot do the impossible in making these young men new again.

Just talked to a Mr. Brooks, who is in the oil well drilling business. He says there is plenty of oil for years to come—they are still opening up new fields in Louisiana and Texas. He is a very busy man, has several drilling outfits at work now. Come here for a few days rest. Most people you meet here are farmers or business men who just come here for a few days' rest and take some baths, which do a well person a lot of good, and it's not expensive—hotel rooms are cheap, meals are cheap and the baths are the cheapest thing here. Most anyone that has rheumatism or a fellow came here for two or three weeks, by plane two years ago and stayed several months, went back and sold everything he owned and came back here to live. Of course I wouldn't want to live in Alaska, would you—but some people would.

Kentucky Revenue Agent to Be Here Tuesday, Mar. 6

A representative of the Kentucky Department of Revenue will be in Walton, on March 6, 1951, to assist taxpayers in preparing their state income tax returns.

The representative, Ben F. Zimmer, Jr., will be at the Oldie State Bank from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

This service is provided as a convenience to taxpayers and to encourage filing before the April 15 deadline for paying state income tax. In addition, the Department of Revenue District Office in Covington, at 714 Coppel Bldg., will provide assistance to filers.

Kentucky law requires income tax returns from single individuals who have an income of $1,000 or more. Married persons are required to file if their combined income is over $2,000.

Single individuals are entitled to a tax credit of $20. A single person, qualifying as head-of-family, is entitled to a tax credit of $40. "Head-of-family" is defined as a person who maintains in his own household one or more dependents who are closely related to him by blood, adoption or marriage. A married couple is also allowed a tax credit of $40.

Any taxpayer who has specific questions about completing his return may call the district office at Covington, HENRICK 7290.

The Kentucky Income Tax is entirely separate from the Federal Income Tax, Geo. W. Bechtold, Supervisor, announced.

It is estimated that Oldham county farmers lost, on an average, 400 to 500 pounds of tobacco due to poor curing conditions.

Walton P. T. A. Meets

At the Walton P. T. A. meeting, February 21, a program was presented by Mrs. Leo Flynn, which included a discussion of the meaning of Founders Day. Janet Webb and Yvonne Flynn presented a musical selection, and individual readings were given by members of the first grade. Mrs. Earl Waters and Mrs. Clayton Jones reported on the Mid-Winter Conference held at Dayton.

The P. T. A. agreed to buy a popcorn popper for use by the sophomore class, and also to

Kentucky Tourist Trade Nets State $293,201,607

Out-of-state tourists spent an estimated $293,201,607 in Kentucky in 1950, setting a new high record for tourist trade in the state, according to a report made by Highway Commissioner W. P. Curdin to Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby, this week. This represents an increase of $64,344,733, or 23%, over the 1949 figure, and brings the total volume of Kentucky's tourist trade to $367,933,033 for the past four years.

The state paid fund benefited in the amount of $7,800,594 in gasoline tax paid by out-of-state pleasure travelers in Kentucky last year, Curdin reported. During the years 1947-1950 total state gasoline tax collected for the road fund from out-of-state tourists has amounted to $30,208,463, the Highway Department's figures show.

Gasoline sales in the state in 1950 exceeded 1949 sales by 45,626,927 gallons, or 8.9%.

Of the $293,201,607 tourist income in the state in 1950, the Highway Department's report showed that $76,300,402 went to retail stores for merchandise purchases; $84,148,861 went to garages and service stations for gasoline, services and automobile accessories; $60,106,329 to food establishments for meals; $50,723,878 to hotels and tourist courts for accommodations, and $24,922,137 for amusements.

Old stands of Ladino clover showed farmers in Lyon county how rapidly this crop can recover from below zero freezing temperatures.

All officers and teachers, as well as anyone interested in Sunday school work, are urged to attend.

Woman's Day to Be Observed at Christian Church

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the Walton Christian Church will observe Woman's Day, next Sunday, March 4, at the 11 o'clock church worship service. This is an annual service, observed by the Missionary women of the churches of the Districts of Christ in the United States, Canada and ten foreign fields, where missionaries serve this Protestant communion. A special offering will be received for the completion of the three-year program of advance known as "A Crusade for A Christian World."

Special music will be rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mr. James Spencer, organist-director. The pulpit guest for the service will be Dr. Cyrus M. Yocum, Professor of Missions, College of the Bible, Lexington, Ky. He will speak upon the theme, "Thy Kingdom Come—Through World Evangelism."

Dr. Yocum is a former executive secretary in the Division of Foreign Missions of The United Christian Missionary Society, and has visited many foreign fields. He is a graduate of Bethany College, Bethany, W. Va., and before entering missionary work, was a successful pastor for 12 years in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana.

The Good Will Center of 519 Isabella St., Newport, a Missionary project of North Bend and Campbell Associations of Baptists was dedicated on Sunday afternoon, February 18, at 3 o'clock. An overflow crowd was in attendance. Rev. K. Parks, pastor of First Baptist Church, Covington, was Moderator. Upon introducing the speaker for the occasion, who was Mr. Malcolm Rhodes, City Manager of Newport, Rev. Parks said, "We are trying to do for the people of this area spiritually, what the city management is trying to do through good government."

Mr. Rhodes began his speech by saying that spiritual work and good government could not be segregated but was interlocked and if there was a chapel in every city block like one being dedicated, he could dismiss most of the police force against the one hundred and twenty-six saloons in the city.

He called attention to the chapel being in the flood area and many times the debris and filth left by flood waters had been cleared away, but the debris and filth of lawlessness still remained, not only in Newport, but in the entire Kentucky area. He said we need to clean up the debris and the other will come naturally, that we are sick in our thinking and there must be a desire for better things and a consciousness of that need and no matter where we live we will be benefitted by such work.

Wa-Na Club to Meet

The Wa-Na Woman's Club will meet at the Phoenix Restaurant for the March meeting, with Mrs. James W. Spencer, hostess. All members are urged to attend, as there will be a guest speaker. And don't forget to bring something for the auction.

Scott of Beaver, Pa., Wesley Scott of Florence, Raymond Scott of Verona, Wilson Scott of Verona, and Herbert Scott of Holton, Ind.; three daughters, Mrs. Laura Scroggin, Verona, Mrs. Rena Ernst of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Grace Allen of Erlanger, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Scott of Rainsburg, Ind.

Small Crowd Sees Opening Session Of 34th District Meet

Erlanger Lloyd and Walton-Verona came through with easy wins Tuesday night in the opening round of the 34th District Basketball Tournament, being played at Walton.

Erlanger met Florence in the first game of the evening, and although the Knights offered stubborn resistance during the first half, finally succumbed 71-45. At the end of the first quarter Lloyd led 16-14, and outscored their opponents 13-11 in the second period to lead 29-25 at the half. Lloyd moved into a 46-37 lead in the third period, and in the final quarter scored 23 points, 12 for the losers to win by a comfortable margin.

Graham led the attack for Erlanger, accounting for 18 points. Jones added 15, Dryer 14 and Rash 13. Top man for the Knights was Hudson, who bucketed 14 tallies. He was followed by Bethel who had 11.

Walton's Bearcats coasted to it's win over New Haven, a team that has not won a game in two seasons. The "Cats" took a 16-5 lead in the opening period and held their advantage to lead 23-13 at the intermission. The third was the winner's big quarter as they outpointed the losers 27-8, to lead 50-21 at the period ended. In the fourth quarter, Walton-Verona outscored the Tigers 17-12, to win 67-33.

Billy Smith led Walton's scoring attack with 21 points, good in a game of ball. Don Rice added 15 tallies, and Don Vest 14. High man for New Haven was Jack Feagan, who hit the hoop for 12 markers.

Walton Reserves Win "B" Team Tournament

Walton-Verona High School won the championship last week in the finals of the Burlington Invitational Reserve Team Tournament, defeating the Burlington "B" eagles 37-23, on the host school's floor.

Strictly defensive ball was played by both teams in the first half, with Burlington leading 12-11 at the intermission, after trailing at the quarter 4-2. In the last half the winners opened up, to lead 27-15 at the three-quarter post, and outscored the losers 10-8 in the fourth quarter. High scorers for Walton were Campbell, with 11 points, and Grubbs, with nine. Kelly was high for Burlington, with eight points.

To gain the finals, W-V, defeated New Haven, 30-20, with the Lintons, Junior and Stormy, scoring 11 points each, and Feagan tops for N-H, with 14 tallies, and trimming Florence 53-33. In this game, Campbell led the way with 14 points, as Denlier had 10 for Florence.

Burlington defeated Hebron 34-28 and St. Henry 33-32 in gain the finals. Walton's reserves have the overall record for the season of 19 wins and nine defeats, and hold wins over Newport, Ludlow and Simon Kenton, not having been beaten more than once by any team.

Their best game seems to have been their last one, at New Haven. The locals sported a 17-1 lead in the first quarter, and went on to win 44-23, against a pretty good team.

Individual members of the team have shown marked improvement during the season, and in another year could give opponents plenty of trouble.

Wins First Round From Florence 71-45 Tuesday Night

THE JUGGERNAUTS: First row, Assistant Coach Stoll, Stephenson, Dryer, Jones, Graham, Porter, Burton, and Coach Champion. Second row, Manager Stephens, Rash, Tanner, Dudgeon, Schneider, Huebsch, Green, Finck, Vaughn, Duncan, Bell, and Manager McClure.

This has been another week of visitors from home, from Kentucky. Most prominent this week was Edwin E. Freshney, of Covington, Grand Master of the Kentucky Lodge of Masons. From all parts of the country, came those Masonic leaders to talk over Lodge matters. Highlight of the four-day stay in the Capital was a meeting with President Truman, Past Master of the Missouri Lodge.

Shared the Spotlight:

They had a party the other day for Vice President Barkley but, for once, he had to share the spotlight with several Kentuckians.

John Young Brown and John Sherman Cooper were both on hand in an earnest conversation. Both are talked of as candidates for Governor and, as they conversed, all eyes were on the two men, erstwhile and possible political opponents. Also sharing the spotlight was Senator Virgil Chapman who has met both men at the ballot box and emerged a winner.

The Bowl:

Kentuckians here in the Capital got to feast their eyes on the famous Kentucky Bowl.

The Bowl is a beautiful bit of crystal glass fashioned by Steuben. During the past year it was featured at many a Kentucky reunion and gained the name of Kentucky Bowl. Tom Graham, Louisville broker who owns the artistic piece, brought it to Washington and more than 100 Kentuckians turned out to look upon it. The Chief Justice, Fred Vinson, was among the invited guests.

Leave Washington:

The Veep has a reputation for moving fast and, apparently, his daughter, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, Jr., has the same gift for covering ground.

On February 3 she learned that her husband was to be sent to Paris to join General Eisenhower. And just twelve days later, on February 15, the Veep said goodbye to his daughter and granddaughter. Today they are in gay Paree. The father of the family is a nephew of the famous general.

Spring Is Near: To some people, robins bring the first sign of spring. But here in the Capital the first announcement of cherry blossom tours is a sure sign winter is about over.

Word has reached Washington that Newport High School is planning a jaunt to the Capital early in April. Other schools are sure to follow. We are looking for the Bellevue High School group, one of the largest, as well as students from other schools from Maysville down the river to Louisville. They all seem to have a happy, though hectic holiday.

Thompson Completes Sale

Forest S. Thompson, proprietor of The Mutual Realty Co., Walton, reports the sale of the Gulf oil station and tourist court, belonging to Marvin and Loretta Mason, Alexandria, Ky., to Carl D. and Anna M. Bennett, superintendent and caretaker of the Boone Lake Club. This property is located on the Dixie Highway in Crittenden, and is doing a nice business.

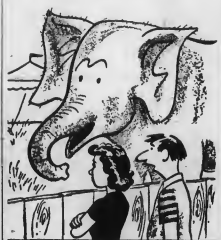

Dedication

A rather conceited bachelor was invited to dinner by a woman of his acquaintance, but did not accept.

A few days later, meeting her in the street, he said in his best manner, "I believe you asked me to dine with you last week."

The woman looked at him thoughtfully.

"Why, yes, I believe I did," she answered brightly. "And did you come?"

REASONABLE WISH

John: I wish I had the money to buy an elephant.

Sue: Why do you want an elephant?

John: I don't. I just want the money.

Red Cross Fund Drive To Start Here Monday

"Many times in its history, the Red Cross has demonstrated its effectiveness in meeting national emergencies. The grave situation that faces us today gives Red Cross an unusual opportunity for service in the national interest," so said Gen. G. C. Marshall.

Your Red Cross has accepted the following enormous tasks: Providing for instant use, tremendous amounts of blood plasma. Training some 20 million persons in first aid.

Instruction 100,000 women and girls to serve as nurse's aides. Teaching many more thousands home nursing skills.

And, recruiting more than a half million additional volunteers to aid local defense units and to serve in expanding military installations.

You can help in all of this by your generous support of the 1951 Red Cross fund campaign, which begins in Walton, Monday, March 5. The Kick-Off meeting of the Walton fund committee will at 3:30 p. m., Friday, March 2 at the Phoenix Restaurant.

Those who would like to help, in any way in this campaign, are urged to attend this Kick-Off meeting. Your presence, whether you solicit funds or not, is very valuable, because it means you are interested and are giving your moral support. The names of those who have already agreed to assist, according to Mrs. Alan H. Gaines, Chairman, are:

Mrs. O. K. Powers, Miss Louise Conrad, Mrs. Irene Bickers, Miss Jean Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace K. Grubbs, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ransler, Mrs. John Wood, Mrs. Howard Feldhaus, Mrs. Donald Stephenson, Mrs. C. O. Carlisle, Mrs. John Stephenson, Mrs. Roland Glenn, Gayle McElroy, John L. Vest, Miss Mary Rensler.

Montgomery county homemakers last year placed first aid kits in each of the ten county schools.

The Clark County Homemakers Association has added four $100 U. S. bonds to its fund for a homemakers club house.

The White 4-H Club in Caldwell county has ordered 1,000 white pins to set out as a club project.

National 4-H Club Week March 3-11

"Working Together for World Understanding," will be the theme of National 4-H Club Week, March 3-11. Four-H club boys and girls all over the nation will observe this week by "getting set" for a better 4-H year in 1951. They will visit boys and girls, telling them about 4-H Club in various ways, will plan programs, and tell the public about 4-H work. Of the nearly two million young people enrolled in 4-H Club work, over 77.8% completed their project work in farming or homemaking in 1950.

Nearly fifteen million rural young people have participated in 4-H Club work at some time or other, since its beginning in 1914.

This is the time of the year when 4-H club members everywhere are encouraged to take inventory of their 4-H club project work, that everything may be in readiness for the work ahead.

It may be said that National 4-H Club Week is a "check-up" week, or a "get-set" week. In Kenton county 4-H club members will participate in radio programs, PTA programs, and community activities throughout the week.

There is a 4-H Club Week window display in the Union Light, Heat & Power Building, 7th & Scott, Covington. The J. C. Penney Store of Covington, has sponsored a poster contest throughout National 4-H Club Week. These posters will be displayed in a 4-H Art Gallery on the second floor of the Penney Store.

Interruptions

Lesson for March 4, 1951

PEOPLE KEEP making your life shorter every day. For time is the stuff of which life is made, and you never do have a full 24 hours a day. After taking out what has to be spent in sleep, eating and so on, and taking out what has to be spent on your job, whatever it is, there still ought to be a few hours to call your own. But if you are like most people, you live from one interruption to another. If it isn't the telephone it's the door-bell. The more important you are, the more you are likely to be interrupted. Once there was a teacher who became president of the college where he had taught. In later years he mourned the change. "It seems to me," he said, "I never get a consecutive half-hour any more to think about anything. No day is ever what I planned. Life has become one long series of interruptions."

Unscheduled Steps
THE LIFE of the Master himself, to judge from what we read in the Gospels, was a long series of interruptions. The tenth chapter of Mark is a good example. Jesus himself at this time had one great thing in mind: the Cross. He was going up to Jerusalem not to talk to beggars or to listen to lawyers' arguments or to hold interviews with puzzled young people. He was going to die.

A man on his death-bed might be spared interruptions. He could not be blamed if he said to interrupters one and all: "Sorry, I can't be bothered. See my assistants if there is anything you want done." But Jesus did not say anything of the kind. He did not fume over the unscheduled stops on his life's highway. He took time to clear up misunderstandings; he took time for little children when even his best friends thought he ought not to be disturbed; he took time to answer the question of the rich young man; he did not brush off James and John when they came to him with their ill-considered petition; he even took time to take care of a beggar's need.

Ministries by the Wayside
JESUS DID not always take the initiative in every situation, though indeed he controlled every situation. When the Pharisees asked him about marriage he did not say, "Let's not talk about marriage; let me suggest the topic of salvation instead." When the young man ran up to him, Jesus did not ask: "Did you have an appointment for an interview?" Jesus not only did not resent other people's initiative. He never seems to have resented an interruption in his life.

Does this example of Jesus mean that we ought not to plan our days ahead of time, or that we ought never to try to "budget" our time? Must we never plan any project, but always wait till other people suggest what we are to do?

Not at all. The example of Jesus means that if and when interruptions occur, if we share his spirit we shall not be irritated by them or resent them. For what Jesus did, always, was to make use of the interruption. Each one was turned into a "Wayside Ministry." Indeed, a large part—some would say the larger part—of Jesus' life was made up of just such by-the-way ministries.

Life's By-the-Ways
HOW MANY of Jesus' teachings we would never have had, if no one had interrupted him or asked him questions! How many of his miracles would never have been done if he had refused to perform any but those he planned and scheduled himself! It is what we do "by the way" that makes up life's service, for the most part.
In Jesus' story of the Good Samaritan (no doubt an incident from real life) we are not told what were the original errands of the priest, the Levite and the Samaritan. Very likely the first two were on time for their appointments. But the priest and the Levite missed a wonderful chance, just because the poor beaten traveler was not, so to speak, on their agenda. The Samaritan was delayed, and maybe bothered, by what he did for the man in trouble. But what he was willing to do by the way, something he had not planned for at all, won him the immortality of the Master's praise.

We hope this March will bring us better weather—I believe we all agree we have had enough winter for this year. Did your mail box get knocked down during the slick roads? If so, come in and get a new one—we have a good supply of both kinds; also have your name put on the box you are using or put it on a new one. We have a nice supply of new sponges and chamois and not expensive. Don't you need an electric water heater, while you can get one—we just got two in today that were ordered in January. We also have two Perfection electric ranges, completely automatic and cheaper than most leading makes of ranges. You know Perfection always makes quality ranges!

Tobacco canvas will be very scarce, don't wait until the last, for there will not be any. I called in today for 24 gallons of outside white paint, and they did not have that much. You know what that means, if you are going to paint this year. We have several gallons in 5-gallon cans and our paint is the same price as last year. We have one farm 2-horse sled and two farm one-horse sleds, plenty of sleds and bar iron.

John Carter from Grant county was in today and bought a new Gillette razor. I have carried Enders razor blades for him for several years, and I believe he was the only customer I had for them, and now he has gone Gillette. Mrs. Alton Petty bought a Sunbeam Shearmaster to shear their sheep this year. This electric Shearmaster saves labor, time and money. Coach Charles Hayes purchased some plumbers tools and putty. He is a plumber as well as a painter—a very handy man around the house. Luther Riser from Verona just came in and bought three tobacco canvases.

Cecil Sebree, who has moved back to Verona, as he bought Walter Merrill's farm, was in buying linoleum binding. John Beck from Demosville, was back in Walton today—he wanted roof ventilators for a barn. I did not have them but vent bought denaturing felt and glue—she is getting ready to paper. Robert Hoffman, Green Road, came after wiring material. Lindsay Wagner needed pump repairs. Joe Neumeister comes in and goes out so fast I can't see what he buys.

Uncle Bill Lancaster bought a pair of gloves—he is getting ready for another tobacco crop.

Ben Dixon is also repairing and will be ready when the weather gets better. Chick and Ray had a run on linoleum rugs Monday—every time you looked around they were carrying out a rug. We have a nice stock of most all sizes of Armstrong and Gold Seal linoleum rugs. Are you going to use that team of horses or mules you have had all winter? If so, we have a good buy in harness—a full set or most any part or any size collar, to fix up the old set. Use old dobbie, he is always ready to go and you can hardly get along without him.

Window shades are very cheap in price and a nice quality. We have the pressed fiber shade and the plastic shade, which I don't believe you can tear and they are washable. We also order venetian blinds on special order and most all of them are different sizes and colors. When you start cleaning and painting that kitchen, don't you need a new kitchen cabinet sink—we just unloaded two very nice ones, and they are not high, but the best quality sink we have had in a long time. Thomas Guard and Aunt Allie Hughes bought a sledge hammer and a mallet. Thomas must have gotten up feeling strong.

Everett Jones needed a seed sower for some on his route—he is the general shopper for all down his way. Leonard Cook brought in some mule halters to be repaired. Chick put in new leather straps and riveted them all over. Homer Farris needed a new handle put in his car. This is the general repair headquarters—we fix most anything, as long as we have the tools and parts. Don't you need a new Gibson refrigerator—we have a very good cash price on four sizes and models (1950 prices).

After being away for three weeks, Walton looked awfully good when we drove in Sunday and saw all my old friends, and a few enemies, as most anyone who runs a business has—and they are the ones you had enough confidence in to trust for a few dollars, but they are not men enough to come in and pay. But they tell me they have this kind in every town, so I know we don't have as many as some towns, because this is a small town. After all this part of Kentucky is a very fine place to live and Walton is the best town in Kentucky, not to be a county seat town. When you are in Walton, come in and see the CONRAD HARDWARE STORE. Several Kentuckians here in the snapping pictures of the big affair.

A few days later the picture appeared in the Times Magazine, along

Capital. Caught by the big city cameraman were such well-known Kentuckians as Edward Seiler, former Kentucky Treasurer, John Y. Brown,
Miss Lorraine Winfrey of the Barkley office, and Leland Howard, the Assistant Director of the Mint, among others.

Directory:

The Kentucky Society of Washington has issued its annual membership directory, and it is filled with names of leading Blue Grass citizens. All the members of Congress hold cards, and so do Chief Justice
Vinson and Associate Justice Reed.

No one, however, is more active than former Governor O. O. Stanley and Mrs. Stanley. Oldtimers will remember him as Kentucky's chieftain executive during the first World War and a political orator of the old school. Age hasn't done much to dim the quick wit of the Grand Old Man, and whenever and wherever Kentuckians gather, the Governor is on hand to brighten the corner.

North Kentuckians:

Among the North Kentuckians who are Society members are Colonel and Mrs. James Chapman of Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. William Burkhalter of Campbell County; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Betts of Bourbon County;
Miss E. Buckner Blackberry of Bracken County; Mr. and Mrs. John Day of Fleming County and also Paris, France; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Edwards of Walton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Salyers of Carrollton, and Miss Charlene
Vincent of Covington.

Serious, Too:

Just so the folks back home won't get the idea that Kentuckians in Washington are frivolous, we want to report on the more serious side of the situation. John Sherman Cooper, the former Kentucky Senator, has been busy these days telling Washingtonians about conditions in Europe.

Several hundred persons turned out and movie cameras ground away when Senator Cooper told Senators that American troops should be sent to assist the Atlantic Pact nations.
"Don't," said the former Pulaski Co-unity Judge, "surrender Europe to the Russians."

Legion Matters:

Kentucky visitors added other serious notes to the Capital scene. Jacob Swope, Newport, State Commander of the American Legion, arrived the other day on Legion problems. So did General Roscoe Murray. With them was Charles Blackburn of Versailles, former state Legion chief.

Among others to arrive to consider national and world problems was Barry Bingham, the publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal.

COLLEGE REVISES POTATO CIRCULAR

John S. Gardner's circular, "Potato Growing," published by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, has just been revised and may be had free at offices of county agents.

It soon will be time to think about getting in the early potatoes, which are so delicious when served with the first peas. March 15 to April 10 is planting time. The main variety is Irish Cobbler, but Ashworth and Chenango are two newcomers recommended by Mr. Gardner. There also are the Burbank and Bliss Triumph.

The complete array of what to do to have good potatoes is given in this circular, and done so quickly and so well that no one need fear they will be burdened following the recommendations.

It is expected that strawberry analog in Calloway county will decrease, due to last year's difficulty in getting pickers.

George A. Damon, deputy clerk at Independence, says that he has issued 1,687 auto license plates, which is the same number issued last year up to May 15. Not only has Mr. Damon been a very busy man, but since buying a new car, he is also an embarrassed man. He says if he waves at somebody, they think he is trying to "show off," but if he doesn't wave or speak, they think he is trying to "high-hat" them.

STAFFORDSBURG

We appreciated very much the talk made by Mr. Bradley on Layman's Day, last Sunday, week. He claims to be a cracker salesman, but some of us agree that he does a very good turn as a preacher.

Rev. and Mrs. Arnold were recent Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hauser of Visalia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanna had as recent guests, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hanna and son Jimmie, and Mrs. Ella Mae Wiggers, all of Latonia. Mrs. Wiggers also called on Mrs. Ralph Hutman, who recently returned from the hospital. We are glad to know that she is doing well.

Many relatives and friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Anabel Lamb, who had been ill for several months. The friends and neighbors in this community, where she lived before her marriage, extend sympathy and consolation to her bereaved family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger and Miss Nannie Ballinger visited Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Hamilton and Mrs. Sophronia Mills at Walton, recently.

Several friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Binder to watch little Miss Karen Binder as she celebrated her birthday on a television program. We wish her many happy returns of the day.

Several members of our church met with Rev. Arnold and his co-worker, Rev. Holland, from Burlington church, recently to start visitation in a personal evangelism effort. This is an old, old plan and often a means of much good.

We are planning to have an early Easter program. Let's all make plans to be there.

SCRIPTURE: Mark 11:15.
14. EVANGELICAL: Psalm 81.

By What Authority?

Lesson for March 11, 1951

IS IT right or wrong? This is a fair question always. But there is another question to go with it. Who is to say whether it is right or wrong? Who is the authority? "Authority" means more than "orders." It means the final judge, the court of last appeal.

Neither You nor the Crowd
SOME SAY: Nobody can tell me what to do; I do as I please. There is no authority I am bound to recognize. Such a person has an authority, all the same: himself. For him, "what I want" and "what I like" are the only reasons for anything and all the reasons he wants.

Now aside from the fact that such people are a nuisance to all concerned, and the fact that they can't even pretend to be Christians, this point of view don't work. The person who acts as his own authority runs into others who take themselves as their authority, and the result is the awful mess called anarchy. So all sensible people do recognize some authority outside themselves. They want approval from outside, from above.

But whose approval do they want? Under whose jurisdiction, as lawyers would say, do they live? Some recognize only that vast and vague authority known as "Everybody." If everybody does it it must be right. If nobody does it, it's bound to be wrong.

Well, this is not necessarily so. Fifty million Frenchmen can be wrong, or 150 million Americans for that matter. You can't take a vote and decide what's right and what's wrong by a simple count of Ayas and Noes. Neither you alone, nor a crowd no matter how big, can be the final Authority on life.

Calendar, Code, Conscience
ANOTHER proposed authority, believe it or not, is the calendar. Some people will not read a book or see a show or wear a dress or listen to music that isn't up to the minute. If it's "dated" it's dead, unless the date is today.

That is silly, on the face of it. But there are other more respectable authorities which are still not THE Authority. One of these is the Law. If it's legal it's right, say some people, and it can't be right unless it's legal.

There is something true in this, of course. We should by all means obey the laws, and also see that good laws are made and bad ones repealed. But law is not the final authority on right and wrong. Law-makers can make mistakes. What is a good law at one time may be a bad law under other circumstances.

The best laws can never catch up with the morals of the best people. Still other people take as their authority conscience, meaning their own conscience. This is not quite the same as taking your own wishes or pleasure for your guide. Your conscience may lay unwelcome burdens on you. But while every one should of course follow his conscience, still anybody's conscience can be asleep or mistaken.

Some of the worst crimes in history have been committed by some of the most conscientious people.

God's Last Word

WHAT, THEN, is the highest authority for the Christian? Nothing and no one less than Jesus Christ himself. As we were thinking a few weeks ago, the very word "Christ" is a symbol of authority at the highest level.

In Jesus' day there were two supreme symbols of God: the Law and the Temple. Jesus not only assumed superiority to the Law, but (as our Lesson reminds us) of the Temple itself, though he was no priest and had no ecclesiastical position whatever. If there is a difference between Christian and non-Christian today, it is not that Jesus is the authority for one and not for the other; rather it is that the non-Christian refuses to recognize what is the fact: that for us and for all men, Jesus Christ is God's "last word" to mankind.

And it some say that the law of love is the supreme authority, is there any real difference between the spirit of Jesus and the law of love? For he is God's love incarnate.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Steinhauer, from Morning View, and Alice Baker were in Walton today. Mr. Steinhauer was showing him a name plate for his mail box. Miss Baker was showing her new lawn mower—she knew as well as I do, there will be scarce and not enough to go around, so she bought one while we had them. Then came Annie and Burt Powell with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bennett. We sure had conversation—Annie was doing most of the talking about how high I was and what common sense I had. I was glad she did break down and buy a $1.75 coat over my muffin. Now you know why I get gray hair and Those tobacco settlers came in today after two months waiting. Frank Wilson from Gallatin county bought hay forks, handles, posthole diggers, a lot of wire fence, staples and nails. Alice Neumeister brought a hand saw to be sharpened and she wanted Ray to start her Jamestown oil brooder—she got her baby chicks Wednesday. We are always glad to help Alicia and Eddie. Mr. Eliasha Allen came up after some Bolce interior glass point for her woodwork—very sure like this Bolce point. Henry Brooks just stepped in for some tobacco canves.

Bruce Cox bought some wiring material to run a light out to his brooder house. Doc Vest bought a roll of Romex cable to rewire his store building. I have a Harvey hammamill in stock, if you grind your feed, it will go farther and it is several weeks before you can turn out on grass. This about brings this article to a close, as the editor is ready to print. We are trying awfully hard this year to have what you want—if we don't have it, just give us a few days and we will get it. On the Sick List

Mrs. Chas. Mellbaugh is in St. Elizabeth Hospital. John Sturgeon is also in the hospital. Frank Cox of McMillan Drive has been off from work for a few days, due to sickness. Uncle Geo. Rector is improving from a blood clot, but confined to his bed much of the time.

License Business Brisk

Geo. Damon, Deputy Cyer, reports a very busy week—888 licenses were sold in the past week for passenger cars and trucks. There were also 56 transfers, netting a total of $6,831.

James Shanks

James Shanks, a retired farmer, was found dead in bed March 5, at his home near Latonia Lakes. Mrs. Tressa Riffe, Kenton County Coroner, said he died of natural causes. He was 81 years old.

Mrs. Shanks is survived by a son, Robert Shanks of Louisville, and three grandchildren, Rev. James Moak of Maysville, and David and Roger Shanks of Norwood.

Services were held Thursday at the Swindler funeral home, Covington, with burial in Linden Grove Cemetery.

Marine Gets 7 Friends to Enlist

When Millard T. Duckworth, R-1 Morgantown, N. C., enlisted in the Marines at the U. S. Marine Recruiting Station, Asheville, he was asked by the recruiting sergeant to recommend some of his friends who might be interested in joining up.

Duckworth took Martin Recruiting Sgt. Fred E. Eubanks at his word. He didn't stop at merely recommending; he brought some friends with him—seven of them.

On his first trip to the recruiting station Duckworth brought Billy M. Fisher of Morgantown with him, and after his summer training period with the national guard, Duckworth again appeared at the recruiting station with five more of his buddies. On still another visit to the station he brought in another for enlistment.

All of which prompted the recruiting sergeant to comment, "He's doing a better job of recruiting in this area than I am."

Each believer should be a spiritual "recruiting sergeant," to speak for his Savior, and bring others to Him. Andrew found his own brother, Simon, and "brought him to Jesus." (John 1:41-52) and Simon Peter brought thousands to Him.

It was this important matter of bringing precious souls to the Lord Jesus that was exercising the poet when he wrote:

"O ye saints, arouse, be earnest,
Up and around while yet 'tis day;
Ere the night of death o'ertake thee,
Strive for souls while still you may.
Must I go, and empty-handed?
Must I meet my Savior so?
Not one soul with which to greet Him
Must I empty-handed go?"

Baptist Church Notes

Last Saturday night, two car loads of young people visited the Masonic Temple in Cincinnati, where the Youth for Christ group of that city gave a film program on the famous book, Pilgrim's Progress.

Many seem to be catching the Easter spirit, for there was an excellent turnout for Sunday school and church services. In the Sunday school there was a small gain in attendance over a year ago.

The trustees reported that the fancy tile flooring for the new basement Sunday school room floor had arrived and the men of the church would start laying the tile immediately.

It is planned to send a crate of eggs Easter to the children of the Baptist Orphans' Home. Eggs are being brought in by the members.

Plans are being made for a 6:00 sunrise service Easter and there are many plans and activities in the way of preparation for the revival service in cooperation with 18,000 Baptist Churches east of the Mississippi in a simultaneous revival campaign, including tens of thousands of Southern Baptists, March 25 to April 8. The assistants in this local revival meeting will be Rev. Charles Hunter of Indiana, and George M. Carter of the Youth for Christ societies of Cincinnati.

Simon Kenton 52; Dixie Heights 44

Willard Shropshire's Simon Kenton Pioneers, who finished in second place in the Northern Kentucky Athletic Conference, set the pattern of the night in the first game by overcoming an eight-point first period deficit to down the Little Colonels of Dixie Heights by an eight-point margin.

The Pioneers trailed during the entire first period and moved out into the lead for the first time after four and one-half minutes play in the second period. However, they lost the lead a minute later, and then Don Henzman came through with 8 points in 75 seconds to enable the Pioneers to take a 27-20 lead into the dressing room at halftime.

Barnett opened the scoring for Dixie with a crisp shot and after True scored a free throw, Pruett added a pair of goals for a 7-0 lead, before Coppage scored a push shot. True added one and Pruett tossed in two more fielders as Dixie led 13-5 at the quarter.

The Pioneers lost little time in the second period. Hardgrove opened with a fielder and in succession, Chapman, Coppage and Henzman scored to knot the count at 13-13. Hardgrove and Berryman connected to put the Pioneers in front 17-13. Dixie fought back to tie the score at 19-19 and Barnett put them into a 20-19 lead with a free throw. This was the signal for Henzman to go into action and he scored four in succession for the Pioneers as they led 27-20 at intermission.

Dixie refused to quit and tallied 15 points in the third period while holding the Pioneers to eight to knot the count at 35-35 as the fourth period got under way. Charlie True tied the score for Dixie with 15 seconds of the period remaining. Dixie got out in front the first minute of the fourth period, 37-36, but Coppage scored for Simon Kenton and they were never headed from that point. Hageman pushed Dixie up to a 44-42 deficit, but in the final three minutes of play Simon Kenton scored eight points while limiting the host team to two.

The victory may be costly for the Pioneers as Henzman was injured in the fourth period and did not play the final six minutes of the period. Simon Kenton did well this season and scored a victory over Corinth 56-44 and to the fans it looked like the Pioneers were going to win the finals and many think they would have won if Henzman, one of their best point men, had not sprained his ankle and was unable to play the last game.

While Simon Kenton played a good game with Holmes in the last tussle for the regional, they were out scored 52-42. All the boosters wish them better luck next time.

MARCH WEATHER

We thought last week that spring was here, trees were budding and birds whistling, but this week is different—people buying heating stoves and stove pipe and oil setting around the stove waiting for the sun to shine again. But some have hopes spring will come soon as they are buying lawn brooms, garden rakes, lawn seed, lawn mowers, tobacco seed, canvas, garden spades, paint, wall paper cleaner and paste. Why not try some Bolce interior gloss or that fine Bolce quick drying enamel—it must be good because we sell lots of it.

Caroline Armstrong, over Whites Tower way, sent her son over after some wire fence. Fred Schuda from Verona, also bought some fence. Louis Readnour came down from Crittenden after a Gold Seal rug. Raymond Baker and wife were in today shopping. Mrs. Baker bought new curtain rods. My old friends and good customers, Alvin and Lela New, from Decouray, came out after more of that Bolce paint and window shades—they are very good customers all during the year, especially for paint—he does a lot of painting all year and he says Bolce paint goes further and is cheaper. J. C. Reynolds and I had a horse collar trade—he traded me three for two—of course I had to have some "book." While we were trading on the collars, Ray put new handles in his hay forks.

Evans Hance came in with two sets of harness those big horses had walked out of but we repaired them with a lot of new parts and rivets. We just unloaded 43 Armstrong linoleum rugs, 8x12, 12x12 and 12x15. My old friends and good customers, Alvin and Lela New, from Decouray, came out after more of that Bolce paint and window shades—they are very good customers all during the year, especially for paint—he does a lot of painting all year and he says Bolce paint goes further and is cheaper. J. C. Reynolds and I had a horse collar trade—he traded me three for two—of course I had to have some "book." While we were trading on the collars, Ray put new handles in his hay forks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Gibson were in today buying harness repairs. I thought the heating stove business was over for this year, but we sold 3 oil heaters and 2 coal heaters this week. This cold March wind really hurts and you need about as much heat as in winter time. We are sure selling tobacco seed—we have 14 varieties, most any kind you want. Vernon and Eunice Nix from Erlanger, came up after some Bolce liquid satin paint—they use Bolce paint all the time. Keta Sparks had a birthday Sunday, and her 39th wedding anniversary Tuesday, she married when she was twenty-one, so you figure how old she is. Old Russ looks pretty well to put up with one woman 39 years.

Roy D. Webster and wife were in today getting tobacco seed. Grandma Brown was in with her grandson Hinadele, after a cowboy rope, also looked over the guns but I had none to just suit him. John C. Martin and Cliff McBea from Mt. Zion were also in for a few minutes. Mrs. J. T. Bishop has been a good customer for the past few days—she and her husband bought the Roberts farm between here and Verona—very nice people who moved here from Owen county.

I have a few Cole fertilizer drills, if you need one, also have only six Benis tobacco settlers, and that is all I will have. Dorothy Ryan bought a lot of that Armstrong linoleum. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington needed tobacco canvas, tobacco seed and a leaf rake. Les Williams is fixing a hot bed—he is covering it with Glass-O-Net, which makes a very good covering. Mrs. Clarence Schuerman, from Atwood, a very good customer, bought a lot of items—I sold a garbage can, then enough to fill it up. Mrs. Edna Colston bought a wheelbarrow to use cleaning her yard and garden. Her daughter, Ruth Worthington, was with her but could not sell her things.

Ed Hopperton bought 63 sq. yds. of Armstrong linoleum and a cast iron wood heater. Mike Link bought a 9-ft. and a 12-ft. canvas—he is getting ready for that tobacco crop. Gladys Ingram bought a roll of 5-ft. poultry netting—she is thinking about that fried chicken this summer. Mrs. Jay Webster came in after an extension cord and some light bulbs to make heat for her baby chicks—I showed her one of those automatic heating elements with a thermostat that will keep regular heat, for only $6.95—she bought it and it was just what she needed.

Kyle Nicholson had Chick make up several clothes boxes to put in closets for clothes hangers—he made these out of pipe so they will not sag. Leon Hall is a busy man—he was in after bolts for refrigerators and air control for water pump, then a brass socket for a lamp. He is always repairing and very good on all electric appliances. Kenny Vest came in and wanted 3 steel bolts with holes drilled in the heads—I went to the drill press and did this little job—another satisfied customer. June Neumeister just came in and bought some Armstrong linoleum for her kitchen.

We had a lot of jobs today—putting in axe handles, fork handles, soldering cream separator, repairing electric iron and electric percolator. Ray put new oil basin on Mary E. Black's cook stove, and put new glass in window for Mrs. Abernathy. We still do a lot of small jobs that others do not have time to do. Always come to CONRAD'S for service and quality merchandise.

HONORS FOR THREE KENTUCKY DAIRYMEN

Three members of Kentucky dairy herd improvement associations have been awarded bronze "efficiency production" plaques and $150 in cash, donated by the National Dairy Products Corporation.

H. H. Barlow of Cave City received $75. He has an outstanding pasture program of alfalfa, ladino clover, sweet clover, fescue and brome grass. His herd of 20 purebred Jerseys, developed from a 4-H project, averaged 429 pounds of butterfat. Winter rations include home-grown grains plus wheat bran and soybean oil meal and alfalfa-brome hay.

John Caldwell of Burlington, winner of $50, has good pasture of small grains, bluegrass, alfalfa, ladino clover and orchard grass. Rations include alfalfa hay and grass silage, fed with 16 percent commercial grain mixture. His 15 purebred Brown Swiss cows produced an average of 348 pounds of butterfat.

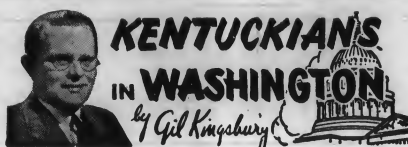

Mike Ebelhar and Sons, Owensboro, who received the third prize of $25, represent a good father-and-sons partnership arrangement. Forty grade and purebred Guernseys averaged 350 pounds of butterfat. KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

by Gil Kingsbury

Look for the picture of a beautiful girl—Kentucky girl. Miss Marian Hale Gregory, daughter of Congressman Gregory, has been selected a Cherry Blossom Princess, and come the first of April she'll represent the Blue Grass at the annual festival.

As soon as festival promotion gets going, Kentucky newspapers will receive pictures of the Kentucky lovely. She's 18 years old, is beautiful, as we've indicated, and has the poise of a movie star.

Senator Clements has received an important assignment. The Senate Rules Committee has decided to look into this problem of sending free telegrams. And to the Kentucky lawmaker went an assignment on a special committee to look into the matter.

Some Senators recently have been sending out press releases and charging them to Uncle Sam. A lot of lawmakers think the practice is a little short of shameful and should be stopped. Amen.

Presidential: The Veep has once again proved his ready wit. The other day, President Truman presented Vice President Barkley with a gavel made from timber from the White House.

In thanking the President, Barkley recalled that one of his teachers had predicted that he would go to the White House.

"I disappointed her," the smiling Kentuckian told the Senate. "But at least the White House, or a piece of it, has come to me."

Next President: We've reported from time to time on rumors that Chief Justice Fred Vinson will be the choice of Mr. Truman for the Democratic presidential nomination come 1952.

Such rumors are thriving again. There's a story that President Truman will run for the Senate when his term expires and his blessing will go to Judge Vinson as his White House successor.

Taxes: More and more Kentucky visitors are coming to the Capital to protest tax increases. Everybody knows an increase is necessary to finance the defense program, but everyone wants the other guy taxed.

This past week or so saw the distilling industry voice its protest against an increase in the whiskey tax. And the tobacco industry also de-ascended on the House Ways and Means Committee to protest a raise in the cigarette tax.

Congressman Gregory is Kentucky's member of the House Ways and Means Committee, and he is hearing his fellow-citizens make their plea.

Dairy cows in Bath county are selling around $250 to $300 at local farm sales.

Owens county farmers broke cash sale records on tobacco this year, with approximately $969,926 received.

NOTE OF THANKS—

The family of Rev. Burton C. Garrett takes this opportunity to express their most sincere appreciation for the beautiful flowers and kind sympathy so admirably shown in our bereaved hour.

Ryland Homemakers

The Ryland Homemakers held the March meeting in the home of Mrs. W. A. Damon, on Ryland. The devotional included the 23rd Psalm, the Lord's Prayer and the reading of two poems, "Who Am I?" and "You Will Never Be Sorry." Mrs. W. H. Bagby, garden chairman, read an interesting leaflet on pruning roses and the care of the lawn. "The First Sign of Spring" was the roll call for the month, and during the recreational period, games were played and songs sung.

Representatives from the American Red Cross, through an invitation extended by the reading chairman, Mrs. O. J. Williams, showed two very informative and interesting pictures. One pertained to Korea and the other, "Plan for Survival." Rev. Lutz described the outstanding features of the pictures, and everyone was urged to contribute to the Red Cross fund.

Mrs. G. A. Damon was welcomed as Mrs. F. B. Hermes, Mrs. N. L. Leach, Mrs. John Muchison, Mrs. W. E. Dieckman, Mrs. W. P. Schwall, Mrs. W. H. Bagby, Mrs. O. J. Williams, Mrs. Shelby Martin and Mrs. Oliver Gee. The April meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. W. P. Schwall of near Visalia.

Gunpowder Homemakers

"A new vegetable I expect to plant in my garden this year," was the answer to roll call for the Gunpowder Homemakers Club assembled recently at the home of Mrs. B. M. Stephens on Gunpowder Road.

A donation for the Red Cross was voted on and passed, following the reading of the 23rd Psalm by Mrs. Bert Markesberry, at which the club collect was read in unison.

Group singing and the playing of games followed the lesson on "Collars and Zippers," given by Mrs. Virgil Kelly and Mr. Glenn Stevens. In attendance were Mesdames: Cliff Norman, Virgil Kelly, Bert Markesberry, Dolphie Seebie, Edgar Utzinger, Glenn Stevens, Kenneth Connors, Wm. Ferguson, Wm. Oliver, Shelby Aylor, Robt. Smith, Miss Nancy McClaskey, and visitors, Mrs. Henry Strebel of Newport, Mrs. Philip Weltz of Erlanger, and Mrs. Maur Morrison of Pittsburgh, Pa.—Pub. Chm.

A study made in Marion county shows that some poultrymen there made a gross income of more than $5 per hen last year.

SCRIPTURE, Mark 14
OPTIONAL READING: Isaiah 53:1-4

Jesus Faces Death

Lesson for March 18, 1951

MANY A STORY has been written around the theme of a man who knows he has only a short while to live. But the best of these is the story of Jesus. It is the best not only because it is true, it is the story of the best man known to history. We Christians go further than that. We believe he was Perfection in all his human life. Jesus' facing death is the right way to face it, the way his followers too will choose.

Heart at Leisure

FOR ONE thing, Jesus did not try to conceal from himself or others the fact that he would shortly die. Through all that happened, he was aware of his death. He neither shut his eyes to the inevitable, nor mourned over it.

Now in our sad times, with death so near to all of us, the approach of death is not something to talk about as if it were an event of the distant future. Death may come to any of us soon; death is very likely to come to many of us soon; and sooner or later, death is certain to come to all of us. Facing death may bring out all a man's hidden selfishness. From the moment he knows his days are limited, he may think of nothing but himself and his "chances" to escape.

Jesus, on the contrary, under no illusions about escape, accepting death quietly, day by day, of others rather than of himself.

His Friends and God

MANY PERSONS, in the full presence of death, withdraw into themselves. They cut the ties that have bound them together, they set their faces "outward bound." Not so with Jesus. While it was still day, he would not act as if it were night. So we find him tightening up the bonds of friendship.

It is an interesting fact that of all Jesus' living days, those which were remembered best were those which came just before his death. Part of the reason for this may be that his friends came closer to him in these days; there was an intimacy, a greater warmth, between him and his old friends than there had ever been. Even when he prayed in Gethsemane he was not content to pray alone. If there was none to watch with him and in some dim way share his agonies, it was because his friends were not awake to his need, not because he in any way turned his back on them.

Again, we find Jesus' prayer-life growing intense in those last days and nights. Nowhere else from Jesus' whole life is such a long prayer recorded as the one John puts into the story Mark tells so briefly of the last supper (John 17). Not in Jesus' whole life before, though he prayed early and often, do we hear of such agony of prayer as that in the garden before Judas came. He not only turned to his friends, but turned to God, but it is plain that he wished of all things most to bring his friends nearer to God.

Yet how many Christians are there who, if they knew death would be coming for them within the week, would think of others' spiritual welfare rather than their own? How many would help to prepare others for God, and not themselves alone?

First, a Good Life

THE CHURCH has always been a bit suspicious about "death-bed repentance." We know it can be real; but over a period of two thousand years it has been noticed that most people who suddenly turn good in the presence of death are likely to be just as bad as ever if death postpones his visit.

Jesus' last days were not those of a scared man trying to make up in a few short days the lost opportunities of a mis-spent lifetime. On the contrary, Jesus' last days were all of a piece with the rest of his life. Prayer, friendships, appreciation and help of others, even sacrifice, were not strange to him.

So with each of us. We all know how we ought to live if death were hovering near. But we shall have a hard time living and acting so, then, unless it is our habit already. It is well to pray for a "good death;" but the best way to have a good death is first to live the good life.

CONSERVATION

By John C. Acree

On February 22, bankers, some county, state and federal employees and a few others commemorated the birthday of the Father of our Country. Historians state that George Washington was born in Westmoreland County, Va., in 1732, the son of Augustine Washington, a substantial farmer.

Washington was a surveyor by trade. He acquired extensive estates at Mt. Vernon, through the death of his half-brother. To these possessions he added largely by marriage to a wealthy young widow.

When Washington became president, he strongly urged Congress to provide ways and means for agricultural research and to make available this knowledge acquired. He was a member of the first agricultural society formed in 1785, for advancement of agriculture. In 1791 New York formed a similar society, as did Massachusetts in 1797.

Washington was a student of nature. He observed even then that our soil was being abused. He stated, "Our lands were originally very good, but use and abuse have made them quite otherwise."

One of Washington's closest friends was his advisor, Thomas Jefferson, eleven years his junior. They corresponded regularly. When Jefferson was about to return from Europe, in 1793, after he had been absent from his farm for 34 years, he wrote Washington saying, "I return to farming with an ardor I scarcely knew in my youth." These great men, even as business men of today, had that agrarian urge to have and to hold farms on soil.

Another letter described land tenure. "The Highlands where I live have been cultivated about 60 years; tobacco and Indian corn as long as they would bring enough to pay for the labor, then they were turned out. After these fields are rested for four or five years, they will bring good corn again, and in double time perhaps tobacco. Then they will be exhausted by a second series of corn and tobacco." This is an exact description what happens to absentee ownership now, as then. No grass sown, but left out to rest, lets the ground erode today much faster than in Washington and Jefferson's day.

Jefferson's interest in farming started early in life. He was left 2,000 acres by his father and he more than doubled the acreage by the time he was married. Like Washington, he had a hankering to grab a lass with real estate possessions and on his return to the farm in 1794, he had control of over 10,000 acres. A lover of the soil, he was sadly depressed at what he found after a 10-year absence. At this age he was determined to right the misdeeds.

He stated, "I am not yet satisfied that much will be done this year toward rescuing my plantation from their wretched condition." He turned to conservation farming: (1) He developed a system of crop rotation which included legumes and the use of fertilizers; (2) contour plowing was started; (3) cover crops, particularly vetch, were used; (4) he cut down corn acreage and left more fields in grass.

Another letter to Washington: "Good husbandry with us consists of abandoning Indian corn and tobacco, tending small grain, some red clover following."

Although these leaders practiced conservation farming and urged the other folk to do likewise, soon after their passing we seem to have taken a nose dive and really went into a land abuse period. These leaders were working with virgin soils high in minerals and organic matter and were disturbed by soil losses, so we must be conscious of the fact that ours is a bigger job. We not only must hold what is left but attempt to rearrange eroded material so they may be an aid to our conservation program.

Resolutions:

Whereas, we, the Walton Baptist Church, having experienced a great loss and a great sorrow in the passing away of our pastor, Reverend Burton C. Garrett, who departed this life March 2, 1951, after having served us as pastor for a period of seven years...

BE IT RESOLVED: That we express our deep sense of loss, both for our church, for his family, and for the community at large, that we earnestly pray that God may increase the faith of each one of us and that we may have a more abiding trust in this act of His divine providence.

May God's spirit be near unto the family to comfort and to console them...

May His power lead the church in the selection of a new under shepherd, and...

May this community, which he tried so hard to serve, be so impressed by this tragic event that many will turn from sin and be caused to seek the face of God and a saving grace of Christ.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That a copy of these Resolutions be presented to the family, that they be placed in the minutes of our church, and that a copy be sent to the Western Recorder, Walton Advertiser, and also to the North Bend Association, to be recorded in its minutes.

When Nasty Colds Leave You WEAK AND RUNDOWN HADACOL CAN HELP

If Your System Lacks Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, Which HADACOL Contains

When a nasty cold leaves you in a weakened and run-down condition, HADACOL can help build you up if your system is lacking in Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, important elements contained in HADACOL. Many folks have found that this fine family formula helps overcome these deficiencies and soon they feel good again.

Mrs. A. Jimenez, 141 East 18th St., Port Arthur, Texas, gave HADACOL to her young son, Floyd, after he had recovered from a bad cold when she heard how HADACOL was helping folks suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. It helped him so much in regaining his strength and energy that Mrs. Jimenez says she is always going to have HADACOL on hand for Floyd.

Here is Mrs. Jimenez's statement: "My son Floyd was very subject to colds. He's eleven years old, and he was run-down, didn't seem to have an appetite at all, and just simply lacked energy. I heard about HADACOL on the radio, and it was about this time that Floyd was just recovering from a siege of a bad cold. He was very run-down, lacked an appetite, and I started giving him HADACOL. After about a bottle and a half I could see Floyd himself was an improvement. His appetite picked up and he had increased strength. I think HADACOL has done wonders for Floyd, and I praise it enough, I have continued to give him HADACOL and intend to always have it on hand for Floyd."

Mom, women and children of all ages are praising HADACOL for supplying Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron which their systems lacked. Don't let that "After-Cold Run-down Feeling" drag you down—HADACOL can help you, too, if you suffer such deficiencies. Sold on a strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel great after the first few bottles you take or your money back. Trial size, $1.50; large family economy size, $3.50.

These and other questions will be answered to the strengthening of the Easter message and experience in every Christian's life. Music for the service will be under the direction of James Spencer, organist. Mr. Spencer will begin his Easter organ music at 10:45 and will play a fifteen-minute recital of Easter music, leading to the opening hymn of the service. The church invites you to worship and to share in the rich fellowship of Easter and all its glorious triumph for Christians everywhere.

SUNRISE SERVICE

Easter Sunrise Service will be held at the Walton Baptist Church Sunday morning at 6:30 a. m. The usual manner of conducting the service will be followed this year. This was agreed upon by the ministers of each of the three churches early in the year. Men Needed For Kentucky State
Police Auxiliary

Commander Clifford Farwell of Johnson - McElroy Post, American Legion, announces that he has application forms for membership in the Kentucky State Police Auxiliary, and he encourages all civic minded citizens in this county to apply for membership.

This organization is a part of the Civil Defense program. However, it is self sustaining and may on special occasions be called to duty to assist the State Police during floods and other serious disasters.

Commander Farwell states that so many members of the regular State Police force are being called to active military duty that a serious shortage of trained personnel is anticipated. This he states, is the primary reason for organizing the State Police Auxiliary.

Each county will have its detachment of Auxiliary police composed of members who live in the county. During training and duty the detachment is under the direction and control of the Kentucky State Police.

Simon Kenton PTA Carnival

MORE FERTILIZER USED IN KENTUCKY

The Department of Feeds and Fertilizer at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington reports the tonnage of mixed fertilizers sold in Kentucky in 1950 increased 10% over 1949. The total exceeded by over 10,000 tons the previous high record, set in 1948.

For the first time the tonnage of 6-8-6 fertilizer exceeded that of any other grade. Whereas 2-12-6 formerly led the list, this grade declined 15% in 1950. The 6-8-6 increased 61% over the previous year.

Another significant decline was the tonnage of 3-9-6, formerly a popular fertilizer. This declined in '50 to a little over 50,000 tons. In 1949 over 83,000 tons of this grade were sold.

A significant increase (8%) was noted in the sale of 4-12-8. The most notable increase was in the tonnage of 3-12-12, which jumped from 3,500 tons in 1949 to 14,000 tons in 1950, an increase of 300%.

Thus the trend away from low-analysis fertilizers to high-analysis fertilizers continued in 1950. Whereas the total tonnage of all mixed fertilizers increased, the tonnage of fertilizers containing 20 units or less of plant food declined slightly in '50. There was an increase of 17% in the tonnage of all mixed goods containing 21 to 26 units of plant food, and fertilizers containing 26 or more units increased from 5,000 tons in '49 to 27,000 tons in 1950.

Significantly, also, not a single mixed fertilizer was offered for sale in 1949 containing 31 or more units of plant food. Several such fertilizers were available in 1950 when a total of 3,600 tons of such grades were sold. One grade, a 5-20-20, contained 45 units of plant food. Over 2,000 tons of 0-20-20, another high analysis fertilizer, were sold.

The latest issue of the Congressional Directory is off the press, and already it is out of date.

The untimely death of Senator Virgil Chapman and the appointment of the new Senator has changed the Kentucky line-up almost before the ink dried on the pages.

Biography:

The Directory, as you may know, gives the biography of every member of the House and Senate. To Kentucky's Congressman Joe Bates goes the distinction of being the most modest lawmaker.

As usual, the Eighth District Congressman is content with a two-line biography. Many other lawmakers eagerly take up a page of fine type.

Recollections:

Congressman Spence's biography is, of course, included. Although he is the Dean of the Kentucky delegation and has served in the Lower House longer than any other Kentuckian in history, he, too, modestly refrains from putting the facts on paper.

Incidentally, the Spence biography does list a fact that has almost been forgotten. The Congressman also may be called Senator. Many years ago, he represented Campbell County in the State Senate at Frankfort.

New Sections:

The Directory added an enlarged section this year on the Federal Courts and, of course, Kentuckians get prominent mention.

Chief Justice Fred Vinson leads the way. The string of his college degrees is most impressive. Listen to this: Centre, University of Kentucky, Mercer, Washington and Lee, Princeton, Louisville, and Bethany of West Virginia.

Mayville's Stanley Reed, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, also is listed. His biography contains the interesting information that Justice Reed one time studied law at the University of Paris.

Others Named:

Throughout the Directory are the names of many other Kentuckians. There is Judge Wilbur K. Miller, a member of the U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington. There is Joseph Callahan of Bellevue, House Sergeant at Arms; there is Miss Ruth Bennett, Williamstown, Secretary of Congressman Spence; H. H. Morris, Mt. Sterling, Assistant Clerk of the House, and Clyde Watson, Owensboro, Administrative Assistant to the late Senator Chapman.

In short, the Directory is jam-packed full of facts—almost every thing except a prediction on how Kentucky will be re-districted next year. And even then a congressional map and figures are provided in the event you want to take a try at your own proposal.

DRESS TRIMMINGS CALL FOR STUDY

The secret in using dress trimmings is to use them sparingly, says Miss Verna Latzke, clothing specialist at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. "One must be able to distinguish between the beautiful and the tricky, frilly, and eye-catching," she added. Her recommendations: Trimming should be scaled to the person wearing it, neither too dainty nor too over-powering.

Because trimming calls attention to itself, it should be carefully placed.

Never combine a patterned fabric with another patterned one. Be sure the trimming is really needed.

Zarbo Regrets Failure to Help

The following poem appeared in the Chicago Tribune, written by "Zarbo of Old Dubuque." The poem expresses a regret we all know about—

How many times have I sadly thought, while standing with bated breath, gazing mutely and sorrowfully down on some friend lying cold in death; "I wish I had somehow managed to do some little something for him, I could have, and I meant to," a reflection futile and grim. How many times in a moment like this, have I taken myself to task, "I certainly could have dropped in on him—that wasn't a whole lot to ask;" but those belated regrets and tardy tears now have no purpose nor power, the time is gone when some friendly deed could have brightened a lonely hour. The only way to fend off remorse beside an old friend's bier is to do whatever we can for him in the too short a time that he's here!

The Bible exhorts us, "As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all, especially unto them who are of the household of faith."—Galatians 6:10.

UNIVERSITY SCHEDULES

"The Church in the Rural Community" will be the theme of the 14th Rural Leadership Institute at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, April 3-5.

Dr. Elbert Conover, nationally known authority on church structures and director of the Interdenominational Bureau of Architecture, will be one of the speakers. Prof. N. B. Elliott of the University will discuss landscaping of church grounds.

Many congregations are interested in new church buildings, or remodeling, and in landscaping. The Institute this year will give pastors and leaders an opportunity to confer with two of the best authorities on these subjects.

The Institute will be open to all ministers, church leaders, educators, county and home agents and other persons interested in the church.

In Harrison county, 184 homemakers are hooking rugs which they designed.

Several Trigg county farmers placed orders for Kenland red clover seed for delivery in March.

A shortage of fertilizer in Estill county is a limiting factor in farmers' changing from row crop to grass-land farming.

J. I. Moore of Kattawa in Lyon county reported 73% egg production from his flock of 490 White Rock pullets, even during cold weather.

Edward Henning of Hancock county produced 175 gallons of molasses per acre last year, and hopes to raise the amount by having his soil tested.

Fulton county farmers saved more than 8,000 pounds of Kenland red clover seed last year.

John Jarboe of Breckinridge county cut his milking time by one-third when he changed from a back-out stanchion type parlor to the elevated walk-through type.

Mr. and Mrs. William Philson of Williamstown, are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son, born at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, on St. Patrick's Day. Mrs. Philson is the daughter of Mrs. Irene Collins and a former resident of Walton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sleet have moved into their home on High St. recently purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sebrer.

Mrs. Lena Sanders and daughter, Louise, have returned home after spending some time with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Carr, at Bromley.

E. F. Vallandigham of near Nicholson, has returned home from the hospital and is greatly improved in health.

INDEPENDENCE R. 1

There will be pre-Easter services at the Staffordsburg church each evening this week at 8 p. m.

The Easter service will be at 8:00 a. m., Easter morning. Rev. Arnold, the regular pastor will deliver the message. Try to come out to this service.

We had a good attendance at the Sunday morning service and also at Sunday school. We welcomed as a new member into the church, Mrs. Lyle Rapp.

Starting Sunday, April 1, a bus will start from Visalla Garage, and coming to Staffordsburg, proceeding on up and out Bowman Road, then back on Riggs Road, picking up anyone who will come to the Staffordsburg Sunday school. This bus will be up that way around 9 a. m. Any one will be more than welcome to ride the bus to Sunday school, free of charge. Watch for the Staffordsburg bus, the first Sunday in April. All are welcome.

Miss Helen Richardson spent the weekend with friends in Lexington. We missed her at Sunday school.

Death to Life

Lesson for March 25, 1951

THE FLOWERS in the church on Easter morning will not have been there long. Less than 24 hours before, the church was dark and empty. At no time in the year does the church look gloomier than on Easter Eve. In many churches the altar is draped in black. Good Friday commemorates the saddest day in earth's history. Easter the most joyous. Yet they come only 48 hours apart. This reminds all Christians that neither Good Friday nor Easter stands by itself, but each gives meaning to the other.

Cross and Crucifix
THE Protestant churches usually have a cross. That is because Protestants wish to remember that the Cross is empty, that it is not a dead Jesus whom we worship, but a living, risen, reigning Christ.

Even in the churches where crucifixes are numerous, there may be pictures or statues representing the risen Christ. Suppose there had been only Good Friday, suppose that had been the end of Jesus? Then there would have been no particular point in the cross. It would have been the mere instrument of one more violent death, another case of justice gone wrong, another tragic failure.

The Resurrection showed us that was that hung upon the Cross; the Resurrection showed that the Cross was not a scene of failure but of victory. "Death could not keep its prey; He tore the bars away!" But on the other hand, what would the Resurrection have been without the Cross? Just another miracle—something to make our eyes pop, but not to make us grateful. The New Testament tells of or hints at many resurrections during the time of Christ; but it is not enthusiastic about any of them, with this one exception.

Victim and Victor
THE New Testament represents the Resurrection in many lights. One of the most striking is that it was a reward, a reward for the Cross. That is, God "highly exalted" Jesus because of his willingness to die on behalf of others (Daniel 9:12; Phil. 2:8). The Cross was the battle with the dark powers, and the victory; the Resurrection was the march of triumph.

On the Cross Jesus was both victim and victor; on Easter morning he was all the victor. The Cross was a perfectly natural event; by it Jesus underwent the worst that nature, and human sin, can do. On the Cross Jesus was murdered, for murder it was, however "legal" it was made to seem; and he called down no miracle to save himself.

But at the Resurrection Christ rose above nature, as nature's Lord. The early church preached both Cross and Resurrection; and it has never forgotten either one.

"As He is, so are we..."
THERE is another important truth about the Cross and Resurrection. From the very beginning, the church has refused to think of these events as concerned with Jesus alone. The Christian who has begun to work deeply into the meanings of his faith will see farther than the child does. He will see both Cross and Resurrection from the inside.

The church has long taught that on the Cross God was doing something for us, and that through the Resurrection God is doing something for us. Paul expresses the life of a Christian as of one who is "dead with Christ" and "risen with Christ." The Christian life is thought of as one which has undergone both death and resurrection. Death to sin; rising to a new kind of life; death to a kind of existence in which we are slaves to what is worst in us; rising to a kind of life in which we are "more than conquerors."

Not all Christians have understood this, to be sure. Perhaps the greater number of Christians think of their life as one of simply trying, not very hard, to do the best they can, and usually failing. But the really high-level Christians have discovered something more profound: that the Christian actually has access, by faith, to an inner power which is the very same that raised Jesus from the dead. Every resurrection-life of Christ. And this is the secret of Easter.

St. Patrick's Day

Tuesday, the 13th, was a terrible day, snow and cold—lots of loafers and few customers. Olive Johnson bought some of those plastic shades—they are the best buy in window shades—long wear and easy to clean. Robert Hoffman, owner of Melvin Platt after fence wire and staples and to exchange a belt for his water pump which was too long. Cecil Seebree needed new blades for his team. Clarence Struve had a four-bladed Boker knife he couldn't get sharp, so I gave him a new one always try to replace defective merchandise.

Nick Trapp was in a few minutes—he really likes television—says he can sit at home and see what goes on in the world. Today was Flostone Paint Day—that water-mix paint that really covers, only $2.95 per gallon. Chambers & Grubbs have used a lot of it in both funeral homes, and we sell some every day for homes—you can make a beautiful wall over wall paper if it is tight and not cracked or wrinkled—try some. It is cheap and good. If you want an oil base paint for wall for only $3.95 per gallon, try Bolce's Liquid Satin, paper or any surface, or if you want a paint with a gloss for woodwork, kitchen or bathroom, you can't beat that Bolce Interior Gloss—no un-finished needed, put one coat on top of the other, if needed. When you really want that fine finish with a finish like porcelain, use the old reliable Bolce Quick Drying Enamel, $5.95 per gallon or $1.85 per quart.

Mrs. Roy Elliott has been a very good point customer this week—she was here about Bolce paint three days straight. Everett Bickers, another Bolce point customer, is fixing up some of his rooms, as he has rented them. Mrs. Beulah Stephenson brought me a nice sack of sausage, which was very nice of her. Last fall I did a little favor for Mrs. Stephenson, which I did not expect anything for in return, but you can't get ahead of Mrs. Beulah.

Paul Alexander from Crittenden stopped after some plow handles. Chas. Colcord and wife, who live at the Marshall Whitson farm at Verona, he and his brother-in-law, Russell Lawrence, having bought this place from Fon Childers—they were buying today, as always, when you move—these kind of people to our community—they are real farm folk, and have known them for at least 30 years. We have received a lot of new Armstrong rugs, 8x12, 12x12 and 12x15. Lots of new patterns to pick from.

We just unpacked some new Murray kitchen sinks and are they beautiful and well built—come in and look; also we have a 42-gallon

Economaster electric water heater, for only $128. Hiram English and Stan Dougherties were in Saturday. Stan bought a fly fish rod and showed me some pictures of fish that he and Rev. Curtis caught in Florida. Sam Setters was also here Saturday—he operates the farm across from Gay 90's for Harry Felrock of Ludlow. Evan Hance just came in and bought three 12-ft. canvases.

Manford Craft's wife was in—she was on her way home, taking Manford from the hospital. I didn't even know he was in the hospital—she says he will be a good patient at home. This March weather is terrible—we sold wood, coal and oil heaters last week just about like we did last fall. Mrs. Allie Hughes and Thomas Guard were buying paint—they are two of my best customers, as they are here several days a week. Glenn Edens bought a Reo power lawn mower—he knew they would be scarce, so he got his while he could get what he wanted—you had better do the same. I had two or three talking about buying one Saturday, but they were gone by wait.

James Simpson and Robert Eckler from Dry Ridge, came down—Jim bought another wheelbarrow—he bought one here about a month ago, but lost it out of the truck before he got home—he also bought grass seed and an old fashioned flat iron and a set of auger bits. Gordon Phillips came in Saturday with his green neck tie and all decorated for St. Patrick's Day.

Monday and it snowed again—looks like winter just won't quit, but Wednesday is the first day of spring, and we hope spring will really come in. L. M. Gabriel from Piner, came in after wiring material—he is fixing up his milk house. Mrs. Henry Collett came after five gallons of white creosote to paint inside of their dairy barn.

Walter Kidwell from Crittenden, was talking about hand rails for the steps at the Crittenden Christian Church—we had the pipe and told him how to fix them. Dawson Hightower, who lives north of Midway Garage, was having water pump trouble, but I think we got him fixed. Eddie Bill Hankinson was in, on spring vacation, but he wanted to know where the spring was—he graduates this year, and his wife is now teaching at Harrodsburg.

I must be a horse collar trader—Armstrong of Whites Tower came in with two and traded for one, with some "boots", then someone else stops for a cheap leather collar and I sell them—we have to sell three to sell one but we have three satisfied customers, and that is what counts.

We always try to satisfy our customers and be of service whenever we can. Come to CONRAD'S for your needs.

Air Freight Coming Thing Says Kingsbury

Boone Airfield to Offer Many Jobs

The day is coming when great trans-Atlantic air liners, carrying tons of freight, will land at the Boone County airfield and discharge cargo to be delivered to all parts of the Ohio Valley.

That was the story told members of the Covington Optimist Club today by Gil Kingsbury, former Covington newspaperman and now administrative assistant to Senator Earle C. Clements.

Kingsbury revealed that at least one airline is attempting to win federal permission to carry cargo direct from the Boone County field to London and Paris.

Present regulations, it was explained, force manufacturers to ship to the eastern seaboard where cargo is transferred to the trans-Atlantic planes. This transfer is costly and wipes up the gains possible under direct service to Europe, Kingsbury said.

Although not predicting early approval of the European freight service, Kingsbury did predict that eventually such service will be permitted. This added industry will provide hundreds of additional jobs at the airport and in surrounding parts of Boone and Kenton Counties.

Oak Ridge Homemakers

Mrs. Ed. Phipps, president, conducted the business session when the Oak Ridge Homemakers Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Paul Newman on Taylor Mill Road. A review on "Planning my time" and "Legal affairs," was given by Mrs. Eugene Tomlin, project leader.

Miss Zelma Byerly, Home Demonstration Agent of Kenton County, gave the advice that the Revenue Act of 1948 makes it advisable to review all wills made previously to that date.

Mrs. E. C. Harris, membership chairman, welcomed Mrs. M. C. McNew and Mrs. Sadie Barton as new members of the club.

Considering the high cost of food and the world situation, a discussion was made by the members to make "Plan, Plant and Preserve" their motto for the year. In giving the garden lesson, Mrs. Ralph Leweller told those in attendance that March is the month to plant early potatoes and advised those contemplating a potato crop to get the necessary spray formula and sprayer at their earliest convenience.

To those owning a deep freeze and planning on storing their surplus vegetable crop by that method should make certain the correct type vegetable is planted, as there are some varieties not suitable for freezing.

The club's annual Easter donation of bibles and clothing were collected for the Kenton County Protestant Children's Home in Devou Park.

Planning of the coming year's program was discussed and suggestions offered by members. Plans to be completed at the April meeting.

Mrs. Eugene Tomlin recited the 23rd Psalm and read from the writings of Roger Kipling for the Thought of the Month.

Members attending: Mesdames C. M. McNew, E. Tomlin, E. Piper, J. Piper, R. Yates, K. Gallowsay, E. C. Harris, B. Riggs, P. Piper, R. Leweller, P. Newman, R. Riggs, A. G. Bowling, I. E. Mann, Mrs. Sadie Barton, and Misses Annie Olding and Mabel Mardis.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. P. Piper on Taylor Mill Road.

This affair is sponsored by the New Haven Parent-Teachers Association. To enter the contest, contact Alberta Hoppert, Florence 479, or Mary Belle Noe, Florence 881.

ARTHUR N. BONAR

Services for Arthur N. Bonar, age 48, manager of the Monarch Auto Supply Co., Winchester, Ky., and a former resident of Florence, who died Monday at his home in Winchester of a heart attack, are to be held today in Florence. The services will be at 2:00 p. m., at the Florence Baptist Church. Cremation will follow at the Cincinnati Crematory.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Nancy Bonar; a daughter, Mrs. Walter Arnold of Florence; a son, James Bonar of Walton; two sisters, Mrs. Jete Janson of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Clyde Pumphrey of Dayton, Ohio; another, James Bonar of Detroit, and a grandchild.

Attend Bush Funeral

Among those from Covington who attended the funeral of Levis A. Bush at Flemingsburg, last Thursday, were: Mr. and Mrs. Everett McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Preston, Anna Wolfe and Everett Lee Wolfe. Mrs. Bush was formerly Nora Wolfe, well known here, where she has a large circle of friends. At one time she was a resident of Walton.

Fishing Season To Open Sunday At Verona Lake

The 1951 fishing season for Verona Lake will begin at 10 a. m., Sunday, April 1, with a fishing contest, which was very popular with the fishing public on opening day last year.

The contest is open to all persons who purchase a $1.00 fishing ticket which is good for the entire day. A given signal at 10 a. m., this "fishing derby" will get under way, with all fishermen starting to fish at the same time. The person who catches and lands the first fish, which is a season ticket at Verona Lake in this contest each fisherman will be allowed to use only one fishing rod or pole. The winner last year was Marion Wells, with Mrs. Cecil Washburn a very close second.

This early in the season, it is expected that the bullheads will be most of the biting, however, on opening day last year, several bass were taken on worms. At the close of the season last year the lake was stocked with bullheads. These plus blue gill, bass, and channel cat make up the entire fish population of the lake.

In true fisherman style, this contest will be held rain or shine, for when that urge to go fishin' hits you, brother, you just have to get it out of your system.

Beechgrove Homemakers

Mrs. Carrel McFarland, president of the Beechgrove Homemakers Club, opened the March meeting with "The Lord's Prayer," and an Easter song, which was held in the home of Mrs. E. R. Sterling on Richardson Road.

The reading chairman, Mrs. Fay Powers, read two poems, "He's My Boy," and "God's Artful Hands."

A total of 148 aluminum articles were made by members during the past month. Exterior beautification lesson was given by Mrs. William P. Meyer.

Mrs. Fay Powers gave a talk on her visit to Owen County 4-H Council at Owenston. She is also a 4-H council member in Kenyon, Mo.

The 23rd Psalm and a poem by Rudyard Kipling were read, and a recreation program was conducted by Mrs. Frank Lynskey.

Attendance were Mesdames: William Endres, Gus Schaefer, Fay Powers, Howard L. Clark, E. R. Sterling, Frank Lynskey, Roger Robinson, Carrel McFarland, George Schaefer, Edward Kessler, W. P. Meyer, and a guest, Mrs. Eugene Schaefer.

WALTON P. T. A. MEETS

The Walton P. T. A. met Wednesday, March 21, and the meeting was opened by a program presented by the second and third grades.

Mrs. O. F. Young and Mrs. Leo Flynn were named delegates to the Spring Conference in Covington, today. The organization agreed to buy music equipment for use of members of the first, second and third grades. Mrs. Workman, Mrs. Boggs, and Mrs. Catherine Simpson were appointed members of the nominating committee to nominate officers for next year.

The second and third grades received a $1.00 prize for having the most mothers present, thirteen representing these two grades.

Social Security Amendment

About 16,000 World War II veterans are affected by the 1950 Amendment to the Social Security Act. The new provision permits the crediting to a serviceman's social security wage portion, $160.00 for every month or portion thereof of service during the period September 16, 1940 to July 24, 1949.

As World War II veterans reach age 65 and retire from commerce or industry, this bureau will, upon receipt of evidence of military service, automatically include this credit on the wage record. The same will be done at the death of a veteran, at any age, for the benefit of his survivors.

Voluntary Workers Needed By American Red Cross Program

Leaders of the Boone County Red Cross wish to call to the attention of the public the fact that the nation now is mobilizing its military and civilian resources for emergency action. Living up to its tradition for immediate action in emergencies is our American Red Cross. Already designated to carry out certain major responsibilities by defense leaders, both military and civil, it is moving into action with an overall job that is one of the greatest in its history.

This defense job of the Red Cross is to "train and maintain." To train people for disaster work and to maintain its traditional program of disaster preparedness as a part of civil defense; to maintain a blood supply sufficient for military, civilian and emergency needs; to train volunteers for service in hospitals and military installations, and to service the high morale through service to the armed forces; to train millions in first aid and nursing skills and to maintain maximum safety and security for you, your family and your neighbor.

Carrying out such a program will require the voluntary effort of many individuals and it offers an opportunity for you to do your part in a united effort.

EARLY CHICKS MAKE TOP EGG PRODUCERS

Starting chicks early so the majority of eggs will be produced the last half of the year has proved to be most profitable for poultrymen in Logan county, according to County Agent John R. Watlington. He cites the case of Mrs. James Turner of Russellville.

Last year, this producer started 300 chicks on February 14, and 250 on February 21. The net profit for August was $38.70; September, $178; October, $204.81; November, $257.72; December, $209.81, and January, $118.72. Total net profit for the six months was $1,068.

FARMERS TO TEST BURLEY VARIETIES

Farmers in the White Oak community of Bath county will plant several strains of black shank resistant burley tobaccos developed by Dr. W. D. Valleau of the Experiment Station at Lexington. Three farmers plan to set two acres each, this being about half of their crops. Farm Agent Joe Thompson notes that while there is some question as to the yield and quality of these varieties, development of a strain resistant to black shank will more than offset these drawbacks.

Farmers will exchange plants with neighbors as a check, so that a true picture of the value of the new strains may be had.

Gunpowder Homemakers

To Be Held at Court House at 1:00 P. M.

The Public Service Commission of Kentucky has agreed definitely, for the first time, to a public hearing in Burlington on the protest of an organized group of dissatisfied customers of the Consolidated Telephone Company against proposed rate increases which have been in effect since last fall.

The public hearing will start at 1:00 p. m., Thursday, April 5, 1951 at the Burlington Courthouse and, may continue into the night. Everyone in Boone county is invited to attend this meeting and voice their rates in regard to the phone service.

The telephone company was named defendant in a petition filed with the PSC late last summer, after the company filed notice with the state agency on August 7 to increase its rates a total of $29,598, such rates to go into effect last September 1.

Putting the "shoe on the other foot," the rate customers "went to town" filing their own petition with the PSC asking for relief.

The customers asked the commission "through its own employees, to make a complete investigation of the defendant company, and of its pole lines, exchange equipment and station equipment," asked, in effect, that the company be forced to provide them with better and more adequate service and that a 10 per cent "across-the-board" decrease be made in rates until improvements in service were made.

The petition was filed on behalf of Boone county through County Judge C. L. Cropper, the City of Walton, through R. M. Hall, mayor; the City of Florence, through Clifford Cropper, chairman of the Board of Trustees, and 50 individual and corporate residents of the county, whose names are appended to the petition.

The fight for relief was started and pushed by a committee headed by Frank S. Milburn and including Judge Cropper, A. B. Renaker, Wilford Scott and J. C. Acree.

Independence Baptist Church Notes
The Sunday school broke the attendance record Easter with 227 present. The church was filled with extra chairs carried in for the worship service last Sunday. It was the largest Easter crowd that many can remember.

The Men's Brotherhood turned out in good numbers last Tuesday night. The church has been busy with prayer groups and worker groups, getting ready to participate in the Simultaneous Revival campaign with 18,000 to 20,000 other Baptist churches east of the Mississippi river.

In this week of preparation, there were in this locality six confessions of faith in Christ as Saviors.

The assistants in the revival effort at Independence are Rev. Charles Hunter from Indiana, a strong revivalist, and George M. Carter, a Christian businessman from Cincinnati, and one of the directors of the Youth for Christ of Cincinnati. Friends of Mr. Carter, who love the Lord and gospel music, will sing from night to night. Announcement will be made each evening as to what group will sing the following night.

The church is expecting the best special gospel music in the Cincinnati area. Everyone will be welcome.

Mr. Carter is a specialist in children's work and has planned for a special children's meeting Saturday at 2:15 (March 31). All parents are invited to bring their children to this special afternoon service. Some of the state workers in child evangelism will be on the program to give the children some interesting things that they will never forget. Mr. Carter will be looking for your children.

Kentuckians In Washington

Kentuckians in Washington have ended one of the most hectic months in the history of the Blue Grass colony.

There were all the ordinary events, such as the annual St. Patrick Day dance of the Kentucky Society and the usual other gatherings.

But the political developments of the month and the visit of U. K.'s Coach Bear Bryant added excitement.

The decision of John Sherman Cooper not to run was greeted with dismay (if you were a Republican) and glee (if you were a Democrat).

Appointment:
The appointment of good, gray Tom Underwood was received with applause all around. It gratified a lot of people to see the Lexington newspaperman go to the Senate in the place of the late and loved Virgil Chapman.

Tom is a modest man with no pretense of grandeur in spite of the exalted position he now holds. He has promised to spend his time listening. And on that alone, he will distinguish himself.

However, Tom Underwood will do more than that to stand out, and Kentucky will be aptly represented in the Upper Chamber.

Reception:
After Senator Underwood took the oath of office, a reception was held for him in the office of the Vesp.

On hand were former Senator Stanley and his good wife, Young Bill Stanley, grandson of the Senator, took a few minutes time out from his job as a Senate page to look in at his new boss (one of 96).

Congressman Spence delayed start of the House Debate on the rent control bill to attend the swearing in. And Congressman Bates was among the first to congratulate the newest member of the Upper House.

The Bear Visits:
Another highlight of the month was the annual dinner of the University of Kentucky Alumni Club. And Papa Bear was there to outline the prospects for this fall.

Kentuckians in Washington are most anxious for the Wildcats to defeat George Washington University next fall. If U. K. goes down, a lot of Kentuckians will head for the Virginia hills and a hiding place.

Politics:
Blue Grass folks here in the Capital are in the middle of their favorite pastime—politicizing.

The Kentucky Society is about to elect officers and a friendly campaign is underway.

Most popular citizens are A. M. "Moco" Edwards of Walton, Leland Howard of Hodgenville, and Christine Johnson of Richmond.

Those three worthies were elected members of the Nominating Committee and the candidates they select will, more than likely, head up the Society next year. At least, that has been the pattern in the past and no revolution appears likely.

Walton Homemakers, II

Walton Homemakers, No. 2, was entertained March 13 by Mrs. V. P. Porterfield, at her home on Richmond Road. Co-hostess was her sister, Mrs. Charlie Lett.

After a well prepared covered dish supper, the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. James Riddell. The lesson on sewing was given by Mrs. Leo Flynn and Mrs. Gohs.

Fourteen members were present: Mrs. Martha Jones, Mrs. Agnes Sleet, Mrs. Alice Sleet, Miss Anna P. Ross, Miss Addie Sleet, Mrs. Bessie Smith, Mrs. Virgie Sechrest and Sonny, Mrs. James Riddell, Mrs. Mattie Howlett, Mrs. Mattie Ingram, Mrs. Matthew Sleet, Mrs. Porterfield and Mrs. Lett.

CARD OF THANKS—

I wish to extend sincere thanks and appreciation to many friends, neighbors and relatives for the cards, letters, flowers and visits received during my stay in St. Elizabeth Hospital. I also want to thank the Walton American Legion for the use of a hospital bed and wheel chair.

Use of dried milk by Harlan county housewives has increased to such an extent that one grocer is now ordering 100 cases a week.

Otto Brock of Bell county plans to set two acres of badly eroded land in kudzu, which he hopes will stop the erosion.

The Livingston County Homemakers Association paid for the services of a dental trailer for all children in the county through the sixth grade. A. L. Cunningham of McCracken county estimates that spraying his strawberries last year increased his yield by at least 25 crates an acre.

Kenland red clover has become one of the most popular hay crops in Estill county, seven farmers ordering more than 300 pounds of seed.

Franklin county homemakers have set out 25,187 daffodil bulbs since the project was started in the county seven years ago.

Blame for Erosion Rests on Poor Soil Management Methods

THE blame for soil erosion usually rests on poor soil management rather than on washing of the land declared Dr. L. D. Baver, formerly with the Ohio State Agronomy Department.

"When we ask the question, 'How serious is soil erosion?' he said, 'we probably have phrased the query wrongly. A better question would be 'How serious is poor soil management?'"

Poor soil management, he said, affects more people than soil erosion. It affects people on level lands as well as rolling and hilly areas. Good soil management on the rolling lands includes more than erosion control. "Good soil management," he said, "is closely allied to good farm management. You do not put grass on a

In seventeenth century England, the people were so interested in what well-known individuals said about their life that it was virtually a duty of the family of the deceased to publish such statements. Thus, when Richard Baxter, a famous English divine, lost his wife in 1681, he published "The Last Words of Mrs. Baxter." As it had a tremendous sale, the printer decided to cash in on the demand for the late lady's death-bed utterances, and he composed and published "More Last Words of Mrs. Baxter." But the minister soon killed its sale with a handbill which simply read, "Mrs. Baxter did not say anything else!"

Three Worst Things
A woman was vociferously heckling Aneurin Bevan during England's recent election campaign. The British minister of health stared at her and remarked, "A priest once said that the three worst things in life are a false friend, meat cooked twice and a cackling woman."

hillslope just to control erosion or make the countryside look green. Grass is planted there to make feed for a cow that will produce milk that will help rear a better boy or girl." He pointed out that good soil management can restore exhausted land to profitable crop production. He cited tests at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster, where six inches of surface soil was removed from impoverished land. By good soil management, the subsoil's fertility level was brought above the average for Ohio. At Raleigh, N. C., where he formerly was dean of the agricultural college, land that could produce only 10 bushels of corn per acre was changed into pasture. The soil was limed and fertilized with phosphate and potash. Now the leucaena-grass pasture yields digestible nutrients equivalent to 82 bushels of corn per acre.

HADACOL is Requested By Nurses

HADACOL Helps Folks Suffering Deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron.

Registered nurses, in increasing numbers, are showing a keen interest in HADACOL and in the results that are being secured with this great modern formula. Requests have been received from many of these nurses for professional samples of HADACOL and many of them indicate that they recommend the HADACOL formula to patients who are deficient in Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

Mrs. L. D. Lovett, a registered nurse who lives at 2205 Walnut St., Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania, says this about HADACOL:

"I was down in Florida for the past month. I had no energy so several members of my family told me to try a bottle of HADACOL. My sister, who is a nurse, was taking a bottle so I tried a bottle. I feel fine since taking HADACOL. I do private duty here. I am 50 years old."

HADACOL can help you if you suffer such deficiencies. Ask your druggist for HADACOL today. Only HADACOL gives you that "Wonderful HADACOL feeling."

Dennis Morgan, screen star, tells the story about a swank club for men. One evening a dignified member walked in and was shocked to see women there for the first time.

"What happened?" he asked the club owner.

"We've decided to allow members to bring their wives in for dinner and dancing once a month," was the reply.

"But that's not fair," complained the member. "I'm not married. Will I be permitted to bring my girl friend?"

The owner thought for a minute and slowly replied: "I think it might be all right, provided she's the wife of a member!"

IN LOVING MEMORY—

of my beloved grandson, Barry Michael Roberts, who passed away March 30, 1950, age three years, seven days.

One year has passed since our baby went away. The call was sudden, the shock severe, we little thought such grief was near.

Only those who have lost can tell the pain of parting without farewell. A silent prayer, a silent tear, only memories Barry dear.

God took you home it was His will, but in my heart you liveth still. The depths of sorrow I cannot tell, of the loss of one I loved so well.

And while you rest in peaceful sleep, those memories I shall always keep.

I catch a vision of your pretty curls, those big blue eyes, and little teeth white as pearls.

All to myself I think of you, think of the things you used to say, think of you in every way.

What I would give to hold you close, your little face to see, Hear your voice and see your smile as those few days you were with me.

Remembrance is a golden chain, death tries to break but all in vain. To have, to hold, and then to part is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.

The years may wipe out many things, but this they wipe out never. The memory of those happy days when we were here together.

Barry Michael you're gone but not forgotten and as it dawns another year,

In my lonely hours thoughts of you are always near.

Days of sadness still come o'er me, friends may think the wound is healed,

But they little know the heartache that lie within my heart concealed.

Now when I am called to join you, this world and I are through,

I'll meet you at the brink, with greatest joy I'll embrace you

When God connects the link.

Sadly missed by his grandmother,

SCRIPTURE: Genesis 1-3; Psalm 104
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 104

God Invented Us

Lesson for April 1, 1951

"GOD INVENTED IT," says C. S. Lewis about the universe. It is a 20th-century way of saying what the Bible says about God and the world. There have been whole religious based on the idea that God is good and spirit is good, but anything which is not God or not spirit is bad. If this were true, then our bodies would be bad, and all the physical world but our souls would be bad; our souls would be prisoners, so to speak, in a vast fortress of evil.

This is not the truth the Bible tells. The story of Creation in Genesis tells us that when God had finished with making the world he saw that it was good, very good. He invented the world, he invented spirit and matter both, he invented the body and soul. Whatever evil is now in the world and in man did not come from God, it is not a mistake of God's. The world, as God invented it and intends it, is good.

The World Did not Happen

THE Christian church has changed some of its ideas about creation, but it has never ceased to believe in creation. Very few churches, if any, now affirm that the world was created in precisely six 24-hour days, and still fewer would be willing to name the dates on which creation took place.

Nevertheless the Christian church has not given up, and will not give up, her belief that God created all things. The doctrine of creation means, first of all, that the one God willed the universe and what is in it.

The universe did not happen, it did not make itself. It was not made by different gods working against one another. Zoroastrianism, for instance, teaches that the world was made by two gods, one of light and one of darkness. Whatever the god of light created, the god of darkness would make something exactly opposite. No, Jews and Christians alike say, there is only one Creator, the infinitely wise and good God.

Nature's Laws

NON-RELIGIOUS philosophers have sometimes said that the world explains itself. But Christian philosophers, not to mention Jewish ones as well, have seen that the world does not explain itself. There is too much evidence of purpose and design running through the patterns of the universe. Definite laws can be discovered and to some degree understood.

The same laws which govern matter on this planet, and indeed the very same elements, the "building-blocks of the universe," are to be discovered in the remotest stars. If the universe were an accident it would not be tied together as it is.

It would not be a universe of law but one in which nothing could be counted on, nothing expected. It would be no universe but a multi-verse, a mad world, indeed no world at all but an infinite confusion.

Why Are We Here?

BUT CREATION means something more personal. It means that we ourselves have been called into existence by the Almighty, not by a god of mere sheer power, but by the one God of infinite and all-powerful Love. Man is not here on this planet by some trick of blind fate, mankind is not a mere fleck of foam tossed up by the restless ocean of the Infinite soon to be washed away in the ebbing tides. Man—that means also, we ourselves—are God's invention.

We are not now as he intended us, to be sure; sin has changed the picture sadly, as we shall be thinking next week. Why are we here? We are here because God put us here. This means that life has a meaning; but also that we cannot find that meaning without knowing the will of God. His will is for our welfare; only the Creator knows what is best for his creatures. God intended this world to be used by us, not abused. When any man or group of men get the notion that this world belongs to them alone; or when one generation misuses the resources of the lands and the waters, leaving to their descendants a wasted earth, then God's will in creation is being defied. But when we take his will as life's guide, we are on the way to fulfilling his purpose in Creation.

Easter Is Over!

The weather is supposed to be better after Easter, but Easter was sure some day. Monday looked a lot better after the snow cleared away and the sun was shining, even the people looked better and even had a finer spirit, for we all have hopes of spring weather, so the farmers can go to work, as the weather has them weeks behind, but with the tractors and tools they will get caught up. Lots of them have no plant beds burned or covered, as we have sold very little seed or canvas. Weather was even too hard to build fence or clean off land, so April should bring us some extra fine weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Semones bought one of these beautiful Murray kitchen sinks I have been telling you about. Thomas Guard had us make him a heavy 14-ft. log chain—it takes a heavy one to hold him and that tractor. Mary K. Stephens and her brothers, Jack and Bill Kenton, are sure fixing up the Montgomery house—I went out this morning to see what was going on—Red and Dick Clemens were remodeling the kitchen and building a bathroom; Roy Robinson was painting, and Andy Jarman and Kirtley Steele were doing the plumbing and putting in one of those Dayton water systems.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ryan, who bought the Chas. Thompson house, are also doing some remodeling, papering and painting all over. James Messner bought a Cole lathe was going on—Red and Schuler, that electrician from Flakburg, was in and hauled away another load of wiring material. And here comes Leslie Hoffman again, and in a hurry—he bought 100 rods of fence and sold it to another hundred dollars—he don't lose any time—always on the run. Levi Pennington called and said cut his wife 31 feet of that beautiful Armstrong linoleum—he had already selected the pattern.

Herbert Baker, down on U. S. 42, is putting in a bathroom—Henry Cunningham is doing the work and he sure has Herb on the run for plumbing fittings, but Henry will get it in. Saturday all the loaders had the fishing fever, wishing it would be warm enough to go fishing tomorrow. Stanley Fooks was in, mostly loading, but had his eye on the fishing tackle. Bill Parker bought a set of wrenches and tools to keep that machinery going when the weather permits. Wallace Williams brought in several sacks for Brewster to put glass in, also put the putty around them.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Lunsford bought a lot of small hardware items—they are regular customers several times a week. J. V. Walton was in from Crittenden—he has bought a garden tractor and is going to be the champion gardener this year. I sold Mrs. Annie Wright from Corinth, 525 feet of 3/4-inch galvanized water pipe—she has a gas well on her farm and she is going to burn her own gas. We have a lot of gas or hot air around this old stove, but it won't burn. Everyone was getting his tobacco acreage raised the other day and we really had conversation—so if they flood the market and tobacco gets cheap we will have more conversation.

Easter Sunday was a busy day for lots of us. We went to church four times. The weather started out very nice but as the day went along it grew worse and about ten o'clock that night it was terrible. But the ladies turned out Sunday with their beautiful bonnets and new clothes. After church we watched the Easter Parade in New York on television. It sure was a sight and 5th Avenue was crowded. Dennis James was kissing all the beautiful women dressed in the latest fashions—and even the dogs had new Easter hats on. Monday was a fine, fair day and most of the snow disappeared.

G. H. O'Neal, who is building houses over on U. S. 42, came in and bought a Dayton water system. J. C. Reynolds from over in Kenton county, came over after a dairy barn broom, also looked at an oil heater for his kitchen. Will Board and Lilla were in after wallpaper cleaner and Mrs. Emma Flynn was waiting for me to cut off some window shades she bought in Covington and were too wide—Mrs. Emma and Mrs. Board had a long conversation behind the old store. I believe the women loaders have more news than the men, but I had better not print it for they are all good friends of mine.

In came Cliff Ryan and Big Henry, who had been digging out some sewer line for Cliff. They run into tree roots which had grown through the tile, so they ordered 75 feet of 4" cast iron pipe, which will put a stop to the tree root trouble. Then came Joe Demco and Bill Salter after 2" angle iron to make a trailer. Martin Code was here after nails and bolts. Leon Hall wanted electric supplies—he is a busy man, so is John Wood, who needed V-belts for stoker. Walton is lucky to have several good mechanics to keep all electric appliances running. I took some lawn mowers to be sharpened today, so if yours needs tuning up, have it done now—call us!

Red Cross Fund Drive To Continue Until Saturday—Give

The local funds campaign for the American Red Cross is to continue through this week. The weather, in some instances, illness, the necessity for repeated visits, have all delayed workers. Give to the Red Cross when you are called on in your home or send your donation to the Dixie State Bank.

In representing the Walton community, the committee realizes that they are working for one of the finest groups of people in the whole world, people who cheerfully give and are blessed for it.

Plans for expanding our armed forces plus huge civil defense preparations make it necessary for the Red Cross to expand its services.

On July 20, 1950, the Department of Defense requested the Red Cross to accept the responsibility for planning and operating a vast blood procurement program for the armed forces. Within five days after the first public announcement of the need for whole blood for our combat forces in Korea, the first shipment had been flown across the Pacific. Other shipments followed regularly.

Red Cross chapters work to meet their threefold responsibility: in blood procurement for civilian hospitals, for the armed forces, and for civilian defense. The Red Cross National Blood Program, established in January, 1948, was planned to meet sudden emergency needs.

"Red Cross Facts" for 1951 lists 11 great services or programs for the American people, backed by the generosity of the American people.

The blood drive is a great privilege to serve. Can you afford not to give?

See next week's advertiser for a complete financial report.—Committee Chairman.

Kenton County police said they were told by witnesses that the accident took place when the child darted from behind an Independence school bus into the path of the truck. Officers said that the truck was driven by James E. Stephenson, 27, of Walton, Route 2, and that he had swerved so violently to avoid hitting the child that he turned his truck over on its side.

The truck, police said, was owned by the Verkamp Corp., Cincinnati. No charges were placed against the driver pending the outcome of the child's injuries.

Kentuckians In Washington

Kentucky in general—and Northern Kentucky in particular—should be proud of that great airport in Boone County, The Greater Cincinnati Airport.

The other day the Civil Aeronautics Administration gave up a report on traffic at the big field. And it has more plane departures than such busy airports as those at Buffalo, Baltimore and Milwaukee.

Right now, Uncle Sam is ready to put up about $85,000 for new aprons, approach clearance and a cargo building.

An Autobiography: Our Veep—and that means Vice President Barkley—appears to be getting around to an important job—writing his biography.

He is supposed to have two chapters written out—in long hand. And Mrs. Veep is getting ready to take over as his stenographer and secretary.

The Barkley book should be well worth waiting for, the story of the rise of a lad, born in a log cabin, to his present exalted position.

Tobacco Notes: A lot of people get disgusted with the state of the world (and with season). They feel, at times, as though this great land of ours could get along without the other nations. But here's a thought.

Last year the United States sold to other nations 41,000,000 pounds of tobacco. Two thirds of that huge amount came from Kentucky.

That situation should make us pause. Think of the economic problems Kentuckians would face if they lost that huge foreign market. In this day and age, we can't withdraw into a shell of our own making.

On Records: The United States Congress has been duly notified about the attitude of the Lower House of the Kentucky General Assembly regarding that much debated Falmouth Dam.

A resolution adopted by the Lower House, urging the construction of that great project, has been placed in the Congressional Record and referred to the Senate Committee on Public Works.

The action of the Kentucky body should give encouragement to those who see a great industrial future in the Licking Valley once the dam is built.

Select Company: The new Congressman from the Blue Grass district joins select company in the House of Representatives. Only two other members of the Kentucky delegation were named at special elections.

Congressman Bates, for example, was named at a June, 1938 election. Congressman Whitaker of the Second District was elected in April of 1940. Incidentally, neither man has been defeated since those special elections. Might be a good omen.

G. W. Smith of Casey county is selectively cutting timber from his farm to use in building a 5x60 pole barn and 3x7 2/2 tobacco barn.

A primary objective of Bullitt county homemakers in their live-at-home program this year will be to control tomato blight.

INDEPENDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Club Meets

The Mr. and Mrs. Club of the Independence Christian Church met in the basement of the church for their regular covered dish supper. The devotional was led by the pastor, Rev. Arthur Tipton, after which a talk was given by Lewis Gabriel, attendance officer of Kenton county schools. A reading was given by Mrs. Cain, and colored slides of Japan were shown by Harold Rummel, who is on leave from the Navy after having served in Japan for two years.

The following members were present: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Williams, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dedden, Mr. and Mrs. Verner Schreck, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fortner, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pitcher, Mr. and Mrs. S. C.

Fisk, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Lee, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Frazer, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rummel, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rummel, Mr. and Mrs. John Cookrell, Mrs. Mary Coleman, Mrs. Cleo Snellson, Mrs. Nell Morgan, Mrs. Alma Gibson, Miss Tillie Fischer, Miss Shirley Coleman, Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Tipton, and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel and Mrs. Cain.

Independence Baptist Revival

The Baptist Church at Independence is experiencing a revival that is touching both church members and the unsaved. Some church members have confessed faith in Christ. One man, a churchman for 12 years, received Christ as Savior. One man, 70 years old, accepted Christ as his Savior, the other night and has been talking to his friends, trying to get them to turn from sin and receive Christ.

Eight folk of adult age were at the front of the church last Saturday night receiving Christ as their Savior. In the first week of the meeting 14 public confessions of faith and many such confessions in the homes.

Rev. Charles Hunter of Metamore, Ind., is doing a good job of old fashioned Bible preaching, and George M. Carter has brought to the church some of the best gospel musicians in the Cincinnati area.

The baptismal service for all the candidates who are ready will be held Sunday night at the close of the preaching service.

In Christian county, homemakers clubs received information the past month on rug hooking, style trends, landscaping and gardening, reading and recreation.

INDEPENDENCE R. 1

No Worse Off

Elm City's one little bank had just failed. Around the locked up building, a crowd had gathered and one of the curious exclaimed, "It sure leaves me hard up." "Did you have much money in the bank?" inquired one of the crowd solicitously. "Nary a dime," answered the man. "I were hard up afore it closed and it sure left me that way."

SHORT VISIT

First Convict (to new cellmate) — "How long are you in for?" New cellmate — "Ninety-nine years. How long are you here for?" First Convict — "Seventy-five years." New cellmate — "Then you take the bed near the door. You get out first."

Eternal Wisdom
A professor attended a lecture, one evening, at the invitation of a friend. The lecturer proved to be an exceedingly dull fellow, with a poor voice and no enthusiasm, and it seemed as though he would drone on endlessly. At the close of the session, the friend turned to the professor and asked him what he thought of the lecture. "Indeed, it was like the goodness and mercy of the Lord," was the reply. "Did you think so," said his friend, in amazement. "But why?" "Well," said the professor, "like the goodness of the Lord it passeth all understanding, and like His mercy, it endureth forever."

Eye for Business
"I am proud of my girls and would like to see them comfortably married," said the old man to the young stranger. "I have made a little money; they will not go penniless to their husbands. There is Beatrice, 25 years old, and a really good girl. I shall give her $1000 when she marries. Then comes Bernice who won't see 35 again. I shall give her $3000, and the man who takes Beatrice, who is forty, will have $5000 with her." The young man reflected a moment and then asked, "You haven't one about 50, have you?"

Send Us a Ton
Judy Canova, Mr. Updyke, when I see your house and all these valuable things it makes me realize what a lot of money there is in being a millionaire.
Jim Backus: Oh yes, my uncle in New York has money to burn. Came in mighty handy, too, during the coal strike.

Members of the board were visiting the little school, and the teacher anxiously sought to show off her pupils to best advantage. She asked one of her bright-faced little boys, "Who signed Magna Carta?" He shook his head slowly. "It wasn't me, ma'am," he replied. The teacher told him to go to his seat. But one elderly board member was obviously displeased with the proceedings. He arose from his chair. "Not so fast," he said. "Bring that young man back. I believe he did sign it!"

DEVON MAN DIES

William Wegford, 81, of Devon, who was burned late Monday at his home, when his clothing caught fire as he prepared food at a stove, died Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Covington.

Mr. Wegford suffered third degree burns on his right shoulder, back, right arm and hands. He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance from the St. Elizabeth Hospital in Florence.

Mr. Wegford was a retired Covington barber. He operated a barber shop there for many years, but retired about four years ago. At one time he was widely known as a violinist and was the orchestra leader at the old Walnut Theatre, in Cincinnati for several years.

Surviving him are a son, William Wegford, Jr. with whom he made his home and two grand-children.

Services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday at the St. Elizabeth Hospital in Florence with burial in Ft. Mitchell.

ELECT OFFICERS

Members of the Boone County Wool Pool met at the Courthouse in Burlington, April 2, to elect officers and start proceedings for the sale of the 1951 clip. Officers chosen were: H. E. White, Burlington, president, and Lillard Scott, Burlington, secretary and treasurer.

The sign-up of wool is now beginning and growers should contact their nearest solicitor, so they can sell through the pool. Solicitors are: Beckham Shields, Walton; Russell Sparks, Verona; Alma Riley, Union; C. F. Blankenbaker, Florence; H. E. White, Burlington; Lillard Scott, Grant; C. S. Riddell, Bullsboro and Constant, and Robert Grant, Petersburg.

Mistaken Identity
Charles Lamb was in the habit of wearing a white cravat, and in consequence was sometimes taken for a clergyman. Once at a dinner table, among a large number of guests, his white cravat caused such a mistake to be made, and he was called on to "say grace." Looking up and down the table, he asked, in his inimitable slipping manner:

"Is there no cl-cl-clergyman present?"

"No sir," answered a guest.

"Then," said Lamb, bowing his head, "let us thank God."

Mama Knows Best
Ruth was a sweet girl. She was reading a book that gave the meaning of names. Her mother was watching her, and thinking of all the young men who were attracted to her.

"Mother," said Ruth, "it says Philip means lover of horses, and James means beloved. What does George mean, I wonder?"

"I hope, my dear," said her mother, "that George means business."

In The Flower Bed?
Frankie caught his cold sleeping next to an open window.

"Well, that's silly. Couldn't he have closed the window?"

"It wouldn't have done any good. He was on the outside of the house."

Purple with Wrath
Shopper—"I was to have met my husband here an hour ago. Have you seen him?"

Floorwalker—"Possibly, madam. What characteristic would serve to distinguish him?"

Shopper (lamely) — "Well, he probably is purple by now."

WHAT'S YOURS?

"You were brought in here for drinking," lectured the police sergeant.

"Thash mighty fine, Serg," replied the culprit. "Let's get started."

Can't Even Fight in Peseo
Two men were brought before a judge for fighting in the street.

"Couldn't this case be settled out of court?" asked the judge.

"That's what we were doing," answered one of the combatants, "when the cop pinched us."

BEFORE SWINE?
There was an occasion in the Yale law school class of William Howard Taft when he became annoyed because the class began to fidget and whisper a few minutes before the bell rang.

"Just a minute, gentlemen," he said, "I have a few more pearls to cast."

Homemakers are combining Johnson county for attractive, well-proportioned lamps to electricity.

NATHAN RYAN WINS VERONA FISHING DERBY

Fifty-five shivering fishermen braved the weather Sunday, April 1, to take part in the Annual Fishing Derby at Verona Lake held on opening day. Last year's winner, Marion Wells, was at his favorite spot but was beaten by Nathan Ryan, Independence R. 1, just 19 seconds after the first cast he had a catfish on the bank and Ezra Gullion, Walton, was a close second. Several good strings of bull heads were taken in spite of the weather.

How Sin Begins

Lesson for April 8, 1951

NO ONE can believe in sin who does not believe in God. That is, no one can believe that sin is real unless he believes that God is real. For the meaning of sin is religious; it cannot be understood at all, apart from God. For sin means doing contrary to the will of God. Sin may not consist of doing anything, of course; it may be only wishing or thinking against God; or it may be refusing to do, or neglecting to do, what God wants done. A thing is not right just because God wills it; he could not, by a mere proclamation, make murder good and mother-love wicked. But God never wills a thing unless it is right, or forbids it unless it is wrong; one reason for this is that he is creator of all, and so knows what is best for every creature. To go against his will is to go against one's own best interest.

Sin on the Outside

HOW does sin begin? The Bible says sin has been on this earth as long as people have lived there. But the story of the temptation in the Garden of Eden is also a parable of how sin always begins. As Dr. Brunner says, Adam's other name is Everyman.

Now we can see in this story that sin came into the world because there came a suggestion from the outside. Not everything in this universe is now good; there is anti-God at work, as well as pro-God. There are forces at work that do not wish God's plans to succeed.

If it seems hard to take, at least it cannot be denied that a great many sins would never have been committed without some pull from the outside. A child who goes to school for the first time will pick up, in a few days, habits and language and attitudes that shock the parents. They wonder what's got into the child. Her playmates' meanness has got into her, that's the nub of it.

Sin on the Inside

BUT the fact is, we can't blame the situation as if the situation were the sinner. Not every one who passes a bar-room door feels an urge to go inside. Once in a while a bank clerk skips out with a suitcase full of the bank's money. But the money was there all the time, and no other clerk became a thief.

If it were simply the situation that makes the difference, then every bank clerk would be as dishonest as the worst, and every man who passes a bar would not pass it but go inside and get drunk just like the buns who can't pass a bar-room door.

No, there is something on the inside of us that pushes toward sin. What is it? The story in Genesis may offer a good clue. One of the New Testament writers put it this way: "A man's temptation is due to the pull of his own inward desires, which can be enormously attractive." (James 1:14, J. B. Phillips translation.)

Sin Beforehand

THERE is another sad feature of sin that stands out in the Genesis story and in the story of Everyman. That is, sin almost never looks the same afterwards as it did before.

Before the sin, Eve sees the forbidden fruit as beautiful and desirable; afterwards in shame she hides away from God. Living with herself, with her husband, with God, is no longer the pleasure it had been. However sad or horrible sin may look when we see it in the cold light of Afterwards, when we see it beforehand it always looks attractive.

In the last stages of sin, to be sure, it may be quite different; a man may be caught in the grip of a habit he hates, and no one can call him worse names than he calls himself. But in the beginnings of sin, few if any persons see anything repulsive or bad in what they are about to do.

That is why "I do as I please" is a fatally bad rule for living. If you do as you please, sooner or later you will please wrong, and down you will go. Adam and Eve did exactly as they pleased, and lost their Paradise. But if it takes us our rule of life what God pleases, even if we never reach perfection we shall always be pointing in the right direction.

APRIL FOOL

I don't think anyone was April fooled Sunday. The weather was cold and windy. A few fishermen were out but they froze. I haven't heard the report from Verona Lakes—it was their opening day. We sold several fishing licenses over the weekend, so they are all getting ready—just waiting on the weather. We are getting new fishing tackle nearly every day—the Stratton & Terstegge Co. have a whole trailer load out in front of the store for me to pick from and I'll try to pick the bait that catches the "big ones." We have a nice selection of rods, reels, bait and most everything a fisherman needs, but will add some new all the time.

All our people who have called the telephone committee and also the telephone company and complained about your telephone service being terrible be sure to be in Burlington, at the Court House, Friday, April 6, at 10:30 a. m. There will be a hearing before the Public Service Commission. I have customers nearly every day who try to call me and when they get through, they spend most of their time complaining about the telephone service, and almost forget what they called for. Now these are the people we want in Burlington, Friday, April 6, at 10:30 a. m. All of you be there and if you are not, don't ever complain about your service, for you won't even try to do something about it.

Ross Chapman and Jay Webster just came in. Ross was telling how early he got up every morning, and Jay told the truth—he said Ross's wife got up at six o'clock and fixed breakfast and called Ross about seven. Ross started for the door, saying it was time to go home. Omer Kite and Marvin just came in—Marvin bought some fence and Omer bought a tool and sickle grinder, all mounted, just plug it in and start grinding. Omer came back later and bought some Dr. Hess udder ointment for his cows, and also to put on his fox hounds' feet when they get sore.

Albert Winn of Crittenden came down and bought a new Bemis tobacco setter—he is getting ready. Brewster went to Crittenden to repair Mrs. Kate Noel's and Mrs. Lula Vest's water pump—while he was up there they decided they needed some new linoleum and bade him. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Webster of Verona, bought a Perfection electric range—she has been using a Perfection oil range, so she knows what Perfection stoves are like. Then, Mrs. Lindsay Baird, shear, bought some of that good old Bolco enamel and varnish stain—she is another Bolco paint user.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watson came after window shades—if we don't have the correct size, we will cut them. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cox needed an oil heater to take some of the dampness out of the brooder house where they are using an electric brooder. You know we have Jamestown furnaces and electric brooders, also Jamestown foundations and feeders—when they make better poultry equipment than Jamestown, I'll buy it. W. Hornaby brought in a toaster that he used once and quit—I gave him another one. We are always glad to do these things because there is always some defective item in most anything you buy, but the companies make their products good if you send them in.

Mrs. Hamilton from Parkers Grove neighborhood, another Bolco paint customer of mine, bought a lot of Bolco interior gloss to paint the woodwork in her home. Guy Mann was with her and he bought a Kelly axe—we have a large selection of axes to pick from. Talking about Bolco paint, just take a look at the Walton Baptist Church inside—we used Bolco's liquid satin. We tried another brand on the walls and it was terrible, so we took one coat of apple green liquid satin and covered it — you look for yourself. BOLCO PAINT IS GOOD PAINT!

Bertha and Mrs. Lancaster have Scott painting the whole house. I believe—when he gets one room finished, they find him another. They also use Bolco paint. Ray Fisk, Earl Oliver and T. W. Curley are painting the Baptist church, but Ray took sick this week and didn't show up. Reval Osborne made about fifteen trips after pipe fittings—he is putting in a new bath room. The fisherman are about ready, as soon as the weather breaks. E. M. Johnson bought a cane pole and line, and Ralph Lucas bought two jointed cane poles, so you see they are ready.

Ray and Red installed that new Perfection electric range for Mrs. Robert Webster and brought in her new Perfection oil range, a high oven white porcelain two years old—a real buy for someone. I also have a table top Ross oil range which is a good buy. Paint, paint every day we sell lots of paint. Mrs. Maude Hall bought Bolco interior gloss for woodwork. Harry Mayhugh bought Bolco liquid satin for walls. Charles Maloney bought Bolco floor enamel, and Mrs. Jay Webster bought Bolco interior gloss for woodwork.

Leslie Huey was helping Doc move his office upstairs over the Dixie State Bank, so was Papa and Mama Huey, and Doc's wife and Mrs. Brugh, also two men from down on the farm, they had plenty of help. Lesing and Mr. Joe bought tobacco canvas to take home. Russell Littrell came over after some 12-ft. canvas. We have some canvas left and plenty of new canvas as soon as the ground dries up. I believe when I look over this stock that if you need hardware—come to CONRAD'S, we have it—I won't miss many items.

Mass Meeting Held to Air School Differences

Matters Adjusted At Tuesday Meeting

The Walton Verona School Board, at their regular meeting in March passed on several matters which have caused considerable controversy. The main topics under consideration were: First, that Mr. and Mrs. George Houston were not offered contracts for next year, and second, that Mrs. Catherine Baker was to be moved to the Verona school.

Monday Night's Mass Meeting
Sentiment in the community was such that the Board called a mass meeting Monday night in order that questions could be asked and complaints registered. There were approximately thirty parents and one hundred high school pupils present. All items were discussed at length and finally the group made these recommendations to the Board: 1st, that Mrs. Houston be offered a contract; 2nd, that Mrs. Baker be kept in the Walton school; 3rd, that the Board consider the resignation of Mrs. J. O. Ward, since they considered that a man-wife combination was undesirable.

Final Board Actions Listed
The Board then called a meeting for Tuesday night at which they considered all the recommendations and complaints, and dealt with them in the following manner: Mr. and Mrs. George Houston will not be offered a contract for next year; Mrs. Baker will remain in Walton; Mrs. Ward offered to resign her position immediately and not to apply next year, and the Board accepted this, as offered.

Other things of interest that came up Tuesday night were: The Sheriff of Boone County was notified that the Board would not accept 24% being withheld from the school tax for collection, and offered 1% for that service; that all bus drivers in the system will receive a 50% increase in salary, and that James Smith, who has been teaching in the grades at Walton, will be transferred to the high school and given the position as principal.

The possibilities of starting the new school building was brought under discussion and it was decided that every effort be made to build as soon as material and a bidder are available.

BUYS PUREBREDS
Stanley Ashcraft, Verona, recently purchased a registered Ayshire, according to the Kentucky Breeders' Association Executive Secretary, T. Conklin, Brandon, Vt.

AID MEETING SATURDAY
The Ladies' Aid Society of the Walton Methodist Church will meet Saturday, April 14 in the basement of the church for an all-day meeting. All members are requested to be present.

Church Youth Attend Spring Round-Up At Petersburg
Christian Church Youth and their sponsor attended the Spring Area Round-Up at the Petersburg Christian Church, Sunday afternoon, April 8.

Miss Elizabeth Weathers, Clintonville, Ky., with the aid of Mr. C. E. Pirat, State Youth Director, conducted the meeting, consisting of worship, singing, and business. Our youth were greatly impressed at the large turn-out of young people—350, representing 22 churches. The Petersburg church was literally bulging at the seams.

What a wonderful inspiration to see our youth so interested in Christ and His teachings. The theme these youths will follow for this year is "With Christ We Build Anew."

The meeting closed with a fellowship supper and then everyone joined in forming the Friendship Circle, in prayer. Everyone who is in doubt, as to the interest, thinking and outlook of our youth should have been there. Their hearts would have been overjoyed.—Pub. Chm.

Gunpowder Homemakers
In the absence of Mrs. Bert Markberry, program chairman, the State Homemakers' creed was read by Mrs. Virgil Kelly, president, as she presided at the April meeting of the Gunpowder Homemakers Club, held recently at the home of Mrs. George Black at Beaver.

A short talk on bandages for first aid was given by Mrs. Frank Dila. A contribution to the Dean Thomas Cooper scholarship fund was given by the club.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bert Markberry on May 8.—Pub. Chm.

Mrs. Robinson died last Friday, after an illness of six days.

Verona Homemakers

Verona Homemakers met Friday, April 6 at the home of Mrs. Pearl Lamm, with thirteen members and six visitors present. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. George Hamilton, and prayer was given by Mrs. Ura Roberts. Roll call was answered with a new flower started this year.

Mrs. Hayden, program chairman, conducted an interesting program. The scripture reading was from Genesis. Miss McCleskey gave the lesson on sewing, consisting of ways to do sleeves, belts and hems. Mrs. Lamm served a delicious lunch at noon.

The next meeting, on May 4, will be in the home of Mrs. Pierolena Kennedy.—Pub. Chm.

"Clean Up Week"

In Gallatin County

April 9 to 14

April 9-14 has been designated as "Clean-Up Week" in Gallatin county, and all people are urged to make things around the farm and home more attractive. Members of the Extension Advisory Committee in making plans for "Clean-Up Week" pointed out some of the things that might be done around the premises to make them neater:

- 1—Pick up and burn or destroy all paper and rubbish;
- 2—Clean off the dead grass and limbs from the yard;
- 3—Paint and stencil name on mail box, if this has not been done;
- 4—Have a designated place in the back to place all tin cans, bottles, and other rubbish. By every effort, the county can be made more attractive to local residents and to visitors, as well.

Every member of the family is urged to help with this worthy project. By every family working together, the county can be made more attractive to local residents and to visitors, as well.

Local Contributions

To Red Cross Are

$430.00, to Date

Walton has given, to date, $430.00 in the annual Red Cross funds campaign. The committee is very glad to have served the community and has enjoyed becoming acquainted with so many fine new citizens of Walton.

Practically all local business concerns were generous and cooperative. The Advertiser publicity has been invaluable, and the hospitality of the Phoenix Restaurant was of the highest grade and very much appreciated.

The entire personnel of the Drug State Bank, not only contributed generously, but each one helped in keeping records and memberships. Manuel of the Cincinnati Post, gave time and expense to take publicity pictures.

Some heart-warming experiences such as, the veteran, in a wheel chair, who bought two memberships and hoped that some day he would be able to return in some measure all the good he had received from the Red Cross; the little son of one of the committee who went without his lunch at school (without his mother's knowledge) to buy a membership in the Red Cross, have made it a great and satisfying experience.

Those who did the hard work and the personal thanks of the chairman and the admiration of all in this area are: Mrs. O. K. Powers, Miss Louise Conrad, Mrs. Powers, Miss Mary Renner, Mrs. William Bredren, Jr., Mrs. Nicholas Welsh, Mrs. Earl Waters, Mrs. Virgie Sechrest, Mrs. Leo Flynn, Mrs. Chas. Randles, Mrs. Donald Stephenson, Miss Jean Chambers, and Wallace K. Grubbs.—Anna Pearl Gaines, Chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Ferguson entertained for dinner Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Porter and son, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sturdivant, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Coyle and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ferguson.

FORREST STEPHENSON

Funeral services were held Monday at 2:00 p. m., in the Chambers and Grubbs funeral home, Walton, for Forrest Stephenson, age 72, a Kenton county farmer, who died last Friday in his home on Green Road, Walton, Route 1. Burial was in Independence Cemetery.

Mr. Stephenson, a member of the Goshen Christian Church, Piner, is survived by his widow, Lou Ora Stephenson; a son, Thomas Stephenson, Crittenden, Route 1; a sister, Mrs. Zella Frazier of Covington; five brothers, Thomas Stephenson of Covington; John Stephenson of Detroit, Mich.; Raymond Stephenson of this county; Charles Stephenson of Dayton, and Floyd Stephenson of Minneapolis, Minn., and two grandchildren.

Mrs. Hume Guest

Speaker at Wa-Na Club Meeting

Mrs. Robert Hume of Dry Ridge, was the guest speaker at the regular April meeting of the Wa-Na Club. She spoke on "Gardening," and showed colored slides illustrating her topic.

Mrs. T. P. Strittmatter was hostess to the club, and ten members and three guests were present.

The business session was conducted by the vice president, Mrs. Chas. Hayes. During this period the election of officers for the coming year was held. Newly-named officers are: President, Mrs. Charles Hayes; vice president, Mrs. Oscar Cook; secretary, Mrs. J. B. Johnson, and treasurer, Mrs. Jack Snape.

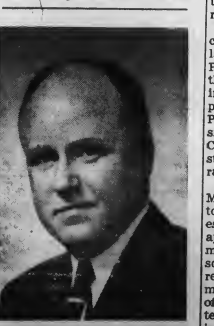

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Clifford Pruett opened the program with a spiritual thought, followed by an article on the origin of the Kentucky Club Woman's Collect, Mrs. Pratt introduced Mrs. Hume and her mother, Mrs. Watson Tranter. Mrs. Howard Blackburn was also a guest.

Following the program, the group enjoyed a social hour and delightful refreshments. Members in attendance were: Mrs. Harold Worthington, Mrs. Jack Snape, Mrs. Gayle McElroy, Mrs. Leo Flynn, Mrs. Chas. Hayes, Mrs. Matthew Flynn, Mrs. Albert Hunt, Mrs. Clifford Pruett, and Mrs. Clayton Jones.

VISALIA P. T. A.

The Visalia Parent-Teachers Association will hold its regular meeting on Monday, April 16 at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Emma Neuspickle, Health Chairman, will present R. D. Martin, public relations director at Booth Hospital, who will speak upon the subject, "Hospital & Public Health."

NEW DEAN—University of Kentucky trustees last week appointed Dr. Frank J. Welch (above) to succeed Dr. Thomas P. Cooper as dean of the U. K. College of Agriculture and Home Economics and director of the Experiment Station and Agricultural Extension Service. Dr. Welch, now dean of the School of Agriculture and director of the Experiment Station at Mississippi State College, will take over his new job July 1 when Dean Cooper, now 70, assumes a change-of-work status.

Other Improvements Planned at Meeting

At the regular meeting, Monday, April 9, the Walton City Council signed an agreement with Snyder, McEllan, Miller and Watson, Consultants and Engineers, to furnish a proposal for revamping parts of the present waterworks system, and to include filtration plant, as well as other additions. The terms of the agreement signed by the Council are such that there will be no cost to the City if the cost of the project cannot be financed by revenue bonds.

The agreement also carried a cancellation clause whereby the City of Walton or Snyder, McEllan, Miller and Watson may cancel the agreement within ten days after execution, for any reason whatsoever.

A like agreement was also signed to determine the cost of constructing a sewage disposal system. The matter of sewage disposal and water filtration has been discussed over a period of years, but nothing definite has been decided on the sewage disposal, nor have any bids ever been received by the City in previous years to construct the filtration plant.

It is thought that every citizen in the community should be advised once and for all as to whether or not a filtration plant is to be built, and if so, when.

The Council also deemed it wise to learn for their own knowledge, as well as to advise all property owners within the corporate limits, as to the cost of providing an adequate sewage disposal system. The agreement which was signed with Snyder, McEllan, Miller and Watson provides that the cost and the method of paying will be furnished and before any bids are asked or contracts signed by the Council. It is hoped by this approach that the property owners in the City of Walton may decide for themselves what should be done as to the filtering of water and the disposal of sewage.

The City Council also agreed to advertise for bids on the constructing of a water line on Plum Ave.

The matter of delinquent taxes was discussed when Mrs. Edith Stephenson presented the list of citizens who have not paid city taxes. Mrs. Stephenson was instructed that property on which taxes had not been paid by May 1, should be advertised and sold to satisfy the tax claim.

The problem of controlling the parking of automobiles on the streets was discussed and Marshal Herman Simmons was instructed to rigidly enforce the parking laws.

Street repairs were discussed at length and it was decided that a survey should be made to determine the amount of money to be appropriated to make the necessary repairs.

The sale of a lot in the southwest corner of the Walton Waterworks land to The Union Light, Heat and Power Company was discussed, and the price of $5.00 per front foot facing Cruises Creek Road was proposed. The Union Light, Heat and Power Company had expressed a desire to acquire a lot 132x100 facing Cruises Creek Road on which to construct a substation and switching arrangements.

The Council was informed by the Mayor that an inquiry had been sent to the City of Walton concerning the establishing of a factory to employ approximately 300 women and 75 men. It is a building of 40,000 to 75,000 square feet could be constructed and rented on a long-term lease agreement. It was agreed that a meeting of the Council, together with all interested parties would be arranged in the very near future.

CRESCENT UTUPLIA CLUB

The Crescent Springs Utopia Club held its monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eubanks in Crescent Springs.

Guest speaker of the evening was George Martin of Covington, who gave a talk on the different types and plans of life insurance available to meet the requirements of every family and individual.

INDEPENDENCE

Mrs. Emma Thornton

Mrs. Emma Thornton, Hemphill Road, Atwood, died April 4 at her home, at the age of 89.

Surviving her are a daughter, Mrs. Oakley C. Young with whom she made her home; two sons, Fred of Covington, and Stanley of Atwood; four sisters, Mrs. Carrie Hendrix of Covington, Mrs. Hattie Stephenson of Russell, Ky., Mrs. Mintie Homan of Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. Harry Miller of Ft. Mitchell; two brothers, Cash Sanders of Covington; four grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Services were held at 2 p. m., Saturday at the Swindler funeral home, Independence. Burial was in Independence cemetery.

Mail Box Improvement Week

Robert X. West, local Postmaster, states that the Postal Department has designated the week ending May 5, 1951 as Rural Mail Box Improvement Week.

Rural mail boxes which are not properly erected or which are not in good serviceable condition retard the delivery of mail and expose it to damage from the elements.

It is especially desirable that the boxes be maintained in a condition that will assure proper protection to mail placed therein, that the names of box owners be inscribed on the side of the boxes visible to the carrier as he approaches them, and that the boxes and their supports be kept painted.

Patrons who have unapproved boxes of top-opening, revolving door or other type are not required to discard them provided the boxes have been in use by the present owners for several years and are maintained in good, serviceable condition.

Boxes, regardless of type, should be placed about 3/4 or 4 feet above the surface of the ground.

It is the desire of the Department to encourage patrons of the rural delivery service to provide suitable mail receptacles and to erect them in such manner that they will be readily accessible to the carrier and present a neat appearance.

Large Baptismal Service

Last Sunday night, twenty of the twenty-five candidates for baptism were immersed in the baptistry of the Independence Baptist Church.

The revival meeting, which was held by Rev. Charles Hunter, evangelist, from Metamora, Ind., was, according to some of the members, the best one that they ever attended.

The church with eleven new Sunday school rooms, is happy, praising the Lord, and expecting to be of greater service in this community.

The baptistry of the church was much in use last Sunday as the Oak Island Baptist Church baptized in the afternoon and the Hickory Grove Baptist Church baptized with the Independence church at the close of the evening service. Two weeks ago the Oak Ridge Baptist Church also used it.

STAFFORDSBURG

Thomas Borkers is suffering from an eye infection.

We are so glad to say that Mrs. Edward Rich is home from the hospital and improving nicely.

The fellowship supper at the church, while not largely attended, was much enjoyed. How nice it would be if the attendance would double next time. Won't you come? The J. W. Shaw family has suffered a severe attack of flu during the past several days. We hope all will soon be feeling fine again.

The homemakers' club met at the home of Mrs. Edith Ware, Thursday, with Mrs. Emil Stein as hostess. Several were ill so we did not have a large attendance. However, an interesting lesson was put on by Mrs. Faulkner and Mrs. Binder.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanna entertained in honor of her cousins, Mrs. William Summey and Mrs. J. T. Stone, who had a birthday. Mr. Summey was also a guest. A very pleasant day was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney have word that Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fryer and children will arrive here for a visit the latter part of April.

Mrs. Arnold was much disappointed to miss connection with relatives who invited her to accompany them on a trip to Washington, D. C., the past week.

Sunday, April 15 is preaching day here. Let us all come out and make it a big service.

Friends and relatives will be glad to know Mrs. Ed Swinford of Cynthiana, is slowly improving from a serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barnett had as guests recently, Miss Agnes Lane of Mt. Sterling, Ky., and Miss Thea Bratton and friend of Latonia.

The W. S. C. S. had their regular meeting at the church, Wednesday. The morning and part of the afternoon was spent quilting, followed by the program and business meeting. This is the first time we have quilted in the Sunday school room and it is certainly a nice place to work.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Klein enjoyed a visit from their granddaughter, Miss Rita May Klein, last Wednesday.

The first registered dairy calves to be owned by Trimble county 4-H club members in several years were bought in February.

Mother of Two Praises Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Deficient Systems With Vitamins B₁, B₂, Nicotin and Iron

Mrs. Elmer Hisei, 3225 2nd Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a good mother, and like all good mothers she keeps a careful watch for the welfare of her two young children. And when little four-year-old Lucille Hisei wasn't feeling as her mother knew she should be, she decided to do something about it. Mrs. Hisei gave Lucille HADACOL, because she had heard how much it was helping children who had poor appetites and stomach distress caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Nicotin. It helped her so much that now Mrs. Hisei gives HADACOL to both of her children.

Here is what Mrs. Hisei says: "My daughter has taken two bottles of HADACOL and she has been eating more than before and also sleeps better. I think HADACOL is the best thing for children who do not have an appetite. My daughter is four years old. Before taking HADACOL, my daughter complained of her stomach hurting her, and I got her a bottle of HADACOL, and she says her stomach doesn't bother her any more. I think HADACOL is wonderful. I am also giving HADACOL to my three-year-old daughter."

HADACOL is So Effective
An important thing about HADACOL is that you get Vitamins B₁, B₂, Nicotin and iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body.

Larry Aylor, local musician and organist, assisted at the organ at Blessed Sacrament Church, South Ft. Mitchell, Sunday evening, April 8, for Confirmation, conducted by Bishop William T. Malloy of St. Mary Cathedral, Covington. Mr. Aylor has been serving the regular organist as assistant for the past several months. The church boasts of an organ valued at $30,000, and was designed by J. Alfred Schehl of Cincinnati.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Florence Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring another community dance to be held at the Fire Hall on Saturday evening, April 14. Those who attended two weeks ago will want to return. Come and bring your friends and spend a most enjoyable evening.

Miss Ruth McDaniel of Cincinnati was the Sunday evening guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Aylor and daughters.

Mrs. Stanley Tanner is visiting her mother in Memphis, Tenn.

The ladies of the Florence Christian Church should be commended for the social given in the church basement Saturday evening. The affair was well attended and was a complete success.

APRIL SHOWERS

They always say April showers bring May flowers—well, we should have lots of flowers this year. Several farmers said they burned some plantbeds last week, but I think they steamed them, as wet as the ground was. Since last November there has been very few days you could work outside—snow, sleet, rain and cold weather sure has slowed up farmers and contractors this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Orin Britt were in today—Orin is still on crutches after hitting his foot with an axe last week, but he has a real helper, his wife, who don't mind the work so much as plowing through the mud at the barn — it gets deeper every day.

We just unloaded some beautiful patterns of Armstrong linoleum and Armstrong rugs; also received a shipment of Warfrit rat and mouse poison—we have had lots of calls for these, so now we have plenty of both kinds. This was a regular machine shop today—Red repaired a post hole digger, Chick made a pair of sled shoes. Ray soldered several pieces of down spout, and put in an axe handle for Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, and Chick wrapped and packed a tricycle for Mrs. Richard Howard, to go to Virginia, who is now in Alaska with her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Morris were up from Warsaw—Mrs. Morris bought a 12x12 Armstrong linoleum rug. Gaynelle Flynn was in for extension cord plugs; Alice Flynn wanted tobacco seed—Matthew told her to be sure it had a blue star on the package—that is the way Richard marks his packages and it is good seed. John Wood and Ben Dixon just came in after tobacco canvases and a rake—planted time is here. Ray and Red took a load of water pipe and fittings out to Bill and Lillie Hoard—Stanley Bush is going to remodel their kitchen.

They also took Mrs. Hetteman, up at Crittenden, an Armstrong rug and Mrs. Speagle, also up at Crittenden, an Armstrong rug—we have a wonderful selection of patterns to pick from. Clyde Morton, who owns the Kate Madden farm, here from Powell county—Pauline Flynn was in today, said her father is lots better, able to be out again. Dick Ryan was passing out the cigars—he has a big girl. We unpacked a lot of nice fishing tackle—lots of new bait, glass rods and Pflueger reels. Come in and look!

Bob & Gene Play Highway Merchants In KAG Opener, Sun.

Opening play in the K. A. G. Semi-Pro Baseball League is scheduled for Sunday, April 22, at 2:30 p. m. The Boone County entry this year is Bob and Gene and their opening-day opponent will be the Highway Merchants. Many players on this team played with Charlie's Cafe last season, and are good ball players. Manager Bog Eades has announced an array of talent which should be able to compete with the best in the loop. On his pitching staff there is Ray Mingers, Jim Bunting and Mike Ryan, the catching will be taken care of by Baumann and Dike West. Infielders include Don Ritter, Neal Conners, Whitely Brown, Dallesandro, and Charley Hayes, and in the outfield there will be plenty of power in Hoffer, Harry Ritter, Son Benson, Seebree and Boyd Mahan.

Bob & Gene is a home team and all games will be played at the Florence High School park. County Judge C. L. Cropper and County Attorney Wm. F. McEvoy are expected to be on hand for opening day ceremonies.

Mingers, Conners, Dallesandro, Hoffer, Mahan, Seebree and Vest are holdovers from last year, while Mike Ryan, Baumann, Brown and Hayes performed for Verone last year. The Ritter boys will be remembered as having played for Petersburg, and Benson and Bunting played professional ball last season. So you see, Mr. Eades expects to have another championship contender this year.

Sunday, April 22—Hoosier All-Stars at Grant's Lick. Open at Newport Stadiums.

By action of the Baptist pastors of Northern Kentucky a special tribute of appreciation is given the newspapers, radio stations, WCO-TV, WECN-TV and WLW-TV. At Fair Grounds In Burlington

The churches of Boone county, working in cooperation with the H Clubs and Extension Agents, will observe Rural Life Sunday at the fair grounds in Burlington, April 29, according to Bill Davis, County Agt. The program will start at 2:00 p. m. with a basket lunch. In case of inclement weather, the meeting will be held in the Burlington school.

Four-H Club Sunday, or Rural Life Sunday, is observed by church organizations throughout the nation to emphasize the meaning of Christianity in rural life. It occurs the fifth Sunday after Easter and is closely linked with Rogation Days, celebrated for centuries in the Christian church during the three days preceding Ascension Day.

Originally, they had several emphases, but gradually that of prayer for God's blessing upon the fruits of the earth predominated. Rogation Days were first observed by St. Marcellus, Bishop of Vienna, in Gaul, some time prior to A.D. 475. In A.D. 511 they were ordered observed throughout France, and in A.D. 747 were established in England by church action. Alfred the Great held them in deep reverence and included them among the most important of holy days. They were established in Rome by Leo III about the end of the eighth century.

Everyone is urged to attend the church of their choice for morning services and then attend the Rural Life Sunday in the afternoon. This day was first observed in this country in 1929.

Meritorious Service Award Given To Florence Man

An award for "meritorious service in the interest of polo care, education, and research" has been conferred upon Ben F. Zimmer, Jr. of Florence, director of the Boone County 1951 March of Dimes, by the Kentucky Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Announcement of the award was made this week by Harry W. Cooke, State Chairman of the 1951 polo drive.

Mr. Zimmer earned this award by the great amount of time, energy, and sincere thought he so generously gave to assure the success of the Boone County March of Dimes. Mr. Cooke said, "It is a distinct pleasure to thank Mr. Zimmer on behalf of the Kentucky Chapter, the National Foundation, and the many polo victims in the state who will benefit from the money raised in this county." He further pointed out that every one actually benefits when we realize that a tremendous research program is being conducted which will one day find a specific cure and preventative of the dreaded Infantile Paralysis.

For publicity regarding polo, the advertiser was also awarded a Certificate of Merit.

Youth in State Government

by the State Legislature), consolidation of schools, voting at 18, censorship of movies and books, improvement of highways, and other measures. A bill providing for stiff penalties for intoxication while driving, proposed by the Simon Kenton Senior Hi-Y, was passed. A state highway improvement commission, as suggested in a bill proposed by the Simon Kenton Y-Teens, was also approved.

Proposals to decrease the number of counties in Kentucky, to have compulsory reforestation on an individual basis, to create a state child adoption board, to establish statewide liquor prohibition, and other minor measures were rejected.

Governor Wetherby gave us an inspiring address on youth's responsibility in government. Awards for outstanding achievement in various phases of the Youth Assembly were bestowed. Various scenic and historic spots in Frankfort, such as the Daniel Boone grave, the Old State House, and the Executive Mansion, were visited. Recreational services were held at the First Presbyterian Church for all Assembly delegates. Recreational activities were provided by the Frankfort Y.M.C.A. The Governor's Reception and Ball, Thursday night provided much entertainment for all. The Congressional banquet Saturday morning was also enjoyed by everyone. Mr. Dan C. Pitt, Jr., Assembly Director, was praised for his fine work in setting up the Youth Assembly this year. By Harold Rice, Youth Assembly Press Representative from Independence.

GARDEN STATE TOMATO RESISTANT TO BLIGHT

A variety of tomatoes called Garden State, tested for several years at the Agricultural Experiment Station in Lexington, has been found to have considerable resistance to blight, a disease which caused big losses in Kentucky the past year.

Grown alongside other varieties, sprayed and otherwise treated the same, Garden State tomatoes turned off big yields in 1950. Blight reduced yields of most kinds, even though they were carefully sprayed.

While Garden State shows resistance to blight, Dr. E. M. Emmeri, who conducted the tests at the Experiment Station, advised a rigid spray program for it, the same as for other varieties. He starts spraying in a week or 10 days after the plants are set, and repeats spraying at regular intervals throughout the season.

WHEN SORROW COMES . . .

Most people who wish to express sympathy with more potency than words find comfort in sending some flower or plant, if only to those left to face the world deprived of a loved presence. If ever we need flowers, we need them in time of sorrow, pain and trouble particularly, for therein we may find love and comfort in their fragrance and delicacy.

Kentuckians In Washington

Here's something that hasn't been noticed!

Do you know that for the first time in many years, Kentucky is not represented by at least one lawyer in the United States Senate.

Senior Senator Earle C. Clements is a farmer and Junior Senator Tom Underwood is an editor.

Look back over the list of Senators during the past half century—Stanley, McCreary, Blackburn, Beckham, Ernst, James, Sackett, Logan, Stanfill, Chandler, Cooper, Withers, Chapman, Barkley and others. All practiced law.

Double Profession:

Here's one that will surprise you. Kentucky had a Senator who, at one time, was both a doctor of medicine and a lawyer. It was Senator William Joseph Deboe of Crittenden county who served from 1897 to 1903.

Attorneys, who complain of hard work, might explain this. Senator Deboe practiced medicine until his health failed. Then, believe it or not, he took up law. The Senator also was a county school superintendent.

Northern Kentucky's two Congressmen also are versed in the law. Congressman Spence, top man of the Blue Grass Congressional Delegation, served his apprenticeship in Campbell county after graduation from the University of Cincinnati Law School.

Congressman Bates is primarily an educator and was once a high school superintendent. But he, too, studied law although he has never practiced.

Kentucky Grandson:

Mary Hamilton O'Neal of the Louisville Courier-Journal staff here in the Capital has turned up another gem in Kentucky's crown.

She revealed the other day that General George Catlett Marshall is a grandson of Kentucky. His parents, Laura Bradford and George Marshall, lived in Augusta, Ky. for many years before the General's birth.

We wonder if the General's mother is a descendant of Dr. Joshua Bradford, famed Augusta physician and hero of the Battle of Augusta during the War Between the States?

Congressional Mail:

Just a brief report this week on how Congressional mail is running.

Most correspondents want the Kefauver Committee given a new lease on life. Some petitions have been received from Northern Kentucky, and there has also been a sprinkling of letters from the Lexington area.

In asking continuation of the Committee, letter-writing Kentuckians usually tell of seeing the performance on TV, and they liked it.

ASHWORTH POTATO RESISTS BLIGHT

The Ashworth potato has been the most blight resistant of several varieties tested at the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky. Other varieties showing some resistance to blight include Chenango and Sequoia.

Blight is most destructive to the second crop of potatoes, according to Dr. E. M. Emmert, in charge of the Experiment Station tests. It sometimes affects the tail end of the first crop.

Cobblers are considered a good first-crop potato, but are likely to be susceptible to blight when grown for the second crop. It is then that Ashworth or some other blight-resistant potato should be grown, Dr. Emmert said.

God in a Nation

Lesson for April 22, 1951

WHEN IS GOD IN THE LIFE of a nation? It depends on what you mean by the question. God is the Ruler of all nations, and Judge of them all. But some nations have been far more conscious of the true God and obedient to Him than other nations have.

God's Name on Paper
GOD CAN be mentioned often, yet not count for very much in a nation. For instance, His name can be on the money, it can be in the state ceremonies, it can be in the constitution, or if there is no constitution, the monarch may be said to rule "by divine right."

But such things may be no better than formal. The money can pass from wicked hand to wicked hand. It can be used for godless purposes by men who do not have God in all their thoughts. The name of God in public ceremonies (such as oaths of office) or in the constitution may mean no more than decorative designs on a letterhead. The king ruling by "divine" right may be a cruel and corrupt man.

Religious-sounding songs, such as "God Bless America" or "God Save the King," can be sung by rascals. No, God in a nation's life must be more than a name on paper, green or white.

God in Great Men
GOD BEGINS to get into the life of a nation when He gets into the lives of people. It is not disparaging the common man to point out the plain fact that as between one believer in God who is obscure, and another who is prominent and powerful, the latter means more in the long-run life of a nation.

It was so in the era of Moses. There was a time of religious confusion, as it is today. Doubtless there were many humble persons at that time who had a living faith, but if it had not been for Moses, the nation of Israel would never have been a nation, but would have shrunk back into the wreck of little no-account tribes, never to be heard from again. When we hear that even Moses' own brother was so stupid or bad as to lead the people in worshipping a gold-plated calf, we can imagine what the masses of the people were like.

If the nation of Israel ever today can be called Christian nations today, it is because we can point to men on both sides of the line who have been not only high-caliber, influential men, but also men not ashamed of their faith in God.

An American congressman who is respected by friends and opponents alike, has said it is more important to him to know what God wants than who his constituents want. Most governors of states profess religion; and some of the best of them practice it. What America would have been without such men, one can only guess; certainly far worse than it is.

God in Laws and Lives
GOD CAN also be in a nation's laws. It is true, we cannot run a modern nation or municipality on the laws of Leviticus, and nobody wants to, not even the preachers and rabbis. Still, the laws of a land either reflect the will of God or they do not. So far as the laws of a nation are in line with the teachings and truth of Christ, so far God is in the life of that nation.

But the question is not finally: What do the laws prescribe, but do the people respect the laws? God does not get deeply into the life of a nation until He gets into the homes of high and low alike.

If the nation of Israel ever became godly, they had Moses to thank; yet he himself was under no illusions as to the people he left behind him. "I know that after my death ye will utterly corrupt yourselves and turn aside from the way which I have commanded you." (Deut. 31: 29)

It took centuries of toil and patience on the part of God and His prophets to change Israel from a nation mostly indifferent to God, to a people mostly God-fearing; and the change took place only as homes changed.

Is ours a Christian nation today? The answer is not in our constitution, not in our leading men, not in our history or laws or traditions; the answer is in our homes. When the cry goes up "Back to God!" the place to start back, and the place that counts most, is our homes.

Is This Spring Weather?

I believe we say most every year, this is the worst weather I've ever seen—but I think this is what we need. It's not too hot, it's not too cold. Most every day, in the winter and spring, we have a few days you can work outside, but this one Farmers still have corn in the field from last fall and manure in the barn three feet deep, and the mud is terrible. It don't dry up. I suppose we should look on the bright side, for in Old Kentucky we always have a crop whether it is a wet year or a dry one—we all come out very well at the end of the year. We now have Merytag Washers, Perfection Electric Ranges, and Gibson Refrigerators.

Mrs. Floyd Chapman was in today and bought a 12x12 Armstrong rug, a lot of Police Varnish Stain and Undercoat, also screen glass for a door. Uncle Bob Salmanson bought three rolls of fence and some nails. Wilford Dixon needed one roll of fence over on his farm he bought from John Meador. Roy's cousin from Kenton county came in after a dog sled and before he got out Ray sold him a fishing outfit. Some fellow stopped and bought a horse collar—said he lived 200 miles south of here.

Mr. Webster from Glencoe came up after some wire fence—said he couldn't get any in Glencoe or Warsaw. Some lady stopped and bought a cut iron skillet—she had tried several hardware stores but they didn't have the right size—we have all sizes. A lady from Florence came up after a large aluminum colander—she had it after John Beck from Demosville was over—said he wanted lead washers to use on metal with a long nail—had these in a bag way back on the shelf—hadn't sold any for years, but if you keep it long enough you will sell it.

Glenn Caldwell and his father stopped in and bought a pony saddle—his father said will out a check, which I did, but Glenn signed it instead of his father—these boys have their own money. Mr. and Mrs. James Coyle are using a lot of that Bolce Interior Gloss and they say it is really beautiful. I sold Allen Conner some of those plastic window shades. John L. Ferguson called in for a roll of fence and 10 pounds of butter. Robert Bokelo bought a Bemis Tobacco Setter. Stanley Hansen bought a lot of pipe and fittings. Hugh Semones is also doing some plumbing.

CONRAD HARDWARE
ALL TYPES OF HOUSEHOLD APPLIANCES
WALTON, KENTUCKY

Walter Kidwell, our banker from Crittenden, was in looking around, but before he left he purchased three Kent-Miss Tank Bolls—these always stop the water in the flush box and only cost $1.00. He also bought a new knife and comb for his Sunbeam Electric Razor—we carry these in stock. Miss Belle Walford was a customer today, buying new pots and pans. Harry and Georgia Mayhugh are in first the front door and then the side door—they are getting that new house ready to move into. I could name all the things they have bought for that house, but everything to make a house convenient and beautiful.

Marion Waller was in after a lot of water pipe and fittings. Walter Vest bought a new power lawn mower, to be ready when the ground dries out and the grass will be ready. Mrs. Leonard Lawson from Gallatin county cleaned me out of white creosote paint for Eldon Ashcraft of Frog-town Road had just bought 15 gallons, then she came in and took 10 gallons. We received a small stock of Bemis and Tiger Tobacco Setter repairs—they are very scarce this year—get yours early. We also have paint rollers in stock, even the roller you pour, the paint into and just roll it on.

Russell Littell said he was having trouble with paint covering colors in wallpaper, with one coat—this is very hard to do. In fact one coat of paint will hardly ever do the job. Hugh and Mrs. Semones were buying more paint—she sure keeps Hugh busy fixing up a house, and he is a handy man at most all jobs around the house. We had a blacksmith shop today, making U bolts and drilling holes for Jim Coyle's new truck body.

Fence is sure scarce—I called all the suppliers in Cincinnati today and all the heavy fence I could get was 18 rolls of 32", 6" stay, and no more until July. I have about 500 steel fence posts and that is all for a long time. One of my old friends passed away, Elmer Stumper, but the condition he was in I guess he is better off. We miss one of the old timers every once in awhile—there have been several gone-on since I have been in the store here, and you don't know who will be next. But as long as we are here, we will do our best to serve you when you come to CONRAD HARDWARE.

Tax Books Open For Inspection At Burlington

Every taxpayer in Boone county has the opportunity to inspect the tax assessment roll for this year, according to Wilton Stephens, Tax Commissioner.

As provided by Kentucky law, property tax roll is open for inspection from April 15 to May 1. Any taxpayer may visit the tax commissioner's office and check his assessment.

Commissioner Stephens urges all tax payers, who can, to take advantage of this inspection period, as this is the only way to be sure the assessment is correct.

Anyone who feels the assessment is higher or lower than that on other property in the county can appeal to the Board of Supervisors. This appeal must be filed, in writing, with County Clerk C. D. Benson, before May 1. Appeal for a review may also be made by the Tax Commissioner, Department of Revenue, County Judge, Chief Finance Officer or any city using the county assessment, or the superintendent of any school district in which the property is located. The board of supervisors may raise or lower individual assessments on which appeals have been made, in order to equalize them.

"The inspection period is a safeguard for the taxpayer," Commissioner Stephens said, "and I urge each one to take advantage of it for his own benefit."

The Board of supervisors will convene at the Burlington Courthouse, May 1 through May 10, 1951.

MRS. LIZZIE JONES

Mrs. Lizzie Horsman Jones, 52, a former resident of Verona, passed away April 18 at the home of a daughter, Mrs. William Collins of Sparta, Ky. She was a native of Owingville, and was a member of the Walton Christian Church, and the O. E. S. She had lived with her daughter a number of years, and had been in poor health for about four years.

Besides Mrs. Collins, she leaves another daughter, Mrs. Mattie Good, pastor of Covington; a son, Russell Jones of Owingville; two grand-children, and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday, April 21 at 11 a. m. in the home of her son in Owingville, Ky., with burial in Owingville Cemetery. Hamilton funeral home, Verona, had charge of arrangements.

Ascension Day to Be Observed Sunday At Christian Church

Sunday, April 29, will be observed as Ascension Day in the First Christian Church, Walton. Rev. Gravelly's morning sermon will be upon the theme, "Restorers or Creators?" "Amidst all the mysteries that cluster around the Ascension, two facts shine out clearly. One has to do with earth, the other with heaven. Both concern power, the keynote of the Book of Acts," Rev. Gravelly said. The choir will sing for this service. The organ prelude begins promptly at 10:45 a. m., and the processional hymn at 11 a. m. Music is under the direction of James Spencer, organist and choir director.

Then at the 7:45 p. m. evening choir choir worship hour, there will be a candlelight installation service for the newly elected Deacons of the church: Billy Adams, Ray Gullion, Jack Rouse, Melvin Platt, and Leon B. Hall, and for the Junior Deacons, Frank Perdue, Jr., Layne Chessman, Harold Massey, Finley Jacobs, Jr., Wallace Grubbs, Jr., and Billy Acree. A special ordination service will be held for J. B. Doan, newly elected Elder of the church. The following Elders, who have already been ordained in other Christian churches, will be installed as Elders of First Christian Church of Walton: Frank Penick, Paul Nead and J. C. Acree.

The office of Elder is the highest honor that can be conferred upon a man member of the Christian church, and stands next to that of the office of minister. It is a sacred and holy experience to be set apart for this office in a Christian church, and is one which is for a lifetime. Elders preside at the Lord's Supper each Sunday morning and care for the spiritual welfare of the church members and the church and its spiritual problems.

The office of Deacon is the next highest honor a man member can receive and is concerned with the serving of the Lord's Supper, the gathering of the finances, and support of the organizational work of the church. Men usually elevated to the office of Elder after having proved themselves as Deacons. Junior Deacons are young men in training for the office of Deacon and after having proved worthy of the office and have reached the required age, are elected as Deacons of the church.

Mrs. Gravelly will sing, "This Is My Task" by Ashford, and the Youth and Adult choir will render an anthem for this special and sacred occasion. Rev. Gravelly's sermon theme will be "The Church—The Living Voice of God." This is a historic occasion in the Christian church and one of momentous concern to every one of its members.

The public is cordially invited to share in this high spiritual experience as the sacred New Testament banquet of setting aside Christian Laymen to the spiritual offices of the church is re-enacted.

Verona Lodge Hall Dedicated

The new lodge hall of Verona Lodge, 876, was dedicated Saturday evening, March 24, 1951, by Most Worshipful Grand Master Edwin E. Freshney in a brief but impressive ceremony. At 6:30 p. m., the members and their wives and families, as well as all the visitors, sat down to a banquet. The banquet was well planned, being in charge of Bro. "Witt" Edgington and his wonderful wife. The menu: (and we're not lying) fried chicken, roast chicken and dressing, home-raised prime roast of beef, home-cured sliced country ham, deviled eggs, potato salad, cole slaw, fruit salad, gelatin salad, potato chips, homemade pies and cakes of every description, and hot coffee with real country heavy cream. Man, what a feed! We believe we can prove, without any shadow of doubt, that Boone county boasts of the finest cooks in all the world! We ate again at 10:30 p. m. to maintain us on the journey homeward.

After the banquet, the ladies remained downstairs, and the lodge was opened on the M.M. degree by the regular officers, headed by Don C. Murray as master. Then followed the introduction of distinguished visitors, which included J. A. Tandy, District Deputy for the Grand Master.

Brittenhelm-Childers Wedding

Miss Blanche Brittenhelm, daughter of Mrs. Eva Brittenhelm and the late William Brittenhelm, of Walton, and Mr. Ron Childers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Childers, of Ft. Pierce, Fla., were joined in holy wedlock on Thursday, April 19, 1951 at 4:30 p. m., in the Walton Christian Church parsonage, with the Rev. C. F. Gravelly officiating.

Miss Brittenhelm wore a cocoa brown suit with a white hat set off by sheer white veiling which draped softly over her shoulder, and held there by a cluster of white gardenias.

Mrs. Harold Lusby was matron of honor and Mr. Lusby was best man. After a two weeks honeymoon in New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Childers will be at home to their many friends at Fort Pierce, Fla.

Communism to Be Discussed Friday At Independence

"The Cold War or Communist Propaganda Versus Truth," is the subject that Maurice L. Bates, writer and lecturer and evangelist, will discuss Friday, April 27, at 8:00 p. m. at the Men's Brotherhood meeting at the Independence Baptist Church. Many of the Baptist pastors of this Association have heard Mr. Bates speak on this subject and have highly commended his message.

Rev. Don Gambrell, pastor of the Erlanger Baptist Church writes, "Maurice L. Bates has a message on the evils that are taking hold of our schools, our social order and our government that all our people need to hear. I recommend him to all our churches. He has studied and written on this evil for years and speaks with authority."

The men meet for a carry-in supper at 7:00 p. m., and after eating and good fellowship, adjourn to the men's convocation at 8:00, where the men of the church, as a community, are invited to hear this needed message. It is hoped that scores of men will be present.

CONVERTS' CLASS

Last Sunday morning at the Independence Baptist Church, a new class was started. It was one for the new converts and designed to give young Christians a good start in knowing how to study their Bibles, acquaint them with the power of prayer, the importance of faith, how to grow as a Christian, the outreach of the new life in soul saving, stewardship of talents and means, and an appreciation of the ordinances of the church and related subjects. It was inspiring to see the way the pupils began to lay hold of these things. The pastor of the church, W. E. Maners, is teacher of the class. The pastor says all young Christians are welcome to attend this class, which meets at the Sunday school hour, 10:00 a. m.

of the total cost of the building. The balance can be taken care of out of current receipts of the lodge, without hardship whatsoever.

The walls of the lodge room are finished in a soft gray-green pastel color, with a slightly darker shade of the same color below the chair-rail. The ceiling consists of insulated composition blocks, square in shape and cream in color. Woodwork is in white enamel. Soft, round neon lights with a beautiful spotlight over the altar, make up the lighting. An oil-burning, thermostatically controlled heating unit was contributed to the lodge by W. T. Rector, treasurer of the lodge. The floors are in natural-finish yellow pine, properly varnished so as to give years and years of hard use. A new concrete floor has been laid in the well-lighted basement, which is used for recreation and dining. A sealed attic, used for the storage of furniture and costumes, completes the picture. Here is a lodge hall which would be a credit to any lodge in Kentucky. It is a building some 30 years old which was purchased by the lodge and completely remodeled. All the work of whatever description, was done by the lodge members, at no cost to the lodge for labor. Much of the material was either donated or sold to the lodge at cost.

James E. Ransom read a short history of Verona Lodge, augmented by some personal observations by Past Grand Master Ware, who was Grand Master when the lodge was instituted on July 4, 1914. Bro. Ware, former Commonwealth's Attorney, former postmaster of Covington, and former Congressman, gave his usual message of hope and encouragement which was enthusiastically received by all the ladies and gentlemen present. Rt. Rev. Bro. Stomberger, G. Chaplain, spoke feelingly of his great pride in being permitted by the Almighty to associate with such wonderful Masonic brethren. Grand Master Freshney gave a stirring address on the place of Masonry in our beloved nation, and the assemblage certainly liked it.

In dismissing the assemblage, Bro. Ellis reminded all present that the lodge was indeed a holy place, every piece of material and every bit of labor now being dedicated to the Grand Architect, and that here was a building "perfect in all its parts, and honorable to its builders." The entire assemblage then repaired to the banquet hall where they ate again.

Of course, as is usual with every celebration of importance, there is always an "incident." The incident in this case was that two F. B. I. men came to Verona, bringing with them a witness wanted by the Kefauver Crime Commission in Washington, and sought out Bro. Ware, who is United States Commissioner. This "witness" made the required bond—the same being signed on the tailgate of a truck owned by one of the lodge members.—W.R.E. (from the Masonic Home Journal)

Several from here attended the District conference at Williamstown, Thursday. The program was very interesting and inspiring. The high point of the day came when Rev. Joshua Tion of Nanking, China, spoke just before noon. His message was a challenge to luke warm Christians here, as he knows the danger of accepting Christ in his native land. He finds it hard to understand the complacent attitude of many here. He says that the Communists promised such good things to the needy Chinese in order to gain their confidence. They never made good on their promises and have steadily gone from bad to worse. Let us awake to our opportunities and blessings in our country. Let us come out on Christ's side. You re-

If given some attention, many of them will sprout anew, thereby saving much time and expense in replacing them. Mrs. Ed Piper read from the first chapter of Genesis.

An exchange of flower seeds took place. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Burns Riggs on Taylor Mill Road. Members are asked to bring bulbs and plants to complete the exchange.

THOUGHTFUL BUYING

CUTS GROCERY BILL

Thoughtful buying on the part of the housewife is the first rule in cutting the grocery bill, according to Miss Florence Imlay, specialist in foods at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

A small saving made on many items will reduce the weekly bill considerably. Her suggestions:

1—Think through your grocery needs, then make a list, using the local newspaper as a guide to best prices.

2—For a large family, buy foods in large containers. On a 2-pound jar of one brand of peanut butter, for example, there is a saving of 15c over the usual 8 pound jar.

3—Use dried skim milk in all cooking or baking. It has the same food value as fresh skim milk, yet costs about 8 cents a quart.

4—Consider the amount of waste in a cut of meat before you buy. Short ribs of beef are cheaper by the pound than rump roast, but more expensive by the serving because of the large amount of waste.

5—Avoid buying quick-cooking meats and chops. They are more expensive per serving than cuts requiring time to prepare, such as picnic ham, heel of the round, rump or pork roast.

6—Use a cheaper grade of canned fruit when it is to be used in pies or salads.

Veals are an important source of income in Grant county, several selling for $75 to $100 a head.

Farm leaders in Hickman county estimate there are around 20,000 acres of permanent pasture seedlings representing every community and neighborhood in the county.

The Confederate Homemakers Club in Lyon county will sponsor the cleaning of the Bethany and Moulton church yards again this year.

Jimmy Reed, 4-H club member of Flat Gap, Johnson county, has started 1,000 New Hampshire chicks in a new brooder house.

Kentuckians In Washington

Bill Vaughn is aide to the Vice President and probably no one knows the Senate Chamber and its history better than the pleasant young man from Glasgow.

The other day we took a tour of the Senate Chamber with some visitors from Kentucky and Bill was the guide.

Jefferson Davis:

One of the stops was at the desk formerly occupied by Jefferson Davis, the Kentuckian who became President of the Confederacy. At one time, he was Senator from Mississippi.

During the War Between the States a group of Union soldiers was assigned to guard the Capitol. One young man, carried away with enthusiasm, sought out the desk once occupied by Senator Davis. And—when he found it—he gave it a vicious jab with his bayonet.

Bill pointed to the scars, still visible on the side of the desk. Today it is occupied by Senator Stennis, also of Mississippi.

History Repeats:

This MacArthur affair is nothing new, in spite of the hue and cry. About 80 years ago, President Lincoln had similar trouble with General George McClellan and he, too, was ousted.

At that time, so records in the Library of Congress tell us, there were reports that the General, on retiring, was to move to Kentucky and purchase a home in Owen county.

Some hotheads in Covington and Newport warned the General to stay away. No one knows if that warning had any effect, but Owen county, at least, wanted the General. He got a majority of the votes when he ran against Lincoln.

Populations:

Official figures are out on the population of Kentucky's 120 counties and Jefferson, by far, is the biggest with 484,615. Next in line is Kenton with 104,254 citizens, with Fayette county in third place. No other county tops the 100,000 mark.

The smallest county, population-wise, is Robertson, with 2881. Next is Gallatin with 3969 citizens, all outstanding Kentuckians.

Other Figures:

One population figure may be surprising—the population of the fourth largest county in the state. It is Pike county, high in the mountains, with 81,154 hardy souls. Fifth in line is Campbell county—76,196.

Other figures of interest to North-east Kentuckians: Boone, 13,015; Bracken, 8,424; Carroll, 8,517; Fleming, 11,962; Grant, 9,808; Mason, 18,486; Oldham, 11,018; Trimble, 5,184; and Owen, 9,765.

Land of Promise

Lesson for April 29, 1951

A NATION must have a home. Oppressors are not particularly concerned that their only home is where their wagons make a camp. Professors of political science tell us that among other necessities a nation has to have a definite and defensible territory. But the ancient Israelites did not need a professor to tell them that much. They knew it very well. When they came out of Egypt they could call their clothes and their tents and their stock their own; but nothing else. Even when Moses had given them laws and religion and an army and an organization, they were still not a nation, for they had no land of their own under their feet.

No Welcoming Committee SO IT was that what those people looked forward to, for forty years, was the "Land of Promise," where Abraham had pitched his tent, where these Israelites' forefathers had worshipped God. But their ancestors had owned very little of the land. Abraham owned just enough for a burial plot; Jacob owned a tract which, so far as we know, he never occupied. Yet it was a good land, so good that others, long before Abraham, had settled there. It has no unsettled wilderness; it was dotted with high-walled, thickly populated, strongly defended towns. There were no "welcomes" signs on the highways. All the titles of Palestine were united by one common hate for the invading Israelites.

Two Centuries of War SOME of our hymns give a wrong impression of Canaan, the Land of Promise. In some of our hymns this life is compared to the wilderness, in which the Israelites lived for forty years, the river Jordan is a symbol of death, and Canaan means heaven ("Canaan's happy shore"). Well, Canaan was not a happy shore. It was a bloody battlefield for centuries. For the Israelites did not occupy the land all at once. Their fight was not won right away. It was not won in a generation. We do not know for certain the date of Joshua, but a date favored by many scholars is in the 13th century before Christ. The "Land of Promise" was not fully and securely in the Israelites' hands until the tenth century. The whole story, or such parts of it as we find in the books of Joshua and Judges, shows that it was a long struggle, a weary succession of more or less continual wars, climaxed in the final conquests of the fighting king David.

Some Victories Are Deserved DURING those wars, many cruelties were practiced by both sides. If there had been a United Nations at that time, they would certainly have condemned the Israelites for aggression and for war crimes besides. We may as well admit that the Israelites did not act in line with the Sermon on the Mount. How could they? They had never heard of it. The fact remains that if you, an impartial, invisible observer, had looked down from the sky at all the long struggle the Israelites had to put up to win a homeland, and if you had been asked: Which will win, the Israelites or the Canaanites? there were times when you would hardly have dared to make a prediction. But if you had been asked: Which side deserves to win? You would surely have said, The Israelites.

God Saw the Future ANY one who could have foreseen the future both of Israel and the tribes with whom they fought for centuries, would certainly have hoped for Israel's victory. Comparing all that Israel would mean to mankind, directly and indirectly, with all that would come from their enemies, you would have voted for the Israelites without hesitation. If for no other reason, the Israelites deserved to win because of their religion. If you can imagine what might have been the sinister results if Israel had been destroyed, and with them all knowledge of the one and holy God, you can see how God could not afford to let His people lose.

WORK or FISH?

That seems to be the big question this week—most of the fishermen have work to do, but with sunshine and warmer weather, they just can't resist the fish calling "come and get me." Now, what do you think they did—work or fish? Well, there has been no work done, as yet. Even the paper hanger, Wesley Burgess, quit hanging paper, bought a new rod and went fishing.

Stanley Bush was in several times today—he is remodeling Mrs. Little Hoard's kitchen. Leon Hall is a busy man, keeping milk coolers, ice cream refrigerators and all other appliances working. Louis Webster is still selling televisions—he was offered some galvanized pipe for a car. Red delivered Marion Stephenson 120 rods of fence. We repaired a hotplate for Katie Welsh, and a grill for Mrs. Goodpastor; also made a trailer hitch for Billy Ellis and put in a sledge hammer handle for James Falls.

Mrs. J. P. Brothers, daughter and mother were over today from Lima—Mrs. Brothers purchased a Toastmaster automatic toaster; her mother, Mrs. Jeanie Deans, bought an anchor coal circulating heater; her daughter bought a cast iron chicken fryer and a Case stainless steel paring knife. These folks do not come often, but they are good customers when they do call. Mort Rust and his son, Alan, were in today buying linoleum—they bought Opal Simpson's house and to Ed Kunkle, Alan had grown up and now—hardly knew him. He is married and has two children—they are going to make their home in Walton.

A fellow stopped here from Pendleton county and bought a set of leather trace team harness—that is something you don't sell every day, either, since they have been hauling all of the used harness in from Ohio and Indiana. We also sold several bridles and collars this week. Most of them were strangers, passing through. Ed Chipman from Verona, called for a roll of poultry fence and some steel posts—I believe Ed is going to raise chickens to eat, instead of the fish he catches in Verona Lake. Eugene Coyle also came after a roll of poultry fence.

Omer Kite was after anchor wire and staples—he was in a hurry, couldn't stay long. Robert Hodges and wife bought more Holce enamel. Mrs. Hoffman from Independence, came over for 14 plastic window shades—we sold about 38 Friday—these plastic shades are one of the best items I have had in stock—they really sell and customers like them. Jack Rouse hurried in after 30 feet of 1 1/2 inch angle iron to put up another sign. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Percival bought enough Armstrong linoleum to cover their kitchen. Then came Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Boots from Gallatin for 30 feet of 9-ft. wide Armstrong linoleum, the most beautiful flowered pattern.

The transfer truck just unloaded some more 12x12 and 12x15 rugs—if it's linoleum you want, I believe we have it. Judge Lester Mullins and wife came down after a 14-inch cast iron skillet to fry fish in—they had looked the county for one and I had six—Judge Mullins is County judge of Grant County. Larry Warner had a blow-out on his bicycle tire, so Chick, being the bicycle man, had to put him on a new tire. Larry wanted a $3.00 tire and tube, but they were $3.85, but he bought it anyway, after a little argument. He is one of the best boys we have. Stella Code and her boy were in getting bicycle repairs. W. B. Stamper and Herbert wanted chain links for a manure spreader. Malcolm Simpson needed a paint roller and a quart of paint. Mr. Curley was doing some painting for Mrs. Ora Fry, using Belle's easelpoint. Ed Helmer called for a jameway electric hover for his baby chicks—we took it right over to him.

Joe Northcutt wanted a wool bag, but they have not brought them over yet. Jim Wasson and Lilla bought some of those plastic window shades. Mrs. Alfred Runne was in after more of that Belle paint and she sure likes her plastic shades. Don Murray from Verona, bought a garden glow, so you see spring is here. Mrs. Martin Code bought a beautiful 12x12 Armstrong linoleum rug. I sold some more horse collars and harness today—Old Dobbin is still in use. Kash Martin bought some tackle—said he caught so many fish at Verona Lake he got tired and quit—they were biting too fast!

Bobby Whitson bought a rod, reel and a lot of tackle. Howard Stephenson caught a big one at the reservoir, about 18 inches long. We have plenty of fishing tackle—you had better get a supply, as fishing is getting better every day. After a rainy Sunday, Monday was a whirlwind—in blew Ed Hopperton, returning some paint—he had too much—he bought a side grinder and an electric motor to sharpen his tools with. Lawrence Wilson had a show case broken, so Brewster put new glass in it. Rev. Don Hopkins called for Roy and Red to put up new furnace pipe. Harvey Vest wanted a 50-gal. oil drum.

Harold Rosenthal from Verona bought a new Strato washer—when they delivered that, they repaired DuChapman's plunger pump. Then Roy and Red repaired the Sunday school bell at the Baptist Church—put new glass in bell fixtures broken by painters, and took a table up. June Neumeister which the church had borrowed. Then Red set up a jameway electric hover; Ray put new screen in a door for Chas. Prather; Chick and I were in a run all day waiting on customers such as Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Huff who brought in a fence charger for repairs—we fixed it. Mrs. Huff bought a jameway chick feeder. Stella Cluster bought a jameway chick feeder. Roger Arnold bought enough paint to keep his wife busy for several days; also bought plastic window shades; then bought Belle Stone for his plant bed. Marvin Kite bought sulphur for his plant bed for insects. Miss Belle Wolford bought a 3x12 rug.

Ed Elmore went out so fast I don't know what he got. Mr. Hopkins from Kenton County got a lot of 1 1/2 inch galvanized pipe and fittings to pipe water from a pond. I know I didn't get all of my customers this time, for they were too fast for me to remember. If you are in a hurry, we will do our best to wait on you in a hurry—When you need HARDWARE—TRY US!

Committee Formed to Help Secure Factory

Possibilities Good Says Guest Speaker

Walton has the best chance of securing a factory that it has had for a number of years. The possibility was discussed Monday night by a group of business and professional men from this place.

William Robinson, a Public Relations representative from The Union Light, Heat & Power Company, was the speaker, and he stated that there was a company now wanting to find a location in this area, and would require about 300 employees, and also a building with a minimum of 40,000 square feet of floor space.

In speaking of this concern, Mr. Robinson also stated that if this one concern did not suit the town, that there are inquiries coming into his office almost daily, asking for assistance in finding a location in a small town. He stated that these firms have all reliable organizations and were not asking for any special concessions, but would want to know if help is available, railroad service, highway accessibility, power and water availability. Walton meets all of these requirements favorably.

E. R. Mitchell, General Manager of Union Light, Heat & Power, stated that Walton was next in line to secure industry since there are no other available places in a large area surrounding the cities. He also suggested that a permanent committee be formed in order to secure all necessary information and serve as a contact with the concern desiring information now, and also for any other organization that might be interested at a later date.

This committee was formed, with A. H. Gaines, Walter A. Watson, Vest, V. D. James, Frank McDermott, C. W. Ransler, Florian Lusby, Powers Conrad, George Baker, and Russell Hall being named. Mr. Hall is to serve as temporary chairman, until the first meeting.

Community Club to Enter Team In Boone County Baseball Loop

The Verona Community Club, in keeping with its policy to promote athletics for young people in the community, will enter a team of youthful baseball players in the Boone County Saturday afternoon League, it has been announced by Bill Scroggin, Club President.

This league has been improving rapidly in recent years, and is expected to be faster than ever this season. Many teams in the league last year had several players who also played in the K.A.G. league. The Community Club is of the opinion that at this time the local youth of Verona and Walton are ready to step out in faster company. The splendid showing made by Coach Hayes' high school team is further evidence that these boys should get a chance to continue on through the summer in organized baseball, but the high school season is very short and generally over before the home folks get a chance to see the boys in action.

Coch Hayes, assisted by Clarence Vest, will be able to present a squad of baseball talent that will give you the surprise of your life. Those "kids" you saw running around in jumpsuits a short time ago have grown up.

Opening game in the league will be played at the Verona park on Saturday, May 5, beginning at 2:00 p. m., against Florence. Instead of charging a regular admission, the crowd will be expected to contribute when the hat is passed. At least this will be the policy until further notice.

It is true that these boys will be pitted against teams with more experience in most of their games, but it is they stay together this season they should be able to hold their own with the best in the league next year. They need your support. The squad will consist of the following, with their possible additions: Don Vest, Ronnie Vest, Don Rice, Harvey Kennedy, Mike Ryan, Bill Smith, Rodney Renaker, Dennis Glacken, Buddy Grubbs, Johnny Grubbs, Arthur Linton, Walt Ryan, Stormy Linton, James Code, Layne Cheeseman and Walter Leek.

Prairier-Bonfert Nuptials Sunday Afternoon

The Walton Christian Church was the setting for a very pretty wedding Sunday afternoon, April 29, with the Rev. Carol F. Gravelly officiating at the marriage of Miss Jean Prairier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sebree, Walton, and Mr. Carl Bonfert, son of Mrs. Marie Bonfert and the late Peter Bonfert, of Erlanger, Ky.

Before the ceremony Mr. James W. Spencer presented organ selections, and Mrs. Carol F. Gravelly sang, "I Love Thee" and "Because." At the close of the ceremony she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was gowned in white embroidered organza. Her finger ring fell from a white organza bonnet, and she carried a prayer book covered with gardenias and satin streamers knotted with Stephanotis.

Mrs. O. W. Simpson, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and wore a yellow eyelet gown with matching bonnet and mitts. She carried a white flower in the shape of a fan, tied with yellow ribbons.

Mr. William Lottan was best man for the groom.

The bride and groom's mothers each wore navy blue with corsages

Christian Church to Observe Pentecost Sunday, May 6th

First Christian Church, Walton, is to observe Pentecost Sunday, May 6, at the 11 o'clock morning worship and communion service. Rev. C. F. Gravelly will speak upon the theme "Pentecost—A Day of New Beginnings." There will be special music by the choir, under the direction of James Spencer, organist-director.

Sunday marks the 1921st birthday of the church and the coming of the Holy Spirit upon the 11 apostles and others assembled in the ten-day prayer meeting held in the Upper Room in Jerusalem, where Jesus had instituted the Lord's Supper. You are invited to pray and share in this rich experience as again the birthday of the church is remembered.

Then on Sunday, May 13, the church will observe Mothers' Day at the morning worship hour. Rev. Gravelly's message will be "A Mother's Prayer and Petitions." There will be a blessing service for babies up to three years of age, and a dedication of parents to the responsibility of Christian teaching and training for the child, both in the home and in the church. The church has set a goal of 280 to be present for Bible School at 10 a. m. to honor our mothers, by attending church and Bible school with them on Mothers' Day. Special music is being prepared by both the young and adult choirs, under the direction of Mr. Spencer.

Beginning next Sunday (May 6) all evening church services and all church meetings will be held at 8 p. m. instead of 7:30. Sunday evening, May 6, will be the beginning of the service. Rev. Gravelly's subject will be, "I Am the Good Shepherd." This is the beginning of a series, "Christianity Is Christ." There will be an inspirational song service of twenty minutes in the beginning of the service.

Prayer meetings have been moved from Tuesday to Wednesday evenings at 8 p. m. The Book of Acts is being studied. You are invited to share in the Upper Room experience.

A beautiful and impressive candlelight installation service and Service of Ordination for elders was held last Sunday evening. J. B. Doan and Paul Nead were ordained as elders, with C. W. Deacons installed were: Leon Hall, Jack Rouse, Ray Gullion, Bill Adams, and Melvin Platt. Junior Deacons installed were: Finley Jacob, Jr., Harold Marsh, Johnny Wallace, Grubbs, Jr., Frank Penick, Jr., and Billy Acers.

All Saints Church To Be Dedicated Sunday, May 6th

Formal dedication of All Saints Church, Walton, as the new seat of parish life in the Walton-Verona area is scheduled in ceremonies to be conducted at 4:00 p. m., Sunday, May 6, by Most Rev. William T. Mulloy, Bishop of Covington.

Bishop Mulloy will be celebrating at the dedication of the former mission attached to St. Patrick Church, Verona. Blessing of the church and of the new All Saints School will be conducted prior to administration of the Sacrament of Confirmation.

Transfer of the parish seat from Verona to Walton has been the aspiration of the Rev. Henry Buschmeyer since he assumed the pastorate of St. Patrick Church, Verona, in June of 1949.

The Walton mission had its start in a vacation school originated by Monsignor Oscar L. Poole for children of Verona and surrounding area during the period he was in charge of the parish and its mission. Due to its central location, Walton offers a better geographical site for the parish seat.

The new church bell at the Walton church is the gift of the combined courts of the Kenton and Campbell county Catholic Order of Foresters, Robert Munshoff, chief ranger of the combined courts, will make the presentation.

Walton Exchange To Be Improved

The Kentucky Public Service Commission last week handed down a decision in the rate controversy between the Consolidated Telephone Company and its subscribers. This decision denied the rate increase sought in Boone County except for an increase of $4,000.00 a year. The Company had sought an increase in Boone County of approximately $17,000.00. The Commission also directed the company to make major improvements in its Boone county plant, especially its Burlington and Walton exchanges. The text of the order is as follows:

"On August 7, 1950, the Consolidated Telephone Company (hereinafter called Consolidated) filed a Notice with the Public Service Commission, whereby it proposed to increase its rates for local exchange telephone service in the Districts of Boone and Irvine, in Kentucky.

Under provision of KRS 275.190, the Commission suspended said rates for a period of 120 days after September 1, 1950, and the company as provided in said Statutes, put the rates into effect under bond. Numerous hearings were held concerning the reasonableness of said rates requiring a further suspension for an additional 120 days, and the case was finally submitted on April 11, 1951.

Numerous protests were filed and various protests appeared at the hearings. Briefs were filed by the Company, and by Counsel for Boone County, the City of Walton, and the City of Florence, all in Kentucky.

The Commission, after consideration of all the testimony, exhibits and other evidence of record, and being advised, is of the opinion and finds:

1. That the proposed rate increase sought in the Irvine District is not unreasonable and will not produce an excessive return on the Company net investment and telephone plant, devoted to the public use.

2. That the proposed rates sought herein and applicable within Boone District are unreasonable, insofar as the total increase exceeds in amount of $4,000, and the Company should be directed to file with this Commission a new schedule of rates which will effect an increase of $4,000 per annum for service rendered within said Boone District, and further, the Company should be directed to refund to the customers entitled there to, any excess thereof collected under bond throughout the 240-day suspension period of the rates.

3. The Commission further finds that the service now being rendered by the Company in its Boone District is inadequate, because of the following:

1. Tree trimming under open-wire circuits has been neglected to such an extent that trees, vines and other brush have grown into and around these open-wire circuits, and during certain seasons of the year, seriously affect the transmission qualities.

2. Certain poles have been damaged and have deteriorated to such an extent as to require their immediate replacement. The conductors in certain open-wire circuits have deteriorated to the point that the transmission qualities of the circuits are affected and relatively high maintenance results.

3. A great deal of routine maintenance of outside plant is required, including replacing damaged or missing insulators, insulator pins and cross-arms, re-sagging of conductors and repair of old-type high resistant splices with adequate compression splices.

4. The magneto exchange at Burlington should be converted to the common battery operation to include a common battery switchboard and the necessary station equipment and miscellaneous changes to convert the exchange to common battery.

5. The magneto exchange at Walton, Kentucky, should be converted to common battery operation to include replacing the present switchboard with the common battery switchboard, with the necessary station equipment and miscellaneous incidental changes.

6. There is certain defective cable in the City of Walton which is in need of replacement.

7. The pole line from Burlington to Florence should be re-built in accordance with good construction practices.

8. The Company should provide service to all applicants within its exchange boundaries who can be economically served.

It is therefore order that the proposed rates sought herein and applicable to the Irvine District, be and the same are hereby approved in their entirety.

It is further ordered that the proposed rates sought herein, and applicable to the Boone District be and the same are denied insofar as they exceed the amount of $4,000 per annum over and above the rates in effect, prior to September 1, 1950.

It is further ordered that the company shall immediately file its Schedule of Rates, designed to effect the above increase of $4,000, and refund to the persons entitled thereto, any amount of the excess over and above the rates granted herein and collected under bond, subsequent to September 1, 1950.

It is further ordered that the company shall proceed forthwith to carry out the modifications and improvements to its existing plant in the Boone District, in accordance with the Commission's Findings 3 through 8 above, and shall complete said improvements within a reasonable time after the issue of this order.

It is further ordered that the company shall submit to the Commission on the 1st day of June, 1951, and on the first day of each subsequent month its report, setting out its progress in affecting the rehabilitation and improvements herein ordered. These said reports shall continue until the rehabilitation and improvements has been completed.

Done at Frankfort, Kentucky, this 26th day of April, 1951.

BY THE COMMISSION,

Attest: Ralph F. Kessinger, Secy.

The rate increases which went into effect last September 1, were opposed by Boone County, the City of Florence, the City of Walton and over 500 subscribers headed by a committee consisting of Frank Milburn, C. L. Cropper, A. B. Renaker, Wilfred J. Scott, C. Liston Hempfiling, Powers Conrad, Walter King and J. C. Acra. 472 subscribers contributed $1,203.00 to be used by the committee to resist the rate increase. All subscribers will receive the benefit of the denial of the rate increases and will receive refunds of considerably more than the total contributions.

The protesters employed Vest & Vest, attorneys of Walton, Kentucky to resist the rate increases and the committee feels that the Commission's Order is a great victory for the subscribers, especially since the company is directed to make many improvements in its plant and equipment which should, if carried out, result in better service to the subscribers.

CARD OF THANKS—

I wish to express my deep appreciation to the hundreds of friends who sent me cards, flowers and other acts of kindness during my stay in Christ Hospital. Again, many thanks. 11-18* —MRS. LEWIS WEBSTER

INDEPENDENCE R. 1

The farmers are very glad to see this fine weather and are very busy getting their spring plowing and garden-making done.

Charles Klein, daughter and family of Dayton, Ohio, spent Saturday with his brother, John, and family on new Taylor Mill Road. Sunday was a beautiful day to go visiting, but we hope our Sunday school pupils will not forget to come to Sunday school. We fell off just a little in attendance Sunday, so try to be back next Sunday and bring your neighbors.

Wayne Riley of Camp Tucker, and Herman Shirley of Ft. Knox, came in Saturday very unexpectedly for a short stay. They both look fine.

Mrs. Roy Martin and little son, Dickie, are spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barnett, and son, Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hauser of Visalia attended services at Staffordburg, Sunday morning and dined with their daughter, Mrs. Nelson Hoffman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klein and little daughter of Erlanger, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Klein.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wheary of Ghent, Ky., called on Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hanna, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney entertained Sunday in honor of their daughter, Ruth, and family of Texas, with a family reunion. All of their other children were present, as well as several other relatives, but the day was somewhat saddened by the passing of two of Mrs. Keeney's aunts in Campbell county. One aunt passed away Wednesday night and the other Friday morning. One funeral was Friday afternoon and one Sunday afternoon. We extend Mrs. Keeney and family our deepest sympathy.

The Staffordburg W.S.C.S. will meet at the church May 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kelley and little daughter spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Winford Riley, and family.

Remember the fellowship meeting at the Staffordburg church Saturday evening, May 5. Everyone come and bring a covered dish for supper which will be served in the basement of the church at 7:30 p. m. Come and enjoy the evening with us. All are welcome.

agenda Versus the Truth of God." The men were so impressed with the importance of the message that they went to their knees in prayer. After a season of prayer, some of the men suggested that they would like to help Brother Bates in enlightening the public as to the evils of anti-religious propaganda and his program of truth offensive, so they, at their own suggestion, passed the plate and nearly $25.00 was given the speaker to carry on his work. It was suggested that the men bring the matter before the church and have speaker bring this message before the whole congregation.

Brother Bates has the endorsement of the leading men of the Southern Baptist Convention and is available

What Is Greatness?

Lesson for May 6, 1951

WHAT is a great man? Some men have been called great who were not so; they were only prominent. Hitler, for example, was certainly prominent enough, but he was not great. Men can truly be called great for various good reasons. Some may be artists; some may be soldiers, others statesmen or prophets. Once in a while a man is born who is Dr. Foreman great in more ways than one.

David the Ideal King
SUCH a man was David, King of Israel and one of the world's most famous men. The United Kingdom of Israel had a short history, only three kings reigning over it—Saul, David and Solomon. Of the three, David was by all odds the greatest man and greatest king. Neither Saul nor Solomon was capable of holding for a lifetime to a high ideal. Neither was capable of wholehearted devotion to God. Neither one could gain and hold the loyalty of the nation.

It was only David who could do these things. It is no accident that forever after, when a Hebrew thought of the ideal king, he would think neither of Israel's first king nor of the wealthiest, but of David the best and most beloved.

Military Genius
DAVID was great, in part because of his power in battle. What no one since Joshua had been able to do, David did: he welded the quarreling, jealous, weak tribes of Israel into a "single sword." The times called for military genius, and David had it. He gave Israel the military might that was essential for their peace and prosperity.

So, often since David's time, there have been great soldiers who have used their military genius not for conquest in itself but in order to win some place in the sun for peace-loving nations. One thinks of Charles Martel, who saved Europe from barbarian conquest; of William of Orange who set the Dutch free from Spanish tyranny; of Washington, "father" of a great nation; and of many others.

The great soldiers of history have been more than professionally skilled and successful killers of men; they have been like David, men whose skill was used to preserve nations, not to destroy them.

Lovable Leadership
IN OUR times Hitler brought the word "Leader" under a shadow, because his leadership was in the wrong direction. But there is such a thing as noble and wise leadership, and David had this quality in a high degree.

It is true, success has something to do with it. Men will flock to a winner who would have nothing to do with him if he were a loser. But still it is a fact that most of the world's great leaders who have come up from obscurity, as David did, have arisen at the head of groups of devoted men who have followed them loyally through the darkest times.

So it was with David. During his years as leader of the "underground" (literally so, since for some time his headquarters were in a great limestone cave), he developed the hard core of the army he commanded at a later time, a core of men who would rather lose with David than win against him.

Leader in Faith
DAVID had yet another quality of greatness, and for this he is perhaps best remembered. He was a man of deep religion. But religion for him was not merely a personal matter; he carried his faith into public life, he made his faith contagious. He did his best to make faith in God central, as it had never been, in the life of his nation.

Religion for him was not a stick with which to beat other people about the head, but a rod and staff to lean upon. It was not a secret locked in his own heart but something he desired to share with all his people. It was not a device to keep his subjects contented; it was an acid test for his own life.

And though he sometimes slipped and terribly fell, he could always rise again, for his religion gave him that rarest of all qualities in great men; humility before God and man.

SPRING FEVER

Lots of people said they had the flu, but don't you really think part of it was "spring fever"? Some have fishing fever, but never catch any. Red Robinson fished nearly all day Sunday and never caught a fish, and Louis Schwab went over to the reservoir before breakfast and caught 15— you should have heard Red. Orville Simpson bought a new fishing outfit, so I'll have some fish stories now. Joe Neumeister bought Lucide a new lawn mower, so did Cliff Pruett get one for Jessie—these hand lawn mowers are fine to exercise with.

Tevis Thomas just came in and bought a pair of check lines and a farm sled. Floyd Sebree was buying manure forks for the farm. Fred Gouge from Sherman was after wire fences, Hub Fisher came in, in a hurry, after a plow point and a clevis—he sure is breaking up things. Bob Durr had us make him a tow cable with 15-25 lb. and 50-lb. boys.

I sold Mr. Wendell Ryan a lot of plastic screen cloth to screen her porch—very fine screen and does not rust or rot. Deputy Sheriff Kinman was in and bought his wife an electric perculator. V. F. Kerna came in and bought a heavy sprouting hoe—said he had looked everywhere for one of these hoes. Allen Campbell was here today—first time I had seen him for a long time—he got 75 feet of garden hose. I just came from Ruth's Barbecue, now operated by Art and Flo Hobeus, and they serve very fine food—a fine place to drive in the evening for a sandwich and a drink.

Thursday was lineoleum day—Evelyn Sizemore and her mother selected a beautiful black and white block pattern of Armstrong lineoleum for their kitchen; Charles Fortwood, who now lives out on Verona Road, selected two flowered patterns of Armstrong lineoleum for his wife; a lady I did not know bought 18 lineal yards of rug in Claude Norman's house, bought a $x12 rug—so you see we cut several pieces of lineoleum. Henry Tippet, who lives on Wilson Road, bought a Murray cabinet sink. Rev. Don Hopkins and Jim Stephenson had their heads in the fishing tackle case.

Paint, Paint, I don't know where it all goes—I am called in for more nearly every day. It is extra good paint and not too high—that must be the reason we sell so much of it. Friday was a busy day. Arthur Brewster bought a Eclipse power lawn mower; R. C. Durr bought a Reo Royale power lawn mower. Granville Ferguson from Verona bought a Barton washer. Omer Kite brought his wife in to buy a Jamesway electric cloth hower—Mrs. Kite paid for the hower, but Omer did buy 30¢ worth of fishing sinkers.

Marsh Sturgeon and wife were over—they live over by Simon Kenton school—they bought a Perfection portable oil heater. Mrs. Fowler, who also lives over by Simon Kenton, a very good customer of mine, bought curtain rods, tractor oil and grease. Jake Cleek and Emily were in—they just returned home from Florida. Emily needed repairs for her Fryax coffee perculator. There were two strangers here hunting a tooth drag harrow—we didn't have any, but Chick sold him enough harrow teeth to make one. We are selling Vigoro fertilizer for gardens and flowers—we have it in 50-lb., 25-lb., and 50-lb. sizes.

Saturday morning started off with a bang—fishing tackle, lawn mowers and Vigoro fertilizer. Ralph Lucas bought a fly rod, reel and all the trimmings; Wendell McCubbin also bought rod, reel and line. Several of my customers from out at Boone Lake were buying fishing tackle; others were buying paint and nails. R. M. Hall sent down for some Vigoro to put on his garden. Ben Dixon, wife, mother and three boys were in and Ben Dixon bought plastic window shades and Bolce enamel. Walter Kidwell from Crittenden, was buying more galvanized pipe and fittings for the Crittenden Christian Church.

Marvin Kite and wife were right on the job—they are regular Saturday night customers. Edward Kennedy bought sheep shearing knives and combs, wool bags and twine. We have the wool bags now, if you are ready to shear. Harry D. Mayhugh, Jr. came in to bid us goodbye—he is going to California to live. He has a job waiting. We wish Harry lots of luck and prosperity years ahead. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Slayback were buying lineoleum and white interior gloss paint.

Allen Conner is painting her insurance office with Bolce cheap water mix paint. It does a nice job and cheap too—just call for Floratone. Omer Osborne bought enough white paint to paint his house—he likes Bolce paint. Mrs. Nan Ranson, who has used lots of Bolce paint, came up after a gallon of green, rose and yellow Floratone. It really covers for water mix paint. Mrs. William Lancaster was after screen wire—she said Allice Neumeister was doing fine. We just received a very fine selection of rag throw rugs for $1.69 and $1.98. We are always getting in new merchandise—come to CONRAD'S and look, loaf or buy!

State-Wide Motor Vehicle Check By Troopers May 14-18

The State Police are planning a state-wide motor vehicle check from May 14 through 18, it was announced this week by Capt. Estill Jones. Jones said the purpose of the check is to insure greater safety on the highways for summer travel and attempt to curb accidents by spotting vehicles with mechanical defects and instructing the owner to have them repaired.

The inspection will be carried on in or near all cities and towns in the state. In some towns where the city police wish to cooperate, inspections will be held on the outskirts of the town.

State Police officers will inform the driver that it is a voluntary inspection. "We hope," Capt. Jones said, "the public will cooperate with us to the fullest because it is for their own benefit."

Such things as vehicle license, operator's license, brakes, lights, horn, windshield wipers, tires, vision, and steering mechanism will be checked. Special attention is to be taken with milky windshields, or any vision obstruction on either the windshield or rear glasses.

These inspection procedures are to be followed. One trooper stops the car, checks for operator's license, and informs the driver that it is a voluntary vehicle check. He then checks the headlights, including a dimmer, steering wheel, horn, windshield wipers, and asks the driver to proceed to the next officer at 15 miles per hour and apply his brakes suddenly.

The second Trooper is about 30 feet from where the car stopped has checked to see if the headlights were on and dimmed when the first officer asked the driver to turn them on. He also checks the brakes and tail lights. The first officer makes out the inspection slip and the second one issues all warnings and citations.

A vehicle that passes the inspection will receive a sticker to be placed on the right ventilator window, not on the windshield.

"Special attention is to be paid to older model cars and trucks. No one will be held up for this inspection for an unreasonable length of time," Jones said.

Bob & Gene, Florence entry in the K.A.G. Semi-Pro Baseball League, won their second game of the season, Sunday, and also won their second consecutive shut-out. Jim Bunting was on the firing-line for the Eadesmen and let the Hoosier All-Stars down with two safeties for his first victory of the year. Neal Conner was the hitting star for B&G with a two-run homer and a single. Sox Benson added a triple and single and Don Ritter banged out a three-bagger, to add to the winners list parade.

KENTON GARDEN AND CULTURAL CLUB MEETS

Mr. C. A. Wicklund, Kenton County Agricultural Agent, was guest speaker for The Kenton County Garden and Cultural Club at the April meeting, when the club met at the home of Mrs. W. A. Damon. Mr. Wicklund chose as his subject, "Flowers."

Plans were made for the Flower Show to be held May 24, from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m., at the Independence Christian Church, with Mrs. Robert Crutcher, hostess. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. S. C. Flisk, chairman, made arrangements to meet with her committee, Mesdames, Orie S. Ware, Henry Fletcher and Leslie Wagner on Thursday, May 3 for final plans for the flower show. There were 24 members and 17 guests present.

Mrs. Bary Guest Speaker at Walton Woman's Club Meeting

The Walton Woman's Literary Club was delightfully entertained May 2, by Miss Jean Chambers, in her home, assisted by her sisters, Miss Marie Chambers and Mrs. Stanley Hanson. Mrs. Clayton Jones, Vice Mayor of the Fifth District, and Mrs. Howard Bary, Ft. Thomas, President of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, were present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. W. D. Scroggin. Minutes of last meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Jean Chambers, and approved. The club sponsored the 1951 Heart Fund campaign in the community, and had a worthwhile contribution for the Kentucky Heart Association.

Members of the club were asked to take books to the June meeting which will be sent to Japan. Delegates were appointed to attend the convention at Lexington, in May. Mrs. Bary stressed the importance of more stringent examinations for the people obtaining driver's licenses in order to help prevent so many highway accidents.

As Mrs. Wallace Grubbs was unable to attend the meeting, Mrs. C. W. Ransler acted as program leader. The roll call by Mrs. Leo Flynn, was answered with a "Tribute to Mother." Mrs. Pearl Johnson read Spiritual Guidance. She told that the ancient Chinese always had a little iron man in front of all sailors, pointing to the South, guarding their safety on voyages. From this Chinese invention came the Mariner's Compass. She said, "All of us are sailors on the ocean of life and our guiding star is our creator. We have a line, we might call our little iron man, 'Trust in God and try to do right'."

Mrs. Howard Bary of Ft. Thomas, President of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, was the guest speaker and she had the undivided attention of all as her talk was about all were so much interested in at this particular time. She told us we must keep our Nation spiritually and economically secure and to do this we must keep informed on all questions pertaining to our country and without fail go to the poles and vote for the person or persons we think best suited mentally and spiritually to run our government. Women too must practice tolerance, understanding and kindness in every-day living, because it is necessary to live together in harmony or meet complete destruction, she said.

The meeting adjourned with a social hour was enjoyed by all. An excellent dessert luncheon was served to six guests and twenty-six members.

The June meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. C. W. Ransler.

Local Delegates Named To Highway Safety Conference May 18

Thirty-seven persons from Boone County have been appointed by Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby as delegates to the Kentucky Highway Safety Conference at the University of Kentucky at Lexington, May 18.

Governor Wetherby called the conference to seek ways of reducing highway accidents throughout the state and called on all Kentuckians to support the meeting and to show an active interest in a vigorous safety program.

He pointed out that motor accidents killed 678 persons in Kentucky last year and that 1951 promises to be just as bloody if remedial steps are not taken. He said that highway safety conferences in other states have shown their worth in reduced accident tolls and that the same good can be done in Kentucky with the support of the people of the state.

The local delegation will join some 7,000 other delegates in Lexington. All city and county officials in the state have been invited along with officials of service clubs, veterans organizations, highway and motor clubs, school and church organizations as well as other groups.

Walton—Mrs. Elbert Cook, Randall L. Martin, Herman Simmons, Mrs. Evan Hance, S. W. Durr, R. C. Durr, R. M. Hall, Louis T. Schwab, James R. Allen, John H. Wood, J. O. Ward, Charles G. Worthington, Mark Meadows, and R. E. Brugh.

Verona—Mrs. Fred Hamilton, and Tom J. Carr.

Union—J. Lassing Huey.

Florence—Rev. Robert H. Carter, Gilbey Grey, W. Groves, Mrs. J. Shouse, and R. L. Shears.

HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT BASEBALL TOURNAMENT

The High School District Baseball Tournament will be played at Verona on May 17 and 18, with Walton-Verona High School acting as host. Walton-Verona has won 5 games while losing one, and has won the district meet the past two years.

Only four of the first twenty-two restaurants in Louisville checked by his investigators were found complying with price control regulations. Arthur Perlman, Acting Enforcement Chief, has informed John W. Manning, Kentucky Director of the Office of Price Stabilization.

Manning ordered that the twenty-two restaurants not in compliance be given five days to file the required information or face injunction proceedings in Federal Court.

The information required by April 30, of all restaurants and eating places includes a statement as to the base period selected for computing the ratio of food cost per dollar of sales at a restaurant, the gross sales and food cost during this period, and of special charges such as cover and minimum charges made during the base period.

Manning's injunction threat was synchronized with similar warnings issued by other OPS offices throughout the nation. He was told by Perlman that a survey in Paducah is presently under way and that similar surveys in other cities of the state will be made in the near future.

New Beef Ceiling Prices Next Week

Retail butchers are required to post, by June 4, the new ceiling prices for beef cuts that go into effect May 14, says the Kentucky District Office of Price Stabilization.

These beef prices will be effective until July 31. On that date OPS will put into effect the first of two ceiling price reductions. The next ceiling price reduction will take place October 1.

Enforcement of Weight Laws to Be Rigid Against Truckers

Truck operators who have been violating the Kentucky highway weight laws are going to find it harder to get away with, John M. Kinnaird, Commissioner of Motor Transportation, warned this week.

Kinnaird said he has instructed his field agents to increase their efforts to detect violators because of the poor condition of many of the highways in the state as the result of an extremely hard winter.

Although the agents are regularly on duty checking truck weights, they have been told to put special emphasis on their work, Kinnaird said. Heavy freezes and the thaw that followed have left Kentucky highways more susceptible than ever before to breaking up under too much weight, and damage has already been caused along many of the prime roads, he pointed out.

The Department of Highways has estimated that had weather caused a highway damage of some $8,000,000 throughout Kentucky last winter. Commissioner of Highways W. F. Curdin has declared that the problem of maintenance is the greatest in the department's history.

Kinnaird said that the agents will weigh trucks on portable scales and that they will be on duty in all parts of the state making spot checks along the highway. They will be accompanied by officers of the State Police who will assist in traffic control during the weighing.

The law permits gross loads of up to 42,000 pounds on designated trucking highways. There is an 18,000-pound axle limit.

The Department of Highways is empowered to designate which roads may be used by trucks and to impose weight limits below the maximum on other roads.

The OPS regulation controlling beef prices is part of a group of regulations that reduce the prices that consumers pay of about 10%, says OPS. Actual percentage reductions will be partly dependent on the type and style of beef cuts. The ceiling effective next week hold retail prices at about the freeze level of about 18 February.

The OPS regulation controlling beef prices is part of a group of regulations that reduce the prices that consumers pay for beef cattle and that wholesalers may charge retail butchers.

The cattle prices will be reduced about 10% on May 20. Another 4% on July 23, and still another 4% on September 20.

The prices slaughterers may pay for cattle are the lowest which will protect cattle feeders against inventory losses on cattle acquired before the freeze date. The three reductions consider both the feeders position and assurance of orderly marketing through normal channels.

Grocers to Fix Ceiling May 14

Retail grocers as well as wholesalers on May 14 are required to put into effect ceiling prices for a long list of standard grocery items, says the OPS District Office, Louisville. This means that all sellers must recalculate their prices on many items to determine their allowable ceiling price under the regulation which affects them. Kentucky grocers (except those in Boone, Kenton and Campbell counties, which are under the Cincinnati Office) get very information they need from Louisville District OPS Office at 307 South Fifth Street.

As fast as we can, we're changing the "voice" of our Diesel locomotives. Why? Because our neighbors along the Southern told us that, as much as they liked our modern Diesels, they missed the friendly sound of the familiar steam engine whistles echoing across the countryside.

So we got busy. To replace the deep-throated blat-t of the original air horns on our Diesels we developed a melodious "airchime" signal that recaptures all the nostalgic sound of the old steam whistle.

A little thing? To you, perhaps... but not to us! For being a "good neighbor" to the people we serve is one of the biggest, most important things the Southern Railway System can do.

CONSERVATION

By John C. Acree
Grass and Legume Mixture
For Meadows and Pastures
It is very interesting to hear a group of farmers or agricultural men argue as to what mixture of grasses makes the best seeding. There are several factors involved in selecting a good seeding mixture, namely:

1—The paction to the land.
Does the soil prevent the ground from washing?
2—Palatability. Does the stock eat the grass well?
3—Price. Although the first price is not always the cheapest, this must be considered.

4—Food value. s the mixture high in digestible nutrients or in other words, will the mixture make the old cow double her milk flow?
5—Adaptability. Some grasses require a sweeter soil than others, or more food elements, such as phosphate and potash. Also some grasses will grow on wet soils while others will thrive on well drained soils.

All these factors and many more should be considered when buying your grass seed.
A committee was selected to make recommendations for correct seed mixtures that might be used. This committee consisted of C. A. Wicklund, County Agent; John E. Gray, Vocational Agriculture Teacher; J. C. Acree, Soil Conservation Service; Frank Calvin, Farm Home Administration; William Parker, R.E.A. Director; Mose Black, Soil Conservation Supervisor and farmer; Howard Benson, Production Marketing, and John E. Hetterman and George Salisbury, Veterans Training.

The following mixtures are recommended to be used in Kenton county:
Three pasture mixtures, rates per acre—
1—10 lbs. fescue, 1 lb. ladino clover and 5 lbs. Korean Lespedeza.
2—14 lbs. orchard grass, 1 lb. ladino clover, 1 lb. alsike, and 5 lbs. lespedeza.
3—8 lbs. blue grass, 5 lbs. lespedeza, 1 lb. ladino, 3 lbs. redtop, and 3 lbs. timothy.

Meadow mixtures—
1—For well drained land that is sweet or neutral: 15 lbs. alfalfa, and 10 lbs. orchard grass.
2—5 lbs. red clover, 5 lbs. lespedeza, one or more of these three, 3 lbs. red top, 3 lbs. timothy, 7 lbs. orchard grass.

Please remember these suggestions:
1—A good meadow will make a good pasture or vice versa.
2—Most Kenton county soils are slight to strongly acid and most are short on phosphate, potash and organic matter. Have your soils tested.

3—A large percent of the bottom land wet and the ridges are cold or slightly wet and deep rooted plants will die or heave out.

Any one of the committee will be glad to advise with you on your seeding problems. Get a circular from your County Agent on seeding pastures and meadows and soil treatments or consult your Soil Conservation Technician on good land use.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Blessing Service for Babies will be held in which babies will be blessed and parents will pledge themselves the responsibility of giving the child Christian teaching in the Home and in the Church. It will be a dedication for parents.

The doors of the Church will be open for all who desire to take membership with the local congregation. Challenge will be presented to accept Christ as the Lord of Life and dedication of life to Christian living.

The Christian Youth Fellowship will meet at 7 p. m. in Fellowship Hall. A special Mother's Day program will be presented at this time. Mothers of the youth will be guests at this meeting.

At 8 p. m. there will be a Candle-light Church Worship Service, with Mothers' favorite hymns. Rev. Gravely's message will be "The Responsibilities and Opportunities of Church Membership Today." The great opportunity is here. The crisis we face is a challenge to let the light of Christians everywhere shine brighter than ever before. "When it gets darkest, the stars come out" and we do need shining stars of faith in a world of darkness and sin. Share with us in one hour of fellowship with Christ and fellowship with His children.

Honor your Mother by attending Church on Mother's Day. If she is in your community, attend Bible School and Church with her. If she has gone on to eternally, then honor her memory and love with your presence that would please her the most, in the Church Worship Service. If you are not a follower of Christ, join Him Mother's Day, and make this your finest gift to Mother on Mother's Day. This brings the greatest joy and lasts longer than anything else we can do in life.—Pub. Chm.

Mrs. Joe Code, Mrs. Matthew Flynn and Mrs. Harold McLooney attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Will Armstrong, at Lexington, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wilson called on his grandmother, Mrs. Terese Wilson, at Williamstown, on Sunday.

It's the only new-type engine in any "new car"!

Chrysler FirePower

Finest engine ever put in an automobile

180 HORSEPOWER

The new Chrysler Hemispherical Combustion Chamber, heart of the finest car engine built today. In this dome-topped area, you see the only ideal combustion chamber... the only way to develop full combustion, full compression, full work and value from every drop of fuel!

With so many engines claiming newness... how can we call FirePower the only new type engine today? The answer's very simple, and one you ought to know before you invest in a car. The fact is that engine "improvements" happen every year... but a basically new motor car engine is a very rare thing. And FirePower is the most basic new development since Chrysler introduced high-compression in 1924! To get to the heart of the matter, just go to the heart of the engine... the combustion chamber where the spark fires gas into power. Here Chrysler brings you something no car has had till now... a Hemispherical combustion chamber... the only perfect and ideal combustion chamber in any passenger car. Here the same amount of gasoline delivers you far more energy than it could in any other car. What this means to the man at FirePower's wheel is impossible to tell you till you take that wheel yourself. FirePower's 180 horsepower can outperform any other engine on the road, even on regular grade gas. Remember, too, that Chrysler now offers the wondrous road-ease of new Oriflow shock absorbers with twice the shock-absorbing power of any others... and the exclusive safety and delight of Hydramatic power steering* which takes four-fifths of the work out of steering! You can learn for yourself how Chrysler has changed your motoring life by seeing your Chrysler dealer now!

What's My Secret for Saving?

"What with all the unmet expenses and trying to do my Christmas shopping early, I never seem to have much money. But, one thing I always do is a part of our income into our insured savings account before buying a single thing. That makes a sure thing of saving. Why don't you try it, too? Accounts may be opened here with any amount."

How Nations Decay

Lesson for May 13, 1951

"THE mortality rate of nations is 100%." So Dr. T. W. Lingle used to put the fact that no nation yet has lived forever. They all die sooner or later. What kills them?

The student of history may delve into such books as Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" or Spengler's "Decline of the West," or Toynbee's more optimistic six-volume "Study of History."

But when the juice has been squeezed out of these learned and interesting volumes, the Truth's essence turns out to be much the same as what we can find by reading the Old Testament. True, the nations under the Old Testament lens are not big empires like Rome, still less like the British Empire; the kingdom of Israel was only about 100 miles long and 60 miles wide, while the kingdom of Judah was smaller than many an American county.

Promise

WHEN Solomon died, the kingdom he had inherited from David had already shrunk. After his death, what was left immediately split into two kingdoms, the one on the south called Judah and the one in the north called Israel.

The nation of Israel, which lasted more than 200 years, began with great promise. Indeed, one of God's prophets (1 Kings II) had given to Jeroboam, the first king, the same promise which had been given David, of an enduring kingdom on condition of obedience to God.

Everything seemed to be favorable. Israel had more territory than most of her neighbors had, a far more productive soil, and easy access to transportation.

Crash

ISRAEL should have succeeded; but it failed. Only a little more than 200 years afterwards, no very great age as nations go, it crashed completely, never to rise again.

When the walls of its "impregnable" capital city of Samaria, after a two-year siege, fell to the battering-rams of the Assyrian army, and over 27,000 leading citizens were deported, that was the end of Israel for good and all.

How did this happen?

The Hebrew historian ties everything into a few words when he says that they wrought wicked things . . . they rejected God's statutes . . . they served idols.

But what were the details? What, in particular, did the nation of Israel do that was wicked?

Reading the prophet Amos will give many of the answers. At the time he preached, by all chamber-of-commerce standards Israel was at the peak of production and prosperity. But he foresaw doom around the corner, and he gave reasons. He called a spade a spade. Reading him, or even reading the bald accounts in Kings, we can see the collapse was no mystery.

Other gods

ONE thing fundamentally wrong with Israel was idolatry. This was not the simple matter of making carved images; it meant taking some other "god" to be the true God.

We know what the religious of Chemish and Molech and Baal were like; they were thoroughly bad. In the law of the true God, life and purity were regarded as sacred; life and purity under these other gods were held cheap. But one can see from reading Amos that what the people of Israel really worshipped was still another idol to whom no statue was erected: their own pleasures.

Too many citizens didn't care what happened to the country, so long as they could get their liquor. Well, let us not read the Old Testament from mere curiosity. Where about our own nation, our own people and times? The United Stewardship Council (now the Joint Department of Stewardship of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.) reports that every year since 1934, excepting 1935, has shown an increase in giving through the churches.

But the percent of the increase is not so large as the increase of annual income. The increase for contributions through the church of God is less, far less, than the increase in spending for alcoholic liquors, soft drinks, candy, football games, jewelry, and a multitude of other things. We, like Israel, are putting God last!

Refrigerator Month

The month of May is Refrigerator Month, as hot weather starts and you wonder about the old refrigerator, or if you do not have one, you have done without for years, but have wanted a refrigerator for some time—well, now is the time to get one, with a big discount for cash or a big trade-in value for your old one. I have five and I am going to sell them this month—I need the floor space and the cash. I also have three Perfection Electric Ranges that I am going to sell this month, the same as the refrigerators. If you want a good deal, come to Conrad's for Dayton Water Systems, at a special price of $99.50 for a short while.

Ray Elliott, up on Bracht-Piner Road, bought his wife a Reo Power Lawn Mower. Dr. Luther Bach, down by Highland Stock Farm, called for some field fence. Mrs. Wm. Lancaster just called for a roll of poultry fence. Mrs. Everett Bickers bought four white plastic window shades. Helen Stephenson bought more Bolce white enamel and catches for her kitchen cabinet. Grandma Trapp and Nick drove up to the side door and bought a lot of Bolce paint for her kitchen, then she wanted a new power lawn mower—Ray took one out and she bought it.

Fred Bott called for a ladder and Ray delivered it. About that time Kruse Hardware truck unloaded a truck load of hardware and galvanized pipe. When he pulled out another truck pulled in with eleven Anchor heaters for next fall, supposed to be delivered in September but came in May, as Anchor Store Co. cannot get any more steel to make stoves, so they are cleaning out their warehouses. Then Goyle and Gene McClary wanted an Eclipse hand mower. Mrs. Wm. Reynolds wanted Bolce enamel and a 6x12 Armstrong rug. Nathan Brewster bought a garden plow and screen door fixtures.

John Gault, the antique dealer, bought a sickle stone for his sickle grinder. Mrs. Ed Hamilton and Mrs. Hodges, her mother, were buying varnish and pans. Mrs. Chas. Steers bought Bolce interior glass and looked my stock of 8x12 rugs over. About 75 to select from. Edna Combs called for Chick to stop and measure her windows for new plastic window shades. Albert Rosematt and Chick had a terrible time repairing Albert's chicken brooder, but after so long time, they did it. The transfer truck just unloaded a lot of blue ties—if you will need any for hay season, you had better get them now—there will not be enough to go around.

Mr. Masters, from Gallatin county, stopped today and bought two Rustus plows. Joe Northcutt needed his spreader repaired. Ed Fennell, from Zion Station, bought a lot of linoleum. Lilly Howard bought a 12x15 Armstrong rug—she must be house cleaning. Mary K. Stephens was in today getting pump repairs. W. H. Poe from South Fork, was here after fork handles. William Roberts bought a new lawn mower for Nellie. Mrs. Dewey Ferguson came over after a large electric fan for Verona school lunch room. Mrs. Cleve Marsh bought point and screen wire—she likes that Bolce paint. Mr. and Mrs. Alton Petty from Banklick, bought eight window screens—these metal adjustable screens are very handy and they will last for years. Mrs. Robert Benton bought a whole cranial of rag rugs—these are very nice and cheap, too—when they get dirty, just put them in the washer. Mrs. Beulah Stephenson was in buying milk crocks. Helen Stephenson and Mrs. Clifford Mann were buying window shades—these plastic shades sell like hot dogs at Consey Island.

Saturday was one of those busy May days—we sold so many lawn mowers I don't believe I can remember who bought all of them: Emma Jane Miller and Ray Hurd bought Eclipse hand mowers; Joe Lawrence bought an F&N Boulevard hand mower; Mrs. Belle Brees from Concord neighborhood bought a Reo Royale power mower; three strangers bought hand mowers, and others bought mowers, but I forgot who they were. Mr. Jump from Mt. Zion stopped and loaded a rubber tire wagon on his truck.

Geo. Fisher bought enough bronze screen wire to screen in his porch—bronze screen sounds high to screen in his porch, but it will last a lifetime. Mrs. Alfred Hume bought more enamel, Beacon wax and some rug throw rugs. Ruth Worthington, out on Piner Road, came in after a 6x12 Armstrong rug. Louis Schwab, who operates the Phoenix Restaurant, also bought a 6x12 rug. Mrs. Pearl Brewster bought a piece of Armstrong linoleum 9x20 for her kitchen. Then came Mrs. Frank West, down on Locust Street, who bought the best Eclipse hand mower I had.

Leslie Hoffman called in for three new farm gates. Brewster put up new venetian blinds in the editor's house. They are nice—these Breneman blinds are well constructed and we have them made to fit your windows. Nathan Brewster just finished painting his house on High Street—he used Bolce outside white.

Not much news this week, but the big events are: The Baptist Church called Rev. William Burket of Glenwood, for their pastor, beginning June 1; Betty Webster, wife of our television man, home from the hospital and doing fine; Stanley Vollandingham is home for a few days but has to go back to the hospital for a few days. Sunday is Mothers Day, so don't forget to come to Conrad's and get her a new pot, pan, percolator or a new refrigerator, washer or range. Give her a gift, large or small, and get it at CONRAD HARDWARE!

"Biographical Sketches from the Life of John Uri Lloyd" was the subject of a paper presented by Miss Frances Sebree at a meeting of the Boone County Historical Society on Friday, April 20. Miss Sebree is a teacher in the Florence High School and a life-long resident of the Florence community.

John Uri Lloyd was born in West Bloomfield, N. Y., April 19, 1849. At the age of five, he with his parents, came to Boone County. He lived in Northern Kentucky and in Cincinnati, until March of 1936, when he went to California, where he died on April 9.

Mr. Lloyd was professor of Chemistry at the Cincinnati College of Pharmacy during 1882-87. He and his brothers founded the Lloyd L. Freary, which at present comprises about 200,000 books and pamphlets in the fields of botany, pharmacy, chemistry and natural history.

The next meeting of the Boone County Historical Society will be held on Friday, May 18, at the Florence Town Hall, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Harry Mitchell, teacher in Holmes High School, Covington, will present a paper on "Bluegrass." She recently completed a study of this grass, which has contributed so much to the fame and fortune of this state.

The meetings of the society are open to the public and anyone interested is invited to attend.

Mrs. Matthew Flynn gave the Spiritual Guidance for the evening. Mrs. Gayle McElroy closed the program by giving some very timely thoughts on International Relations.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Charles Hayes, the club decided to send a box of clothing to an Italian family. Miss Sarah Cook

The curtain rises on the first act of "High Pressure Homer," the evening of May 18, at the New Haven auditorium, and the Woodruff family in all of their mad glory. Each and every member of this family has a hobby and nobody will be able to resist howling with glee at their mad pranks.

Homer Hampton Haywood, portrayed by Scottie Friend, is a young show-off, who, in spite of his high opinion of himself, only succeeds in making a hopeless mess of everything he tackles. Mrs. Woodruff (Joan Anderson), is inclined to be rattled-brained and simply adores attending funerals. Her husband, Chester (George Baker), is a fiend for fire. This family includes Arlene (Faye Judge), a pretty, charming girl, who is refreshingly natural and sincere; Boots (Sarah Cook), a 16-year-old, who believes she is the world's greatest actress; and Junior (Donnie Mason), who is interested in anything that has to do with mechanics. The cast also includes Mrs. Taylor (Elizabeth Rosenstiel) and Bunny, her daughter (Babe Kenner), the next-door neighbors, Cor Woodruff (Della Jones), Chester's sister, Tom (Ronnie Crume), a well-groomed gentleman with an engaging personality, and Chester's Cousin (Charles Flynn), a tall, imposing man of fifty.

Tickets may be obtained at the door. Curtain time: 8:00 p. m. Admission: Reserved seats, 50c; adults, 40c; students, 25c. You'll have one of the most amusing and entertaining evenings you have ever spent.

Check Indicates Violations In Farm Truck License Law

A preliminary check shows there may be considerable violation of the law governing the use of farm truck licenses, the Department of Revenue announced in Frankfort.

The law provides that any farmer owning a truck not exceeding a gross weight of 22,000 pounds may register it for a fee of $4.50. However, to qualify for this registration fee the truck must be owned by a farmer engaged solely in the production of crops, livestock, or dairy products. It can be used only in transporting persons, food, stock feed, and machinery used in operating his farm and transporting the products grown on his farm.

He must also file an affidavit with the county clerk covering these facts, and must have on each side of his truck, in letters at least three inches high, an indication that it is a farmer's truck. The affidavit requirement is met when the clerk's copy of the registration certificate is signed by the farmer at the time of registration. Violators of the above requirements are liable to fines up to $100.

Blessing Service For Children Held Sunday At Christian Church

Mother's Day was a great day of victory for the First Christian Church of Walton, according to the pastor. Over 211 were present for the Bible school hour, with two of the adult classes having to move to the church sanctuary, and a third class overflowing its classroom space. A large and liberal offering was received for the work of Christian education through the Bible school program.

At the 11 o'clock hour, the morning worship service, a large congregation almost filled the sanctuary for a beautiful and challenging service of worship and communion. The youth choir sang a Mother's Day anthem, "A Mother's Prayer" by Thompson. The adult choir sang "The Awakening Chorus" by Gabriel. The solo of Mrs. Gravelly, just before the sermon, was "For My Mother" by Mariotte. Rev. Gravelly's sermon was a plea and challenge to the Mothers of today to bring their children up in nurture of prayer, self-sacrifice, and the high moral teachings of Jesus, making Him the center of a life and the love of the home. He further challenged the congregation. (Continued on Page 5)

"KEEP CITY CLEAN"

The Walton City Council issued an order at its regular meeting Monday, May 14, for all business houses, and anyone else in the city limits, to turn in waste paper or trash, to use a metal container covered with ½-in. mesh wire; also to stop throwing bottles, cans and garbage out of the back of buildings, causing a fire hazard and rat dens. There is a law against this and the city has a truck every week to pick up all waste and junk. All you have to do is put your waste in a container and set it out on the street every Saturday morning and it will be taken away. Please abide with this order and keep our city clean, is the appeal of the City Council.

He also brought out the importance of buying top-grade seed at all times and how it would save labor and improve pastures and lawns. The business meeting followed, with Charles Gall, president, in charge.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reimer, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hiatt, Mr. and Mrs. George Finnell, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Works, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blau, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gall, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Klenstrup, Mr. and Mrs. John Hetterman, and George Wolasing.

217 Local Students Given Eye Test

The eye clinic sponsored by the Walton Lions Club for the benefit of pupils of the Walton-Verona school, was completed last week, according to Mrs. J. B. Johnson, who supervised the examinations. Through the cooperation of J. O. Ward, Superintendent, and the school faculty, 217 pupils were examined from Grade 3 through Grade 12. Assisting Mrs. Johnson in the examining and scoring of these tests were Mrs. Clarence Hoffman, Mrs. Charles Worthington, and Mrs. O. F. Young.

The equipment, the Keystone Visual Test, employing the Snellen method, was loaned by the Erlanger Lions Club. This system is used by many industrial firms in pre-employment examinations, and is considered accurate and profitable.

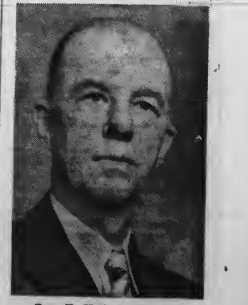

The results of the examinations indicated that 103 of 217 pupils examined failed to meet the generally accepted requirements of normal and unimpaired vision. Parents of children who failed to meet the normal standards will be advised by mail. This test indicates only that further professional examination should be given the pupil for eye glasses or other corrective treatment, where the optician so prescribes, and should not be regarded as conclusive.

It is suggested that parents take advantage of results of these tests by having an examination made by a qualified and competent professional.

IN MEMORIAM—

In remembrance of my beloved husband, Charles A. Wolfe, who passed away May 15, 1946:

Five years have passed since that sad day, when one we loved was called away.

There is a wisdom greater than our own, a plan we cannot know or understand, and when in sorrow we seem most alone, we're guided and sustained by God's own hand.

He grants to us the gift of memory, and as the years go on, one finds our dear ones are forever near, for death not only parts but truly binds. It-20* Sadly Missed by Emma

Annual Junior-Senior Picnic at Coney Island

The annual Junior-Senior picnic was held at Coney Island on Satur- day, May 5. Many pictures were taken, thrill rides were filled with pupils, and everyone seemed to enjoy the rays of sunshine. During the morning a softball game was played between the junior boys and the senior boys, with the assistance of Mr. Seebree and Mr. Hinsdale. The umpire was Mr. Noel, who officiates each year at this event, (touch job wasn't it, Mr. Noel?) The seniors won by a score resembling a basket- ball game.

Around noon, the seniors were hosts to the juniors from the lunch line. The juniors, under the super- vision of Mr. Neill and Miss Smith, furnished a delicious and plentiful picnic lunch. Other faculty mem- bers and friends present were: Dr. and Mrs. Clark and son, Mrs. Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Binder and son, Mr. and Mrs. Stambough, Mrs. Hinsdale and son, Miss Carpenter and Miss Skinner.

Everyone enjoyed themselves, and the pupils regretted that they had to leave so early.

BURLEY SHOULD PRODUCE 1,500 POUNDS PER ACRE, IS BELIEF

It should pay growers to plan for yields of 1,500 pounds or more of high-quality burley tobacco an acre, says a summary of fertilizer recommendations in Kentucky Circular 482 of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Other suggestions follow:

Phosphorus and potassium should be provided in excess of the expected needs of the crop. (The potassium should be provided mainly in sulfate form.)

The use of nitrogen should be adjusted to the other production factors of the soil so as to obtain the yield desired without decreasing quality.

A complete fertilizer, having a 4-12-8, 5-10-10 or similar analysis, with most of the potash from sulfate, is satisfactory to use on many fields at the rate of 1,000 to 1,500 pounds an acre. Where this amount is used, it is a good practice to broadcast the fertilizer on the cover crop and turn it under after April 1. On sodland, spread the fertilizer before disking and preparing for planting.

For special conditions, such as heavy use of manure, heavy growth of legumes in cover crop or preceding crops, or deficiency of a particular nutrient as shown by soil tests, use straight fertilizers as needed to correct the condition.

Where farm manure is to supply a part of the fertility needs of tobacco, it should be spread upon a growing crop (sod or cover crop) or turned under immediately following its removal from the bars.

A. S. Allison of Adair county made 250 chick electric brooder at a cost of $7.50.

In Shelby county, 1,17 samples of soil were laboratory tested in 124 months.

Plans are under way for the Pine Mountain Community Fair in Harlan county to be held the third Saturday in September.

Fifty-two thousand Tennessee Beauty strawberry plants were ordered for March delivery by Laurel county farmers.

Demonstrations of Black Shank resistant tobaccos will be carried on in Owsley county on the farms of Logan Burch and Andy Brown.

Shelby county's home-made, who tailored a suit, or coat, estimated they saved approximately two-thirds the cost of a ready-made garment.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

tion to making, "Christ the center of a child's faith."

At the close of the service, a Blessing service for children was conducted by the pastor for four young children and their parents. This was the first time in the history of the Walton church that this service was held.

The purpose of this part of the service was to recognize the sacredness of the life of a little child and to accept the child as a gift and responsibility of God to the parents.

The following children were blessed: Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Edwards; Charles, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ransier, Jr.; Glenna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Adams, and Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Spencer.

Next Sunday, May 20, the Rev. Gravelly's morning sermon will be, "The Church's Spiritual Power in Today's World," in which he will show the work of the church in a day of conflict and confusion, and how the power of God can still transform the world into a place of peace and righteousness, through the church, His living bride of Christ.

"The church is needed today more than ever to give signs of hope and to point them out to suffering and confused peoples of the world. Her light is still shining, for Christ is still among us," Rev. Gravelly said.

At the evening church service, Mr. Gravelly's message will be, "The Secret of Abiding Fruitfulness." This will be the third in a series of sermons on "The Great I Am's of St. John's Gospel," or "Christ is Christianity." There will be a sing-along service preceding the sermon.

There will be a meeting of all the young men and older men of the church on Thursday evening, May 24 at 8:45 p. m. There will be a pot-luck supper, followed by a guest speaker, after which plans will be made for the organization of a Christian Men's Fellowship in the church.

Prayer meeting on Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. Rev. Gravelly will give the final study in the Book of Acts. Special prayers will be made for the church, and the sick, the lost, and the work of the Church-around-the-world. "Come and share in the rich fellowship of the inner Circle as we worship and pray together in God's Upper Room" with Christ, our Saviour," the pastor urges.

Visitors are always welcomed at all of the services.

WE DELIVER : PHONE 10 : WALTON, KY.

As fast as we can, we're changing the "voice" of our Diesel locomotives. Why? Because our neighbors along the Southern told us that, as much as they liked our modern Diesels, they missed the friendly sound of the familiar steam engine whistles echoing across the country-side.

So we got busy. To replace the deep-throated blatt-t of the original air horns on our Diesels we developed a melodious "airchime" signal that recaptures all the nostalgic sound of the old steam whistle.

A little thing? To you, perhaps... but not to us! For being a "good neighbor" to the people we serve is one of the biggest, most important things the Southern Railway System can do.

Independence Homemakers

The April meeting of the Independence Homemakers Club was held in the home of Mrs. Wm. House. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Foster Armstrong. Roll call was answered with "a new flower I expect to grow this year." Reports of committees were given and Mrs. Reynolds gave the "thought of the day—Good Things to Learn." Mrs. Wm. House gave the garden lesson on "tomato and potato blight, and what to do" and "cultivation of shrubs and flowers." We talked over our project lesson for next year—Home management, flower arrangement, new window arrangement, landscape, and leathercraft.

Mrs. J. C. Reynolds reminded members of the District meeting. The project for the day was "sewing machine attachments," given by Mrs. Charles Davis and Mrs. C. S. Snelson. Samples of work, using different attachments, were displayed.

Those present were Mesdames: Charles Davis, William House, W. H. Summey, Logan Wayman, J. C. Reynolds, J. T. Stone, C. S. Snelson and Foster Armstrong.

Artificial Breeding Boost for Dairymen

The average dairymen cannot afford to keep bulls when artificial breeding service is available, is the opinion of H. H. Spahr of the Hardeman community in Graves county. "A farmer can gain six to 10 years in the grading up program in a single year through the use of the artificial breeding service," he said.

SCRIPTURE: II Kings 18-30; II Chron. 32-35
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 46

Dangers of Wartime
Lesson for May 20, 1951

NOT all the dangers of wartime are to life and limb. More serious dangers threaten the minds, the attitudes, the characters, the souls of those who make war. Some of our readers will find no war good war; others will draw a line between wars that are justified and wars that are not. But no matter how well-justified a war may be, its dangers to mind and heart are just as real as if it were not justified at all.

Along with this "might-is-right" idea is another one close to it: that the best way to persuade others to our way of thinking or to our way of living is to beat them over the head. That has never succeeded yet. You know yourself that you were never persuaded that way. Fists and guns and armies can make people change their minds, but never change their hearts.

The way to change people is through their minds and consciences and hearts. One act of international goodwill, justice or generosity is more potent than tons of high explosives. The sending of food, services, skilled help such as doctors and teachers, does more to win friends than any number of armed alliances. The Christian way is always the way of love.

Topsy-Turvy Land
THE waging of war creates illusions. Besides the one just mentioned, of confusing might with right, there is this one too: a nation at war lives in a kind of topsy-turvy land. What is of greatest value is rated low, and things of little value are made much of.

The longer a war goes on, the more of a habit this crooked scale of values becomes. For instance: normally we value life above all things. Violent death is something to make the headlines, and causing death to others is something from which we all shrink. But in wartime we are all tamed, so to speak, to the business of killing.

Whatever genius such a nation may have, whatever productive power, goes mainly to building up the military "potential," devising more and better ways of inflicting sudden death.

Dr. Charles Leber tells of remembering, when a boy, how his father and mother read in the paper about the sinking of the steamship Titanic, which went down with the loss of over 1,500 lives. It was breakfast time when they read the paper; but neither father nor mother could finish the meal.

That was before World War I. But now, forty years later, how many people would lose their appetite at reading of the death of a mere 1,500 persons? We are so used to slaughter that as Dr. Leber puts it, we have become brutalized, we have "lost our sense of compassionate shame."

The Illusion of Violence
TWO last illusions pursue the warring nation. One is that war is normal. In reality, however necessary war may ever be, it is never normal; but let it run too long or come too often, and people take it for granted.

The other illusion is that it is possible by war to end wars, that by one more war, one more victory, peace will be secured once and for all. It never works.

"The one thing you cannot do with bayonets is to sit upon them," Arnold J. Toynbee has warned us (see his "War and Civilization") that "the ultimate failure of all attempts to win salvation by the sword... is demonstrated in history."

He might have taken his text from Isaiah 31, or the history of Israel and Judah, for Isaiah was saying much the same thing to both Hezekiah and Sennacherib. But neither one understood him; and so their nations died. For whenever any nation puts its supreme faith in force, and neglects the character of its citizens, or the justice of its institutions, then it has forgotten God.

"I hereby announce as candidate for re-nomination to the office of Commonwealth Attorney of the 15th Judicial District, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held August 4, 1951.

"As you know, I have served two terms as Commonwealth Attorney and have tried to be fair, honest, and considerate in the enforcement of our laws, and yet I have been alert and vigorous in the prosecution of all those charged with crime. I have made no deals or commitments to any person, or group of persons in any way. I am free and independent to do my full duty as an official. My record speaks for itself. I trust that my past record has been such that it deserves your approval.

"No doubt, you realize that the Commonwealth Attorney is a very important official. He is the protection you have for your family and your property against the criminal element that would destroy your

Price Controls Are Explained to Farm Bureau Members

The Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation has scheduled nine meetings throughout the state in order to explain price control on live beef animals, which went into effect May 20. The meeting nearest here was held at Lexington, May 23, at the Livestock Pavilion, Experiment Station, University of Kentucky, at 7 p. m.

A group of Farm Bureau members from Boone county attended the meeting. They were asked to write their senators and congressmen asking them to vote to kill the wage and price provisions of the Defense Production Act, which expires June 30, of this year.

Prices by October 1, 1951 will be reduced by 18% to farmers on beef cattle, if the present law is not altered. This means that beef farmers will lose heavily and the same rigid price controls will later apply to other commodities.

You are urged to help your Farm Bureau take an active stand on this measure by your membership and by contacting your senators and congressmen.

BEAVER SERVICES

There will be services at Beaver Christian Church, May 27th, at 2:30 p. m. Everyone is welcome. Rev. J. Johnson will bring the message. All members are urged to be present as there will be a business meeting after the services.

OUTSTANDING STUDENT

Tommy Pruett, a senior at Dixie Heights High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pruett of Walton, was chosen by the faculty of the school as the most outstanding boy of the school. Miss Mary Lois Tanner of Burlington, was chosen at the most outstanding girl. The awards were presented at a dinner given recently at the school.

Tommy also won the Harvard Book Club Scholarship award last year, given to the junior boy with the highest scholastic standing and character.

SIGNS FOR MEMBERS

The Boone County Farm Bureau has purchased gate signs for its members, at cost. The signs are metal and are 14 inches by 10 inches, with the member's name painted on it. The sign also has the words, "Member Farm Bureau" and the emblem of the Kentucky and American Farm Bureau.

All Farm Bureau members have been contacted about ordering the signs, the orders to be placed with the secretary, John E. Cigler, by Friday, May 25.

Several of the other Farm Bureau organizations in nearby counties are using these signs and it is believed that they will not only aid members but boost the Bureau as well.

Gunpowder Homemakers

Reading of the scripture lesson by Mrs. Bert Markberry, serving as hostess, opened the May meeting of the Gunpowder Homemakers Club. Highlights of the District meeting were given by several who attended. A donation was given the Concer Fund. A report of the nominating committee, Mrs. Bert Markberry, Mrs. Charles Tanner and Mrs. Glenn Stevens, resulted in Mrs. Tanner being elected president; Mrs. Virgil Kelly, vice president, and Mrs. Wm. Ferguson, secretary-treasurer.

The lesson on "Painted Textiles" resulted in much interest and some pretty articles.

Answering roll call with "a beautiful thing I have seen or heard at night" were Mesdames Kenneth Conners, Sr., Edgar Utzinger, Dolph Sebre, Glenn Stevens, Chas. Tanner, M. E. Shelton, Cliff Norman, Virgil Kelly, B. M. Stevens and the hostesses; also visitors, Mrs. Dora Markberry, Mrs. Flora Kessler, Mrs. Norma Huser, Mrs. Harve Baker, Mrs. Harold Presser, and Mrs. Vic Ratchford.—Pub. Chm.

Belcher Fined $1500 On Slot Machine Charge Tuesday

Fines totaling $1,500 were given Willard Ray Belcher, operator of the Woodland Inn, near Bracht Station, by Judge Joseph P. Goodenough in Kenton Circuit Court Tuesday when he entered a plea of guilty to permitting the operation of six slot machines in the place.

The fine of $250 and costs on each court was given on the recommendation of James E. Quill, Kenton county commonwealth attorney.

Another indictment charging Belcher and Joe Green of Covington, with operating a card game at the inn, was continued indefinitely on the recommendation of Mr. Quill.

Mr. Quill said he was unable to prove that the card game, which was in progress when Kenton county police raided the place a month ago, was being operated by "the house."

Neuman Armstrong, Kenton county detective, said he would destroy the slot machines taken in the raid at 10 a. m., Friday, in the basement of the Covington City Building.

For the Bearcats, Mike Ryan allowed three hits and three runs, while striking out thirteen and issuing one pass. He also led the attack for the winners with two hits in three times at bat. With one out in the last inning Ryan tripled behind Arthur Linton's single to tie the score and later scored himself on an in-field grounder by Smith to win the ball game. Don Chapman and Chas. Henzman led Simon Kenton at bat with a triple each. Hughes pitched for the Pioneers and allowed four runs on three hits and gave up nine walks.

Walton-Verona advanced to the finals on the strength of a 10-1 victory over Gallatin County High of Warsaw. Simon Kenton had a bye.

In the first-round game Don Vest pitched for the 'Cats and allowed Gallatin County one run on four hits. Beach hurled for the losers and permitted 10 runs on nine hits, while his mates made two miscues. Ryan led the Bearcat attack with two hits in three trips to the plate, one out in the game was a long home run to right center field.

Walton-Verona will play in the regional meet at Newport this weekend.

Oak Ridge Homemakers

Mrs. Ed Piper conducted the business session when the Oak Ridge Homemakers Club held the May meeting in the home of Mrs. Burns Riggs on Taylor Mill Road.

Election of officers was the highlight of the meeting. Mrs. C. N. McNew is the newly-elected president, while Mrs. Ed Piper will serve as vice president. The following chairman reported: When Mrs. A. G. Bowling gave the report on citizenship, it was learned that many of the club members have "pen pals" in far-away lands, such as Germany and Korea. Mrs. Eugene Tomlin, program chairman, read the scripture lesson and a poem entitled "Beauty." Mrs. Ralph Lewellen, the gardening chairman, discussed the lesson leaf, let on tomato blight and methods of detouring evengreens; also the care of houseplants and flowers. Mrs. W. S. Wheeler gave the report on the Advisory Council meeting and announced that the 4-H County Fair will be held at the Simon Kenton High School, August 10.

A report, as taken from the club files, was read by Mrs. Russell Yates on the third annual meeting of the Federation of Homemakers, held in Lexington, in 1935. It was noted that one of the various ways the club used to help raise money for the transportation of members to and from the meetings was where one member made twenty bonnets and sold them for twenty cents each and donated the proceeds to the club.

July 17 is the date set for the annual picnic of the club, and the location will be decided on at the June meeting.

Three More Sale Days!

This week has been a whirlwind—May is always a busy month, and then this sale week on top of all the rest, we have been going in circles. Ray and Red are installing a new electric water heater in the Baptist parsonage. Chick and I have really been selling, putting up stock and doing a lot of repair work. We have cleaned out all of the $3.99 stepladders and cannot get any more. I believe everyone bought a $2.49 thermos jug, and we have lots of them left; also those folding lawn chairs with cloth backs and seats and metal frames—we have a few left. And these $18.95 lawn mowers are getting low—just a few left.

J. J. Steinhilber, from Demosville Rural Route, was here today buying fence staples and getting his wife some plastic window shades. Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson, from Parkers Grove neighborhood, were after D-Con rat poison, the poison that kills all the rats for years to come. Mrs. Gibson also bought a rat trap to catch Mr. Gibson in. Mrs. Jay Webster was buying pyrex baking dishes. Howe Hood bought the brightest red paint I had to paint his roof with—it will even scare all the birds away. Mrs. Ethel Shepherd, who lives on Alta Vista and has those good frying chickens to sell, bought a very fine butcher knife, one of our specials for 49¢, which did sell for $1.00.

Thurman Dunn on Green Road brought in a coupon for his kitchen knife for only 17¢. We had several customers for those $2.49 thermos jugs. This sale was not supposed to start until Friday, but as soon as they delivered those circulars our telephone started ringing. Now I know Mr. Keen's up with who buys what as they are coming too fast, but Rev. DeMolay sent after a set of dishes; Mrs. James Messmer called for metal iron board and cover; Mrs. Frances Dixon called for wheelbarrow and iron board pad and cover.

Walter Johnson came in and bought a new Bemis tobacco setter. Eddie Linton bought the used Bemis setter I had. I took in a used one from Mr. Johnson—if anyone needs a cheap setter, see me. We just unloaded 1,700 lbs. of 5-ft. lineoleum, five new patterns, and have seven more coming in, all new patterns and first grade lineoleum. Homer Ferris and wife just bought one of those $19.50 mowers on sale for $16.95—we have about ten more at this price.

Some of my customers must need a refrigerator—if you do, say so, and we will sell you one for cash with a large discount. I told you last week I have too much merchandise and I need the cash. If you need what I have, we can trade. I have three Perfection electric ranges, five Maytag washers, 10 Barton washers, five Gibson refrigerators, and lots of water heaters—if you need any of these "SEE CONRAD," Lib Ingram and Zedach Clark bought them a lawn mower—now they are looking for a man to push it—Miss Lib asked me if I would mow the yard and I told her yes, if I had time, but I am awfully busy. Mrs. Nick Blum and Estill Hudson bought a Bemis tobacco setter—Estill is farming with Mrs. Blum this year.

Dora Jones sure had orders today—one for a lawn mower, one for screen wire, one for Bolce point and plastic window shades. I thought I knew most everyone in this trading area, but every day we have customers we have never seen before. Caesar Arnett came after a pitcher pump and pipe—he is fixing up his tenant house—he is a real farmer and a fine fellow. Nick Trapp bought three steel barrels to haul water in. Omar Kite was in today—he was very quiet. He was inquiring about 2-4D and brush and weed killer. I told him all I knew about it, which was very little, and that is that it will kill buck brush, poison oak, honeysuckle and most any kind of weed or bush—he is going to try some later.

Friday was lawn mower day—Rev. Curtis, out at Boone Lake, bought a Reo power mower; Stella Cluser bought an Eclipse hand mower; Roland Gibson bought a hand mower, the kind on our special sale; Mrs. Walter King also bought one of the same kind; Raymond Conner bought a hand mower; two strangers bought hand mowers. Beulah Smith bought a beautiful Gold Seal rug for her kitchen. Arthur Burnine and Herman Rader bought thermos jugs; so did Bill Scroggin, who has those big fish in Verona Lake—try your luck some time.

Beckham Shields bought his granddaughter a very fine tricycle—nothing but the best for that granddaughter; very grandpa, Howard Denner bought his wife a gun range—this could be a surprise gift. Mr. Salmon, down on Fairview Court, bought his wife a new lawn mower. Uncle Bill Satchell from Verona, and I had a horse collar trade—he bought some Bemis tobacco setter repairs and screen wire. Russell Sparks needed mower repairs. Orin Britt and wife were intodry —Orin was doing the buying of mower repairs and filter disc.

Bill Satchell just came in after a horse collar. May Harrison bought a set of harness for her horse. Thursday, Friday and Saturday ends the BIG SALE WEEK. If you have not bought some of our bargains, come in before it is too late. If you will check these items on sale you will find they are all good merchandise and at extra low prices. Don't forget to come to CONRAD'S for "Quality Merchandise and the Best of Service."

Kenton Utopians Given Warning at Annual Meeting Recently

A warning that the United States was fast approaching the borders of Socialism by way of a mass of government restrictions and red tape, was voiced last night by John Cox, Executive Secretary of the Covington and Kenton County Chamber of Commerce, at the annual Kenton County Utopia Club dinner, given at the chamber's headquarters in Covington.

The Utopia Club is a rural youth organization under the wing of the Agricultural Extension Service and designed for youths older than those enrolled in the 4-H Club program. Charles Gail of the Kenton Utopia Club served as master of ceremonies and Robert Kientrup of the Crescent Springs Utopia Club directed group singing at the affair. Women of the Kenton club had been active in decorating the room in which the meeting was held. After the dinner there was a round of folk dancing. Joe Claxon, Senior Assistant Agriculture Agent, was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Cox declared that loss of freedom, if carried beyond a certain stage would make the nation an easy conquest for Soviet Russia. He expressed it thus: "We may wake up to find ourselves grogging like blind men, regulated and directed to the point that we shall become an easy conquest for those masters of darkness and terror—the Communists regime."

Karl Marx, the theorist of the Communist state, Mr. Cox said, was a firm believer in slavery and was of the opinion that every citizen should be compelled to labor at work assigned to him by state officials. In fact, Mr. Cox observed, Marx said in 1847, only a few years before the outbreak of the American Civil War, that "if slavery is abolished in the United States of America, the United States will be wiped off the map of nations."

Some 800 million people, the speaker said, now live in Communist controlled areas, and although some of them were put there by the sword the Communist philosophy is being drilled into their children. Facing this group, he said, are only 600 million people in the so-called Christian nations. Some of the nations in the Western Alliance, he added, are not properly speaking, Christian nations.

Turning to a comparison of agricultural conditions in the United States and Russia, the speaker declared that the average Soviet farmer, by hard labor, just manages to feed himself and two other persons. The average farmer in the United States, on the other hand, he asserted, feeds more than 20 persons in abundance.

Russia, Mr. Cox said, is girding herself for a final showdown with the United States, and any supposed concession by her leaders is only a matter of strategy, not of change in goals.

He quoted Josef Stalin: "When one enjoys an overwhelming superiority of forces, one can succeed by direct frontal attack. When forces are inadequate, detours, waiting periods, zigzags and retreats are necessary."

KAG SCHEDULE CHANGE

He leaves a sister, Miss Alicia Neumeister, who resided with him, three nieces and three nephews. Funeral services were held Tuesday, May 29, at 2:30 p. m. in the Walton Christian Church, with Rev. C. F. Highland officiating. Burial was in Highland Cemetery.

Hamilton funeral home, Verona, had charge of arrangements.

JOHN A. KENNEDY

John A. "Fink" Kennedy, age 86, died May 20 at the home of a son, Edward Kennedy, on Walton, Route 2. He was a member of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, and of Dry Ridge Council D. of A. Mr. Kennedy was a retired Grant county farmer, having owned and lived on his farm on Mt. Zion-Verona Road until about three years ago, when the farm was sold.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Flora Kennedy; two sons, Stanley Kennedy of Cambridge City, Ind., and Edward Kennedy, six grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. Tomato Blight Control Outlined By County Agent; Loss Heavy

Last year thousands of dollars worth of tomatoes were ruined by tomato blight, according to Bill Davis, County Agent. Recommendations for blight control are the same as last year, but rigid adherence to the schedule is emphasized. The material to use is one of the "fixed copper" sprays, such as Copper-A, COCS, Kopper King, Tri-basic Copper Sulphate, Dithane or Parzate. Two level tablespoons to each gallon of water makes a satisfactory spray. Cover the plants thoroughly and spray every 7 days until frost. Begin spraying now. One might wait a few weeks before starting the spraying if the weather is hot and dry, but this is a compromise and will give only partial control.

Remember that blight can not be cured, the only control is to prevent its getting a start.

Insects causing considerable damage to small tomato and potatoes are black fleabeetles which feed the leaves and cause them to turn yellow. The control for this insect is rotenone, DDT or Methoxychlor.

Especially desirable on vegetables are methoxychlor and DDT. Methoxychlor is probably the best as it can be used on all vegetables in the garden. Use two level tablespoons of methoxychlor in one gallon of water and spray every ten days until the insect disappears.

Cabbage insects such as green worms, cabbage looper and gray beetles will be among the first to appear in the garden. Rotenone spray or dust, ¼ strength, will stop all three.

The Daily Vacation Bible School conducted by the Walton Baptist Church will start Monday, June 4 at 9:00 a. m. The new pastor, Rev. William Beckwith, will be in charge of the school, assisted by teachers from the community. All children are cordially invited to attend.

A Pentecostal Church of God will have its opening at Verona, on Saturday evening, June 9. According to Ambrose Davis, organizer, visiting ministers will be present, and the public is cordially invited to attend. The meeting will be held in a hall to the rear of the Catholic church.

Four Killed, Several Injured In Head-on Auto Accident Sunday

Four persons were killed outright and seven others were injured, one seriously, in an early morning collision Sunday between two automobiles on U. S. 25, just south of Walton.

The two drivers were among those whose lives were snuffed out in the crash, which Kenton County police think may have been caused when a parked auto pulled out into traffic. The dead are Robert Callahan, 44, 242 River Road, Cincinnati, driver of one car; his wife, Flora Callahan, 27; Patricia Rose, 9, 2615 Sidney Street, Camp Washington, passenger in the Callahan car, and Eugene Fryman, 20, 117 West 8th Street, Newport, driver of the second car.

Passengers injured in the Callahan car were the dead girl's parents, Jack Rose, 30, and Modena Rose, 27 (the latter a left leg injury and she a head injury); Laura Callahan, 15, 1046 Freeman Ave., Cincinnati, a cousin of the driver, head injuries, and Mildred Callahan, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Callahan, cuts and head injuries.

Injured in the other car were Donald Deaton, 15, 839 Columbia Ave., Newport, face cuts and right jaw fracture; James Orcutt, 16, 413 Hodge St., Newport, left leg fracture and face cuts, and Norman Turner, 17, 705 Isabella St., Newport, fractures of left leg and both wrists, and serious cuts.

All of the injured except Turner were reported in "fair" condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington. Turner was considered as serious.

The dead were taken to the funeral of Chambers & Grubbs, Walton, by the ambulance of the Hamilton funeral home, Verona. Passing motorists in the Walton funeral home ambulance moved the injured to the hospital.

Relatives told police the youths in the second car were returning home from a weekend trip to Nashville, Tenn., and that the driver wanted the car home in time for use by his father.

MRS. MILLIE DICKERSON

Mrs. Millie S. Dickerson, 70, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. N. Caldwell, Crittenden, last Thursday.

Besides Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Dickerson is survived by four other daughters, Mrs. Della Cassin of Covington, Mrs. Nannie Jump of Erlanger, Mrs. Howard Barn of Falmouth, and Mrs. Silas Billiter of Erlanger; three sons, James F. and Earl M. Dickerson of Crittenden; and Omer F. E. Webster of Dry Ridge, and two sisters, Mrs. Omer Bush of Crittenden, and Miss Daisy Webster of Orlan.

Services were held at 2 p. m., Friday at the Crittenden Baptist Church with burial following in the Gardenview Cemetery.

4-H RALLIES HELD

Five 4-H Clubs in Kenton county have held their community spring rally during the month of May. At these community rallies the 4-H club members invited their parents and others interested in 4-H club work to attend. At each rally a program was presented and exhibits of 4-H projects shown.

The 4-H Club girls who were taking sewing, gave a style revue and the 4-H Club boys gave talks on their project work. Large groups attended the rallies. Over 200 attended the rally at Piner and over 100 attended the rally at the Holy Guardian Angel Clubs. Other clubs that held rallies were Valsala, St. Cecilia and Crescent Springs.

Walton Homemakers No. 2

Walton Homemakers, No. 2, met at the home of Mrs. Mattie Howlett on May 15. The president, Mrs. Mary Riddle, opened the meeting and the group sang "God Bless America," after which the business meeting was held. Mrs. Leo Flynn gave the lesson on stencil painting, and one apron and several doilies were painted. Seven members were present.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Agnes Sleet. A covered dish supper will be served.

Aged Minister Passes

Rev. W. A. M. Wood, retired Baptist minister, passed away at his home in Latonia, Sunday, May 20, after a long illness. His wife, a daughter, Mrs. Frances Maxwell, and a host of friends are left to mourn his going.

He was Field Worker, Missionary Pastor and organizer of Baptist Churches throughout the state of Kentucky. He organized Florence, Ft. Mitchell and Independence Baptist Churches. Folks at Independence will remember him as friend and counselor, one who stood willing and ready to serve as long as his health permitted.

He served the church here as its first pastor, and later was recalled to serve in the same capacity. He married many of the young folks, and said the last rites for many of the members.

The deepest sympathy of the church is extended to his wife and daughter, who ministered to him with such loving kindness.

So we'll think of him as "A Happy Land."

Where he is clasped by his Master's hand.

We will not think of him as dead, But of having "Eternal Life," instead.

Wilbur Shaw thinks so much of this new Chrysler, he has selected it as Pace Car for the 1951 Indianapolis 500-mile race

WILBUR SHAW, AMERICA'S MOST FAMOUS DRIVER, DRIVES NEW 1951 CHRYSLER—REPORTS ON REVOLUTIONARY FIREPOWER ENGINE AND HYDRAGUIDE POWER STEERING

Here are Wilbur Shaw's reactions—in his own words—as taken down by a recording machine in the car:

"The '51 Chrysler has it! With this new engine and power steering, the first on any U.S. car, it's a whale of an automobile.

"I'm completely bowled over by the ease of steering!

"This steering combined with the automatic transmission . . . is the nearest thing to an automatic pilot for a car I can possibly imagine.

"This engine . . . I can't get over the amount of power and snap in this engine . . . it's incredible!

"I drove 111 miles with the feeling I had expended no more effort than in driving around the block.

"When Mrs. Shaw drove, her comments just about squared with mine. Here's what she thinks of the 1951 Chrysler . . ."

Mrs. Shaw: "At first I could hardly believe the ease with which I could turn the wheel. That's important . . . especially in the summertime.

"Often after I have parked a car in the average parking space, I feel I should taxi home, shower and get dressed again. But with Hydraguide Power Steering I parked it with one hand. It practically drives itself."

Wilbur Shaw: "It's hard to describe this new Chrysler without going off the deep end . . . it has it in every department.

"In fact, I think so much of this car, I've selected it as Pace Car of the 1951 Indianapolis 500-mile race!" (Mr. Shaw's comments are reprinted through the courtesy of Popular Science Magazine.)

"Mr. Shaw refers of course to standard passenger cars—not racing cars or special models.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

by Gil Kingsbury

Political, social and legislative notes top the news of the week in the Nation's Capital as far as Kentuckians in Washington go.

We'll not dwell long at this time on the legislative news. A lot of Kentucky cattlemen and distillery operators descended on the Capital to talk over price and wage control problems.

The Social Notes:

Two events topped the social calendar. Former Governor and Mrs.

A. O. Stanley entertained in honor of the two Blue Grass senators, Earle C. Clements and Tom Underwood. The Kentucky colony turned out in force.

The other event was given by Mr. and Mrs. Max Trull. She's the daughter of the Vesp. And at the party they unveiled the picture of Mrs. Barkley, the one recently done by a noted artist. It was three-fourths life size. And—if the ladies are interested—Mrs. Barkley was dressed in a beautiful pink gown.

Political Notes:

Sport writers here in the Capital took an interest in Kentucky politics. One sports columnist reported that Kentucky politicians have assured Happy Chandler that if he runs for Governor, he's a shoo-in. The same writer selected Mameluke to win the Derby.

Another sports article on Washington Pages, told of the sensational professional debut of a young pro baseball pitcher—one James Park. Back on May 23, 1951, Jim pitched for Richmond against Maysville in the Blue Grass League. And the rookie won a no-hitter, 13 to 0.

Refugee Kentuckians believe Jim is the same as the well-known Kentucky Republican leader.

Senators Alive! Our friend, Joe Whelan, Bardonia, Senate Librarian, was asked the other day to find out how many former United States Senators are still alive. And he discovered that Kentucky leads the list—more than any other state. Here they are—six of them—Stanley, still going strong; Happy Chandler, also going strong; Withers, Stanfill and John Sherman Cooper. That's five. And the other?

Alben Barkley! Yep, still going strong.

Little Difficult: It gets a little difficult here in Washington at times to explain the location of cities and towns in Kentucky. Those who selected the names for this community and that, didn't pay much attention to logic.

For example, isn't it logical for a visitor to expect that Hickman would be the county seat of Hickman County? But actually, Hickman is the county seat of Fulton County, while Clinton is the county seat of Hickman County.

WLW cowboy Neal Burris takes time out from the Saturday "Midwestern Hayride" program over WLW at 6:30 p.m., EST, to indulge in his favorite pastime—eating popcorn.

Are you confused? Stay with us a minute. Madisonville is county seat of Hopkins County, which Richmond is the county seat of Madison County. Bardwell is county seat of Carlisle County, while Carlisle is the county seat of Nicholas County, and Nicholasville is the county seat of Jessamine County.

We could go on, but you get the idea. A Kentuckian in Washington some times has a difficult job telling a stranger about the wonders of his homeland.

Siberia for the Engineer

A U. S. naval attaché stationed in Moscow during the war tells the following story to illustrate the Russians' love of exactness:

Official business took him on an airplane trip. The weather was bad, but his pilot like many other Russian flight officers, seemed to distrust instruments and preferred to fly by landmark. He flew only a few hundred feet above the ground, just topping some of the hills along the route.

Suddenly the passenger felt a tremendous jolt. The plane had struck something! But it kept going and the pilot managed to land safely in a nearby field. Investigation revealed that a wing had clipped a train which reached the top of a hill as the plane flew past.

Questioned at the local police station, the Russian pilot protested stoutly that it was not his fault. To prove it, he reached into an inside pocket of his blouse and produced a railroad timetable.

"See," he said, pointing triumphantly to an entry. "The train was 15 minutes late!"

AIN'T THAT DUMB

A district attorney was having trouble with one of the witnesses, a rather pugnacious old man. "Are you acquainted with any of the jurymen?" ask the district attorney.

"More than half," grunted the witness.

"Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?" The old man flicked a glance over the jury box. "If it comes to that," he drawled. "I'm willing to swear I know more than all of them put together."

Remote Romance

"Why, my friend," the young astronomer explained, "science is doing wonderful things out in the world. On a high mountain in California, we have a telescope so powerful that we can look 3,000 miles away and see the eyelashes of a beautiful girl!"

"That's all very well, son," was the reply, "but what good is a pretty girl so far away?"

How About Anemia?

"I don't like your heart action," the doctor said, applying the stethoscope again. "You have had some trouble with angina pectoris, haven't you?"

"You're right in a way, Doctor," said the young man sheepishly, "only that isn't her name."

Refund on Bride Too?

A jeweler's absent-minded assistant was being married. When it came time to present the bride with the ring, he hesitated. "With this ring—" prompted the minister. "With this ring," said the bridegroom, "we give a written guarantee, reminding the customer that the price will be refunded if it is not as represented."

Not Superstitious

The smiling, confident young man entered a New York bank. He stepped up to the manager's desk and began, "Good day, sir. Has your bank any need for a highly intelligent, college-trained man?"

The manager poised over a form, "Your name?"

"Gradwell Lesserman."

"Experience?"

"Just out of college."

"I see," said the manager. "And what kind of a position are you seeking?"

"Well," mused the young man, "I want something in the executive line, such as a vice-presidency, for example."

The manager put down his pencil. "I'm really very sorry," he said sarcastically, "but we already have 12 vice-presidents."

The young man waved a hand, then stated happily, "Oh, that's all right; I'm not superstitious!"

LAST SCRATCH BEST

In spite of diplomatic attempts to keep the two ladies apart, two fashion leaders of society nevertheless met at a party.

"What a perfectly beautiful suit you're wearing," the first one cooed. "I like it better every time I see it."

"Why thank you," replied the recipient of the left-handed compliment. Then, touching the material of the other woman's dress, she replied, "That is such lovely cloth, my dear. You really should have it made into a dress."

Kindness Rewarded

A poorly dressed man was standing in front of a vacant store building, and from her window above the store a woman noticed that several people stopped, in passing and gave him some money. It was a scene that touched her deeply. She wrote on a piece of paper, "Take Courage," placed the paper in an envelope with a two-dollar bill and tossed it to the man.

Several days later, when she was returning from an out of town visit, she was accosted by the man, who said:

"Here's your $52, lady. 'Take Courage' won at 26 to 1."

Except for the Lase

The instructor was teaching the cute, young thing how to drive a car.

"This," said he, "is the hand brake. You put it on quickly in case of an emergency."

"Oh, I see," the cute thing exclaimed. "It's something like a kimono."

A Clean Joke

1st Comic: "Did you hear what happened at the fire at the soap factory?"

2nd Comic: "No, what happened?"

1st Comic: "The walls fell with a thickening sud."

KENTUCKY HOMEMAKERS HAVE FOREIGN GUEST

Members of homemakers clubs in Kentucky realized a dream come true recently with the arrival of Miss Klara Hellein of Bamberg, Bavaria, who will spend about six months in the state. It has long been the wish of homemakers to have a representative of a foreign country as a guest in furthering their program of international understanding. Consequently, the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers sponsored Miss Hellein's trip by providing the necessary funds, so that she might see at first hand the methods and practices carried on in a democratic country.

A home demonstration agent and teacher in a school of home economics, Miss Hellein has been invited by several homemakers throughout the state to spend some time in their homes.

It is estimated that more than 500 Henderson county farmers will improve their pastures this year. Boyd county milk production was increased by almost 400,000 pounds last year, less than half the consumption increase in the Ashland area.

Twenty-nine Wayne county farmers have enrolled in the Corn Derby contest, the majority having their soil tested for fertilizer needs.

Monroe county beef cattle breeders report having the finest crop of baby beeves they have ever produced.

Jesse Johnson and Sidney Robinson of Elliott county plan to brood about 30,000 broilers this year.
